Hon. T. D. Pattulo Would Admit all Immigrants if White & in Good Health

VANCOUVER, Oct. 28.—"Canada can easily absorb 300,000 new settlers a year and with the outlook at present not very favorable to general investment of British capital in Canadian industries the Dominion should give its earnest attention to securing these settlers," said Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, today on his return from England.

The minister said he was of opinion that Canada should admit every mentally sound and healthy individual of white extraction not only from Britain and the United States but from other countries. He said there were several reasons for not anticipating any general investment of British capital in Canadian industries at present. Rightly or wrongly, the Grand Trunk Railway losses have been made the occasion for unfavorable comment on Canadian investments.

LLOYD GEORGE GLASGOW TODAY

Is Acclaimed by Five Thousand People Whom He Addresses

GLASGOW, Oct. 28. — Former Premier Lloyd George, adressing this afternoon 5,000 people who received him enthusiastically, declared in referring to the breaking up of the coalition that "the world is in such trouble and in such a condition that you cannot afford to indulge in party bickerings and in quarrels until the nation is on a firm rock again." He said the Conservatives wanted a premier with less virility than himself.

Referring to the labor manifesto, the former premier said it was issued to a people crushed with taxation, sore with the wounds of a great war and exhausted and worried with anxiety about their daily bread. "We no longer are out of danger." It is a formidable challenge and will appeal to millions of die-hards and not only the people who are calling for a change. They are not the only people in a democratic country who have a right to call for a change.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Right Hon. H. H. Asquith made his first address of the campaign chiefly denouncing both the Lloyd George and Bonar Law parties. He said Britain had the usual spectacle of two of the authors of the coalition writing rival epitaphs upon its tomb.

Spasmodic Enforcement Of Criminal Laws

The spadmodic enforcement of laws is not good for any country. To allow people to break laws for months and then to make a raid of a spectacular nature is not in the interests of good government. Yesterday a number of local citizens were before the courts for offenses which seem to have been openly condoned. For months beer has been sold more or less openly and there seemed to be no attempt to stop it. Then there is a spectacular raid and Prince Rupert gets the name of being a law-breaking place, which it evidently is, judging by the number of men and women haled into court at one time. It was by just such action that the prohibition law was brought into disrepute and the moderation law for which such a large majority of the people voted, is being discredited by laxity in enforcement.

If it is the will of the people to have open selling of liquor and beer, then pass a law to that effect and make everything open. If, on the other hand, it is the will of the people that there shall be restrictions on the sale of liquor and beer, then the law to that effect should be enforced, not spectacularly in occasional raids, but all the time.

If Some Can Sell So Should Others.

The point of view of those engaged in the business is reasonable. They say they saw others selling with impunity and no steps being taken by the authorities to stop them. Then why should not they do it? Would it be reasonable to allow a dozen people to make money from the trade while others refrained? "Enforce the law and we will all abide by it," was the expression of one violator. All they ask is an equal break with the others.

Laws Become Inoperative.

In Britain and in this country laws are often allowed to become inoperative rather than repealed. Take as an instance that occurs at the moment, the law against the use of salmon eggs as bait in trout fishing. That is illegal, yet its provisions are never enforced. The law against shooting from a launch had not been enforced until very recently in this part of the country. In England the extension of the Truck Act to farmers was never enforced. Here it looked as if the selling of beer in clubs was not being enforced. Then sudden activity occurs and men are haled into court for doing what has been more or less openly allowed for some time.

Take another instance, that of the export liquor law and the right for local people to purchase liquor from local dealers. The business has been carried on so openly that it has been looked upon almost as a legal business. Many local citizens never thought of going to the vendor for their supplies because they could get it cheaper from export houses. Then comes the strong arm of the law, and it is found that men are implicated who would not have been so if the law had been enforced throughout.

TEACHERS AT HOME TO FRIENDS LAST NIGHT AT DE LUXE

Enjoyable Time Spent With Trustees, Officials and Others as Guests

Last evening the teachers of the city were at home to their friends in the De Luxe Hall, the event having been arranged by the local Teachers Association and the school trustees and officials were invited to be present.

The hall was very tastily decorated with Hallowe'en emblems such as black cats, witches, pumpkins and full moons. Each guest on arrival was presented with a paper cap made by the teachers to match with the general scheme of decorations. Hidden in each hat was a charm written in verse.

Court whist was the amusement of the evening and there were violin solos by C. Woodworth accompanied by Miss Loudon, which were much enjoyed.

