REFUSING RESCUE ROPE UNIDENTIFIED MAN DROWNS IN HARBOR

EDITORIAL

WOMEN VOTE LIBERAL.

In his letter to the editor published yesterday M. M. Stephens mentions incidentally that it was the Liberals who gave women the vote. Here is what the Montreal Gazette, the leading Conservative paper of Canada, has to say about it:

"Hon. Mackenzie King has been claimed that the institution of women's suffrage in Canada is to be credited to the Liberals. As a matter of fact he is justified in his claim, even the legislation was finally included in our statutes by a Conservative prime minister, for women's suffrage is the natural sequence of the principle of universal suffrage, which is of Liberal origin."

Granting of votes to women appeared under acts passed by the Liberal governments in the western provinces, and the zeal of the movement in the east compelled the Conservative administration to take action in the federal field.

Hansard of April, 1917, says Mr. William Pugsley, Liberal, gave notice of motion in favor of granting votes to women on the same basis with men. Sir Thomas White, acting prime minister, shelved it.

Hansard, May 16, 1917, shows Mr. Donald Sutherland, Liberal, moved that the granting of the franchise to women should engage the attention of the House. He was again ignored.

Not a Person.

Hansard, May 16, 1919, a Liberal member asked the Conservative Minister of Justice if, women are on the voters' lists in the provinces does he contend that they cannot vote in Dominion elections? Mr. Doherty said they could not vote at the Dominion election and that a woman was not a person. Mr. Pugsley asked, "What is a woman if she is not a person?" At the same time Sir Wilfrid Laurier took up the cudgels on behalf of women.

The history of the granting of the federal franchise to women by Liberal and is a striking example of the truth of W. E. Gladstone's comparison between Liberal and Conservative:

"The principle of Liberalism is trust in the people qualified by prudence. The principle of Conservatism is mistrust of the people qualified by fear."

Beer Referendum is Ruled out of Order by Speaker Manson

VICTORIA, Dec. 1.—Speaker Manson ruled out of order Ian Mackenzie's motion calling for a referendum on the beer question. He said that a private member was unable to sponsor a motion involving the expenditure of public money. The next step in the proposal for beer legislation was not forecasted up to last night.

The debate on the beer motion lasted an hour before the Speaker intervened. Premier Oliver opposed the referendum proposal, saying he believed the people of the province had no open sale of beer in mind when they voted a year ago for the sale of liquor under government control. He saw no difference between the sale of beer with meals and open sale at a bar. He would, however, abide by the vote of the Legislature.

Major Burde and Sam Uphill advocated the introduction of a beer clause to the present act without taking a referendum.

David Whiteside opposed the beer clause, believing the enforcement of the liquor law would be impossible with the legal sale of beer.

British Press Urges Continuation of Truce at Any Cost.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The possibility of renewed bloodshed in Ireland stares the people of the British Isles in the face as a consequence of the virtual collapse of the peace negotiations. The Government heads are bending their entire efforts to seeking some avenue for negotiations but it is feared all possibilities of a settlement have been exhausted.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The preservation of a truce in Ireland whatever may happen to the peace negotiations is being urged by a considerable section of the British press. It is suggested that this be achieved through an adjournment of the conference to a fixed date six weeks hence.

Unknown Man Drowned When He Jumped from Wharf This Morning

A man whose identity is as yet unknown jumped from the Grand Trunk Pacific wharf near No. 1 shed this morning and was drowned. There were two witnesses of the affair, Charles Watman of the Grand Trunk commissary department, and a Chinaman named Yuen. The former threw a rope to the man while he was on the surface, but this he evidently refused to take and sank.

Warden A. H. Bailey of the city police was immediately called to the scene. He examined the man's coat and hat, which had been left on the wharf, but there were no means of identification on them. They were good clothes, however, and gave evidence of the drowned man being other than a foreigner.

Dragging operations have been commenced to recover the body if possible.

Unemployment Discussed In Legislature Yesterday Dominion Holds Back Work

VICTORIA, Dec. 1.—The debate on the question of unemployment took up the time of the Legislature most of yesterday. The Government did not disclose the amount of the vote they proposed for unemployment relief, but it is believed it will be something like $250,000.

Premier Oliver said he had done everything possible to get action on the C. N. R. terminals and other federal public works as potential relief for unemployment.

Filling Seats.

W. J. Bowser moved that the by-election be held within sixty days to fill the vacancies in the House caused by the resignations of M. A. Macdonald and Dr. W. J. Rose. Mr. Oliver said the motion was unprecedented and only an attempt to disconcert the Government. The House defeated it by 23 to 17.

Mr. Bowser brought in another motion to create a seat in the Legislature for the Peace River district and the debate on it was unfinished when the House adjourned.

Fishermen Need Place to Dock.

