WHAT CAN WILSON DO WITH MEXICO?

From our telegraphic despatches of yesterday it not only appears that President Wilson has determined on the United States undertaking an armed intervention into Mexican affairs, but that Great Britain, France and Germany, whose capitalists hold large interests in Mexico, are in hearty support of his policy. What the United States can do in Mexico beyond spending a vast amount of its own people's money it is hard to say, and the support of the powers mentioned to the Wilson policy may merely be because nothing could possibly be worse than conditions in Mexico ever since the revolutionists exiled Dictator Porfirio Diaz.

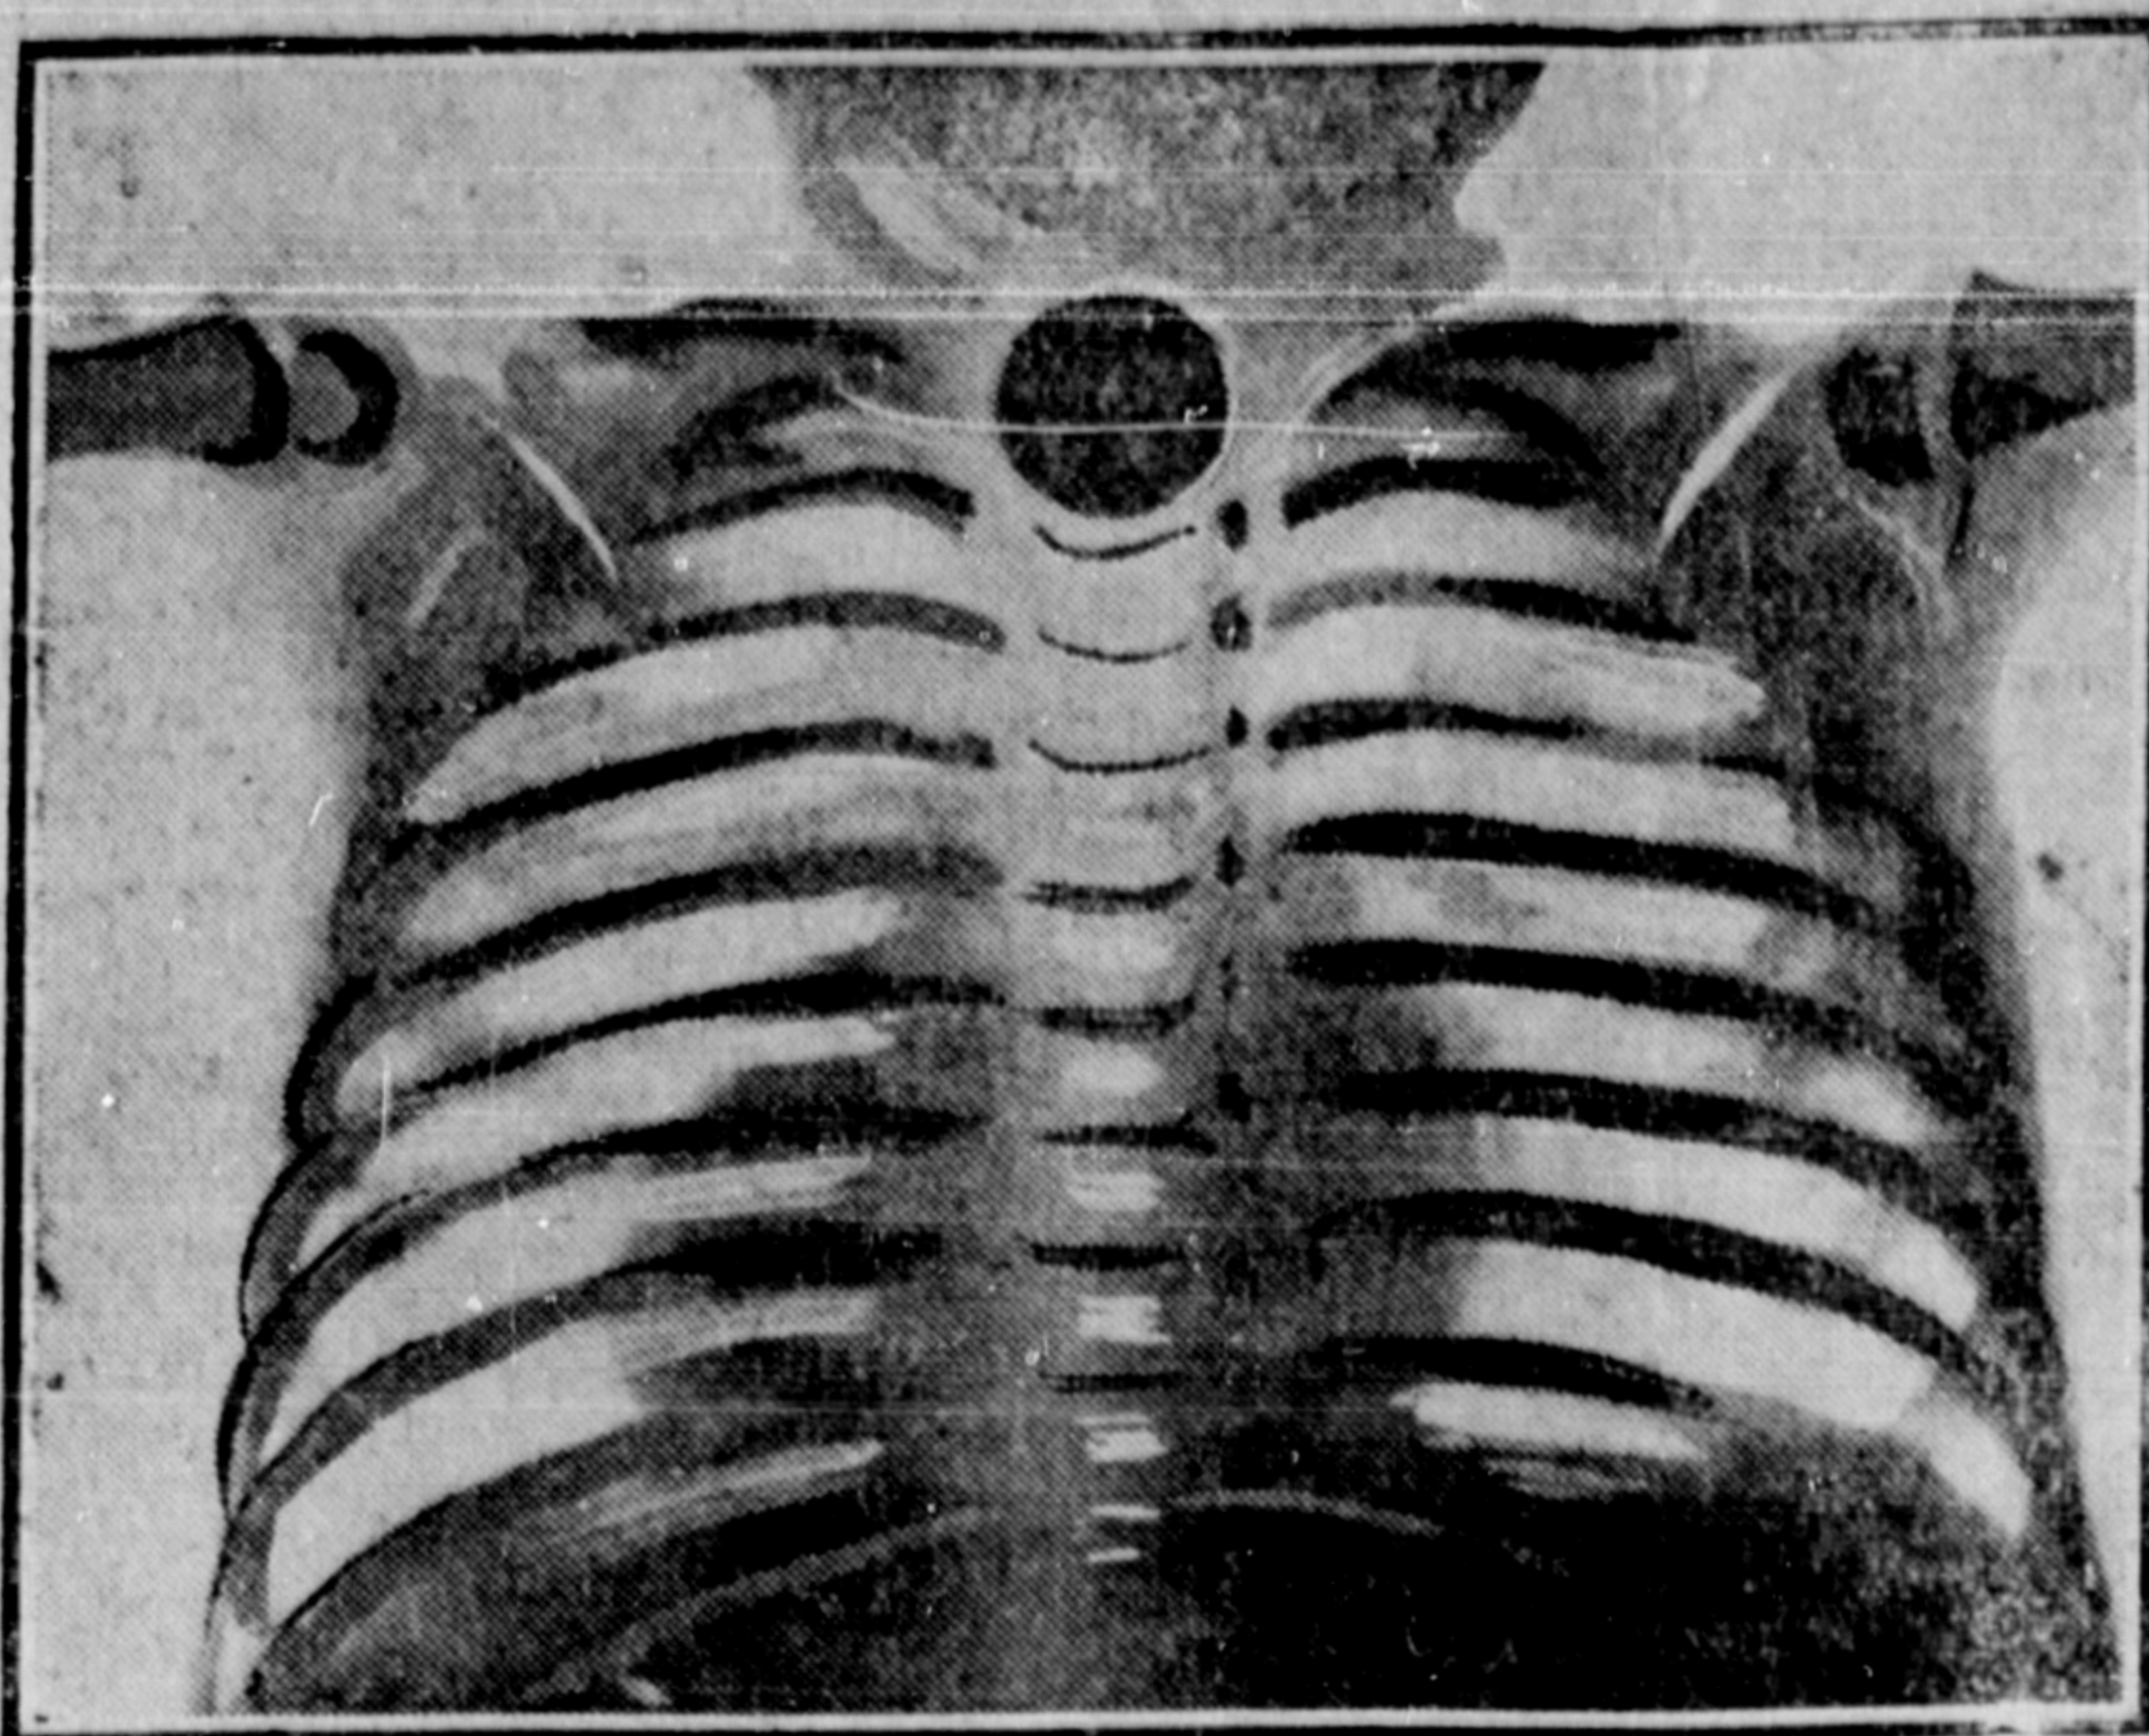

That this American intervention means war is shown by the massing of American troops along the Mexican border and the placing of a large American fleet in the harbor of Vera Cruz—the latter a deliberate act of hostility by all the canons of international law. What can the United States hope to gain by such intervention, either for herself or the friendly powers supporting her in this policy? Under the Monroe policy she cannot take and hold Mexico by conquest, and the idea of exerting any moral influence in such a country is mere piffle.

