RAILWAY PRESIDENT MUCH IMPRESSED AFTER TRIP TO WESTERN CANADA

Canadian National Engineer Makes Definite Proposal for Taking Over of P.G.E. Railway

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28.—M. H. McLeod, consulting engineer for the Canadian National Railway, returned to Vancouver Tuesday night after having the same day made Premier John Oliver a proposal for the Pacific Great Eastern Railwy.

Mr. McLeod was assisted in his negotiations with the government by D. A. Campbell, construction superintendent for the Canadian National, and together these two leading officials of the C.N.R. will spend the next few days motoring over the P.G.E. Territory. This morning they left Ashcroft and will spend the rest of the week travelling through Cariboo and looking up the possibilities of the P.G.E. territory from a colonization standpoint. They will go as far as Prince George.

Canadian National engineering parties are now in the field looking over the whole P.G.E. scheme.

McLeod is willing to take over the Pacific Great Eastern Railway as it stands from Clinton to Quesnel and on to Prince George but would join up with the C.N.R. at Ashcroft by abandoning the P.G.E. for those sections east and west of Lillooet. These rails he would lay between Ashcroft and Clinton and make a through connected line of the project.

No Details Yet

VICTORIA, Aug. 28. — Premier Oliver and Hon. J. D. McLean, minister of railways, stated last night that negotiations between the Canadian National Railways and the Provincial Government had not reached a point where a statement concerning details was justified.

The Premier denied having authorized any statement. He said he regarded the matter so far as confidential.

Mr. McLean said he expected nothing definite would result from the negotiations for some time.

Rutherford, it is alleged, obtained money from several business places by cashing worthless checks on various banks which he signed with the name of Frank Salter. H. Ueyda, Japanese of Haysport, is appearing before Judge Robertson of Prince George in the County Court this afternoon to answer to a charge of unlawfully assaulting and occasioning bodily harm to Mrs. Hamaguchi, Japanese woman, also of Hayport. Ueyda, together with the witnesses in the case were brought to the city from Haysport by Provincial Constable R. Gibson last night.

According to Mrs. Hamaguchi's story, Ueyda owed her money and when she asked him for it he kicked her and knocked her down. This is alleged to have occurred at Haysport on August 16.

Ueyda came before G. A. Taylor of Port Essington, justice of the peace, for preliminary hearing and was committed for trial. L. W. Patmore has the case for the defence.

NO TRAIN TONIGHT

Two lady passengers and two members of the dining car staff sustained minor injuries when Canadian National train No. 3 was derailed owing to a spread track just east of Rearguard, the second station west of Mount Robson, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The whole train of nine cars beside the engine went off and the line was blocked until 10 o'clock this morning. As a result No. 3, which was due here at 4 o'clock this afternoon, will not arrive before noon tomorrow. The steamer for the south this evening will not wait for it.

Battered After Their Struggle With Atlantic Hurricane Many Large Steamers Reach New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Five liners bearing copious evidence of the successful struggle they had waged against hurricanes which lashed the Atlantic Ocean into a seething cauldron on Tuesday steamed into New York harbor yesterday hours late. Their hulls were intact but fittings were smashed and battered by the force of the waves.

One life was lost when Capt. Madsen of the steamer Elisha Walker was swept overboard from the bridge.

The gale, it is reported, reached a velocity at times of 120 miles an hour and, with their bows heading into the wind and the engines going full speed ahead, vessels stopped dead in their tracks.

One sailor on the Arabic had his back broken.

BRITAIN WILL HONOR COMPACT

Shortening of Line of Battleships Was Result of Agreement at Washington

FORRES, Scotland, Aug. 28. — Premier J. Ramsay Macdonald in an address last night referring to the recent naval review at Spithead said many who viewed it thought the line of battleships very short. That shortening, said the premier, was a great achievement. 'Great Britain signed the compact of Washington and Great Britain always shall and must carry out that compact and honor its signature."

FORTY KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN TRAIN DERAILMENT

ODESSA, Aug. 28.—Forty passengers were killed and a large number were injured when an express train to Moscow from Odessa, which left here last night, derailed 200 miles away. A break in the track was the cause.

