IRELAND SUFFERED FROM BIG GALE

GRIZZLY BEARS FIGURED HUNTING EPISODE AT TERRACE

Men Drowned in Fishing Boats When Dashed Upon Rocks in Gale Saturday

Ireland Suffered Heavily and There Were Heartrending Scenes in the Village When Women and Children Realized Loss

Virtually every breadwinner at Lackan Bay, County Mayo, was drowned within two or three hundred yards of home when the boats were dashed to pieces on the rocks.

In Cleggan, County Galway, and nearby towns, 31 are missing and eight bodies have been washed ashore. There were heart-rending scenes in the villages. Women and children and even men cried aloud in anguish and many were carried from the church in a fainting condition as Father Michael Quinn celebrated requiem mass at Cleggan.

One of the American vessels, which decided to hold over rather than accept 12c and 6c on Saturday made a very slight gain while four Canadian vessels gained enough by waiting to probably make the delay worth while.

The Nuba finally accepted 12c and 6c for 1,500 pounds on Saturday.

SANKEY CASE UP TOMORROW

Chief Justice Hunter Decides he has no Autthority to Hear Appeal

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31.—Sustaining the objection made by A. M. Johnson, K.C., crown counsel, Chief Justice Hunter in the supreme court today decided he had no jurisdiction to hear the application for a change of venue on behalf of Joseph Sankey, charged with the murder at Port Essington of Miss Loretta Chisholm.

J. E. Bird, Sankey's counsel, sought to have the trial take place at New Westminster assizes opening November 8 instead of at Prince Rupert November 23.

Accepting the suggestion of the Chief Justice, Bird subsequently applied to Mr. Justice Morrison, who consented to hear the application Tuesday.

Motion for a change of venue had been refused by Mr. Justice Morrison, August 3.

In arguing the case this morning Mr. Bird said "Sankey had been publicly referred to in the News of Prince Rupert as the murderer of Loretta Chisholm. He added that it would put him in a very unfortunate position if he had to go there and challenge the whole jury on grounds of unfairness.

Terrace Farmer Shoots Two Grizzlies and Wounds Third Near Shore of Lakelse Lake

TERRACE, October 31.—Matt Allard, well known rancher and prospector of Kalum Lake, had a thrilling experience last Wednesday while hunting in the Lakelse Valley. At the mouth of Blackwater Creek on Lakelse Lake he encountered a large grizzly cub which he shot at close range. Suspicious that there would be others in the vicinity, he was not surprised to quickly see a huge chap bearing down upon him at some distance. Being too far from it to be sure of hitting to kill, he was looking for a tree to climb to get better aim, but the animal travelled so quickly that he had to shoot from the ground and was successful in felling it with the first shot. Immediately afterwards a third bear, supposedly a two-year-old, appeared on the scene, and he shot again but the gun jammed and before he remedied it the bear had turned into the brush. He shot again and from the howls knew that he had wounded it, but it got away.

Altogether it is thought there were four grizzlies in the party.

For some days, the wounded bear has been heard around the lake but so far has evaded capture by the few who have had the courage to attempt it.

The hides of the two grizzlies shot by Mr. Allard are on display at the Terrace Club.

SCHOONER DOROTHY, CHARTERED TO FISH COMMISSION, HERE

Capt. Ole Hvatum's big schooner Dorothy, which is under charter for the winter months to the International Fisheries Commission which will use the vessel in carrying out research work on the northern halibut banks, arrived in port at the end of the week from Seattle. Before continuing to Alaska, the vessel is going on the local drydock for the purpose of grounding her wireless equipment.

On board the Dorothy, of which Capt. Hvatum is in personal command, are sixteen men including nine fishermen and six scientists headed by F. Heward Bell who has as his assistants R. V. Butt, William Herrington, E. Pegler, Olof Ericksen and Frank Grantz (wireless operator), Vancouver and Seattle men.

As some forty per cent of the halibut caught are mutiliated or otherwise unfit for tagging, arrangements have been made to put such fish in the market and it is expected that the Dorothy will sell two catches, probably at Prince Rupert, before Christmas when she will proceed south for the holiday period.

