BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Against today's contract Mr. Dale led the five of spades, his partner played the jack and Mr. Muzzy won with the king. Mr. Muzzy then made his usual faulty estimate of the trick-taking possibilities of the hand.

He figured three sure tricks in clubs, three in hearts, two in spades and one in diamonds. In making this estimate he completely overlooked one vitally important element—the element of time.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead: Five of spades.

In order to win three club tricks he had to drive out both the ace and king of that suit and he had only one stopper left in spades.

"You can relax, Champion," he remarked. "This rubber is over."

"Don't say that," Mr. Champion complained. "Every time you do, we go down three tricks."

Mr. Champion's fears were well grounded. At trick two Mr. Muzzy led the queen of clubs. Mr. Meek won and returned the queen of spades. Mr. Muzzy took this trick and then a look of consternation crossed his face.

Mr. Muzzy

For the first time he realized that he didn't have time to set up the clubs. At this stage however, it was too late to go after the diamonds, so he led another club, hoping Mr. Meek held the other high honor and no more spades.

This was not the case and Mr. Dale had the pleasure of ruffing the queen. [illegible] Mr. Champion [illegible] Of course Mr. Muzzy [illegible] have realized at the [illegible] he had to find a way [illegible] nine tricks without losing [illegible] lead twice. This could [illegible] accomplished by developing [illegible] diamond suit.

There were several [illegible] handle the diamonds but [illegible] ably the best was to [illegible] Meek for the king. Mr. [illegible] should have led a low [illegible] at trick two conceding [illegible] in the suit. On regaining [illegible] lead, he could go to dummy [illegible] a heart, cash three tricks in [illegible] suit, then lead a diamond [illegible] finesse the queen. This line of play would have produced [illegible] diamond tricks, three [illegible] and two spades for game.

True, the diamond [illegible] might have lost, but when [illegible] lines of play are available and one leads to practically certain defeat, the other must be tried whether the odds in its favor are good or only fair.

All-time star of Canadiens dies at 59

OTTAWA (CP)—Death by heart attack has claimed Billy Boucher, member of one of the game's most brilliant lines and of a talented hockey family.

Boucher, a star performer in 20s, died Monday night on his 59th birthday. He was en route to hospital after a sudden seiz-

[illegible] Canadiens win the Stanley Cup in 1924, playing right wing for the late great Howie Morenz, at centre, and Aurel Joliat, still resident in Ottawa.

The trio still draws nominations for one of the most talented lines ever assembled.

FOUR HOCKEY BROTHERS

In 1927 he was a member of the Boston team losing to Ottawa Senators for the Stanley Cup. He was one of four Boucher brothers all active in big-time professional hockey of the period.

Boucher joined Montreal in 1921 and left at the end of the 1925-26 season to go to Boston. He played his last season for the defunct New York Americans.

Boucher is survived by his brothers George, Frank and Joseph, two sisters, two sons and a daughter. The funeral service will be Thursday.

Warriors, Stamps win

By The Canadian Press

The prairie division of the Western Hockey League is getting crowded.

Only four points separate last-place Winnipeg Warriors from the front - running Edmonton Flyers. The Warriors closed in on the pack Tuesday night with a 5-4 overtime victory over Victoria Cougars at Winnipeg.

The win left Winnipeg two points behind third-place Saskatoon Quakers, who were idle. Calgary Stampeders displaced the Quakers as runnerups to Edmonton by knocking off Seattle Totems 3-1 in the Prairie city.

Braves star is possible T.B. victim

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Milwaukee Braves second baseman Red Schoendienst has been in hospital since last Saturday and there is a possibility he has tuberculosis.

The 35-year-old Schoendienst makes his home in St. Louis. His wife was in a St. Louis hospital last week when the couple's first son was born. They have three daughters.

A Braves' spokesman quoted Dr. Ray Martin as saying "there is a possibility he has tuberculosis."

Girl Guide and Brownie news

By ERNA MILNES

FIRST BROWNIE PACK: In the absence of Brown Owl Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. W. L. Hitchcock took the meeting. Mrs. Norton Youngs gave knitting instruction to four Brownies who are working on their Golden Hand. Semaphore and flag games were played and the Brownies heard a story about a Brownie Pack in England. The Brownies of the First Pack are again saving coupons for their Christmas good turn, and anyone having coupons could get in touch with Mrs. Cook at 2251. Remember next week Brownies there will be inspection of hats—all hats must have names.

