CYO Dance To Launch Active Social Season

An active winter social season was planned by 100 members of the Chatolic Youth Organization Sunday night when the group held its regular meeting in the Annunciation school auditorium.

The meeting, conducted by president, John La Porte, decided that the second dance of the season would be held October 18. It will be followed by the annual CYO "Hallowe'en Masquerade" and dance Friday, November 1. As in past years members will again deliver treats to the patients in Miller Bay Hospital prior to the affair.

Spiritual committe chairman Olga Zabudney, announced that the season's first CYO communion breakfast will be held next Sunday morning.

With chaplain Rev. Robert Dalton in the chair, members discussed the film "The Ten Commandments".

Apostolic chairman Anne Brown and her committee launched their first project for the year, which is to collect Catholic books and literature, to be forwarded to the missions.

Vice-president Jeannette Cloutier introduced five new members.

Guest speaker Dr. H. W. Mc Donald addressed the group on the preservation and care of the teeth. He also outlined the work and studies of a dentist.

The president urged all members to support the annual parish bazaar, in which the CYO will sponsor five booths.

Dancing, game and refreshments followed.

Francois Lake News

It turned very cold on Thursday afternoon with a light fall of snow, and folk will have to hurry up and get their vegetables under cover before they freeze in the ground.

Most of the threshing is completed with yields heavier than was expected, especially with the oat crop.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bannister, also Mrs. Bannister Sr., spent the week end in this district visiting friends. Their home is in Smithers. Mrs. Bannister judged the sewing, fancywork and handicrafts at the Fall Fair this year.
