GRAIN NOW MOVING OUT STEADILY

SHIPMASTER, LADY PASSENGER AND PARROTS IN RUMPUS

Grain Shipments So Far 2,270,000 Bushels From Prince Rupert to Europe

Eight Steamers Loaded Here so Far, Another Due at End of Week and Two at Present are Being Loaded

Since October 29 when the season opened some 2,270,000 bushels of wheat has been shipped to date on eight vessels for the United Kingdom or Continent from the Alberta Wheat Pool's Prince Rupert elevator. Seven vessels took average cargoes of 275,000 bushels and the eighth, the Swedish ship Sydland, had 345,000 bushels. The figures are exclusive of the steamer Teespool, now loading about 275,000 bushels; the Holmpark, which arrived today for a similar cargo, and the Levenpool, which is due at the end of the week. All grain from Prince Rupert has gone to the United Kingdom or Continent so far this season.

Speedy handling has been carried out of all the vessels, the average time in port for an already lined ship being seven days while those that had to be lined spent about ten days here. The British steamer Ainderby, which was here twelve days, had to go on dry dock for propeller repairs. The only ships lined here were the Japanese freighters San Francisco Maru and Ohio Maru and the Swedish boat Sydland.

Following are the boats which have loaded here since the opening of the season:

Fishpool (British), arr. Oct. 29, left Nov. 5.
King James (British), arr. Nov. 9, left Nov. 15.
San Francisco Maru (Jap), arr. Nov 25, left Dec. 5.
Warlaby (British), arr. Dec. 6, left Dec. 11.
Ainderby (British), arr. Dec. 6, left Dec. 20.
Teespool (British), arr. Jan. 2, loading.
Holmpark (British), arr. Jan. 5.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL IS ON

Henry Rivard Charged at Stewart and Murder of William Ritchie

STEWART, Jan. 4.—The coroner's inquest held last night on the killing of William Ritchie brought in an open verdict, there being no witness to the actual shooting. Witnesses examined were Paddy O'Donald and Donald McLeod, who were members of the party with whom Henry Rivard, accused of the killing, is supposed to have had an altercation, and Constable Potterton and Dr. Williams who were immediately on the scene.

Inspector Spiller and Sergeant McNeill are here from Prince Rupert, the former conducting the case for the crown. Deputy Coroner Taunsek of Prince Rupert presided at the inquest.

The preliminary hearing of Henry Rivard is now proceeding and will probably not be finished until late tonight. The case has not gone far enough to determine the nature of the defence. It is believed that Rivard will withhold his defence and wait trial at the spring assizes in Prince Rupert next May. He is represented in this hearing by R. W. Kennedy of Stewart.

Attack of Asthma Results in Sudden Death of Teddy Hutchings —Served in Spanish-American and Great Wars

A well known character around Prince Rupert was the late Edwin J. Hutchings, better known to his many friends and acquaintances as "Teddy," whose death occurred suddenly in the Prince Rupert General Hospital at 16 o'clock last night following a severe attack of asthma from which malady he suffered for many years. Deceased, who was engaged as a waiter and in other callings, had lived in Prince Rupert for nearly twenty years and for a time was at Alice Arm with J. P. Hawkinson in 1917. In Prince Rupert he was employed, among other places, at Self's and St. Regis Cafes, the Commercial Hotel and more recently at the Central Hotel.

Born in Portsmouth, England, sixty-eight years ago, the late Mr. Hutchings served in his younger days in the British Navy and was also with the United States in the Spanish-American war as a result of which conflict he drew a pension up till his death. He participated in the Reil Rebellion, being awarded a medal, and he also went overseas with the 102nd Battalion in the Great War. He was unmarried but has a sister residing in Portsmouth.

Under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, the late Mr. Hutchings will be buried on Sunday afternoon with military honors. Arrangements are in the hands of the B.C. Undertakers.

