Packers off on Russian jaunt

Represent Canada without bolstering

VANCOUVER (CP)—Kelowna Packers, off to defend Canadian hockey honor in Russia, say the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association let them down when they needed help.

Coach Jack O'Reilly told reporters as his Allan Cup finalists left by plane Thursday night that he asked the CAHA for player aid in August "and we still haven't got it."

Packers in the Okanagan Senior League, are off on a three-week, nine-game exhibition of Sweden and Russia. They will be the first Canadian team to play in Russia.

O'Reilly said Packers lost two key players. They tried unsuccessfully to pick up three Western Hockey League stars. The club then went after top senior players in the country and sought CAHA assistance.

Dr. Mel Butler, past president of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association, said "most of the recruiting problems stemmed from Kelowna's inability to meet the cost."

He added:

"The CAHA can't order a hockey player to join Kelowna. We spent hundreds of dollars getting in touch with eastern and western hockey clubs trying to help Packers get the players they asked for.

PICKED 50

O'Reilly said Packers sent the CAHA a list of 50 players from which reinforcements could be selected.

"What hapens? Saturday they send us two players from Winnipeg who haven't been in action since last spring. We're supposed to have a look at them and pick our team."

"MEANS A LOT"

"This has been billed as an exhibition series," said Packer Manager Bob Giordano. "But no matter how you look at it everyone will be watching the result and it will mean a lot to both sides. We have no doubt the best Russian players will be in the line-up. . . ."

Packers arrive in Stockholm Saturday and will meet Sweden in four games—November 9, 11, 12 and 12. Then they travel to Moscow for five engagements—November 16, 18, 19, 21 and 23. They return home November 24.

THE LINEUP

Lane favored to take Godih

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The busy lightweight division takes over the boxing front tonight with Kenny Lane, No. 1 challenger, heavily favored to whip Lahouri Godih in a 10-round match at War Memorial Auditorium.

Coming only two days after Johnny Busso's upset of lightweight champion Joe Brown in a non-title match, the bout calls for a superior effort by Lane to protect his standing.

Olson, Young to tangle

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Bobo Olson and Paddy Young, who fought for the United States middleweight title in 1953, will collide on the light heavyweight comeback trail here November 25.

Olson beat Young in their big middleweight battle and went on to take the world title against Randy Turpin. Last month in the comeback matches, Young fought a draw with Otis Woodward and Bobo stopped Don Grant in the seventh round.