Sir Henry Thornton on His Return to Montreal Mentions Prince Rupert

Says Elevator Will Be Necessity Before Long: Sees Great Future for Vancouver And This Port.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28—Sir Henry Thornton declared here yesterday that he saw a great future for the ports of Vancouver and Prince Rupert and said that aid for the building of a grain elevator at Prince Rupert would be a necessity before long.

Sir Henry found much optimism in the West, he told the Eastern people. The time was coming when the people of the United States would look to Canada for sustenance.

The president of the railway system has just returned from a tour of the system, going as far as the Pacific coast, and he is well pleased with the prospects. After the doleful tales of crop failure, he was glad to find the grain much better than he expected and a fair yield assured.

DARROW WINDS UP HIS PLEA

Urges It Would be Shame and Disgrace to Hang Two Boys For Crime

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.— Clarence Darrow concluded his three-day plea for mercy for Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, and to save the state of Illinois from "shame and disgrace for hanging the 19 and 18-year-old boys.

"To hang a boy in this day and age is to turn us back toward barbarism," Darrow declared. "If your honor should hang a boy of eighteen for violation of the policy of law or violation of the spirit of humanity, some other day another judge may hang one of seventeen, fifteen or even fourteen years of age."

State's Attorney Crowe, in his closing argument for the prosecution, renewed his demand for the death penalty for "these two poor sons of multimillionaires." He ironically referred to the defense evidence as a "trip through the nursery with alienists."

Crowe said: "They are no more entitled to mercy than two rattlesnakes. They are two mad dogs. They are a disgrace to themselves and to their families and a menace to this community. They are no earthly use to themselves and the only thing for which they use themselves is to debase themselves. The only thing they can do usefully is to die at the hands of the law."

Before Crowe's address was started, a tangle of the attorneys was caused by Judge Caverly's order that evidence given in chambers on the condition of Frank's body be read in open court.

The Prince also took part in a potato race but was disqualified for misplacing a potato.

Canadian National And P.G.E. Railway.

It seems inevitable that either the Canadian National or the C.P.R. will eventually take over the P.G.E. railway from the province. It would be of no value to any other system and operated alone it is only a liability.

The Canadian National management is planning to build into the Peace River country and apparently the Brule route has been favored because it would give a good connection with the Pacific by way of Vancouver. The taking over of the P.G.E. and connecting Prince George with Ashcroft would change the attitude of the railway as there would still be an outlet to Vancouver and shippers would have the choice of routes either by Vancouver or Prince Rupert.

The interest taken in the P.G.E. by the C.N.R. management seems to indicate that the Peace River branch may come through British Columbia instead of by way of Brule.

Lausanne Treaty Considerably Delayed.

The ratification of the Lausanne Treaty by France this week was rather belated. It was signed at Lausanne a little over a year ago and the parties to it are Turkey on the one side and on the other Great Britain, France, Japan, Italy, Greece and Roumania. It is the official document establishing peace in what is known as the Near East.

Sir Henry Did Not Forget Prince Rupert.

It has not been an uncommon thing here for people to remark "Sir Henry Thornton has already forgotten Prince Rupert." But he has not. He told the people of Montreal yesterday that we needed an elevator and doubtless he will tell the members of the Mackenzie King cabinet the same thing.

It is rather satisfactory to find the railway president making a public declaration of the fact that an elevator is needed here and also mentioning that he sees a great future for this port. If Sir Henry sees prospects for us, surely it is up to us to keep a stiff upper lip and carry on with confidence in ourselves and our city.

Comments On Political Fight At Nelson.

The Vancouver Daily Star commenting on the Nelson election says:

John Oliver of Delta, of Victoria, and now of Nelson, will continue to be prime minister of British Columbia and will administer the affairs of the province with a following in the house sufficient to give him effective control. The electors of the inland capital, by a substantial majority, have so willed it. In electing Mr. Oliver they have done two things: they have given their approval to the action of Mr. Kenneth Campbell in resigning his seat in Mr. Oliver's favor, and they have expressed a desire for stable government under the only party from which it is available without the hurly burly of another general election.