The fishermen of this city need a place where they can tie their boats during the winter and overhaul their gear and feel that if they leave the boat for a few hours or a few days it will be all right. Attention has on a good many occasions been drawn to the lack of facilities here. The only attempt that has been made to do anything has been by the Provincial Government when it built the floats at Cow Bay.

About two years ago the Dominion Government was going to take action with a view to remedying the situation. Mr. Hull, the Dominion Government engineer, went to a lot of trouble and prepared plans, but everything was dropped when it was decided not to have an election. Now nothing is heard of it. No one seems to take an interest in the fishermen, although it is plainly seen that they are the very life of the community.

For the amount of production at Prince Rupert the city should be twice its present size. It is largely neglect that allows the fishermen to go elsewhere for their supplies and that allows them to winter in the south, for no encouragement is given them to remain here. All sorts of money is spent at some of the small places in providing floats. Here nothing has been done so far, and if the present Government remains in power nothing will be done.

King Is Winning Everywhere.

Mackenzie King is winning out all along the line. That is plain from the reports that are coming through. In the despatch that was sent out from Ottawa yesterday only six wins are given the Liberals in this province. That is clearly an error of judgment. Nine or ten ought to be nearer the mark. It must be remembered that the Progressive candidate for Comox-Alberni, who it is conceded will beat Clements, is endorsed by the Liberals and will support the Liberal party if elected. Saskatchewan has at present a Liberal government in power in the province and the cities have always gone Liberal. It is reasonable to suppose then that there will be more than five Liberals elected there. As a matter of fact the forecast sent out was too careful.

Prevent Making of Huge Fortunes.

The whole trend of the day is against allowing men to make huge fortunes such as did Lord Mount Stephen, whose death was recorded yesterday. He was once a barefoot boy and he made so many millions that he did not know what to do with them. Today the graduated income tax would absorb a great deal of it. The whole modern trend should be against the accumulation of such vast wealth in the hands of one person, for when one has more than his share another must have less. The Liberal doctrine is that the one who is under shall be encouraged and protected and the accumulation of great riches shall be discouraged. Some day it will be absolutely prohibited. There is no objecton to every man getting all he can earn. That is just. The objection is to one man being in a position to manipulate the commodities of life in such a way as to make profit for the ones who do it. No man earns a million dollars and lives at the same time in a style in any way commensurate with his earnings. It is by taking advantage of improper economic conditions that he is enabled to add to his riches at such a great rate.

Many Insane in This Province.

Hon. J. D. McLean announced in the Legislature that there were more insane people in this province than in any other in Canada. That was a serious indictment and is the result of fast living and improper social standards. It is not a sign of any climatic difficulty or inherent weakness. It is the result of social degradation.

Insanity comes from many causes. Loneliness is apt to induce it, for man is a social animal and is not meant to live alone. Possibly the presence of so many single men and women in this new province is one of the basic reasons leading to social diseases, which is one of the primary causes of insanity.

Sport Chat

Street Foreman Malcolm McLeod reports that his work of repairing the dam at Morse Creek has been successful and that the water has now risen to the top and there are no leaks now. The use of Morse Creek pond for skating when the next cold snap comes is thus assured and there is no doubt but that many will use it. Some people who have not felt like crossing the harbor to the Salt Lakes in the past will go skating now that there is a suitable place so close at hand.

The Pioneer Roller Rink Tigers, who have sent out a challenge to the Intermediate League for basketball games, feel convinced that they will still be able to show the public of Prince Rupert and their opponents something about the popular indoor game. They are keen and enthusiastic about meeting their chosen rivals and the fans are looking forward to some pleasant diversion in seeing the old timers and the youngsters pitted against each other.

Art Halliwell, the Toronto football goalie, who went to the Old Country a short time ago to play for the Dunfermline Club in the Second Scottish League, has suddenly returned to Toronto. While with the professional team he played five games and showed up well. He may remain in Toronto and seek reinstatement but this he will not be able to get until he has been back in the country six months. It is also possible that he may receive offers from other Old Country Clubs and accept them.

FORLORN HOPE.

Editor Daily News:

Sir:—I have read and re-read M. M. Stephen's hysterical outburst in your columns yesterday, but, probably like many others, am quite at sea to discover a reason for this tirade. Does Mr. Stephens object to the editor of the Interior News changing his mind? If the answer is in the affirmative, is this gentleman's position not rather illogical? Col. Peck's prize supporters, Major McGregor, Mr. Stewart, Mr. McCaffery and Mr. Nickerson have also it seems, changed their minds and are highly commended by Mr. Stephens.

But there is an alternative. Mr. Stephens may be obsessed by the hallucination that it is the crime of crimes to desert the Conservative and support the Liberal candidate while the opposite is a virtue which entitles the actors to haloes and white robes.

