ANNUAL EXHIBITION WILL START TONIGHT

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TAKES ENERGETIC ACTION STAMP OUT COMMUNISM

Big Show Opens This Evening; Everything Ready for Fall Fair

Hailed as the best that has ever been held in the city and that is a rather ambitious prediction, the 1925 Prince Rupert Exhibition will be opened at 7 o'clock this evening by Fred Stork, M.P., and will continue in progress until the end of the week. For the past few days, the Fair building has hummed with the activity of the people in charge and the many persons who have been arranging the thousands of exhibits covering the wide range of skill and industry of Central and Northern British Columbia. In addition to what is said to be a larger display than ever of the usual Fair exhibits, the building itself contains many interesting commercial booths. The midway contains a multitude of carnival attractions and the sports grounds will be kept busy throughout the week with a big bill of baseball and football games. As usual, the success of the Exhibition will depend largely upon the weather. As far as arrangements are concerned, the Fair Board has the mass of detail well in hand and the big annual show is now 'ready to go."

Over the week end visitors from all over the district and from Alaska arrived in hundreds. Those from the interior brought many exhibits, including the big district displays which this year promise to constitute more of a feature than ever. The Aiyansh native band is here, as well as the band from the American village of New Metlakatla. Both were on hand at the G.T.P. wharf yesterday and played selections as a big delegation containing well over 100 persons from Ketchikan, including the baseball team, arrived on the steamer Prince Rupert.

Capt. George Ash, crack shot and "Cowboy King," who has been specially engaged by the Fair Board for the occasion, arrived from the south yesterday. He has been appearing with success at southern fairs and it is expected he will be as popular a visitor here as he has been elsewhere.

Judging of exhibits started this morning with the intention of having it finished and the prize-winning exhibits marked by the opening tonight. The government judges arrived from the interior on yesterday afternoon's train.

Alarming Spread of Bolshevist Influence in Britain Reported by Detectives to Home Office

LLONDON, Sept. 8.—The government is reported to be taking energetic action to check increasing activities of Communists by ordering the arrest of agitators concerned in plots to spread propaganda among the members of the Army and Navy.

Scotland Yard is reported to have handed the Home Secretary evidence of an alarming spread of Communism since the late Labor government removed restrictions against the entry of Russians into Britain. The Home office has also been informed of a proposal on the part of the Communists to commence next Saturday week special agitation in troop centres.

The storm was the worst experienced in the northwest for many years. The three-story Springwater Hotel was hurled sixty feet across the street.

DAILY EDITION Tuesday, Sept. 8, 1925.

Sudden Interest Of C.P.R. Officials.

The sudden interest taken in this section of the railway by C.P.R. officials is rather interesting and is exciting comment. It is8 only recently that the company knew the port existed, except for the boats to call. Now we have one of the most important vice-presidents and other officials here and also recently a C.P.R. man interested in the power possibilities.

Naturally Prince Rupert people are glad to see the C.P.R. awakening to the fact that the city is to become important and we hope they will continue that interest and possibly become even more interested here.

Few Realize What Portland Canal Means.

The development of the Portland Canal mining region, which is going on steadily, is bound to have a great effect on business conditions in this part of the province. So far there has been but one shipping mine, but before long there may be a dozen. The development of the mines on Bear River is the most important phase of progress in that district. It is so much more accessible than the Salmon River Valley from the British Columbia port of Stewart that it means much more than does the Premier Mine, important as the latter is.

The next step may possibly be the erection of a smelter to handle the ores which now are sent out of the country for treatment. Probably Prince Rupert may be the logical site for a plant. Where rail and water meet is usually the scene of activities of that sort.

Kimona Clad Can Openers.

Nellie McClung, author and lecturer, but a lady who is not a housekeeper although she is married, has been lecturing in the East and telling people there they should not be "lie abed kimona and boudoir cap clad can openers," but should be more like old-fashioned women.

While having a strong admiration for Mrs. McClung, we do not like the insinuation that women today are not as good as women used to be nor do we like the suggestion that women should spend all their time in the kitchen. Times have changed during the last generation and women today are different and will be even more different yet. They are evolving.

At one time women, speaking generally, were the slaves of men, created, it was thought, to cater to their appetites, whims and fancies. If women did not do their duty they might be beaten and if clever or very pretty they might be ducked or even burned at the stake.

Today women are becoming the equals of men both economically and industrially. Sometimes we see them lagging behind a little but they are fast catching up and in a few instances taking the lead. In this process of evolution there are arjustments to be made and in the process some mistake their newly found liberty for license. Others fail to adjust in some respects and it will appear as if the change was not good.