The Nelson fray has not been without its humors. Either the opposition candidate did not care to be branded with the name of any of the organized opposition groups, or in the alternative, no group was prepared to own him. R. P. Maitland, as "Private" Maitland, was on the ground, but as provincial president of the Conservative party he disclaimed having anything to do with the affair. R. H. Pooley, the new leader of the Conservatives in the legislature, announced early in the contest that he was going to keep out of it, but he eventually did get dragged in to the extent of a speech or two. Gen. A. D. McRae said that he was present without any political ambitions, but he paused long enough to hurl some pretty jagged linguistic rocks at the premier.

Now that it is over, Conservatives and Provincials alike can claim that they were not defeated, for they were never officially in the fight. But the fact remains that they did make some strenuous efforts to stop Mr. Oliver—and failed.

The Star, for the sake of a return to political tranquility and the early resumption of business, is pleased with the result of the by-election. At the same time it recognizes that the Liberal party, in the general election, received a stern warning of public uneasiness. It hopes that Mr. Oliver and his associates, in spite of their success, will not forget this.

WAR ON KU KLUX KLAN

Lady Candidate for Governor of Texas will Vindicate Husband Who Was Impeached

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, Democratic nominee for governor, won't appoint any member of the Klan to any State office if she becomes governor, and she will dismiss all the present office holders if she learns that the have any affiliations with the Klan, however remote they may be, said an article in the American here last night. Mrs. Ferguson in her fight for the governorship has decidedly opposed the Klan, it being the principal issue of the battle between her and Judge Robertson, whom she defeated for the nomination. Mrs. Ferguson also seeks the governorship to vindicate her husband who, as governor, was impeached.

Frank S. Sheppard, C. N. R. travelling auditor, arrived from Vancouver on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon.

PAYROLL OF FOREST INDUSTRIES IN 1923 NOW SHOWN TO BE $60,000,000

Surprising Vastness of Amount Demonstrates All-Importance of Lumbering

Recent official investigations show that the industrial payroll of the Forest Industries of British Columbia for 1923 was far greater than the original estimate.

It has now been ascertained that the sum actually paid out in wages last year to the workers in the woods, in lumber manufacturing and re-manufacturing plants and in pulp and paper mills exceeded the truly incredible sum of $56,300,000.

It must be remembered that this figure does not include wage payments to office and administrative staffs and to persons employed in the sale and distribution of the finished article, nor does it take into account the transportation forces exclusively engaged in handling the product on land and water.

$60,000,000 Disbursed

When all these are included it is safe to assert that in 1923 the amount of money disbursed in wages by the Forest Industries of B.C. approximated to $60,000,000.

Every day fresh evidence comes to hand demonstrating the extent to which British Columbia is dependent on the unhampered working of its great basic industry.

Some idea of the magnitude of the lumbermen's payroll may be gathered from the fact that in 1923 it was more than three times as great as the total revenue of the province.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

WOMEN WEAR SOCKS

MOSCOW.—In the interest of economy Russian women and girls have taken to wearing masculine socks. Full length silk stockings, which usually are smuggled in through the Polish border, are an absolute luxury and far beyond the means of the average woman. At first only girls under sixteen wore short stockings, but now women generally have adopted them.

Judge Robertson of Fort George arrived in the city from the interior last night to try a case coming up in the County Court here this afternoon. Judge Young is expected back from Vancouver next week.

HIS HONOR'S OPINION

In a Western court a man was on trial for horse-stealing; and his lawyer in summing up the case said: "I respectfully ask your Honor to instruct the jury that it is the fundamental principle of law in this country that it is better for 99 guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to be found guilty."

"Yes, that is true," said the Judge, 'and I so instruct the jury; but I will add that it is the opinion of the court that the 99 guilty men have already escaped."—Boston Transcript.