If Huerta is eliminated a Mexican of exactly the same kidney will take his place. Mexico is a Latin country, with Latin traditions, and it is impossible to conceive by what course of reasoning there can be any insistence from Washington that an Anglo-Saxon system of government can be established there, when 90 per cent. of the population can neither read nor write.

The United States government has already had some experience of intervention in Latin countries and the results have not been at all happy. She went to war with Spain over Cuba. But there was a great popular sentiment of "Remember the Maine" to account for the starting of that, and behind it was the philanthropic principle of freeing the Cubans from a tyrannical Spanish rule. The Maine was avenged and Cuba was freed by United States arms. After complete order was restored and a government organized, the island was turned over to the Cubans. It has been the constant scene of revolution and assassination ever since.

At the outbreak of that war the Philippine Islands were conquered from Spain, but as the United States could not hold them by conquest she purchased them from Spain after she had acquired possession by conquest. Millions have been spent and are still being spent in the Philippines with the idea of turning over the country to the natives so soon as they become sufficiently educated to govern themselves according to American ethics of government. The Spanish yoke has been thrown off for them and they are now in active rebellion against their political saviours.

Not much better is to be expected should the United States conquer and temporarily hold Mexico in the same way. But the conquest will be no easy victory. The revolutions in Mexico for these years have been merely family quarrels, so to speak. When a meddling neighbor interferes Mexico is almost certain to become loyally united against the interloper, and the ensuing warfare is likely to be long and exceedingly costly, to the invaders particularly.