♦ ♦ ♦

SECOND BROWNIE PACK: All the Second Pack practices their semaphore and singing and four girls are working on their Golden Hand and two on their Golden Bar.

♦ ♦ ♦

FOURTH BROWNIE PACK: There were two enrolments last week into the Fourth Pack; Christin Blums and Cathy Nicholson were enrolled. The mothers of both new Brownies were present.

FIFTH BROWNIE PACK: An enrolment that had been planned for last week had to be postponed, but the Brownies worked on their tests.

SIXTH BROWNIE PACK: The Sixth Pack had a good meeting and all the Sixth Pack Brownies are reminded that next week there will be a hat inspection for them too. Each Brownie must have her name in her hat.

♦ ♦ ♦

FIRST GUIDE COMPANY: After inspection and several competitive games the Guides divided into groups to work on their Tenderfoot or Second class. After which there was marching. Mrs. L. S. McGill played the piano for marching. The meeting finished with camp fire.

♦ ♦ ♦

SECOND GUIDE COMPANY: Last week the Second Company had their Hallowe'en party. Each Patrol put on a skit and as well there was a solo and a hula hoop contest. Everyone had a wonderful time and I hear there are some fine actresses among the Second Company Guides. The Guides served refreshments to their guests and leaders.

♦ ♦ ♦

Last week I mentioned there would be news of other Packs and Companies in our district. At Miller Bay there are both Guides and Brownies. There are eight Guides under the leadership of Mrs. R. C. Corbell. Also at Miller Bay there are six Brownies, these Brownies are not in a Pack by themselves but are part of Mrs. West's Second Brownie Pack.

At Kitkatla there are sixteen Guides in a newly formed Company. To these new Companies and Brownies we wish the Best of Luck. Happy Guiding.

City buys totem poles

Council agreed without dissent to pay $2.62 for each of 150 totem poles to be bought from the Burnaby Centennial Committee.

They will be used on Prince Rupert street lights, and said Ald. R. G. Large, would be suitable decoration for the city.

The totems, according to Burnaby officials, are of good quality and cost $12 each when bought during the summer.

Although they hung on the streets they weathered well and are in good condition.

FRANCOIS LAKE — On the way across the lake on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Jack was stricken with a heart attack on the ferry. Instead of staying at Southbank and coming back on the hour on schedule, the Captain brought the boat right back to this side and Dr. Trevor Thompson was called by phone to meet her.

There was a meeting of the newly formed PTA in the school here on Monday evening with 15 present, and Jack O'Meara in the chair. Plans were made for the Christmas concert and party for the children.

The Lens are all on strike and for the first time in years we have had to send to Edmonton for case eggs. It has been exceptionally mild so we cannot blame it on the cold weather. Probably it is their moulting season that has done it. After always having eggs only a day or two old and right from the nests to the table sort of, we don't relish eating packed eggs.

Some time ago I had made a cake which seemed too large for us so when Neil Kelly, who drives the school bus, stayed off for the children to pick up their mail I gave him a wedge. He is a bachelor and as he has his farm to care for as well as drive the bus I know he has no time to cook, and he does like cake. Yesterday I found a brown paper bag and in it two fine fat roosters, plucked and ready to draw. Neil had left them for me, and we will certainly enjoy eating them. Today I made a spice cake that I know Neil is especially fond of, and will give it to him when he comes past tomorrow, so while we are eating chicken he can eat cake.

There was a turkey, ham and chicken shoot at the Bill Harrison ranch on Sunday afternoon, when 10 turkeys, 12 hams and six chickens were won. The Rod and Gun Club sponsored the shoot, with folk shooting at targets and clay pigeons. Some came from as far as Endako.

Bill and Marie Wood are here to do some hunting and fishing and to put their home in order for the winter. With them are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ballinger. Mr. Ballinger is manager for Mc and Mc in Prince Rupert. Diane and Wallie were not able to come with their parents as they are in school.
