UNITED STATES AND MEXICO.

The despatches tell us that President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are laying their heads together on the possibility of a more aggressive course of action in Mexico by the United States. That is possibly because they are expecting Huerta to tell them to mind their own business. That may happen, and then what? It would simply add to the farcicalness of the whole situation.

The United States government has expressed its abhorrence and amazement at Huerta's assumption of both executive and legislative powers and is said to have made its last effort to deal with the Mexican government by diplomatic means. It states that it could not consider any elections held on October 26th as constitutional under the circumstances, but it seems to ignore the fact that Huerta asked the legislative bodies to give their consent to the elections and that it was the deputies themselves who refused to consent to elections being held at such a time and postponed their decision.

First of all the United States insisted that such elections should be held and now when Huerta is determined to hold them it regards them as unconstitutional. Moreover it is surely rather straining a point to insist that in Mexico everything should be done constitutionally.

After all the United States is not ruling Mexico and its sole interest is to see order restored. Apparently it considers that all that has to be done is to hold elections in exactly the same manner as they are held in the United States. The will of the people would apparently be expressed by this means.

The farce of such an expectation is obvious. Imagine an election going on with Zapata or any other brigand chiefs in the neighborhood. Are the rebels to exercise their franchise under the aegis of the United States or are they to be left out of the game?

The whole situation is an impossible one as the United States might have seen long ago. How can a country such as Mexico hold a constitutional election?

Geography is too much for tariffs. The Monetary Times points out that the United States takes almost the entire exports of Canadian minerals of all kinds; the bulk of its forestry exports; over half the exports of manufactures, and a third of the fishery exports of Canada. The largest item of exports from the United States to Canada is iron and steel. Next comes coal, to the value of $41,102,569.

THE FIGHT OVER THE "LIFE OF WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE."

History of the Canadian "patriot" of 1837 being aired in the Toronto courts this week. Sketches made during the progress of the hearing of the LeSueur case at Osgoode Hall. Because of the prominence of the people interested, including a former Cabinet minister, the case has attracted a lot of attention. Mr. LeSueur, the author, secured from members of the Mackenzie family documents to be used in the preparation of the "Life of William Lyon Mackenzie." The treatment was unsympathetic, say the family, and more like a caricature than a "Life" of "one of Canada's greatest men." The judge decided against LeSueur and he appealed. The Appellate Court has now reserved decision.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS RECOMMEND SENDING WARSHIPS TO MEXICO

SIX COUNTRIES REPRESENTED AT THE CONFERENCE—U. S. MAY MAKE STRONG DEMANDS FOR ELIMINATION OF HUERTA

Mexico City, Oct. 16.—The diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, France, Spain, Cuba, Guatemala and Norway, at a conference, decided to recommend that their respective governments send warships to Mexico for the purpose of affording legation guards should conditions so require. A number of the diplomatic corps made this statement tonight. He also said the diplomatic representatives had recommended a temperate attitude in Mexico's reply to Washington.

Washington, Oct. 16.—General Huerta's decree taking unto himself legislative as well as executive powers has swept aside all hope here that the Huerta regime would re-establish constitutional government or be able to cope with the increasingly vigorous fighting of the constitutionalists.

Both President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are turning their minds to the possibility of a more aggressive course of action by the United States. One method of dealing with the situation, some officials say, is a series of strong demands made upon the authorities at Mexico City to force immediate elimination of General Huerta.

Mexico City, Oct. 15.—That the crisis in the relations between the United States and Mexico which almost was reached yesterday is delayed only temporarily is the general feeling here tonight among Mexicans and foreigners.

While the American charge, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, professes to expect no reply whatever to the Washington memorandum, and the foreign office says there will be none for the time being, it still is regarded as certain that the nature of the American government's notification regarding future recognition will necessitate action on the part of the Mexican authorities.

It is reported that four judges of the supreme court have resigned.

The young girl was visiting her girl friend for the first time after her marriage.

"And does your husband give you all the money you want?" she asked.

"Why, no, dear. There isn't that much money."