The Dorothy will proceed tonight to Ketchikan en route to the western halibut banks.

PEACE RIVER RAILWAY

These are days of big things. Everything is operated in a big way and especially transportation systems. Small concerns do not usually succeed. A short railway misses the profits from the long haul.

While General Sutton is a spectacular figure and he appeals to many, it is not likely that his railway proposal could succeed permanently. Canada has two important railway system today and the Peace River should be opened by one of them. No one else can do it satisfactorily.

The time is now ripe for action. The country is producing enough grain to warrant building the western outlet and the British Columbia part of the district should undoubtedly be tapped. Probably the whole matter may be taken up by the Premiers at the conference or if not the Dominion Government would do well to make a move very soon.

What is wanted is a railway that will operate efficiently and continuously and this can only be hoped for if it is operated either by the Canadian National or the C.P.R.

Possibly the Peace River is big enough and of sufficient importance to warrant the operating of two systems but that does not seem quite reasonable just now.

ONE OF DIFFICULTIES

While the Peace River should be a natural feeder to the main line of the Canadian National, a feeder that would undoubtedly make the western section to Prince Rupert pay in a very short time, it also must be remembered that the P.G.E. has no western outlet for its grain except over the difficult Kicking Horse Pass route which is expensive to operate. That company undoubtedly will be looking for a better road to the Pacific over which, to haul the bulk of its grain. That might be found in the route to Stewart, from which port it would operate its fast Pacific liners or in making conjunction with this port.

The failure of the Canadian National to operate trans-Pacific liners from this port would leave the C.P.R. with the field all to itself.

MUST KNOW ALL SIDES

We are trying to give our readers every phase of this situation. We cannot bluff the railway builders into believing something that is not true, as is being attempted in some of the Vancouver papers. The engineers have the facts and the railway heads have the facts, a great many more than any of us. They have all the figures on tonnage and costs and they know where a railway is likely to pay. Having that in view it is quite useless for newspapers, individuals or the public bodies to try to prove anything which is not true. It is just as well for us to look at the question from every point of view and to note difficulties which have to be overcome. The only place where our influence comes in is when the political factor is considered. This is sometimes all-powerful so we must keep our end up and let the leaders know that we are on the job and are expecting the proper treatment for this part of the country.

BRITISH NAVAL POLICY

Much interest is being taken in this country as well as in Britain over the Liberal declaration in regard to their naval policy. Headed by Lloyd George, the Liberals demand naval reductions and state that had proper concessions been made there would have been no breakup of the conference with the United States over naval reductions. They state that the present navy is beyond present requirements.

Viscount Cecil, who recently resigned from the British cabinet over the disarmament conference, is preparing an elaborate scheme for European disarmament which he expects to submit later.

It is stated that Liberal opinion, especially in regard to this matter, is steadily growing and with the possibility of a working arrangement between Liberals and Laborites, it is quite within the realms of possibility that the British Conservatives may be defeated at the next election.

SHAW'S LETTER ON MUSSOLINI

Sees Socialistic Tendencies in Italian Dictator Which he Commends

READY TO ACCEPT FACTS

Author Defends Himself for Approving Work Done by Head of Fascists

LONDON, Oct. 31.—In letter to a friend George Bernard Shaw the author, playright and socialist defends his action in commending the work of Mussolini, dictator of Italy. He says:

I am very sorry my comment on the "Daily News" articles on Mussolini which the sub-editor headed "A Defence" distressed you as it did. You were not the only one who jumped to the conclusion that I must have been unaware of the Matteotti affair and of the other revolting incidents of the Fascist Terror. This is quite a mistake. I knew about them. Even if the Liberal press in Britain had been reticent on the subject, which it certainly was not, I have been in touch with the Italian refugee whose letter you have sent, and already knew all that letter told me, besides a great deal more that I can infer from my experience and historical knowledge just as certainly as if I had witnessed it.