Well, if Mr. Stephens is going to hand out haloes and white robes I am sure we will trust the recipients will find them becoming.

Mr. Stephens' shrieks of approaching victory on the 6th, indicates that he believes in the Teutonic dictum the "will to win," a belief that does not appear to be shared by the bulk of the Conservative Party who are advancing on a forlorn hope, not the full of hope miss-named "forlorn" but the most forlorn of all forlorn hopes.

STRIKES ARE DISCUSSED

Thomas McClymont Gives Interesting Five Minute Talk to Rotary Club.

While several subjects were discussed briefly at the meeting of the Rotary Club today, the five minute address of Thomas McClymont on strikes was perhaps the most important and interesting subject dealt with, from the popular viewpoint. The speaker explained that there had always been strikes and they caused vast loss. In this city he showed that there had been heavy losses, especially in the lumber business, owing to the longshoremen's strike two years ago.

The climax to all strikes was the big coal strike in Britain, which paralyzed industry in that country and led people to think of devising ways and means of averting such catastrophes in the future.

Two Means.

Mr. McClymont suggested two means of preventing strikes. One was to establish an industrial parliament which would arrange for a basic wage in every trade, and to this would be added a subsistence allowance based on the cost of living in each locality. This would be national in its scope and not local.

Another plan advocated was co-partnership between capital and labor, or as he would have it between labor and capital. Capital was entitled to a fair return and other profits he thought might be divided between the owner and the employee, although on what basis he was not prepared to say. The profits of the employee might be placed in an unemployment insurance fund to get rid of the out of work problem in connection with that line of industry.

Think Peace.

Dr. Grant spoke of the present efforts toward peace and suggested that if all Rotarians throughout the world would unite to think peace then they would be a big factor in preventing future wars.

J. W. Nicholls made a humorous address and Archbishop Du Vernet and Bishop Bunoz were formally introduced to the club and accepted as honorary members.

EGGS IN EDMONTON ARE DOLLAR A DOZEN

EDMONTON, Nov. 30.—Egg prices have been steadily increasing during the past few weeks and on the city market eggs of the kind that could be classed as strictly fresh were selling as high as $1 per dozen. The offering of eggs was somewhat larger than the previous week; however, the demand was quite equal to the supply, and at prices ranging from 75c to $1 most of the dealers were finding a ready market. The spread of 25c per dozen is the largest that has been known on the market for several months, and although some of the eggs that were offered at 75c and 80c per dozen were not strictly fresh, the spread was due more to a lack of competition than to any difference in quality. Most of the vendors report that egg production has gone down very low during the last few weeks, and unless the hens start to lay soon the price of fresh eggs may be still higher.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:—

A WINNIPEG paper says a Vancouver man who did not know enough to go in when it rained would get awfully wet.

OF the things that don't seem to get you very far, reading election news is pre-eminent and especially the news of the Tory campaign sheets.

HORSES were very slow, but there were no arm aches on cold mornings trying to get started.

AFTER December 6 there will be another contest to decide who won the political war, says a scoffer. That will not be in Skeena constituency.

ANOTHER thing that does not get you very far is trying to buy a Christmas present for a dollar.

OH for the good old times when we did not have a dollar with which to buy a present and none were expected.

TALKING about elections, is it true that the Conservatives of the city have put in an order to the K.N. Hardware for a lot of pickaxes and shovels with which to dig out their candidate after December 6?

SUPPOSE there were no elections and no candidates, what a dull old world this would be!

SOME anonymous correspondent wants to know how long the Stork procession will be on election day. I should suggest about as long as two thirds of the voters' list.

A writer of political articles sometimes wonders why it is one man smiles while another scowls after reading the dope.

IT must be hard to feel like some newspaper writers who never see any good in anything their opponents do or say.

LIFE is just one darned election after another.

Railway Situation in Northern B.C.

By Donald C. Simpson, Smithers

We old-timers in the Interior, who have for the last fifteen years been cognizant of the real inwardness of the railway situation, are certainly glad to see that the people of Prince Rupert, and indeed the people of the whole country tributary to the Grand Trunk Pacific, are at last awake to their best interests and are aware of the persistent "knocking" that has been going on for so long, with but one object in view, namely, the ruin of the Grand Trunk Pacific, its terminus on the Pacific, and the whole country served by the G. T. P.

We are also glad to see that most of the people seem to be aware of the identity of the interests and the political party that have so persistently wielded the hammer towards the G. T. P. and everything else in Central and Northern B. C. I of course refer to the Canadian Pacific Railway and its tool and humble slave, the Conservative party of Canada.

It was certainly amusing to read Shaughnessy's patriotic (?) and philanthropic (?) proposal to take over the National Railways, published in the Canadian press last April, which every thoughtful person knew at the time was only a "feeler" put out to see how the public pulse beat.

Objectionable Adjectives.

