Seven Deaths Attributable To Big Floods

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Flooding described as "very serious" was expected today along the middle and lower reaches of the Cimarron River in Oklahoma.

Showers were forecast in the area for this afternoon and night.

Seven deaths already have been attributed to the Oklahoma floods, and the toll may go even higher.

Rains Wednesday night ranging up to an official 13.07 inches set off the floods. Many areas were under 12 feet of water, and torrential rain was measured unofficially at 20 inches west of Dover.

At dawn today some 300 searchers turned out near Erick, Okla., along the Canadian River where two children were swept off a bridge which collapsed Thursday. There also was a report that a railroad employee had fallen into the Cimarron.

An elderly farm couple were fatally overcome by gas in their cellar after heavy rain generated an old underground carbide system used years ago for lighting.

A nine-year-old boy was drowned in swollen San Creek, a motorist was found drowned in his marooned car and an eight-year-old girl was killed when the tractor on which she was riding with her mother slid off a wet bridge.

Courses, Selection Outlined For Booth Memorial PTA

An address on the explanation of courses, graduation requirements and selection of major subjects in the Booth Memorial High School curriculum was given by principal R. W. Lucas Wednesday night at the school's Parent - Teacher association meeting

Also addressing the group on the same topic were teachers F. N. Sutton and A. C. McTaggart.

In other business the meeting voted to give 10 cents per member towards B.C.'s quota for building an national home and school headquarters building in Toronto.

Mrs. Eugene Bartlett, chairman of the soup committee, reported that a very successful soup program has been conducted in the school during the past year, serving more than 11,000 bowls of soup.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. Alice Houston for her services as cook during the past year.

The Vancouver Holiday Theatre will again visit Prince Rupert next fall, with a production to be presented September 30, it was reported by the president.

A suggestion was made that PTA's put uy booths for the sale of refreshments during the intermission and after the performance to be added to the Parent Teacher council fund.

It was also suggested that all proceeds from the event go towards the PT council bursary fund.

Delegate for city PTA's to the Parent-Teacher convention held in Vancouver last month, Mrs. Frederick Willson, will submit her report at the next regular meeting of the PT council, May 27.