As women get more time from their household duties they will learn to use the time profitably. Often it is seen today that while the man slaves in the office or factory, the woman of his household fritters away her time playing cards, giving teas and otherwise playing with the newly found leisure. That phase will pass away. While amusements and social activities are right and proper, they may be carried to extremes. There is no just reason why a woman should spend more time idly than a man. If the man works eight hours a day, so should the woman. Sometimes it is seen that the man works ten hours or more and the wife two. That is an unfair division of labor and not in accord with the modern trend. It is neither good for the man or the woman.

LITTLE FRENCH GIRL AT THE WESTHOLME

Play Drew Big Crowd Last Night and is Shown Again Tonight

The Little French Girl from the best selling novel by that name pleased hundreds of people last evening at the Westholme Theatre and is to be shown again tonight. It is one of the big pictures of the year, secured by the management especially for fair week.

Mary Brian, who played Wendy in the Barrie classic, has the title role. As Alix Vervier, she invades a fashionable home with the idea of making a good marriage — a marriage which her mother's indiscretions have made impossible for her in France.

Alice Joyce plays Madame Vervier, who as Alix says, "cannot help it if she is loved." Anthony Jowitt, new to the screen, is Madame's latest flame, an English army officer who neglects his financee to spend his leave with the little French girl's mother. Neil Hamilton is Owen Bradley's younger brother, who also loves Miss Ralston, playing Toppie.

The mother, a complex creature, ever attractive to men, is a brilliant contrast to her hardly matured, simple natured daugher whose first and strongest instinct is the protection of this mother of whose "affairs" she becomes cognizant.

The unusual relation between mother and daughter, the contrast between the strict English middle-class moral standards and the freer French codes, are graphically and logically portrayed, and the post-war life of an English country family in contrast with French society settings is shown in an effective manner.

The part of the mother has great possibilities, and that of the daughter is equally as good. The romance between the daughter and a young Englishmen who assumes the role of her protector and with whose family she is visiting, is strong and beautiful.

JACK PICKFORD TO BE SEEN WEDNESDAY IN "THE HILL BILLY"

Jack and Mary Pickford had talked over the idea of "The Hill Billy" for several months. They had planned together that it would make a great motion picture production. So brother and sister decided to write the story. With the aid of Marion Jackson the two produced an original tale of the Kentucky mountains, now known to the cinema world as "The Hill Billy."

This latest production is the dream of Jack Pickford come true. Ever since he and his sister talked over the idea for the story he had been wanting to make it for the screen. Now, his greatest ambition, his sincerest endeavor for the silver-sheet, is being shown throughout the world.

"I want to make a story different from all the rest," Jack said. "I wanted to try to make the theatre public forget some of the jazz-age specials. I wanted to get away from allegorical tales that point out a parallel moral in today's way of living. That's why I have made my present production.

"In 'The Hill Billy' I have done my very best to give the motion picture audience something clean, wholesome and fine. I have taken my story back fifty years ago into the Kentucky mountains.

"I have placed a few simple people up in those hills and in the valleys. They have been given their troubles and their joys. Romance comes up in that section just as it comes in other parts of the world today.

"My picture is elaborate only in that it is full of vital, American people. They do not dress in regal splendor or have the pomp that a crown commands. They are garbed in their own simple style of the backwoods—they are just simple folk of a simple day."

The picture will open here on Wednesday.

NORMA TALMADGE IS COMING AT WEEK END

"Secrets" is Her Latest Picture Showing Different Periods

Norma Talmadge, in her latest First National picture, "Secrets," here at the week-end, plays four different roles in four different periods and in gowns of four different cycles.

It is a picture of modern romance with glimpses into three other periods of American home life. The picture shows Norma first a young wife of the early days in Wyoming and the far West.

Then the action switches to the year 1870. Norma has become the mother of a growing family. The passing years of the photoplay's story next show her in the gowns of the late '80s of the last century. Her hair has greyed and the children have grown but it is the same Norma of the early sequences of the story. Last of all, Norma is shown again in modern costumes in 1923 settings.

"Secrets" is an unusual picture. It has an unusal story which is developed in a novel fashion. And in it Norma has a splendid opportunity, of which she avails herself to the full, to display a remarkable range of characterization.

One is hardly able to believe that the Norma seen in the early sequences as a young wife and as a mother is the same person who is shown later with grey hair and in the black silk dress so much favored by our grandmothers.