JIMMY MITCHELL AND HIS SWALLOWED COIN

The "X" ray clearly shows the Canadian copper lodged in little Jimmie's trachea. The child's throat was working convulsively when the X-ray man did his work and it was necessary to take the picture between the spasmodic movements of the throat. The little chap was operated upon and is now in a favorable condition at the hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. The boy was playing about in his bed with the copper in his mouth and in some way swallowed it.

APPEAL OF THE HUNGER CURE WOMAN DOCTOR NOT ALLOWED

NOTORIOUS MRS. HAZZARD MUST SERVE TERM OF TWO TO TWENTY YEARS FOR CONTRIBUTING TO DEATH OF WEALTHY GIRL

Olympia, Nov. 12.—"Denied" of the lesser crime of manslaughter, for the reason that written across the face of the petition for a rehearing in the case of the state against Linda Burfield Hazzard, appellant, marked the closing chapter in the famous trial of the so-called "hunger expert," convicted in the Kitsap county superior court of manslaughter as the result of the death of one of her patients, Claire Williamson.

Mrs. Hazzard will now have to serve from two to twenty years, unless the case is carried to the Supreme Court of the United States. In asking a rehearing, her attorneys said Mrs. Hazzard was either guilty of first degree murder for the death of Claire Williamson, or not guilty, saying she could by no chance be guilty

ENGLISH HAND-MADE LACE

MADE BY THE COTTAGERS OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE.

This is the old-fashioned lace made on the cushion, and was first introduced into England by the Flemish Refugees. It is still made by the village women in their quaint old way.

Our Laces were awarded the Gold Medal at the Festival of Empire and Imperial Exhibition, Crystal Palace, LONDON, ENGLAND, for general excellence of workmanship.

BUY some of this hand-made Pillow Lace, it lasts MANY times longer than machine made variety, and imparts an air of distinction to the possessor, at the same time supporting the village lace-makers, bringing them little comforts otherwise unobtainable on an agricultural man's wage. Write for descriptive little treatise, entitled "The Pride of North Bucks," containing 200 striking examples of the lace makers' art, and is sent post free to any part of the world. Lace for every purpose can be obtained, and within reach of the most modest purse.

Collars, Fronts, Piarsons, Jabots, Yokes, Fichus, Berthes, Handkerchiefs, Stocks, Camisoles, Chemise Sets, Tea Cloths, Table Centres, D'Oyleys, Mats, Medallions, Quaker and Peter Pan Sets, etc., from 25c. 60c., $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, up to $5.00 each. Over 300 designs in yard lace and insertion from 10c., 15c., 25c., 45c., up to $3.00 per yard.

Mrs. Armstrong having over 100 Irish peasant girls connected with her industry, some beautiful examples of Irish hand-made laces may be obtained. All work being sold direct from the lace-makers, both the workers and customers derive great advantage.

CANADIAN MINING COMPANY SEND EXPERT TO EXAMINE PROPERTY

SURPRISED AT DIVERSITY OF MINERAL SHOWINGS AND SPLENDID GRADE OF ORES FOUND IN PORTLAND CANAL DISTRICT

Since the recent visit of two representatives of the Canadian Mining & Exploration Co., Ltd., with offices in Toronto and New York, who spent several weeks in the district examining a number of claims, particularly in the Salmon river camp, interest has been awakened in the possibility of the company eventually entering this field. In conversation with the representatives, The Miner learned that both were agreeably surprised at the diversity of mineral showings and the splendid grades of ores to be obtained within the bounds of the Portland Canal mining division. A large number of properties were examined and sampled and a lot of valuable data obtained relating to the camp generally. While it is too early to state what the result of their mission will be it is believed by those who have a more intimate knowledge of their mission that at least one substantial deal is now pending on their report.

The Canadian Mining & Exploration Co. was organized eighteen months ago to acquire and operate mining properties, mainly in Canada. During that time it has had its experts out over the States, Canada and Alaska. Its engineers have investigated 700 properties, of which 400 have been rejected. Among the properties examined were the Surf Inlet Mines on Princess Royal Island, and some Nelson, Hazelton, Texada Island and Portland Canal offerings. The Surf Inlet property is under consideration, and an offer will probably be made for it. The company is financed by leading bankers and financial men of Eastern Canada and the Eastern States, and they put up a capital of $2,500,000 cash, besides guaranteeing a further $2,500,000, so that the company is in a position to handle any mining proposition which may meet with its approval, however large. The fact that it has examined properties in the prospecting stages indicates that it is not bound within the close investment lines of English companies which will only handle developed and proved mines.—Portland Canal Miner.
