Bets anyone—Mac vs Ike

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister MacMillan was reported today to have improved his golf so much that he should be able to beat President Eisenhower.

Macmillan's golf "got better and better" last weekend during a Scottish holiday, says a columnist in the News Chronicle.

The writer says the prime minister "startled his caddie with a round of 81 on the Queens Course at Gleneagles."

The columnist asked Jack Mclean, the Gleneagles professional, for a report on the prime minister.

Mclean said: "I told him he should play with Ike. He could beat him any time.

"Mr. Macmillan just smiled and didn't comment."

Homers galore in softball fixture

By RAY WINDLE

Home runs appeared to be the order of the night in Monday's Senior softball fixtures as Atlin took an undisputed 15-6 decision over Army and Navy.

Much credit for the win goes to Ian Dunbar who went the full stretch on the mound and handcuffed Army and Navy while blasting two homers of his own.

Other players credited with home runs were team mate Fred Kristmanson and George Robinson of Army and Navy.

Army and Navy brought in Heroux from first base to pitch in the second but it proved too late. Though he held the fishboys down to six runs, his team mates could not make up the nine runs lost in the first innings.

Only three Atlin batters were whiffed while Army and Navy was fanned eight times.