Sport Chat

Tied games and inclement weather having delayed the playing of the Gilhuly Cup semi-finals so long, it will now be impossible to finish the second half of the Stuart Shield soccer competition before Fair Week. The opening match of the second half for the latter trophy is now scheduled to take place tomorrow evening. With the grounds taken up next Monday with the Labor Day celebration, there will be Wednesday and Friday evenings of next week for the Stuart Shield and the following Monday will be the last opportunity before the Fair so, at the best, only four games of the scheduled six can be played. By that time, of course, the Sons of Canada, who are well away in the lead for the Stuart Shield, may have the trophy cinched. Then it would be likely that the balance of the games would be cancelled. The rest of the teams will have something to say about that, however and the Callies and Great War Veterans, runners-up, will not be letting the Canucks get away without a struggle. Some very interesting matches are in prospect for the second half of the Stuart Shield.

The Stuart Shield standing to date is as follows:

	W.	D.	L.	Pts
S. of C.	3	0	0	6
G. W. V. A.	1	1	1	3
Callies	1	1	1	3
S. of E.	0	0	3	0

With the Fair Week inter-town baseball and football series now less than a fortnight away, the players should be working themselves into final trim. The remaining Football Association fixtures will ensure the soccerists getting the requisite practice while the baseball boys are to work out on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Acropolis grounds. Bad weather has made practice impossible during the past fortnight but, if things clear up now, there is yet time to develop the standard of proficiency that, it is expected, will be required in successfully meeting the teams from the outside.

VETERANS GO TO CUP FINAL

Defeated Sons of England by 2 to Nil in Gilhuly Cup Semi-Final Last Night

The Great War Veterans defeated the Sons of England by a score of 2 to nil in the semi-final for the Gilhuly soccer cup last night and will meet the Sons of Canada in the final on Labor Day.

The play last night was perhaps more evenly divided than the score would indicate but the Vets had the edge and were fully entitled to their victory. The Englishmen fielded a strong team but it failed to get into stride and towards the end was unable to successfully finish off when scoring chances presented themselves.

Both scores were made by Jimmie Johnson in the second half.

The Vets started the game with nine players and the Sons of England with ten. The ranks were soon filled, however, and the soldiers, though they had the grade in their favor, were unable to score. The play was pretty even and the defences kept things pretty well in midfield, so few scoring chances were lost.

Second Half

After Lambie, the English goalie, had saved a penalty taken by Westwood, the Vets got busy and Johnson made the opening score—a close in shot after a foul kick. The second goal originated similarly, Johnson again scoring with a pretty shot at longer range. The Sons of England missed two or three good chances.

The stars for the Sons of England were Dick Lambie at back, George Kelsey at centre half and Lambie in goal. Howard Frizzell made his initial appearance in goal for the Veterans and played a good game. Other outstanding players for the soldiers were W. Murray at back, Westwood at half and Johnson, forward.

Halves Shortened

Owing to the impending darkness, 35 minute halves were played with no intermission between.

A fair crowd was in attendance.

Tom Jones refereed, J. Marks and A. Clapperton were linesmen and the teams took the field as follows:

Sons of England—W. Lambie; Dick Howe and Dick Lambe; P. Cameron, G. Kelsey and A. Bales; George Hill Jr., P. Tinker, D. Munro, Dickens and George Howe.

Great War Veterans—Howard Frizzell; W. Murray and A. Hunter; George Findlay, W. Westwood and Fred Roberts; Robertson, J. Russell, J. Johnson, W. Mitchell and Dido Gurvich.

GIRL MARRIED ANOTHER GIRL

Ruth Bundy, Who For Seven Years Posed as Man Gets Out of Jail

THIRTY-THREE YEARS OLD

First Marriage When Seventeen Years of Age But Was Divorced Since

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Aug. 28—The final chapter of the sensational case of Ruth ("Walter") Bundy, who posed as a man for seven years, and married another woman, was written in Municipal Court here when Judge B. O. Tankersley, dismissed the charges against her after a brief hearing. A warrant charging her with threatening to commit a public offense had brought her arrest after the disclosure that Walter Bundy, "loafer" husband of Elizabeth West Bundy, young and pretty, was not a man. Miss Bundy departed with her relatives in an automobile for "Southern Illinois, near St. Louis," immediately after she was liberated.

So successful was Miss Bundy's masquerade during the seven years she wore men's clothing, that she worked with a railroad track crew and as a farm hand without detection. Even a physician who attended her during an illness several years ago failed to discover that his patient was not a man.