Following the games refreshments were served and short addresses were given by Principal Brady of the High School and Dr. W. T. Kergin, chairman of the school board. Mr. Brady spoke appreciatively of the work done by Mrs. Ling as trustee, a lady who had formerly been a teacher and who now was leaving. Dr. Kergin spoke for the board of trustees and mentioned the keen interest the board took in the welfare of the teachers and in their work. He was glad to meet them on that occasion and thanked them for the opportunity. He thought it would be better if they met oftener. He also spoke of the loss the board would sustain in the departure of Mrs. Ling.

The room was cleared of tables and a short dance closed a most enjoyable event.

WHY A WOMAN NEEDS A BANK BOOK

EVERY woman has some little plan of things she will buy when she has saved enough money.

Loose cash kept in your purse soon goes—it tempts you to spend.

To save your money for the things you want to buy, you should keep it where it cannot tempt you. Money can be saved more surely and quicker in a Savings Account than by keeping it at home or in your pocket.

WONDERS NEVER CEASE

The wonderful success of the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has been more marked year by year continuously for half a century. There are households literally by tens of thousands all over Canada where for thirty, forty and fifty years the Family Herald has not only been a welcome weekly guest, but one indispensable to the home life. The success of the Family Herald of Montreal has been so conspicuous and so overwhelming that Publishers everywhere refer to it as a phenomenal journal. The price of subscription to it looks ridiculously small when the wonderful contents of the paper are considered. Those who do not know it can, we understand, have a sample copy free by writing to its Publishers, Montreal.

FARMERS DISAPPOINTED

Editor Daily News:

To show you how the "local enterprises" are operated to assist the settlers, I wish to draw your attention to the fact that the Massett Timber Co., after telling me and others that they wished to purchase local products exclusively if Vancouver prices plus added freight charges f.o.b. Buckley Bay would be satisfactory, and after putting off delivery of our products from boat to boat on the grounds that they hadn't their storage house completed and after I had had two tons of potatoes lying in the warehouse on the wharf here for three weeks waiting their convenience, they wire me—

"Mr. Rutten, New Massett.

"Can not use potatoes, have closed deal for all needed.

"Massett Timber Co."

and they follow this with a letter to the Farmers' Institute here:

"Inform Dave Rutten that we cannot use his potatoes for the reason that we have closed a deal in Vancouver for all we will need. Slow delivery forced us to take this step in order to protect our needs.

"Masset Timber Co., Ltd."

Not only my potatoes but potatoes of others were lying here waiting the convenience of the Massett Timber Co. to accept delivery with the full knowledge of said Company.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR BASKETBALL

Jack Venables Elected President in Place of John Mitchell Who Cannot Act.

Number of Entries Were Also Put In

J. F. Venables was elected president of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association at the meeting last night in place of John Mitchell who had been originally elected, but who gave notice that it would be impossible for him to serve on account of the fact that he would be out of the city for quite a while in the course of the season.

Entries were received at the meeting from four Senior teams: Eks, Sons of Canada, Colts and Knights of Columbus; four Intermediates: Elks, Sons of Canada, Colts and Grotto; and two ladies: Maple Leafs and Adanacs with prospects of two more.

An agreement with the Fair Board for the use of the Exhibition Building for the playing of the winter's games was also santioned.

President Venables was in the chair and George Russell acted as secretary for James Mitchell who was not present. The meeting adjourned until next Tuesday, date of receiving entries being extended till then.

Sport Chat

The standing in the Fraternal Whist League competition today shows a somewhat different complexion than last year. The St. Andrew's and Sons of Canada teams are leading with three victories each and no losses, while the Valhalla and Knights of Columbus teams, last year's leaders, find themselves somewhat further down than they are accustomed to, the former with two victories and one loss and the latter with one victory and two reverses. A change in the usual trend of things will doubtless add interest to the competition.

The Elks, at a meeting held on Thursday night, decided to enter only one team in the basketball competitions this winter — that one to be in the Senior League. It was found that the material available made the participation of the lodge possible only to that extent. Art Easson has been appointed captain and he is making all preliminary arrangements. The Elks aggregation is expected to be one of the strongest teams in the running.

The Canadian National Railways Magazine carries the following from its Usk correspondent:

"Local fishermen have been getting some good catches from the Skeena and smaller rivers. The summer tourists who spent a few weeks at the Lakelse Lake resorts reported the fishing the best yet and the boys say the "old Swimming hole" is all right. Anyone wishing a good place to spend a holiday cannot do better than make Terrace a stop-off point. We have the hottest and one of the largest hot-springs in Canada, the boating and fishing in Lakelse Lake is first class. The Skeena River fish hatchery is also an interesting place to visit."