But you cannot dispose of Mussolini by simply repeating in a tone of virtuous indignation on the admitted and even vaunted fact that he owes his power to a coup d'etat. Since Augustus founded the Roman Empire with himself as Emperor by the coup d'etat, which began with hte assassination of Cæsar, until Lenin became dictator of Russia by a violent overthrow of Kerenskyist Liberal Democracy involving the very unpleasant operations of the Cheka, there have been dozens of great usurpations effected by coups d'etat, and every one of the coups have been a filthy business, in which honest and loyal men have been shouted down in court by perjured witnesses and time-serving magistrates, and have been beaten, tortured, and murdered out of it by gangs of infernal blackguards. All liberties of speech or the press have been suspended until the object of the coup had been attained by a thorough reign of terror. The only novelty in the Italian case was the castor oil, and most men would rather be dosed with castor oil than be tarred and feathered.

CÆSAR'S GASHES

Now it is clear that our attitude towards a new regime connot be determined by the means employed to establish it. It is no use fighting Augustus or provoking him to fight you merely because Antony points eloquently to the gashes of Caesar's body. You cannot ignore Napoleon because he kicked out the execssively constitutional Abbe Sieyes. You cannot demand the reconquest of the Irish Free State because it has passed a Coercion Act that would have horrified Lord Salisbury, sweeping away the democratic councils established by the London Parliament and replacing them by the autocratic triumvirates such as Dublin Castle at its worst would never have dared to set up. It is silly to refuse to trade with Russia because the Soviet connived at regicide and made an end of the nice dinners given by the dear Benckendorffs. It would be absurd to pretend that the Kaiser is still the rightful ruler of Germany because the substitution of a Republic was accompanied by the murder of Rathenau as well as Liebknecht, jun., and Rosa Luxemburg.

It is equally irrelevant and silly to refuse to acknowledge the dictatorship of Il Duce because it was not achieved without all the usual villainies. The only question for us is whether he is doing his job well enough to induce the Italian nation to accept him faute de mieux. They do not accept him, some of them faute de mieux, several of them without enthusiasm.

POST-WAR NEURASTHENIA

His enemies—if you like, his victims—cannot pretend that they had not as good a chance as he. They actually made it a reproach to him that he offered to lead them on any program that would bring order out of chaos, but they were incapable of taking any chance. They could neither lead nor follow. They pleaded that they had post-war neurasthenia, and that if Mussolini had only waited until they got well everything would have settled down into its old rut, with themselves enjoying their delightful position of eloquent revolution. If that did not seem good enough for Mussolini, and he finally had to come down on the side of a militarist Fascism, which was at all events ready to do something, have they, of all people, the right to blame him?

It is true that it was only as a sort of unbeheaded and successful Stafford that he did obtain his command of the Fascists, but as an unsuccessful Lenin he could have done nothing except lose his life.

Some of the things Mussolini has done and some that he is threatening to do go farther in the direction of Socialism than the English Labor party could yet venture if it was in power. They will bring him presently into serious conflict with capitalism, and it is certainly not my business nor that of any Socialist to weaken him in view of such a conflict. As to cocking snooks at him, as the British aristocracy did at George Washington long after they had been forced to accept him as President of the independent United States of America, what good will that do? As long as he can say "J'y suis et j'y reste," and the Italian people say, "So you shall. Viva Il Duce!" we must accept the situation, and we may as well do it with good grace. I repeat, we had our chance of challenging him over Corfu, and when we funked that we practically admitted that we must put up with him.

WHAT MR. SHAW SAW

As he has not succeeded in keeping his enemies at home, I think he would do well to be more liberal of passports to his friends, because the Italian refugees who have escaped to Paris and London have it all their own way there when they represent Italy as groaning under an unbearable tyranny. All the tyranny I saw was of the kind which our capitalist press denounces as characteristic of Socialism, and I do not boil with indignation at it as the Liberals do.