The adjectives applied by Shaughnessy towards the G. T. P. all through his article, bore a wonderful resemblance to those encountered so frequently in the editorials in the newspapers of a Conservative complexion, published in a certain city considerably less than one thousand miles south of Prince Rupert, whenever any reference is mad to the G. T. P. or anything connected with it. These adjectives are "deplorable," "ill-conceived," "unfortunate," "ill-fated," etc.

Neither Shaughnessy nor any of the apparently "grief-stricken" writers of these editorials have explained why the G. T. P. is a "deplorable etc." enterprise. I will now explain in a few blunt words the real reasons why from their point of view the Grand Trunk Pacific is so "deplorable."

Best Railroad.

1. The G. T. P. is the best laid out railroad on the American continent, with maximum grades of less than one-fourth those of the best of the American trans-continental systems, and most "deplorable" of all, only about one-ninth the steepness of the maximum grades on the Canadian Pacific Railway, until, shortly after the construction of the G. T. P. with its "deplorably" easy grades was begun the C. P. R., with fear and hatred in its heart towards its northern competitor, had, at the cost of millions, to bore a tunnel for its main line through the Selkirk range from Glacier House to Beaver, thus cutting down its maximum grades to only five times the steepness of those of the "deplorable" G. T. P.

Deplorable Terminus.

2. The sea-port of Prince Rupert, the "deplorable" terminus of the G. T. P. is five hundred miles nearer the Orient, with its millions of inhabitants anxious to buy our products, than Vancouver, the terminus of the C. P. R. This is a very "deplorable" fact which cannot be gainsaid.

3. The Pacific terminus of the G. T. P. is the centre of and natural distributing point for the product of the greatest fishing grounds on the Pacific coast, and the G. T. P., when properly managed will carry all the fish caught north of the 51st parallel to the great cities of Eastern Canada and United States.

4. The G. T. P. main line runs through a far richer country in minerals, coal and agriculture land than the main line of the C. P. R.

Never Completed.

There may be some who will argue that the G. T. P. at present is not a paying proposition. To these it is only necessary to say that the enterprise has never been completed, no branch lines have been built, no steamship line to the East has been established, practically none of the natural resources so abundant in the country through which the railway runs, have been developed, for the simple reason that it has been impossible to get capital to develop them, for almost as soon as the last spike was driven, and before the road-bed was ballasted even, the greatest calamity that ever befell the world took place, and for over four long years not a dollar was obtainable for any purpose excepting that of war. Since peace was declared, financial conditions have been even worse, so that, all things considered it is astonishing that a pioneer railway like the G. T. P. has been able to do so well.

C. P. R. Difficulties.

The C. P. R. is now a prosperous concern, but we old-timers remember the time, not so very long ago either, when it was not prosperous. We remember when its financial condition was very "deplorable" indeed. We remember the time when there were plenty of calamity howlers, who asserted positively in the loudest and most raucous tones that the enterprise that is now the great and wealthy C. P. R. would never pay for the axle grease used on its cars, far less any dividends to its shareholders.

At the time the C. P. R. was completed in 1886 no world-shaking disaster took place, yet the C. P. R. did not pay for many years afterwards.

It is interesting to speculate on what would have happened to the C. P. R. if the catastrophe of 1914 had taken place in 1886. We opine its condition would have been much more "deplorable," "ill-conceived," "unfortunate," "ill-fated, etc., etc.," than that of the G. T. P. at the present time.

PIMPLES ON FACE

DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion.

Miss Mary E. Flanagan, R. R. No. 3, Stella, Ont., writes:—"I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad that I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, 'Burdock Blood Bitters chased them'."

B. B. B. has been on the market for the past 45 years, so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy.

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The School Dramatic Society was giving its first performance of the season and the play chosen for the momentous occasion was "Julius Caesar."

All went smoothly until Caesar's body was brought in and Mark Antony had to deliver his famous speech.

He put his heart into his part, and the audience felt acutely for the poor citizens, who were all presumably horror-stricken and overcome with grief, when Antony gently but firmly grasped as he thought, the face cloth, and slowly, very slowly, began to draw it back.

Just then an excited whisper came from the other end of the corpse:

"This end, you idiot."

But Antony was too much wrapped in grief to hear. He persevered, and then suddenly disclosed to the intently gazing audience Caesar's boots."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

FORMER MINING MAN UNFROCKED

Charles F. Caldwell, Formerly Part Owner New Alaska Property, Loses Position.

SAID "DAMN" BEFORE LADIES OF CHURCH

Addressed Board of Trade Here Two Years Ago and Boosted for Stewart.