Lived Together

The most puzzling feature of the case, however, is furnished by Miss Bundy's marriage to Miss Elizabeth West, who is twenty-three years old. The ceremony was performed at Newton, Iowa, in October, 1921, and the women have lived together since. "Walter was a failure as a husband," according to resident of Rhodes, where the couple lived. The "husband" was regarded as a ne'er-do-well, having developed an aversion for work soon after the marriage, it is said. It has been learned that Miss West had $1,430 when the marriage was performed. This had all been spent during the jobless periods, and the "bride" was the object of the townspeoples' sympathy.

Until the court hearing commenced, Miss West insisted that "Walter" was a man. She suffered a nervous collapse while Miss Bundy was in jail and pleaded with her mother to permit her "husband" to return to her. Mrs. West did not let her daughter visit the jail, and reporters failed to secure permission to interview the "wife."

"We don't want this thing talked about before her," Mrs. West said. "She has suffered enough. We don't want 'Walter' to come here again, and we intend to keep them apart."

"Bride" is Staunch

At this time Miss West was declaring her belief that the disclosures were part of a plot to separate her from her husband.

Miss Bundy remained steadfast in her assertions that the "bride" had never learned she was married to a woman.

"My 'wife' did not know I was not a man," she declared. "My mother objected to my keeping company with 'Midge' (Miss West) from May, 1921, until our marriage in October of that year. She did not know when we were married. After she did not know, I think she and other relatives kept quiet about it, because they did not want to make me any trouble."

The masquerade was penetrated when Miss West's brother became suspicious and came to Rhodes from Des Moines to investigate. When confronted by him Miss Bundy brandished a hammer and threatened to kill him. During the ensuing scuffle her clothing was torn. West used the threat as the basis for his warrant.

Married Before

Miss Bundy admitted in jail that she had married Frank Arnold at Steelville, Mo., when she was seventeen years old. Arnold secured a divorce in Iowa, and she has no knowledge of his whereabouts.

The marriage of "Walter" Bundy and Elizabeth West is recorded in the license files at Newton, seat of Jasper County. "Walter" swore that this was "his first marriage.

The newlyweds lived on a truck farm near here for a while, but the work proved too strenuous for "Walter." Occasional periods of employment with a railroad track crew and as a farm hand followed. Members of section crews with whom she worked say they never suspected she was not a man. She always did her share of the work without complaint.

Began In 1917

Miss Bundy said she began wearing men's clothing permanently in May, 1917. Her family originally lived at East Alton, Ill., where she was born. Later they moved to St. Louis and subsequently to other Missouri points. She attended school until she reached the third grade; then her studies were discontinued because of ill health. Illness forced her to live in the open much of the time and overalls were her favorite garb.

After her father's death, six years ago, she came to Iowa with her mother and her brother. She worked in the harvest fields and plowed corn, always wearing men's clothing.

Wants a Pipe

"Judge," said the young woman, as she was being led from the court room when she was first arraigned, "is there any reason why a person who has smoked for twenty-five years should be denied tobacco?"

"Have you any money to buy tobacco?" asked the Court.

"No, not a cent," she said, "but I have my tobacco and a pipe."

"The jail isn't fireproof," said the sheriff, and Ruth was forced to abstain from tobacco during her incarceration.

Miss Bundy is thirty-three years old. She weighs little more than 100 pounds, but her slightness is the only indication of feminity. Her high-pitched voice has a masculine ring, and her head is closely cropped. She refused to discard her overalls in jail when she was offered woman's apparel.

"I never did like to wear woman's clothes, even when I was a child," she said.

DESERTERS ARE RETURNING TO FRANCE TODAY

Number Went Over to Enemy but General Amnesty Brings Them Back

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The amnesty bill just passed by the Chamber of Deputies is expected in some quarters to result in a general resurrection of French soldiers who had passed into history as "killed on the field of battle."

Already, though the senate has still to pass on the measure, deserters are crossing the frontiers and breathing the air of France for the first time in six years or more. One of them, a soldier named Robin, given up for dead after the battle of the Chemin des Dames in April, 1917, startled his brother, who keeps a wine shop in Paris, by suddenly appearing before him the other day.