But that is not my point, which was and is that the campaign of abuse against the Mussolini dictatorship is just as stupid as the campaign against the Soviet dictatorship in Russia. I am sorry my fellow-Socialists in Italy were totally unable to take command after the war, and I loathe the savageries which attended the establishment of Fascism. But I shall not waste any energies and compromise my reputation for good sense by refusing to accept an accomplished fact. If I did I should lose the right to criticise Mussolini's rule, which I am quite ready to do whenever I think I can do any good by it.

I hope I have made my position clear to you.—Ever faithfully,

(Signed) G. BERNARD SHAW.

"During the past ten years, tremendous improvements have been made in machine laundries, and notwithstanding all that may be said to the contrary, the household linen and even fine fabrics, are safer in the hands of a modern laundry than they are in the family washtub.

"From the facts established along this line, it seems to be pretty clearly established that a wife and mother, or any woman who works in the home, may be better employed than working at a tub or supervising an electric washing machine."

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

ANYOX MAN MARRIED VANCOUVER LAST WEEK

F. M. Ethridge Takes as Bride Miss Jessie Martin of Vancouver

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Martin, 2068 McDonald Street, recently when their daughter, Jessie McDonald, became the bride of Frederick Messenger Ethridge of Calgary, Alta., says the Vancouver Province. Rev. Gordon Dickie, D.D., of St. Stephen's United Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the drawing-room with her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Marian Crawford, and took her place under a beautiful floral arch of autumn leaves and asters. The bride looked charming in a French gown of white georgette crepe, trimmed in point Venetian lace, her veil in Juliet style, with coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, lily of the valley and white heather. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean W. Martin, who made a pretty picture in her gown of pink taffeta and carried pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by David J. Martin, brother of the bride.

During the signing of the register Mrs. C. Norman Boyd sang "All Joy Be Thine." Following the ceremony, a dainty buffet luncheon was served, the bride's table being decorated with roses and lily of the valley, and centred with a four-tier wedding cake. Mrs. J. R. Stewart presided at the urns, assisted by Miss B. Chalmer, Miss Lilian Fletcher, Miss Eleanor Boyd and Miss Barbara McBeth. During this time Glenn McMaster rendered several violin solos, accompanied by Miss Irene Bell.

For travelling, the bride donned a sand shade frock, muskrat coat and small rose velvet hat with sand trimming. After a honeymoon spent in the coast cities, Mr. and Mrs. Ethridge will reside in Anyox.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Ethridge of Calgary, mother of the groom, and Mrs. Spiller, Calgary.

SKIDEGATE

Tom Cumming and party of friends motored to Port Clements to visit friends.

A very enjoyable dance was held at the town hall, Skidegate recently amongst the party from Queen Charlotte city were Charlie Miller, Mrs. G. Beattie, Mrs. J. Gillespie, and M. R. Ritchie. Others attending were J. Dover and Captain Hansen from South Bay.

Captain Bill Stressman has resigned a position with the Dominion Public Works department at Sandspit. He says Sandspit is too much like the Sahara desert, and yet there was a lot of rain recently at the Spit.

Capt. C. Valley and Bob Dunlop had rather a surprise while crossing Cumshewa Inlet on the troller Omar K. Valley left the wheel to oil up the engine and on returning to the wheel house found a stranger standing at the wheel looking into the compass. Capt. Valley notified Dunlop and they held a council of war and on returning to the wheel house the stranger was still staring into the compass. Valley reached in and grabbed him by the shoulder and demanded who he was and where he was going. In return the stranger was equally curious to know where he was and where he was going. He claimed he had been shanghaied. The fact gradually became clear that he had gone aboard and crawled into one of the bunks and gone to sleep and now was trying to figure out wither he was bound. He was not a pirate so Valley and Dunlop were much relieved.

The Canadian Legion Public Library was opened to the public on Saturday last and from the number of members joining up on the first day it would appear that it will prove useful. A splendid collection of books is available and the rules and regulations will be easily complied with.