Charles F. Caldwell, mining promoter, has been deposed from the position of overseer of the Church of Zion at Zion City. Mr. Caldwell is well known here. He was at one time part owner of the New Alaska mine near the Premier, on the Alaskan side of the Salmon River, now bonded by Pat Daly. Also he tried to promote a railway up the Salmon River. When passing through Prince Rupert about two years ago he addressed the Board of Trade and boosted for Stewart, using most optimistic language in regard to the mines there. The story of his displacement is given in Northwest Mining Truth.

The letter of removal, dated September 17, 1921, is signed by nine members of the sect of which Caldwell was the head, and is in full as follows:

"Sir—When we, the undersigned officers, in church council, July 17, 1920, placed you in the office of general overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion, it was with the distinct understanding that you would carry on the work for the extension of the Kingdom of God as heretofore taught by the First Apostle, John Alexander, and as taught by the written principles of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion. You were not permitted to change any teaching or policy of Zion. This you have attempted to do.

Bible Knowledge Limited.

"We regret your limited knowledge of the Bible, and the Leaves of Healing, and repeated statements in the pulpit that, not having this knowledge, God had to give it you through His Spirit. We have been obliged to reject this knowledge which you claimed God gave you through the Holy Spirit, as it did not agree with the Holy Scriptures.

"Damn" Before Ladies.

"We abhor the improper language used by you many times in the pulpit, in the presence of women. We deplore the lack of control of your temper, your frequent use of the word 'damn' in a worldly way. We reject your assuming to remove loyal officers without just cause, or even a trial. We are grieved at the contradictory statements in Zion Banners, and particularly because of false statements about officers.

"You have not shown proper control of disbursements of church funds.

Started "Rough House."

"You have degraded the office of general overseer when you threw off his coat, and in a disgraceful manner ejected one by force from your presence, simply because he stood for the First Apostle's teaching.

"Your published dreams and visions, and many others read from the pulpit and not published, have been a mass of inconsistencies.

"It therefore becomes our duty to remove you from the office of general overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion. May God, in His infinite mercy, lead you to a deep and true repentance."

Trouble Brewisg for Some Time.

It is not known here whether this is merely another schism within the bigger schism which resulted years ago in partitioning Zionites into two distinct groups under Voliva and Lewis, or the unanimous decision of the sect over which Caldwell has presided for over a year. It is known, however, that trouble has been brewing for some time, due, so it is said, to Caldwell's desire to introduce teachings which did not conform to those of John Alexander Dowie, "First Apostle of the Lord Jesus the Christ and General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion," or "Elijah II," as he styled himself. The "church" was founded at Zion City, Ill., in 1896, 42 miles north of Chicago, on Lake Michigan. In 1906 Dowie was suspended, charged with misuse of investments, tyranny, polygamous tendencies and other offenses. Later his position was usurped by Voliva and John A. Lewis was selected to lead the orthodox wing. Lewis died in July, 1920, and Caldwell was then elected.

Caldwell, who is known for his eccentricities throughout the mining districts of the Northwest, especiall in the Slocan district, where he has resided for the last fifteen years, is one of the really picturesque characters of contemporary mining history. Beginning his mining experience in Colorado, he arrived at Murray in 1881, soon after discovery of gold by Pritchard, and for some time ran the Palace Hotel, which he built. In 1889 he was at Chloride, on Pend Orielle Lake, and the following year maintained an office in Spokane as a broker of mines and stocks.

Early in Slocan.

In 1891 he was among the stampeders to the Slocan district, and during the two following years was a leading figure in the gold excitement started on the Lardeau and Duncan rivers, north of Kootenay Lake. In 1894 he was mining under contract at the Poorman mine near Nelson, and then he joined the rush to Rossland. There he was interested in the Homestake and Sunset, in the South Belt. He returned to the Slocan district in 1896 and began development of the Elkhorn, adjoining the Whitewater mine. He then acquired the Pontiac and Sunset groups, on Woodberry Creek, and in association with the late D. C. Corbin organized Woodberry Mines Limited. Later he was associated with F. H. Clergue, promoter of the Sault Ste. Marie Railroad, and narrowly missed a big fortune.

At Whitehorse, Alaska.

The next year he was at Whitehorse, Alaska, and almost succeeded in "putting over" a big consolidation of mining properties with some of the heaviest financiers of the United States. He returned to Kaslo in 1907, "flat broke," and worked as a mill hand at the Buchanan sawmill on Kaslo Bay. For the next few years he devoted much of his time to financing and operating the Utica mine, but about seven years ago lost control to officials of the Trail smelter. He regained control of the company in 1917 in association with Volney D. Williamson, and was president of the company until he left for Zion City last year.

AFTER BUSINESS.

"You run your car very fast through the streets," said the friend to the doctor.

"Yes," he replied, "I'm always in a hurry, and besides when things are dull, I often pick up one or two cases on the way."—London Ideas.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

"I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

as the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food, having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price, 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. ST. ANDREW'S ANNUAL BALL

Affair Last Evening Was Usual Big Success—Decorations a Feature.