PRINCE GEORGE

Unfavorable weather conditions immediately preceding mitigated against the success of the twelfth annual Prince George exhibition held last Tuesday and Wednesday. The exhibits were the best yet, but the attendance was not large. Woodpecker district won the district exhibit shield with 885 points, but Salmon Valley, which had 880, is protesting the finding of the judges.

R. C. W. Lett of the natural resources department of the Canadian National Railways was a visitor in the district last week.

A merger of the two local moving picture theatres was effected last week. Levi Graham of the Rex theatre becomes the lessee of both houses and J. C. Mackenzie, who formerly operated the Capitol, has left for Belen, New Mexico, where he has secured a theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Bogue of this city and Dr. and Mrs. Sewell of San Francisco have returned from a trip to the Peace River country.

J. H. Weisner and Henry Stege, who have been in partnership in the fur-buying business in the district for the past thirteen years, have dissolved partnership. Stege will continue business at Hudson's Hope, while Weisner will carry on at the mouth of the Ingineka River.

W. J. McAllan of Fort Fraser, former Indian agent for the district, is making arrangements to leave for Victoria. He will eventually go to New Zealand, where it is his intention to remain.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

RUPERT WINS SECOND GAME

Baseall Score on Saturday Afternoon Was 4 to 2

The second baseball game on Saturday afternoon between New Metlakatla and Prince Rupert resulted in another victory for the locals by a score of 4 to 2. It was a somewhat better game than the first of the series, but there was a small crowd in attendance and there will be a financial loss as a result of the bringing to the city of the New Metlakatla team.

Kitcoon, who again pitched for New Metlakatla, seemed better able to hold the locals down, and Schlenker, the Prince Rupert hurler, was not going as strong as he did in the first game. The result was a less one-sided match, which seemed to be appreciated by those who attended. There were only three hits off Schlenker, fielding being the winning factor. The locals got eight hits off Kitcoon. Prince Rupert made six errors and New Metlakatla three.

The game was won for the local team in the fifth inning, when they touched Kitcoon for three safe hits and as many runs.

The score by innings was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Metlakatla	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Prince Rupert	0	0	0	0	3	1	x	—4

The teams were as follows:

New Metlakatla—Brendible cf; Hewson ss, Edwards c; Buckert 3b, Evans 1b, Leask 2b, Kitcoon p, Williams rf, Hudson lf.

Prince Rupert—Moran ss, Schlenker p, Frizzell lf, Jones 1b, Balfour c, Farquhar 3b, H. Menzies 2b, C. Smith cf, H. Astori rf (W. Mitchell after fourth inning).

There was to have been a third game on Sunday, but rain prevented it. The Metlakatla team returned home yesterday.

CELEBRATION BIG SUCCESS

The Trades and Labor Council has been holding Labor Day celebrations here for many years but yesterday's was probably the most successful of them all. ENGLISH TURF EVENT COMING

Next Wednesday the St. Leger to Take Place at Doncaster: Saucy Sue Entered

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 8.—(By Canadian Press)—On Wednesday next the English turf world and British followers of the thoroughbred will turn to watch the struggle at the Town Moor course, Doncaster, for the senior and the last of the five great three-year-old classics, the St. Leger.

Questions making this year's St. Leger notable are as follows: Can Saucy Sue, unbeaten champion filly, defeat the leading colts? Will Manna, winner of the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby, bring lasting fame on himself and his trainer by winning the mythical "Triple Crown?" What are the chances of A. R. Cox's Picaroon, at the commencement of the season the champion three-year-old, until a mishap to his leg forced his withdrawal from racing and training? Picaroon's start is very problematical, for even if he can stand the hard training, he has much ground to make up, and he has not faced the starting post since his win in the Newmarket Craven Stakes four months ago.

The St. Leger, though lacking by its situation the popularity of the Epsom Derby, is a harder test of the thoroughbred than either the Derby, a mile and a half race, or the Two Thousand Guineas, a mile race. The St. Leger is run over the Town Moor course of one mile, six furlongs and 132 yards. It is, of course, immensely popular in Yorkshire, and the "tykes" walk many miles to see it.

As winner of the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby which with the St. Leger are the three greatest classics for three-year-olds, H. E. Morriss's Manna is the leading contender for the St. Leger stakes, and favorite in the betting at about four to one against. Manna's start this year was at Ascot, when he was quite unexpectedly defeated by Sir John Rutherford's colt Solario, by Gainsborough out of Sun Worship.