Levenpool Due at End of Week Will Be Eleventh Grain Vessel of Season to Arrive for Loading

Prince Rupert's eleventh grain ship of the season will be the British freighter Levenpool, which is coming from Europe via the Panama Canal, and is expected to arrive here about the end of the week. The vessel is coming in ballast and is being lined enroute so will be ready as soon as she arrives to start loading a full cargo for the United Kingdom or Continent.

The tenth boat of the season, the British freighter Holmpark, arrived in port this afternoon. She reached Triple Island this morning and picked up her pilot, Capt. Larry Thomson of the Federal Pilots of British Columbia. The Holmpark is also lined and will start loading as soon as the Teespool, into which grain is now being poured at the Alberta Wheat Pool's Prince Rupert elevator, is finished in a day or so. The Teespool also came from Europe via the Panama Canal in ballast.

Since the end of the week, seventy carloads of grain have arrived from the prairies for the local elevator, none having come in during the last twenty-four hours. Railway offices this morning reported 350 carloads west of Jasper, bound here.

Bennett, leader of the Conservative party, addressing the Canadian Club here today.

Captain of Alameda Alleges That Woman Kicked Him in Stomach and Scratched Face So He Held Her

SEATTLE, January 5.—An angry woman, two parrots and an altercation aboard the steamship Alameda last night landed Captain G. A. Glasscock, a veteran Seattle skipper, in the hands of the federal department of justice agents on a charge of assault on the high seas.

Mrs. L. A. Peterson, who was a passenger on the Alameda from Seward, Alaska, charges that the mariner maliciously struck her with his fists and injured her on December 22.

Captain Glasscock denied the charges and declares that the trouble arose over the insistence of Mrs. Peterson keeping two parrots in her state room against the law and the company's rules. He alleges that when he told her the rules had to be obeyed, complainant put her foot in his stomach and clawed his face. To protect himself he grabbed her arms but never struck her.

The hearing of the complaint will be held when the ship returns from its next run on January 20.

Yesterday afternoon and last evening, Prince Rupert experienced a real old winter southeast gale which rattled the windows and startled some of the more timid residents, also bringing in its wake a copious rainfall. Tee, Digby Island, Dominion meteorologist, reports a maximum wind velocity during the gale of 50 miles per hour. The storm, which was general along the coast, caused no damage here.

PIONEER PASSES

A. W. Edge, one of the pioneers of the city, has passed on to the realm of the unknown. While here he was active in many walks of life. He took part in civic activities until of recent years when he dropped gradually out of the picture. He had a host of friends all of whom will regret his demise.

Conservative in politics, Mr. Edge was not a bigot, but was at all times ready to see the good points in his opponents. Also he deplored the taking of political life too seriously and making it the means of dividing friends and heighbors. He always strongly urged a united city for the purpose of securing its advancement.

We join with the rest of community in mourning for one who was always a genial and true friend and a good citizen.

NOT SYSTEM BUT PERSONALITY

Hon. R. B. Bennett believes that it is not the political system of a country that makes for good government but the personality of the citizens. Members of Parliament will, to a large extent, carry out the wishes of the people. They will be no better than the people they represent and no worse. If the people set a high standard the members will do the same.

The thought and work of Canadians is what counts, as the Conservative leader remarks. The difficulty is that some do not work and many do not think and the result is that democracy is not always a success.

CANADA AND BRITISH MONEY

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Newspaper correspondents from the Old Country who have recently been in Canada, including members of the Press Association party who visited this country in the summer, have been commenting in their journals on the considerable influx of American capital into Canada within recent years. They have been permitting themselves to wonder whether this influx constitutes a menace to the continuance of Canada within the Empire, suggesting that if this continues financial and economic pressure from Washington and New York may produce a situation which, in a future period of time (some put it at ten years), will result in a closer political relationship, if not compel it.

Canadians who are interested in the development of their country, while not subscribing to the sentiments thus expressed, are at any rate willing to agree that an increase in the proportion of British investments in Canada would be extremely welcome. But it may also be admitted that failing British investments, capital and enterprise provided from across the border will be welcomed. A percentage, so small as to be negligible, will be found to envisage the views which British correspondents are expressing as to the ultimate effect of this preponderance of capital investments from United States sources.