HOW FRENCH WOMEN DO THEIR WASHING

Without boiling or the use of drastic washing compounds, French housewives hang on their lines the finest table linen and most dainty lingerie, blouses, and washable garments, every piece free from trace of stain and as white as snow.

The secret of this success lies in the use of Dainty White, a preparation which has been used all over France for over 50 years. This is not a washing compound, nor does it contain chemicals which are hard on fabrics. It is absolutely harmless solution added to water in which the linen or garments are soaked after the initial washing.

Dainty White acts like magic. It removes perfectly stains from tea, coffee, fruit, blood, grass, etc., and also bleaches to snowy whiteness. It saves all boiling which has a tendency to yellow the articles and rids washday of that tedious and steamy process.

Mme. Lethullier, whose family has had the formula for Dainty White for years is now manufacturing the preparation in Vancouver. Housewives who delight in a snowy white wash should try it; it is not intended for silk or woollens.

Simonds Canada Saw Co. Limited, St. Remi St. and Acorn Ave. MONTREAL

Vancouver, B.C. — St. John, N.B.

The secretary to the Admiral of the Fleet reports that the fish arrivals this week have improved somewhat, the arrival of several of the large schooners having boosted the Fish Exchange returns.

Although there is a marked improvement in the quantity of fish landed this week there is still some 60 per cent of the big schooner fleet on the high spots and reports of incoming boats from the West'ard go to show that the fishing is still light. Rough weather has been experienced outside. The boats making port this week have obtained their catches, with few exceptions, in the Yakutat waters although the west'ard waters are the most popular, and it is these fishing grounds which will furnish most of the catch from now on. The big run of fish is somewhat late this season.

With the increased fish supply prices have dropped during the week. The highest price prevailing was 14.60c. and 10c. and the lowest 10.40c. and 7c.

Predicted Storm

Notification was received by the Admiral of the Fleet from the local meteorological Digby Island wireless station on Tuesday night that the barometer was dropping very fast and predicting a heavy storm to break locally on Wednesday night. This timely information enabled the boys to make their boats extra secure and nautical sentries were placed at their action stations. While a strong south-easterly gale struck the waterfront on Wednesday night no damage was done. The waterfront boys are very appreciative of the timely co-operation of the wireless station.

Bluenose the Hero

The hero of the hour in Admiralty circles this week was the Canadian fishing schooner Bluenose, Capt. Walters, which defeated the U.S. schooner Henry Ford, Capt. Morrissey, in the third race for the sailing championship of the north Atlantic, by about a mile and a half at Gloucester, Mass., on Thursday. While it is generally agreed that it was hard luck for the Henry Ford to lose her topmast, the boys say it was all in the game and consider that it does not detract one iota from the splendid sailing qualities of the Bluenose and her competent skipper.

The Admiral is very keen on staging a similar race, of course on a smaller scale, for local fishing boats, on the lines laid down in a recent editorial of The Daily News. He considers there would be no difficulty in organising such a race locally and that doubtless a few of our public spirited men would donate a cup or a suitable cash prize to be competed for. Such a race, it is considered would do much to advertise the port of Prince Rupert, not only throughout the Dominion of Canada but throughout the whole world.

Total Catch

The total amount of fish landed during the past week, up to and including yesterday, was 571,000 pounds as against 303,100 pounds landed last week, an increase of 267,900 pounds.

Haysport Ready

The power boat Haysport, owned by T. A. Coulson, which is under contract to the Rupert Marine Products Ltd., Tucks Inlet, for the securing of dogfish for that plant, is practically ready to commence fishing operations. This boat has undergone a complete overhaul, and will be ready for business not later than Monday next. The Haysport has been fitted with a special two barrel winch which will operate a 40 foot otter trawl. The machinery has been thoroughly remodelled and a new electric light engine has been installed. The machinery has been furnished and installed by the Rupert Marine Ironworks, Ltd. A new rudder stock has also been added. The P.R.T. owned by the Rupert Marine Products Ltd. will act as a tender to the Haysport and will accompany her with two 60 ton scows.

The halibut schooner Polaris arrived in port on Thursday morning with 40,000 pounds of halibut from Icy Bay. This is a good catch for this season.