Solario and Picaroon are considered by many to be better than Manna. As two-year-olds the three ran in the Middle Park Stakes, Picaroon winning easily Solario second and Manna third. Picaroon was conceded to be the champion, but his unfortunate malady in the spring put him out of the running. Solario has twice headed Manna and at five to one against is next in the betting to the Derby winner, who is a Phalaris-Waffles colt. Picaroon is third favorite, and Saucy Sue Fourth.

LITTLE TO SAY ABOUT RESULTS

Head of Aerial Prospecting Expedition into Cassiar Country Passes Through City

Archibald Little, Detroit mining engineer, who was a passenger going south on the steamer Princess Louise Saturday afternoon, was very non-committal as to the results of the aerial prospecting tour that he conducted during the summer in the Cassiar district. He stated that the country was full of mineral but admitted that he had done no staking on behalf of the interests he represented. Asked whether he would make another trip next year to the Cassiar district by airplane, Mr. Little stated this was not yet being considered. Much would depend, he said, on the results of assays of many mineral specimens he was taking out with him.

Mr. Little spoke highly of the aerial transportation service given himself and his prospectors by the Laurentide Air Service, Montreal, Col. J. Scott Williams and S. C. Caldwell. He reiterated the belief formerly expressed by himself that the air offered the most advantageous and economical means of exploring such a country as the Cassiar district.

Besides Mr. Little, Frank Perry and George Platzer, the two prospectors whose reports to the outside world led to the expedition this year, together with all the other members of the party came south on the Princess Louise. Perry went on to Vancouver, but Platzer and his three sons, George Jr., Matt and Steve, debarked here and proceeded to Edmonton on their way to Spirit River, in the Peace River Valley, where they have a large ranch. Mr. Platzer, who earlier in his career was United States senator for the state of North Dakota, said that he was planning another trip into the Liard River country in the near future.

PLANES TO REMAIN HERE SIX WEEKS

Fisheries Patrol Will Be Carried on Until October 15, Major Tudhope Announces

Squadron Leader J. H. Tudhope, commanding officer of the Jericho Beach station of the Royal Canadian Air Force, returned to Vancouver on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon after having spent several weeks here in conection with the work of the fisheries patrol detachment.

Squadron Leader Tudhope stated that the two machines now here will remain in the north until about the middle of October. Flight Lieut. Earl MacLeod will remain with his headquarters at Digby Island, and this week Flying Officer A. H. Hull will fly to the Queen Charlotte Islands, where he will be stationed until the close of the season.

Flight Lieut. MacLeod arrived after dark Sunday evening at the Digby Island base after having spent the week end on patrol duties at Swanson Bay.

COPPER SHORTAGE IS CAUSE PRICE RAISE

Amount of Metal on Hand at Present Far Below Normal, Says Report

Copper prices seem to be responding to the steady improvement that is taking place in the market, says the Financial Post of Toronto. It is within a fraction of 15c this week.

Entering 1925 surplus stocks of refined metal amounted to 272,868,000 pounds. At the end of last June they were 182,652,000, decrease of over 90,000,000 pounds and samllest surplus since the close of 1919, when metal on hand stood at over 700,000,000 pounds. Notwithstanding 1924 saw the largest consumption of copper for any peace year in history, the price did not advance much until last December. It entered 1925 at under 14¾ cents a pound, only to decline to low of 1925 in April. Until about a month ago it hung around 13½ to 13⅝ cents, yet consumption continued to increase. Recently demand has overtaken output as shown by steadily declining surplus stocks.

Following table shows price of copper compared with surplus stocks.

WHY worry about whether it is right to teach evolution in the schools? Letter writing is taught there.

KETCHIKAN ON VISIT TO HYDER

Number of Business Men of First City Go Over to Portland Canal Centre

The party of Ketchikan business men who made the trip to Hyder over the week end at the invitation of the Hyder chamber of commerve, returned to Ketchikan on the Prince of Wales last evening and all were enthusiastic over the possibilities discovered in the district surrounding the Portland Canal city, says the Ketchikan Chronicle.

That Ketchikan can be of inestimable assistance to Hyder and reap many benefits from investments in Hyder projects and from business relations with Hyder, was the theme of the talks made at the luncheon for the local men before their return to this city by the Hyder chamber of commerce.

A busy day was spent in visiting the projects about Hyder and in a study of business conditions at that place. The Ketchikan delegation arrived at Hyder early Saturday morning and were met at the wharf by nearly all of the Hyder business men. They were taken out to breakfast and the day's schedule arranged.