Some furniture arrived on Saturday for Dr. and Mrs. Brummitt, who are expected to be in Terrace the middle of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ware and family who have spent the summer here left for Prince Rupert on Sunday.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL PRESBYTERIAN GIRLS

Banquet and Entertainment Given Saturday Night in Church Hall

A very enjoyable mothers' and daughters's banquet and Hallowe'en social was held on Saturday evening in the hall of the Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the Canadian Girls in Training. The church hall was beautifully decorated in keeping with the occasion, the flowers being chrysanthemums and marigolds.

About sixty gathered around the banqueting table which formed the fore-fold standards. In the centre was placed a large paper pumpkin donated by Rose, Cowan and Latta which held the Christian and Canadian flags and which were raised by the president and vice-president during the singing of the group blessing and "O Canada."

Following the banquet there was a splendid program of instrumental and vocal music, including a sketch. A very unique and original part of the evening's entertainment was a masquerade drill, two prizes being given for best costumes. Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Brocklesby, Mrs. Sandison and Mrs. Little acted as judges. A weird ghost story was read by Miss Olive Munroe, followed by the appearance of the ghost, who interviewed the various guests.

Miss Annie Walker, the president, welcomed the mothers and thanked all those who assisted in making the banquet a success. Miss Irene Mitchell, convenor of the program committee, was in the chair. The leaders, Mrs. Haddon and Mrs. Frizell were in charge. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of "Taps" and "God Save the King."

HILL 60 HALLOWE'EN BAZAAR SUCCESSFUL

Fortune telling by Mrs. John Bremner proved, as usual, entertaining.

Cushion, donated by Mrs. R. G. Mcauley and Miss Edith Kelsey, won by Miss Molly Cross.

Lunchean set, won by Mrs. Rolf Walker.

Box of candy, won by Mrs. H. B. Rochester.

SPORT CHAT

In justice to the conquering hero who will return to the city tomorrow from his victorious trip north, it cannot be denied that "Battling" Dido Gurvich has now cleaned up about everything that this part of the country has to offer, regardless of the merits of those offerings. So the boy may further scale the ladder of pugilistic fame, it now becomes necessary that further removed fields yield something for him to knock over or at least try to. There are rumors that the central interior may hold some one who would afford him fit competition but they are only vague. So it now looks as if the local hero is soon due for a trip to the big centres of the south to try his steel. His victory over Jimmy Ferguson at Anyox on Friday was apparently effective enough and if reports of the battle so far reaching the city are correct, as they no doubt are, Dido had no trouble in disposing of his man. But his local supporters, though gleeful, were not surprised and they are not going to be surprised if he goes south in the near future and makes a name for himself down there. There is not much further room for him to extend around here as far as can be seen now.

Indoor sporting events scheduled for this week are as follows:

Monday (tonight)—Billiards.

Cribbage League—Grotto vs. Prince Rupert Hotel; Canadian Legion vs. Canadian National Mechanics; Loyal Orange Lodge vs. St. Andrew's; Native Sons of Canada vs. Moose; New Empress Hotel vs. Knights of Columbus; Canadian National Operators vs. Cold Storage.

Tuesday—Ladies' Whist: Moose Ladies vs. English Ladies; Orange Lodge vs. Canadian National Ladies.

Thursday—Billiards.

Whist League: Grotto vs. Knights of Pythias; St. George's Society vs. St. Andrew's Society; Oddfellows vs. Native Sons of Canada; Seal Cove vs. Moose.

CONFERENCE OF CHURCH ARMY

Three Hundred Natives From Various Parts of District Will Attend Proceedings Opening Tomorrow

With half of them here already, fully three hundred natives from various parts of the district are expected to be in Prince Rupert by tomorrow morning when the opening will take place of the first annual Church Army Conference of the Anglican Church, the proceedings of which will occupy three full days with many features of general public interest.

Yesterday some 130 delegates arrived included among whom was more than half the population of the village of Kitkatla down the coast as well as a number of delegates from Massett and Kincolith. The main group from Kitkatla, which is bringing its full band and choir, arrived today as well as a party from Massett with Rev. C. O. Darby aboard the mission boat Western Hope. More delegates from Kincolith as well as those from Greenville, Aiyansh and Metlakatla, will arrive in boats this afternoon and the afternoon train will bring those from Hazelton, Kitwanga and Kitwancool.