It may perhaps be permitted to Canadians to speculate as to why, apart from the after-effects of the war on British international commitments, there is an apparent unwillingness to engage in Canadian development on the part of Old Country business men and investors. There are no signs that British capital is become shy of all commitments outside of the British Isles. It can hardly be that Old Country investors are entirely ignorant of, or averse to participation in, the development of Canada which is now in evidence. Although color to this suggestion may perhaps be found in a comment in a recent issue of The Investors Review, which is a sort of London Stock Exchange publication, read presumably by an investing clientele. This publication, under the heading of "The Flim Flam Railway," pays its meed to the developments in Manitoba in the following terms: "They (Canadians) are proposing to build a line from Flin Flon in Northern Manitoba to the Hudson Bay Railway. It is a modest affair of 84 miles and is estimated to cost only $3,500,000, none of which is apparently to be raised here. For that we may be duly thankful, and, of course, Canadians are welcome to waste their money any way they like." The article proceeds: "In good seasons Hudson Bay is perhaps open for three or four months, but at other times two months may be the limit. Why anyone should want to build a line for a two or three months season is not very clear, but we wish the promotors luck in their venture."

It may not be fair to suggest that this combination of impudence and ignorance represents any sort of financial opinion in London. Indeed, Canada, the illustrated weekly published in London, in a slashing commentary on this article, says it is by no means typical of financial papers. At the same time, however, just as there are people in apparently large numbers in England who say that it is almost a crime to emigrate to Canada, so there are people, no doubt, who think that any Canadian investment is equivalent to kissing the money good-bye.

There is a good deal of sound commonsense in the advice tendered by the Prince of Wales when he urged British business men to take a trip over here and see conditions for themselves, with a view to becoming interested in Canadian development. But only personal investigation and management on the ground will ensure success. There is no doubt on this side of the Atlantic that the openings for participation in Canadian development are as good for British funds as they are for American. Investment and immigration go hand in hand, and if Britain is serious in wishing to increase to a marked extent the percentage of immigrants from the Old Country, there would seem to be no better method than to create business openings here which will do their share in the absorption of them. Canada will welcome both wholeheartedly, although it is not considered, as a matter of serious concern, that their absence will either seriously retard the development of this country or involve its absorption, now or hereafter, by the American Union.

Engineer Forecasts What Is Likely to Happen in Future Production and Distribution

PHILADELPHIA, January 5.—A sunny, smokeless city, with double and, perhaps, triple decked streets, with centralized fuel and power plants and with the people turning more and more to the engineer for solution of problems, is the municipality of the coming "Engineer Age" which Samuel Rea, retired president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, envisages within a century.

At the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Engineers' Club of Philadelphia, Mr. Rea, who has himself completed his fiftieth year in his profession, speculated on the forthcoming fifty years, but with the precision of a dreamer trained in the laboratory.

"While I realize the fascination which lies in any effort to predict the future," he said, "I also know it is a hazardous diversion which men of sound judgment seldom undertake and then only with reserve and caution."

ELIMINATE WASTE

The most notable achievement to be expected will have to do with the elimination of waste in the use of fuels and the recovery and utilization more completely of the by-products of distillation and combustion, he said.

Mr. Rea predicted that by 1977 small and inefficient plants will be closed and heat and power obtained from central plants where production costs are at a minimum.

"The utilization of fuels is a specialized branch of engineering," he said. "Fuels are destined to become so valuable to the human race that they will be placed only in the hands of those who can to the greatest advantage control their combustion. Scarcely anything is more archaic in our civilization, or more wasteful in the eyes of the economist, than our individual house-heating systems in which all but a fraction of the potential heat of the fuel is dissipated upon the outside atmosphere.

USE OF GAS

"The gas business, as a public utility, will supply practically all heat distribution in urban localities. As capital cheapens, it will become possible to construct distributing systems furnishing cheaply produced gas for house heating purposes as well as cooking. Industries will be supplied with gas for fuel instead of burning coal in individual furnaces under boilers. We may realize a smokeless city, and added sunlight will greatly improve the health of urban dwellers."