The annual St. Andrew's Society ball took place last night in the hall on Second Avenue. It was a great success, in keeping with those of previous years. There were 140 couples in attendance, and all enjoyed themselves to the fullest degree.

The decorations for the occasion were a feature. New blue and white streamers had been hung, and they lent a dainty effect to the appearance of the hall. Many members of the society took part in the planning and execution.

Music was provided by Arthur's Orchestra, augmented by Will Brown of the Westholme Orchestra, with his drums, traps and xylophone.

At midnight the serving of refreshments of a high order commenced in the rooms upstairs. The Ladies' Auxiliary had this part of the affair in hand and Mrs. James Lee and Mrs. W. L. Sandison were in charge.

The dancing program contained a number of Scottish and square dances. Piper Alex. Macdonald providing national music for the former. D. C. Stuart wore kilts and all the trimmings with good effect. Dancing continued until a late hour this morning.

S. D. Macdonald was master of ceremonies and A. Hunter and W. R. Martin were on the door. The committee in charge of the entire affair comprised S. D. Macdonald, W. M. Brown and D. C. Stuart.

CENSOR CENSORED

W. J. Bowser Objects to Jaunt to Studios in California.

Objection to the recent trip of the moving picture censor of British Columbia and his assistant to the studios at Universal City, was taken in the Legislature by W. J. Bowser, Leader of the Opposition a few days ago.

Mr. Bowser said that the trip was at the invitation of the film corporation and the expenses paid by the corporation and that the expense was considered as an investment as it was used to influence the B. C. officials in the interests of a special film the corporation was planning to put over.

"Such excursions to Los Angeles can only be made for one purpose and that is not a good purpose," Mr. Bowser went on. "I don't think that consorting with the people around film studios is a good thing for our officials. I think these studios from recent revelations of life there are good places for our officials to keep away from. They should keep in their own office in our own province and away from the entanglements in any studio."

Anaemia

Thin, watery blood is no more nourishing than thin, watery milk—skim milk.

But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis St., Brantford, Ont., writes:

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a buzzing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt brighter and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine."

Modern Bluebeard must Pay Extreme Penalty for Murder of Ten Women and One Boy

VERSAILLES, Dec. 1.—Henri Landru, the modern Bluebeard, who was convicted of the murder of ten women and a boy here, was yesterday sentenced to die by the guillotine.

This murder was one of the most remarkable on record. The Manchester Guardian just to hand gives a very picturesque description of the beginning of the trial:

At noon on Monday one of the most remarkable murder trials of modern times began at the Versailles Assize Court, when Henri Landru stood to answer the charge of having caused the disappearance of a number of women and one youth. After the reading of the act of indictment, in answer to the president of the court, Landru said: "I protest my innocence once more . . . I wish with all my heart that this trial may at least throw light on the case."

In the trial today the main portion of the afternoon was taken up by that strangest feature of a French trial, in opposition to our most elementary ideas of justice, the general interrogation of the prisoner.

General Interrogation.

The judge, the magnificent red-robed Gilbert, closely questioned Landru about his past history and on his defense to the charges. It reminded one vaguely of one's childish ideas of the Day of Judgment. The immensely superior intellect of the judge, a representative French man of the world, ripe in wisdom and culture, who handled Landru with distinguished and refined cruelty, whipping him with his sarcasm, politely scorning his literary style in the love letters he wrote, and doing his best to make him trap himself, might represent the terrifying Recording Angel with the book of a man's life open before him.

Landru, in this fiery ordeal, was more like Brer Fox in the corner than ever. The Judge gave him permission to remain seated, but he was always on his feet, explaining, arguing, excusing himself. Every dirty little fraud the man had done was raked up, and he had either to accept the judge's pitiless version or enter into the minutest details to excuse himself.

Cruel Fascination.

In the process there was a cruel fascination. Landru is something of an elocutionist. He knows how to use his hands and raises or lowers his voice at his will. Usually he speaks in a pompous, somewhat affected accent, picking his words and choosing Latin technicalities. His hands, long and thin, with pointed nails and crooked fingers, wave smoothly. A sardonic remark from the judge, and suddenly he is off in another mood. His voice deepens his accent becomes common, and he does the French equivalent of dropping his aitches. At the end he bangs on the table.

Fatal Notebook.

Then, like a cat, pounced the black-robed form of his defender, Maitre Giafferi, the greatest criminal lawyer and orator of France. With a rapid flood of keen comment he supports his client.

Across the way, the state prosecutor, huge in stature and sandy-haired, replies. It is a fight for the life of the old fox, between the bear and the leopard. The bear had the worst of it, and Maitre Giafferi forced the judge either to cease commenting on past cases in which Landru had been mixed or allow him to have his say.