Too Much Landlubber

The Admiralty department of the Mosquito Fleet are organizing a patrol system to keep undesirable land sailors from frequenting the floats in the vicinity of Cow Bay. The suggestion has been made that official passes be issued, signed by the Admiral, to those persons having business on the floats. Much trouble has been caused recently along the waterfront by non-seafaring men and it is thought that a scheme of this nature would mitigate against this nuisance in future.

Wigwam Busy

The power boat Wigwam, Cap. Claude Ketchum, is away at Porcher Island digging out sand for the Ketchum bunkers. It is supposed that Cap. is going to manufacture a few of the old time egg timers in which sand is very necessary. An order has already been receied for a new hour glass for Father Thyme.

Jap Inlet Visitor

Cap. Frank of Jap Inlet is a visitor in port aboard his private yacht. Cap. has important business to transact locally.

The native yacht Vinnie of Port Simpson is anchored outside Cow Bay.

Jud Thurber in New Role

Capt. Jud Thurber, alias Santa Claus, and the Mayflower have been undertaking colossal logging operations at Kitkatla during the week. Cap. was seen to load the craft down, early in the week, with axes, cross-cut saws, logging chains, tooth brushes, etc. and hike out under cover of darkness for an unknown destination. By the way the tooth brushes make excellent weapons for cleaning the edges of double bitted axes.

However the secret service were on the job and shadowed him to Kitkatla. Cap. has been perspiring at the wood cutting game for the past week and already has a stack of three fifths of a cord of excellent wet wood piled up on the beach. The dampness will be drawn out of the wood by a new blotting paper method only known to the inventor. The proceeds of the wood contract when completed will be presented to his dutiful spouse as a Xmas. present, hence the title of Santa Claus.

Don't tell everybody or it will spoil the surprise.

The troller Merry Maid, Capt. Blaw, has been completely outfitted for the shrimping grounds. Shrimping is now the occupation of Capt. who has made this phase of fishing a prolounged and ardent study.

The Billy Boy, Capt. O. P. Smith, which is now at Inverness on a private business trip is to be outfitted on return to port to engage in the crab fishing game off the Vancouver coast. It is not known when the trip to the south will be undertaken. Cap. is a past master at crab fishing and will probably open a night class in the southern city for the purpose of trying to inject a little of his science into beginners.

Waterfront Whiffs

Harry Watson, was up as far as Port Simpson over last week end with a party of friends aboard, on a honest to goodness joy ride. On the arrival of the Starston the natives of the northern port stood aghast at the bevy of beauty which stepped from the deck's of Cap.'s craft. Needless to add a very enjoyable time was spent, an excellent banquet being held aboard on Monday night.

New Cannery

Charles Nelson of Seal Cove, has been particularly busy lately canning wild fruit, which, according to repute, is par excellence in quality and should have a wide reputation. Charlie has a swell little canning plant running with a big output. He is at present sitting up nights figuring out an automatic wild berry picker.

The scheme is to be worked by clock work, and when wound up is guaranteed to pick up anything, even dimes. When the invention is not used picking berries, Charlie will probably wind it up and set it towards town just to see if there is any stray change lying around the streets not working. At present the output of the plant is taken care of domestically.

Captain Paddy Raymon is at last installed in his palatial residence on Lookout Point and the foundation of an Irish colony at that point is now an established fact. The view from the bay windows of his new residence is truly remarkable. He can see the night fall and even hear the day break.

Gets Big Buck

Capt. Harry Weightman, of hunting fame, was out at Shawatlans early in the week trying his optical skill on a few deer. Cap. is reputed to be the quietest hunter on record. On his trip he managed to creep up on a big buck while it was asleep, and this marvellous feat was accomplished without rubber heels on. The deer is still sleeping.

The halibut boat D.C.F., Capt. Charles Wallace, is refitting in Cow Bay preparatory to hitting the high spots for more fish.

Caygeon Doing Fine.

The old reliable halibut chaser Caygeon, Capt. Jim Morrison, is getting much better after the careful nursing it has received at the Seal Cove Marine Ways, in fact is putting on weight remarkably quick. The keel which had keeled over somewhat has been re-bushed, and a new floor has been laid in the private dance hall. The banqueting hall will be furnished in Japanese style, the tables and chairs having already been removed. Cap. expects to have all in readiness for a determined dash to the high spots early in the coming week.

Capt. Art Oswald of the Dick Whittington fleet has been somewhat indisposed this week and has not taken any active part in the fishing game. The great success of his matrimonial agency venture has doubtless upset his digestion somewhat. He does not seem to care whether school keeps or not.