Speaking of other forms of fuel, Mr. Rea said that there may be seen, in highly developed form, vast power distributing plants situated near coal mines, affecting a tremendous saving in demands upon transportation resources. Electricity for house heating, he said, would not develop except in a few localities where exceptional circumstances made the production of power abnormally cheap. Where coal is directly used for industrial fuel, we may expect to see it applied chiefly in pulverized form, sprayed pneumatically into the fire box.

Touching upon the future of chemistry, Mr. Rea said that by 1977 the reactionary properties of practically all the elements may be known and the chemist will be able to produce artificially, at will, a vastly increased number of useful substances.

Mr. Rea was quick to add that he saw no reason for anticipating synthetic food in 1977, or at any other time. Synthetic food will not be necessary for the reason that engineering science and methods will immensely increase the productivity of agriculture, greatly advancing both the output of an acre and the output per man-hour of labor.

Mr. Rea's views on transportation are that fifty years from now the railroad will still be performing the bulk of the service, particularly in freight. He saw no future for inland canals or canalization of rivers not naturally navigable.

"The expenditure of further money for projects of this character is, in the great majority of cases, nearly one hundred per cent waste," he said. "I do not think the situation will be any different in 1977 than at present."

AIR TRAVEL LIMITS

Water transportation on the seas and harbors is seen to be permanent by Mr. Rea, but he forecasts a regular aeroplane service across the ocean. "But anyone," he said, "who expects to see aeroplanes supplant railroads as the principal means of passenger travel is making a very wild guess. Many factors such as the strength of materials must necessarily always limit the size of aeroplanes and keep the number of passengers possible to be transported on one machine down to a comparatively small number.

"My expectation is that air transport will evolve a de luxe high-speed passenger service with genuine, but distinctly limited, utility for long distance travel and special requirements, and at necessarily high rates. I do not think that it can be a factor of any moment in freight service," Mr. Rea said.

Highway problems will have to be dealt with before 1977. "This will mean, among other things," Mr. Rea said, "double decking streets, or even triple decking them, in the cities, with separate levels for pedestrians; one way roads in rural districts, and separation of grades where important highways cross."

BENNETT says the success of the country depends upon the individual work and thought of Canadians, so I have been looking around just to see if there is a good Conservative in town. I just jotted down a list of them and wrote opposite a few candid opinions and some day I may publish them. Jake suggested I might do the same of the Liberals but when I started to do it I found I dare not write the candid opinions I have of them because I happen to know a lot of them. If I knew the Conservatives as well, I suppose they would size up about as bad. I slipped the list into my desk and some day if I feel real mean, I shall just hand it to the printer.

GRADUALLY stories of new year festivities are beginning to leak out. The story is told of a party in a two-storey building where the people went upstairs to the dressing room. Toward the close of the evening a man started to come down as a lady was ascending. He slipped and about half way down met the lady and they continued the journey together. At the bottom the woman was found sitting on the man's chest and neither able to get up without assistance. At last the man politely remarked: "Madam, I'm shorry to dishturb you but thish ish as far as I go."

Madame A. Lariviere of Fall River, Mass., suffered with eczema for three years, and had treatment from several doctors, all of whom gave up the case. "Finally," she says, "I went to a specialist, which cost me another $20, but I was no better.

"A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, which I did, and for which I have ever since been thankful. I very soon felt some relief, and perseverance with Zam-Buk completely rid me of the disease."

SEVERE CUT HEALED

Mr. C. Oakley of Saskatoon, who sustained a terrible cut on his leg, says: "Had I known of Zam-Buk when the accident occurred, I could have saved myself a $40 doctor's bill! A doctor sewed up the cut and attended me for five weeks, but the wound did not heal, and he advised me to go into a hospital.

"I objected, however, and used Zam-Buk instead, and in two weeks' time was back at work."