Did Not Know Him

"You don't know me," remarked the deserter, who had grown a beard during his exile.

"No, I don't know you," was the reply.

"I am your brother," replied the deserter.

"My brother was killed at the Chemin des Dames," was the rejoinder.

"No," insisted the deserter, "there were not so many butchered as was supposed. A lot of them deserted to the enemy and I was among them. Now that the Chamber has passed the amnesty law I have come back and I need money to start me off."

The brother agreed to give him funds on condition that he never show his face in the neighborhood again.

The deserter walked off with the money to celebrate his return at a public ball in the Boulevard de Grenelle. There he picked a quarrel and within half an hour was carried out with a fatal stab in the abdomen.

Now Murderer

Another deserter who was also among the "missing" of the Chemin des Dames battle turned up at his father's farm in the Morbihan department. A neighbor who happened to be present remarked that he was not yet safe, as the senate had not yet adopted the amnesty law. The deserter, angered by this interference, cried "You'd be capable of denouncing me," drew a knife and plunged it into the neighbor's breast. This deserter is now again a fugitive from justice.

More than 1,200 French deserters living in Geneva, where they have formed a "Friendly Association of Deserters," are preparing to come back in a body. Other Swiss towns shelter as many if not more and there are supposed to be a great many still in Germany.

The Little Red Hen

"PUCK, puck, puck, pucKAYah" cackles the little red hen, as she steps off the warm nest, broadcasting to the barnyard that she has just laid a fine, fresh egg. She makes a product that any "manufacturer" might be proud of, and doesn't hesitate to advertise the fact.

A duck egg might be just as good, but the duck evidently doesn't think so. She doesn't advertise, and duck eggs have no market.

To be absolutely sure in buying ANY merchandise stick to the advertised brands. For their manufacturers believe in them and tell you about them daily in the advertising columns of this newspaper, over their signatures.

The duck-egg brands might be just as good, but you cannot be sure, if the manufacturers themselves will not admit it!

Read the advertisements regularly. Buy from them. You will then know the source of the products, and whom to look to if they don't measure up.

FREDERICKSHAVEN, Germany, Aug. 28.—Luck has been with every Zeppelin that ever flew when Ludwig Marx was at the wheel, and that is the reason Marx has been chosen to accompany the ZR-3, which is being built here, when it flies to America to be used by the navy of the United States. Marx was chosen to do this yesterday, and the honor is in particular line with his celebration of his twenty-fifth anniversary in the employment of the Zeppelin firm in this city.

"THE COVERED WAGON"

The greatest motion-picture triumph ever achieved. The picture of the whole world is talking about. An uplifting romance of a vanished frontier in which the perils of the pioneers are lived again in the places in which they lived then. 2,000 miles of entertainment; 3,000 actors; 300 covered wagons (a 2-mile train); 600 oxen; 1,000 Indians, 3,000 horses, and the largest herd of buffalo in the world take part in this gigantic super-production that dwarfs any previous spectacle ever filmed. A story with an appeal. The thrill-swept trail of '49. Yelling, painted red-men. The circle of death. The stampeding of maddened beasts. The most amazing screen-adventure of them all.

USES PLANE IN HIS CAMPAIGN

German Minister Travels from Town to Town on Speaking Trip by Air Route

BERLIN, Aug. 28. — Foreign Minister Stresemann holds the record among European statesmen for the number of airplane flights made during the last few months in connection with the performance of his duties. He has been making frequent speeches in the provinces this summer, chiefly explaining Germany's stand on the question of reparations, and he always travels by the air.

Travel by train is slow, and furthermore, Mr. Stresemann says he has found that flying has a very stimulating effect. He sometimes delivers two or three addresses a day in different towns, making the jump from one locality to another in an airplane assigned him by the government aviation authorities. He is accompanied by one of the best aviators in the German service.

FARMERS HEAR SOME TRUTHS

Irish Agricultural Expert Tells People of Prairies How They Fail

WANT EVERYTHING AND ARE GIVING NOTHING

EDMONTON, Aug. 28.— There is too much money on the streets of Edmonton and other communities in the western agricultural sections we have visited, and too little on the farms."

