9 IN MEMORIAM

JENSEN—In loving memory of dear sister Jessie who passed away August 20, 1954.
"And the stately ships go on to their havoc under the hill,
But O! for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still.
Break! break! break! at the foot of the crags.
O! sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead will never come back to me."
Sadly missed and fondly remembered by sisters, Mona, Phyllis and Jacie. (170)

DUDOWARD—In loving memory of a dear son who passed away August 23, 1957.
What would I give his hand to clasp
His dear face to see;
To hear his voice, to see his smile
That meant so much to me.
You left behind an aching heart
That loved you most sincere.
I never did nor ever will Forget you Vernon dear.
Always remembered by his loving Mother and sisters, brothers and Grandma Dudoward. (170p)

When tea first came to England in the 17th Century, it was known by its usual Chinese name of "Cha". This name is still in use in certain sections of the British army.

Blackwood on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

"GUESS I'M down one," said Mr. Muzzy after the play of today's hand. Told he had made his contract, he frowned confusedly. He had, indeed, taken 10 tricks. But he had no idea how it had been accomplished. From the start he had felt sure he would lose two spades, a diamond and a heart.

Mr. Abel opened his singleton diamond which was taken by dummy's ace. At this point Mr. Muzzy looked the hand over and announced that he would make his bid only if he lost no trump tricks.

The bidding:

2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	All Pass

He laid down the ace of hearts, hoping the queen and jack would be all alone in one defender's hand. When only small cards appeared he led another heart to his king.

Next he led his lone club and Mr. Abel split his honors, putting up the queen. Dummy's ace won and now Mr. Muzzy led a small spade and played his ten spot.

Mr. Abel won with the queen but was end-played. He had nothing left but black cards and to lead either suit would give Mr. Muzzy his contract.

The king of clubs would be ruffed in the closed hand, setting up dummy's jack. Mr. Abel elected to return a small spade hoping Mr. Muzzy had started with the ace and only one other.

But dummy's jack was played and it won. Thus the defenders took only a spade, a heart and a diamond.

Do you think Mr. Heinsite was satisfied? Far from it.

"Poorly played," he said. "After winning the first trick you should have figured your best play was to try and set up my club suit. You should have led the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in your hand. Come to a dummy with the ace of hearts and ruff another club. Cash the king of hearts, lead to my king of diamonds and lead a fourth club.

"When Miss Brash showed out on this trick, just pitch your losing diamond and let Abel win. He would be end-played. He would have nothing left but spades and a spade lead from him would hold your loss in that suit to one trick."

"What would I have made on that line of play?" asked Mr. Muzzy who had failed to follow the analysis.

"Four-odd," answered Mr. Heinsite.

"Scorekeeper," called Mr. Muzzy, "please change that 120 points to 120 points."

Doukhs protest in nude

KRESTOVA, B.C. (CP)—A group of Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women Sunday accosted Dr. Charles Wright of Trail, chairman of the Kootenay-Boundary Citizens Committee on Doukhobor Affairs, with the demand he ask the RCMP to "stop taking our young men and bringing them home dead in boxes."

Five of the women were nude. Another was clad only in an underskirt.

The women were at a prayer meeting in the community hall when Dr. Wright arrived. He was attempting to locate Freedomite leaders to discuss the sect's return to Russia.

SPEAK IN RUSSIAN

The women stormed out of the hall and approached Dr. Wright in a semi-circle, babbling in Russian.

Through a male Doukhobor interpreter Dr. Wright was told the women were demanding that he and his committee "stop the RCMP and vigilantes from bringing our young men back dead in boxes. First you take our children and now you are starting on our young men."

The women were referring to the death of Philip Pereverezoff, 20, nar Kelowna. RCMP say he was killed when a home-made bomb he was making exploded. The Freedomites claim he was killed when the bomb was thrown at him by RCMP and vigilantes.

Writer dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Epstein, 51, well known sports writer on the New York Mirror and chairman of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association, died Monday of a heart attack.

Eight-year-old spots licence in show window

Jane Lucas, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lucas, 630 Fifth Avenue East, last week showed her keen perception when she spotted her father's licence plate number 386501 in a downtown real estate firm window and which won her father $30.

Had Mr. Lucas been insured with the company he would have won $60.

He is the first person to collect the money being given for the past six weeks, which started at $5.

Next week the amount again starts with $5 or $10, if the winner is insured with the company.

A MESSAGE TO EX-TEACHERS
from
THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION

The public schools of the Province again require the help of trained teachers who are not at present teaching.

Qualified ex-teachers who are free to do so can perform at this time a very important public service to the children of British Columbia by indicating that they will consider returning to teaching.

If you are willing to give some thought to this matter, please complete the information required on the following coupon and mail immediately to the Department of Education, Victoria, B.C. You will then receive information as to the areas requiring teachers.

LESLIE R. PETERSON,
Minister of Education.