At last the court came to the strongest part offhe case against the man—his fatal notebook, in which he kept a record of the women who had disappeared.

"What is your charming explanation of this book?" asked the judge, leaning forward to see the stab tell.

Landru bent backward. He has a peculiar stammer, which is like a catching of the breath, of which few could tell the meaning. Then he delivered his explanation. This is a mere commercial list of clients. He intended to start a business for buying and selling furniture from widowed women in need. The list of two hundred odd women were prospective clients. Eleven who happen to be on a separate page, and vanished, are some of them.

The First Case.

Landru was pressed closely by both judge and prosecutor. We have come at last to the first case, the disappearance of Mme. Cuchet and her young son. This dates from 1914, when Landru under a false name, kept a motor garage near the Luxembourg Gardens, combining it with a bicycle repairing business.

Before, however, any witnesses were called, the prosecution strove for two hours to catch the accused in some contradiction or heedless statement. Every minute point of the story was put to the man in the dock. Occasionally, when things were getting a trifle warm for the wily accused, his counsel, Maitre Moro-Giafferi, would spring from his seat in a swirl of papers and interpose in a voice of thunder. Both judge and advocate are afraid of the panther-like Corsican barrister, whose reputation and power in the world outside are to theirs as the sun is to the stars.

Complicated Story.

The story is not a complicated one. Mme. Cuchet, a hard-working milliner, widowed, with a son of seventeen, made the acquaintance of Landru early in 1914. Landru says that it was through the son, who had brought his bicycle to be repaired at the shop kept by his amiable self. He brought his mother to chat. Later they became friendly, but Mme. Cuchet's brother-in-law intervened, broke into Landru's room when he was away and found family papers showing that he (Landru) was married and had two grown-up daughters.

Mme. Cuchet broke off her relations with the smooth-spoken automobile dealer for a while, but after a while she took up with him again. One day they went to the country and lived there together, and—the rest is silence.

Some weeks later Landru sold the shares she had for a small sum in the name of M. Cuchet, and afterwards her furniture. The irate brother-in-lanw went to the war. All her other friends thought that Mme. Cuchet, as she had always wished, had gone to England and that her son had enlisted in the British army "to learn English."

Dramatic Moment.

The most vivid incidents in a long discussion of the details of this affair were those in which Landru was questioned as to the whereabouts of Mme Cuchet. First the judge and then the advocate General asked him point-blank what was the reason he refused to tell.

"I refused at the preliminary examination, and again I refuse," said he, bending forward with a sort of tired patience, "Madame Cuchet and I had an arrangement between us which I refuse to reveal."

"Was she your mistress?" demanded the judge.

"No, Monsieur," replied Landru, with a cry that could be heard in every corner of the hall.

"You will tell us of this compact," cried back the advocate advocate general, rising in his seat and thrusting his face fiercely at Landru, "even if your head pays for it under the knife of the guillotine."

Landru hesitated, but it was to reply only more decidedly on a high note that we have not yet heard, "Non, Monsieur."

The Claws.

During this passage we saw a new Landru. He swayed backward from the waist, and lifted his long, crooked hand as if to claw away his questioner. He was for the moment no longer the obsequious, small cheat. At the start he is limorous, and as naturally anxious as a cat stepping on wet ground to avoid saying anything he might regret. After the first minutes, however, he seems to find himself at home, and talks smoothly as if he enjoyed legal discussions with high dignitaries.

The trial was a long one and concluded yesterday with the sentence of death against the accused.

REPORTS OF COLONEL PECK'S MEETINGS

Telegram Received Says That He Got Good Receptions at Anyox and Other Points.

The following telegram from Anyox signed by D. S. Fyfe was received by D. G. Stewart, Col. Peck's campaign manager, this morning:

"At Port Simpson an enthusiastic meeting presided over by Dr. Spencer was held. The band turned out and played several selections and a vote of thanks to the Colonel was passed at the conclusion.

"Immediately after the meeting the party sailed for Alice Arm arriving in the forenoon. A meeting was held in the hotel at 2 o'clock and the place was filled to overflowing. Several were unable to obtain seats. The meeting ended with three rousing cheers for the Colonel.

"The party immediately sailed for Anyox, where the largest meeting of the campaign outside of Prince Rupert was held. The capacity of the hall was severely taxed. The reception accorded the Colonel was most enthusiastic and rousing cheers for him filled the hall as he resumed his seat. Mr. Fowler, of Alice Arm, a partner of H. F. Kergin, M.P.P., requested the privilege of addressing the meeting. This was accorded him. The kindliest thing that can be said of Mr. Fowler is that he is not vote-getter for Mr. Stork. Col. Peck made a courteous, good-humored reply which brought down the house. A feature of the meeting here was the number of individuals who forced themselves to the front at the close of the meeting to greet the Colonel and promise their support. Major McGregor, V.C., made an earnest and moving appeal for the support of the Colonel at each meeting. He especially directed his remarks to returned men. W. W. Wright also spoke at each meeting with great force and eloquence, giving a careful survey of the political situation in the country generally."