In these pungent words, Dr. G. Scott Roberston, secretary of the agricultural section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which arrived in Edmonton, summed up the conclusions which he and his distinguished colleagues have arrived at concerning agricultural methods in western Canada.

Professor Robertson, who is attached to the ministry of agriculture for Northern Ireland, had little of praise but a great deal of sound advice to offer to the western farmer, when he was interviewed shortly after arrival. He condemned the present methods of cultivation as methods of exploitation, as methods founded either upon ignorance or selfishness and, in either case, as those certain to waste the productiveness of the soil and to result eventually in a bitter lesson to the people of the Dominion.

Must Change Methods

This eminent agricultural scientist was most emphatic in his declaration that western Canada cannot continue using the present methods in agriculture. "There must be a system of rotation of crops," he said. "Rotation must be adopted as a means of cleaning the land and as a means of creating and maintaining the fertility of the soil. Today the western farmer is exporting all the wealth of the soil without even attempting to put any of it back.

His condemnation of the fallow system was equally emphatic:

'I am willing to bet my bottom dollar that the temperature on fallow land is ten degrees higher than on one carrying a good crop. Fallow land does not lie dormant, as your farmers appear to believe. Fallow land deteriorates. It loses moisture. It loses fertility. And the farmer who fallows his land is not adding to his assets. He is adding to his losses."

Learn to Work

Instead of this method, Professor Robertson recommended the adoption of hoed crops, such as corn or alternatively the growing of leguminous crops such as alfalfa and sweet clover. This, he pointed out, means going in for stock. And that, he admitted meant more capital. But he would not admit that it is up to the banks to supply the capital.

"Your farmers," he stated, "must learn to work. They are doing a minimum of cultivation now. Saskatchewan and Alberta are suffering this year from the laziness of farmers who have sowed their wheat on stubble. Such methods are little short of criminal."

"Your farmers must plow their land at least once a year. They must stay on their farm all the year round. They must stop spending their winters and their money in Los Angeles, and put that money and time into their farms and into stock. If they do it will not be many years before they will be able to do both. The whole situation is summed up in a very few words. There is too much money on the streets of the cities and too little on the farms. The land contains all the elements essential to the growing of splendid crops. There is evidence on all sides that wheat which follows fallow is much heavier than wheat which follows wheat. And when we see experimental stations getting no results from manure, it is the obvious conclusion that the whole situation of your problem is cultivation."

SHIPMENT OF BLUE FOXES

Ontario Breeder was in Town Last Night Taking Six Pair from Wrangell, Alaska

P. T. Martin, a fox farmer of Quibell in Northern Ontario west of Sioux Lookout on the main line of the Canadian National Railways, passed through the city last night taking East twelve live three month old blue foxes which he purchased at Wrangell, Alaska. Mr. Martin arrived from the north on the Princess Alice and proceeded East by train. The shipment of the little animals is the largest that has been made through this port at a single time. There were six males and six females and Mr. Martin paid $300 a pair for them. By the time they are delivered in Ontario they will have cost $400 a pair.

Mr. Martin will use the animals for breeding purposes on his farm. Young foxes are generally used for that purpose, it being the custom to sell pelts of older animals. In transit they are carried in crates with the tops netted over. They are fed on meat, fish and bran. When the owner is travelling with them, he is given access to the express car in which they are carried and takes care of them personally.

Mr. Martin was here last year and at that time took one pair of foxes east with him.

FLYERS WILL BE WELL REWARDED

They Will Get all the Law Permits but Promotion is Not One of These Things

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 28.—All the law permits will be done to reward the world flyers, it was declared today in official circles. President Coolidge will lead in paying tribute to their accomplishment and all high government officials have decided to send letters which will be handed to Lieutenant Smith and his colleagues soon after they reach North America. Immediate promotion is prevented under the law, but every other means possible will be taken to show the airmen their great undertaking and the prestige its accomplishment has brought to America is appreciated by the American government and the American people.

After having spent a week at Massett Inlet, George Hill, sr., returned to the city on the Prince John this morning.
