KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on 'nerves'—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better. 136

Francois Lake News

FRANCOIS LAKE— We were interested to see a picture in The Daily News of Ted Thompson among the staff of the new Lyons store in Prince Rupert, where he is the butcher. We have pinned the pictures up in the store so that his friends here can see it. Ted and his family used to live near here before moving to Prince Rupert.

Frieda and Abe Peters' baby boy has been named Glen William.

Margaret (Mrs. Everead) Hickey is in hospital in Burns Lake. She was able to come home a week ago but had to go back in again.

The Don Eaton family are enjoying having the power in their home this week.

Bill Remanda left on Monday morning by train for Saskatchewan to visit his mother who is not at all well.

There was a large gathering in the hall on Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Seymour and Mrs. William Loveseth entertained at a shower for Betty Gatacre who is to be married on Saturday. Assisted by her mother and Doris Jeffrey, Betty opened numerous parcels which had been placed in a decorated box. After passing her gifts around so that everyone could see them, Betty thanked her hostesses and the Farmers Institute (for lending the hall) and invited them to visit her in Fort Fraser, where she intends to live. There followed a happy social time with the folk visiting and enjoying a delicious lunch.

There was a meeting of the Recreational commission on Thursday evening to separate Tchesinkut and Francois Lakes. The executive on the Francois Lake commission is as follows: Chairman, Bruce Snyder; vice-president, Arnold Peebles; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Hugh Neave; directors, Jack O'Meara and Robert Peebles. Officers for the Tchesinkut Lake commission— Chairman, Ruth Lord; vice-president, Alford Harrison; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Warkup Gilgan; directors, Clifford Harrison and Warkup Gilgan. It was felt that both would benefit by this division financially, but both will still work together in their recreations.

Mr. Siemens, sr., has recently exchanged his Takysie store and post office for the Peter Braun farm three miles this side of Burns Lake. The Siemens family have moved recently, and the Braun family is running the store and post office at Takysie.

Friday, March 29, was the most depressing day I've spent in Canada. It was a day when the stench of fire and water hung like a pall over certain areas of Prince Rupert. I hope it will not be repeated.

What caused the trail of blazes? In two of the three major fires, it was defective or misused oil stoves. And those two resulted in far more severe damage than the other. So it would seem greater care is needed in the operation and maintenance of oil stoves.

My home, like the majority of Prince Rupert homes, has one. Therefore this column hopes today it will do a little more good than usual by presenting six simple precautions to prevent oil stove disasters. They are given by Fire Chief Earl Becker, who advises:

● Never light your stove after the valve has been open for a long time before soaking up excessive oil. If the match goes out, take the warning. Don't keep stuffing lighted paper or rag into the stove until trouble blows up in your face.

● If your stove is leaking or has any defects at all, get expert attention as soon as possible.

● Keep flues and pipes clean and free from soot.

● Do not leave dishcloths or clothes drying around a stove during your absence.

● Keep wallpaper and compressed paper away from stove pipes. They are good insulators against noise, but they threaten the safety of your home if the stove gets overheated.

● If your stove does give trouble, advise the Fire Department immediately. Too often people wait until the stove has become a white-hot furnace with burning paint peeling in all directions.

Bear these points in mind. One of the jobs this reporter hates is interviewing shocked survivors in the ruins of their homes. And tomorrow it could be you.

Good to see Magistrate Walter D. Vance around the city again after nearly four weeks in Prince Rupert General Hospital. He has been having treatment for ulcers and is making a good recovery.

Mr. Vance cannot say at present when he will be back at city magistrates court.

A call from above on Sunday took me upstairs to help Cliff Ham celebrate Rena's birthday. Rena joined us when we convinced her that the count hadn't yet reached the stage where she should ignore it completely. We couldn't have chosen to live under a finer couple.

Also present were Jack and Grace McRae, recently home from Hawaii but a gay couple in any surroundings. Jack left me in a mental turmoil trying to find flaws in his financial plan for the salvation of certain sagging industries.

It has something to do with lifting credit restrictions so that the Canadian dollar will devalue itself to a more pliable unit of currency—a sort of planned inflation.

Jack wants someone to blast a few holes through his idea. I can't. Can you?

Leaving the theatre last night after seeing the life story of Vincent Van Gogh portrayed admirably in "Lust for Life," I heard a girl ask her escort what he thought of the film.

He replied: "It wasn't bad, but I thought the guy was going to make something of himself."

Reached home and glanced at a Vancouver paper in which Jose Ferrer's latest film was advertised. It is called "The Great Man" and a black-and-white splurge stated: "Everybody loved The Great Man except those who hated his guts."

To use an expression I've learned in Canada—that figures.

Corn, Bacon Fritters Top Company for Easter Ham

As the time for Easter festivities draws near, the spotlight traditionally turns to a golden-glazed, mouth-watering ham. Whether the ham is fresh from the oven or left-over from the refrigerator, it will be in distinguished company when served with these corn and bacon fritters.

It's a substantial type of fritter that's an interesting addition to meals any time of the year. These fritters, chock full of golden whole kernal corn with bits of bacon for added zest, may be served as a substitute for potatoes with ham, sausage, etc., and a green salad—or accompanied by only a salad, they can star as a luncheon or supper dish. They may be either fried or a crusty brown in deep fat heated to 370 degrees F. or cooked in a shallow regular or electric frying pan as is suggested in the following recipe.

Yield—18 fritters, 3 to a serving.

4 slices side bacon.
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1⅓ cups once-sifted pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
2 eggs
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup milk
1 can (approx. 14 ounces kernel corn).

Cut bacon into small pieces and fry until crisp. Drain from fat (save dripping). Sift the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt and cayenne together into a bowl. Beat eggs well; stir in Worcestershire sauce and milk. Drain and mix in corn. Add and mix in bacon chips and 1 tablespoon of the bacon dripping. Make a well in dry ingredients; add liquids and mix until batter is well blended.

Heat shortening, about ¼-inch deep, in a broad frying pan. Drop batter, by spoonsful into heated fat. Cook until golden on one side, then turn and complete the frying. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve at once.

Seated in a pink and white decorated bridal chair, the guest of honor was presented a corsage of pink roses by Miss Cummine, while bridesmaids-elect Miss Lillian Neibrandt RN, and Miss June Jackson RN, presented Miss Cush with her large assortment of gifts.

Lunch was served at a table, attractively decorated with streamers in matching colors of pink and white.

Invited guests were Mrs. J. L. Kelly RN, Miss Katherine Chisholm RN, Miss Joan Kelly RN, Miss Belva Bagg RN, Miss Lorraine Kaip RN, Miss Mary-Lou Fraser RN, Miss Joan Barrett RN, Miss Mary Anne Novakowsky RN, Miss Gloria Irving, Miss Mary Mitchell RN and Mrs. Donald Vaale RN.