SAVED OPERATION

"Father developed a painful sore on his face," writes Miss N. Lewis of Silver Lake, Oregon. "Numerous remedies and treatment from several doctors failed to heal it, and the doctor advised an operation. Someone advised him to first try Zam-Buk. A few applications brought relief, and continued use of Zam-Buk entirely healed the sore, saving father from an operation."

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, ringworm, salt rheum, boils, pimples, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, bruises, burns and scalds. All dealers 50c box.

LUMBER MILL TO BE CLOSED

Big Bay Company to Dismantle Plant Just Purchased at Seal Cove

"Except possibly to cut some lumber to be used in the construction of our new mill, we have no intention of further operating the plant of the Seal Cove Lumber Co." stated George McAfee, manager of the Big Bay Lumber Co., which has purchased the mill of the Seal Cove Lumber Co., this morning. The Seal Cove Co. plant will be dismantled and the site will probably be used for a loading or retail yard, handy as it is both to the city street and the railway tracts. The machinery will either be used in the new mill or sold. While the site of the Seal Cove Lumber Co. is a good one, Mr. McAfee explained that the primary object of his company in making the purchase was to eliminate a fire hazard caused thereby and thus reduce considerably the insurance premium on the new plant.

Mr. McAfee stated that he expected the Big Bay Lumber Co. would be operating its new mill at Seal Cove in March. Recent cold weather has been considerably hampering construction and preliminary work but, with the advent of the present mild spell, operations are once more being rushed to completion. Within the next month Mr. McAfee stated, the sawmill at Georgetown, which the company has operated for several years, will be closed down and the staff brought in to Prince Rupert. It will probably take about six months to clear up the lumber and equipment at the old mill and during that time a small crew of men will be kept there to carry on the work.

NEW YEAR CELEBRATED AT METLAKATLA BY PEOPLE OF VILLAGE

METLAKATLA, Jan. 5. — The usual noise attending the advent of the New Year was heard throughout Saturday night, the bursting of bombs, the flight of sky-rockets, the flare of Roman Candles, the miniature explosion of fire-crackers and clanging of bells, every available source of noise-maker was brought into play.

On Monday, the Metlakatla Silver Band paraded the streets, with the "Gypsies" which turned out in fancy dress costumes.

In the evening the whole village population was invited to the annual New Year's party given by the Village Council in the Village Hall, and which is always the biggest and most elaborate event of the season in the way of entertainment, a real happy time was enjoyed by all.

Music by J. A. Prevost and his string band.

Coming events are a choir concert by the Anglican Church on Thursday and a party and concert by the Church Army on Friday.

WAS VERY WEAK NERVOUS AND MELANCHOLY

Mrs. Geo. McKenzie, Campbellford, Ont., writes:—"A short time ago I was troubled very bady with my heart and nerves, the cause of it, I think, was my going through the change of life.

"I was very weak and melancholy, and so nervous I could hardly bear to hear a clock ticking, and I did not sleep well.

"I was advised to try MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS so I sent at once for a box; took them and got another, and before they were all gone I felt good, my nerves are fine, I do not mind any noise, and I can sleep well. I cannot recommend them too highly to those suffering as I did."

Price 50c. a box at all druggists and dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPORT CHAT

E. C. Cook of Sydney, millionaire backer of Major Goodsell in all of his races up to those in Vancouver with Barry, has cabled Goodsell that he desires to back him for a race against Barry on the Thames in June or July. The only stipulation made is that, if Goodsell wins, he defend the title afterward in Australia. George Matterson, Goodsell's mentor, received the cable in Vancouver and wired Goodsell in California at once. Mr. Matterson said the stipulation of Mr. Cook that Goodsell defend his title, should he regain it from Barry, only in Australia, might put a hitch in the negotiations as Goodsell planned to live in Vancouver.

Outlining the standing of Jack Dempsey as a challenger, Tex Rickard asserts that the former champion will meet Tunney without previous test only in case Heeny and Sharkey "both look terrible" in their elimination battle on January 13. Rickard declared that there was no place in the elimination ranks for George Godfrey, latest "black menace," who boasts a formidable string of knockout victories. "He's one of the worst fighters I ever saw," the promoter declared. "He fought three times in the garden and never showed anything. Besides, Tunney would not meet a negro even if Godfrey knocked out a few more set ups."