The Bingo, Capt. Andy Anderson, cleared port on Thursday morning for the high spots after a careful refit.

McCaffery Wharf Busy

The Prince Albert arrived from the south on Monday with 600 tons of coal and 50 tons of plaster for the Albert & McCaffery interests. Two car loads of finishing lumber are expected to arrive by same boat over the week end.

The Johanna, Capt. Wick, after taking on ice and bait cleared for the deep sea fishing grounds on Thursday.

Deep Sea Fun

Even out on the deep sea fishing grounds with danger lurking nearby the boys will have their fun. The Ringleader, Capt. Leo Sandvar, chanced to be out on the high spots with gear nicely spread out to entice the wily halibut thereon when Capt. H. Dorcen, on the bridge of the fishing boat Doreen, espied his colleague without being seen himself. Just to while away a few idle moments Harry quietly untied the ordinary buoy rope of Leo's gear and hitched thereto a nice long heavy piece of 1 1-4 inch cable and stood by to watch the fun.

After a while Leo came on deck to haul in his gear, and by the weight of the pull expected to haul in a record catch. Soon ungrammatical words were heard to come forth as he grabbed hold of the cable of fathomless weight and length which he found securely tied to his buoy keg the hooks containing a few measly fish. Meantime Harry is having the time of his life watching the fun from the porthole of his craft. Leo soon caught on to the joke which had been pulled at his expense and like a good natured sailor joined in the laugh. The joke will be on Harry next time.

Omaney at Juneau

The halibut schooner Omaney, of Seattle, Capt. J. Johnson, put into Juneau recently with a catch of 20,000 pounds and then went back to the high spots. Cap. did not consider the catch of sufficient volume to warrant the long journey to Rupert. He expects to be back in the lil 'ole port with his next catch.

The trollers Spot and Lydia left port early in the week for the head of Gardner Canal. The owners are going some thirty miles inland on a winter trapping expedition.

Flossie Entertains

Flossie was given the privilege of entertaining a few of her friends in the kitchen of the Lady Doolittle establishment recently, and her letter to the Admiral telling of the night is worth recounting. Here we go. Note the tone of endearment.

"Dear Old Boy: I haven't noticed any of your writing straying through our letter box lately; what's the big idea? Don't you try and trifle with me or you'll need police protection when I hit Rupert, get that? Anyway I guess you've been busy, perhaps. Lady Doolittle hasn't been doing very much lately and the effects of the liquid veneer have evidently worked off. I had permission to give a party last night in the kitchen and it was some party.

Among those present were Sorry Samuel, Filmy Flipp, the movie marvel; Jimmy Gulp, the circus sword swallower; Mr. and Mrs. Waters, the milkman and wife; Joe Dough, as drives the baker's rig; Tommy Tough, the butcher's boy; Lilly Lanky, not Langtry; Dorothy Fish, not Gish; Mrs. Sour, the pastry cook as works for me; and lots of other people. We started off with a darned good feed of tripe and onions and soda water. I don't know what was in the tripe or the soda water but after the eats Jimmy Gulp got doing stunts and swallowed all the knives. Filmy Flipp tried to pull off some Bill Hart movie stunt and hit Tommy Tough who proved a tough nut. Flipp didn't get far in his title roll and got laid out nice and cold. Just as we were in the middle of a real good time Podge, that's the Doolitle kid you know, came downstairs in his pyjamas and wanted to start something. He wasn't long in starting something either. While we were trying to pull Filmy Flipp round Podge got onto the table and kicked the whole darned shooting match of plates, etc., on to the floor. As luck would have it Lady Doolittle was doing a little visiting or I guess she might have been annoyed. In scraping up the broken crockery Dorothy Fish got a fish bone in her finger, and Mrs. Sour slipped up on the butter and nearly broke her new year resolutions. The kitchen looked like a first line dressing station as my brother tells about at war. Podge sneaked upstairs among all the noise with a pot of jam which he got nicely plastered all over the bedclothes. It was some night all right. When you write again get your letter printed. P.S.—Jimmy Gulp hasn't coughed up the knives yet."

T., Panama, Imperial, Roald Amundsen, Glacier, E. Neilson, Pelican, and the Andrew Kelly.

The Andrew Kelly, Capt. D. Candow, arrived in port yesterday morning with a cargo of 20,000 pounds of halibut. Cap. reports having encountered heavy weather on his return trip.

Mrs. W. E. Collison and her sister, Miss Davies, are booked to leave for Vancouver on the Prince Rupert tomorrow night.