One of the most important personages at the conference will be Capt. Arthur Casey from headquarters of the Church Army, London, England, whose moving picture illustrated addresses will be one of the features of the proceedings. With the Kitkatla band on hand to greet him at the station, he will arrive from the East on this afternoon's train. Capt. Casey last year conducted a campaign in Canada on behalf of the Church Army and this year has been carrying out a similar campaign in the United States.

Two native bands will participate in the conference which will open at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper conducted by Archdeacon G. A. Rix and Canon W. F. Rushbrook.

After the program, games were played and the affair came to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

According to word brought to the city by persons from Smithers on yesterday afternoon's train, a prisoner named Pacquet, who had been committed for trial on a statutory offence charge, made his get-away from the lock-up in the interior town. Enquiry at the divisional office of the provincial police this morning elicited no confirmation.

LIKE the camel which stores up large quantities of water when it can, because the opportunity may not occur soon again, it is wise for mankind to store up some provision for the future during productive earning years.

The safest and easiest way to do this is to purchase a Confederation Life policy—a Guaranteed Pension Bond, for instance. Then you have a reservoir that no future hazard of fortune can empty.

An interesting pamphlet, "The Key to Happiness," will be sent upon request.

KEN MAYNARD HERE AGAIN IN WESTERN "THE DEVIL'S SADDLE"

The Westholme Theatre will be the scene Tuesday of the latest Ken Maynard western, "The Devil's Saddle," Charles R. Rogers' production for First National, which created more discussion in the movie colony than any single picture during the present season.

"The Devil's Saddle," gained distinction for two reasons—the daring of its director, Al Rogell, and the "scoop" it won over previous western dramas where the Indian tribes were involved.

For the first time on record the company obtained governmental permission to film the actual pictures of an Indian ceremony—on the Hopi reservation near Flagstaff, Arizona. Then the invasion of Red Rock Canyon, in the heart of the Mojave desert, resulted in scenes previously sought but never filmed due to the dangers which lurk in the snake-infested region.

Heretofore scenes in which Indian tribes participated were chiefly studio creations, but the privilege to film the reservation scenes enabled Director Rogell to go much further and arrange tribal dances and a celebration.

"NIGHT OF LOVE" IS STORY OF OLD SPAIN AND ROMANTIC DRAMA

A romantic drama of Old Spain marked with fine photography, gorgeous settings and compact and stirring action, "A Night of Love" here at the week-end is certain to move any spectator, no matter how hard-boiled, to remark: "Here's a picture!" It has been staged with a lavish hand but its expenditure is perfectly in keeping with its story of rich adventure in old Spain. This is one instance where the background doesn't run away with the plot.

There are such tales as this—and a few have served as themes to attract light opera lovers. What is sauce for the stage is also sauce for the screen. What really matters is that it tells its story without making heavy footprints around Robin Hood's barn and tells it with moving scenes and gripping suspense. Here is a lecherous duke who kidnaps a gypsy's bride on her wedding night. She kills herself to escape him, whereupon the rogue of the open road vows vengeance. He exacts it by stealing the duke's newest spouse and winning her love.

That's all there is to it, but before the ending arrives the spectator is in for a display of rich scenes and much excitement.

Gilda Grey is featured in "Cabaret," the story of New York night life billed here for the mid-week showing.

Gloria Trask found fame awaiting her in the Club Costigan and she also found love. Detective Tom Westcott was more than ordinarily interested in her and so was Sam Roberts. While the latter was more affluential Gloria disliked him because of the grip he exerted on her brother, Andy. One night she determined to find out exactly what kind of an axe he held over the boy's head. But—Andy entered and threw Roberts to the floor. He fired a gun, Andy did the same and the gang leader was dead! The shots weren't heard because of a jazz band in the next room. Gloria danced her wounded brother through the crowded dance floor and out.