Went Through Mines

With the exception of a few who were detained in Hyder on business, The Ketchikan party spent the day in going through the Riverside and the Mountain View mines, which are largely owned by Ketchikan men. Formations were studied, facility for handling the ore and all of the other phases of the mining game were discussed and without exception the party who made the trip are enthusiastic over the possibilities encountered.

It was learned that the Hyder district is one of the largest mining districts in the world. It was said at the luncheon that the Famed Rand in Africa was the only district comparbale to Hyder in point of mineralization.

The Premier mine is the only one which is at present actively engaged in ore production. Several other properties are ready to commence active operation in the immediate future as soon as facilities for the handling of the ore and some development work are completed.

Possible Railway

A survey for a railroad has been made and J. A. Hall, of the Salmon River bank and one of the backers of the proposed road, said Saturday that construction may be started at any time.

Although considerable high-grade ore has been discovered, the greatest volume of mineral is in values which offer a substantial profit and which at the same time has been found in quantities which assure the operators of many years of operation.

Ketchikan capital and Ketchikan business men have been instrumental in much of the development of the Portland Canal district and it was to show them what results had been obtained that the trip was made. The benefits which may be obtained from the continued co-operation of business men of the two cities were pointed out and assurances of continued co-operation were given.

Hyder was very hospitable to the local men and all look forward to returning to the Portland Canal neighbor at some future date for a longer visit.

NOT MUCH IMPRESSED WITH GOLD PAN AREA

Prospector and Vocalist of Idaho States Prospectors Are Not Making Fortunes

Not very impressed with the district and inclined to discount reports of the mineral wealth there was Edwin Rowden, erstwhile prospector and resident of southeastern Idaho, who was a passenger going south on the Princess Louise Saturday afternoon after having spent the summer in the Gold Pan Creek area of the Carriar district. Mr. Rowden, who is perhaps better known throughout the northwestern states as a singer of some repute, declared that Gold Pan would never be anything more than a one-man camp. He said that the general average of prospectors' returns from operation in the placer fields there had been something like $10 per day. "I gained the experience and lost thirty pounds' excess weight," said Mr. Rowden when asked how he personally had fared at Gold Pan during the summer. He stated that winter was beginning to close in on the district and that there had already been severe frosts and a good deal of snow.

Word has reached the city that "Denny" Allen is in hospital in France, suffering from a dislocated shoulder sustained in a fall from the roof of a hut.

Robert Allison, aged 76, father of A. H. Allison of this city, died at the home of his son on Fourth Avenue East yesterday afternoon.

Richard P. Sullivan, one of Prince Rupert's pioneers, is leaving shortly for the Front. Paddy has seen service in Egypt and is one of the original Earl Grey's Own. He leaves for Vernon tomorrow.

HAZELTON

Mrs. James MacKay and family left on Thursday for Calgary, where they will take up their future residence.

Miss Frances Willan has left for Vancouver to attend school.

The Moricetown bridge is again open for traffic following its rebuilding.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Melnyk were here last week en route to the Babine, where Mr. Melnyk will take charge of the Hudson's Bay post. For a number of years he was in charge of the post in Siberia.

The prospectors who went into the Kisgagas country have all returned for the winter. It is possible, however, that some more staking may yet be done this fall.

HEALING OF WOUNDS IN POLITICAL PARTIES

Break Caused by Launching of Provincials Under General McRae Still Causing Cleavage

VANCOUVER, Sept. 8.—The two big political parties are trying to heal the wounds caused by the bolting of members from either to the provincial party led by General McRae at the last provincial election. While the bolt was for the provincial campaign only and had nothing to do with Dominion politics, the bolters are not being received back into either fold with any degree of enthusiasm. The result is proving somewhat embarrassing.

It is said that the Conservatives are feeling the split more than the Liberals, as more prominent men on that side broke away than on the other. While nothing more serious than divided councils is likely to follow from the divisions, neither party is able to count on the result of the coming election just as confidently as would be the case if there was perfect cohesion.

HOWE SOUND COPPER COMPANY'S EARNINGS

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A net income of $369,398 was reported by Howe Sound for the first six months of 1925. This is after bond interest and depreciation but before depletion and is equal to 93 cents a share for the present outstanding stock. The company produced 13,372,641 pounds of copper, 906,035 ounces of silver, 9,039,220 pounds of lead and 730,476 pounds of zinc. Operations at El Potosi were below normal due to the construction program as was also production at Britainnia. With the new mill in operation at El Potosi better results from now on are expected.

Capt. Kilroy Harris, D.S.O., Australian traveller, journalist and lecturer, was a passenger going south on the Princess Alice yesterday after a trip to Alaska.