FORD PRICES AND ELECTION

People Have to Pay Through the Nose Owing to the Tariff.

Consider the Ford. It has a lot to do with the present election, as Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general of Ontario, pointed out in a recent speech. The price of Fords here, he observed, is the American price plus the duty of thirty-five per cent. In other words, notes the Toronto Star, as it proceeds to analyze Mr. Raney's address, these cars, according to their kind, cost the Canadian buyer from $150 to $250 more than the same cars cost American buyers. The difference represents the duty. Who gets this difference? Mr. Raney tells, with complete particulars, who gets it.

Not Exceptional.

It will be said in reply to Mr. Raney, that the Ford case is an exceptional one. It may be. Yet it gives the plainest illustration of the way the tariff, in full play, works. That is what it is for, but its workings are not always so demonstrably evident as in this case, with two Ford factories and a tariff between them—a tariff which makes the Canadian pay a couple of hundred dollars more for a Ford car than the American pays.

The Canadian Ford company was started in 1905 with a capital of $125,000. Mr. Raney shows that the dividends it has paid and the present value of its stock amount to $30,000,000. In ten years its profits amounted to $8,000,000. Where does the money come from? The price of a Ford Sedan bought at Detroit and brought into Ontario, with duty paid, is $1014.50, plus freight from Detroit. The price of a Canadian Ford sedan is $1,014.50 plus freight from Ford City. The tariff talks here quite openly and tells you just what its effect is. The effect is to enable the Ford people to charge $263 more for a car made and sold in Ontario than for the same car made and sold in Michigan.

Goes Into Profits.

Do the workers at Ford City get the money asks the Star. Not this money. They get the wages that are paid in industry, just as the Michigan workers do, but this increase which the tariff shelter provides goes into the $8,000,000 profits made by the company in ten years and the thirty million dollar value into which an investment of $125,000 has grown.

RUM RUNNING FROM GERMANY INTO SWEDEN

Fishermen in Finland Refuse to Continue Calling and Turn to Smuggling.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 30.—Rum-running into Sweden from Germany has developed into something like a public scandal, say Swedish newspapers. The broken nature of the coast line and the thousands of small islands dotting the sea approaches are all in favor of smuggling enterprise.

The craft engaged in this trade are generally small fast sailing schooners, captained as a rule by ex-officers of the imperial German navy. Many of the skippers bear names well known in the records of submarine activity. Their daring and experience makes it very difficult for Swedish coastguards to stop them.

From Reval, Rostock, Stettin, Lubeck and other German ports these vessels put to sea, their cargo always consigned, according the ship's papers, to some Finnish port. Once among the rocky archipelagos of Eastern Sweden, the cargo is landed piecemeal after nightfall on the rocks from which it is later removed by accomplices ashore, who have a widely ramified organization for the distribution of the goods.

Traffic Enormous.

This illicit traffic is said by Swedish papers to be enormous. The papers are full of stirring stories about smugglers and their doings. They remain outside the territorial waters, cruising about until their friends seize their chance to rush out in fast motor boats, often in a heavy gale, tranship the liquor and disappear in the dangerous labyrinth of the archipelago.

Lately the police have started a scheme to beat the rum-runners at their own game. The other day a police boat, camouflaged as a smuggling craft, boarded a German schooner and loaded up to the gunwale from the schooner's hold unconscious of the fact that the schooner was just outside the territorial limit. When the policemen tried to leave the schooner without paying, the smugglers threatened to throw them overboard, and there was nothing for them but to pay for the liquor.

In another case a gale blew up soon after the coastguards had boarded a ship which happened to be within the three mile limit and, owing to the dangerous coast, the ship had to put out to sea, taking the Swedish guards away to Germany.

In Sweden and in Finland many of the coast population get their living by smuggling and refuse to go fishing and carry on their legitimate trades. In Finland where total prohibition prevails conditions are even worse than in Sweden. Fishing there has entirely ceased, it is said, because rum-running is far more profitable business.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

Queer Queries
of a Political Agnostic

Why is it all the Conservatives in the constituency seem to be getting cold feet?

Can the Peck supporters point to one Conservative who is opposing him?

If the Conservatives are a unit behind the candidate, why try to induce Liberals to believe that he is a Liberal independent?

If a candidate is a Liberal it means that he is independent but it does not mean that he will support the Meighen policy, does it?

When a candidate is elected does it mean that he will go to Ottawa to represent himself or his constituents?

Should not a candidate let his constituents know what his policy is before asking for their support?

If we are to judge Colonel Peck by his record in Parliament is it not true that we must label him Conservative?