OPPORTUNITY knocks for every man, according to the old adage but opportunity comes with a ring to the girl.

SOME girls are dressed in such bright colors you would imagine they were fire hydrants.

WOMEN are often criticized for their head gear, but look at a man in a Derby.

"GIVE it up," was the reply when a young lady asked a sailor what was a cure for sea sickness.

IT was rather a far fetched joke when a young man said his socks were on wrong side out because his feet were hot and he turned the hose on them.

THERE was a squeak in the car the Prince Rupert lady drove down Third Avenue and on investigation it was found to be her husband sitting in the back seat requesting that she drive a little slower.

GRAIN is rolling in
From the prairies wide
Filling high the elevator
Rupert's greatest pride.

Rolling, rolling in
Miles and miles and miles,
Bringing in the golden grain
Loading it in piles.

Welcome golden grain
From the prairies cold
Filling many a noble ship
Jamming every hold.

JAKE wonders what would the world be without Mussolini, Lloyd George, General Sutton and Paddy Sullivan?

THE editor is rather worried because people think he is supporting Mayor Newton as candidate for the Conservative party nomination. On Saturday I told him to forget it and now today he gets this verse which he hands to me with a sigh:

I'M glad to know that you agree
Mayor Newton's well and fit.
I'm glad to know that you agree
He's full of beans and grit.
Whatever doleful news they bring,
To this belief hold fast and cling,
That our Mayor Newton is the thing.
He's absolutely it.

C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. E. Mabbs, which is engaged temporarily in tramp freighting, arrived in port at 9:45 last night from Nanaimo with a cargo of 20 tons of coal for the dry dock. The vessel will clear today for the Queen Charlotte Islands where she will pick up salf fish and canned salmon for delivery to Vancouver.

ITALY UNDER MUSSOLINI IS PROGRESSING

Canadian Woman Tells of the Sunny Land Before and After The Influence of IL Duce

TORONTO, Oct. 31—Lady Eaton, widow of the late Sir John Eaton, has returned to Toronto and is remaining in the city for some time before leaving for the Pacific coast. While abroad she visited France, Italy, Switzerland, Scotland and England, spending a long time in each country. Before Mussolini held sway she visited Italy and since that time has returned to the land of IL Duce. The Canadian woman has great faith in the Italian leader.

"Italy is the brightest and happiest of lands," she said in an interview with the Star. "Mussolini has done much for the country, and no more do the beggars in the streets and around the cathedrals annoy everyone. The streets are clean as if they had been newly swept, and all the cities look better. I have never seen such happy people as in Italy today."

HAPPINESS EVIDENT

In Italy, industry, employment, and happiness have replaced the indolence and squalor of a few years ago said Lady Eaton, and she quoted an Italian friend who had told her that if Mussolini can remain in his position, in good health, for three years longer, that Italy will be strong enough to stand any storm.

"Mussolini is not really in good health," the Canadian told the interviewer. "He suffers intense pain and the only relief he gets is in distracting his thoughts by playing his violin." And Lady Eaton recounted Italian stories of Mussolini's ability as a violinist.

For the Signora Mussolini, Lady Eaton has the greatest respect, for she believes that the mysterious woman who could hold such high places in social Italy is wise to remain with her children, who are her greatest charges now.

SAW THE SIGNORA

"Signora Mussolini very seldom goes in public," Lady Eaton said, "but I saw her once at the Zoological Gardens, where she had taken her two little boys to see some lion cubs which had been presented to Mussolini. The children were beautiful, like all Italian children, and they went into the cages where the lion cubs were playing. Signora Mussolini stood by smiling at the scene."

The women in Europe have not penetrated as far into any professions nor have as many of them started out in business fields as in Canada, Lady Eaton thinks. She would not call European women non-progressive, however. They might even be ultra-modern, as if they were re-adjusting themselves after a period of rabid feminism.

N.B.—Practically all British Columbia Mineral Properties upon which development work has been done are described in some one of the Annual Reports of the Minister of Mines.