ALICE ARM

F. L. Housley, who has taken out twelve million feet of logs from the Kitsault River flats, has finally closed up his camp here. For the past few weeks a small crew has been engaged taking up railway track and gathering together equipment most of which has been shipped to Anyox. The last logs have just been shipped to Powell River on the barge Biscayne.

The coldest weather of a record cold winter in Alice Arm was registered last week when the thermometer dropped to three below zero. There has also been a record snowfall this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Evindsen held their annual party in the Alice Arm Hotel on New Year's Eve when the residents of Alice Arm were their guests.

"Alice Arm has passed a successful year and, while no big developments have taken place, steady progress has been made from which everyone will benefit in the years to come," states the Alice Arm Herald.

STEWART

According to word received here from the south the Georgia River Mines Ltd. has available some $225,000 with which to prosecute a vigorous program of development on its holdings in the Portland Canal district.

So far this season, twelve feet three inches of snow has fallen in Stewart. Something of a record is thus constituted.

Thomas King, local blacksmith, has returned to Stewart from a brief trip outside.

In its New Year's message, the Portland Canal News of Stewart asserted its "full confidence that all residents of the Portland Canal district will realize their legitimate hopes during the coming year."

A carnival dance was held in Stewart for the purpose of welcoming in the New Year. The function was largely attended.

Mrs. Charles Larson is on a holiday visit to Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Harry Hicks is on a visit to Ketchikan.

Miss M. Woolsey, who has been visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Marvin, left last week for Prince Rupert.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stewart Board of Trade took place on Tuesday evening of this week when various matters pertaining to the town and district were discussed.

R. Becker returned tothe town last week from a visit to Prince Rupert.

Owney McPadden made a brief business trip to Prince Rupert last week.

Algie Hunter acted as Santa Claus at the Moose Christmas Tree last week, the event being attended by practically all local children.

A snowmobile put in service on the road between Hyder and Stewart this winter by Charles M. Adam, head of the Stewart Motors Co., is operating successfully and creating much interest.

Fire which apparently originated from an overheated stove destroyed the south warehouse and office of the Hyder Dock Co. last Thursday. All the contents of the building were lost including a Ford car belonging to Ben Olen and 160 cases of dynamite which fortunately burned without exploding. Much snow and a strong north wind saved the rest of the dock from destruction.

George Bunn, owner of the Engineer group of four claims on the south fork of the Marmot River, is putting in the winter working on a development tunnel which he started last year and on which he is making good progress.

LATE MR. EDGE WAS PROMINENT IN CITY LIFE

Conservative in Politics, He Was Also Mason, Shriner, and Member of Pioneers' Association

A resident of Western Canada for over forty years nearly half of which time he spent in Prince Rupert, the late Aaron W. Edge, whose death occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 in the Prince Rupert General Hospital following an illness of several months, was a picturesque figure not only of this city but of the country of his adoption.

As a young man the late Mr. Edge came from England forty years ago to Canada to put his hand to the soil and thereby make his fortune in which achievement it may be said that he was not unsuccessful. He first engaged in sheep ranching near Red Deer, Alberta, and, after several years of that, moved to the Trout Lake and Lardeau country in the West Kootenay district of British Columbia where he was for some time engaged in timber cruising and prospecting. In 1907 he came to Prince Rupert and was one of the first businessmen to become established on the old Grand Trunk Pacific Railway reserve.

A hardy pioneer and outside man, the late Mr. Edge was of as rugged physical constitution as of keen and analytical brain which stood him in such good stead in his business affairs. However his body fell victim to the ravages of the fatal malady, his mind was ever keen and, if he realized his end was near, no suggestion of such knowledge was conveyed through his conversation and contact with friends. Virtually up to the end, he had planned with some enthusiasm a trip to his home in England in the spring. It was only the night before his death that he was finally admitted to the hospital where he passed away. He was unconscious for several hours before his death.

Of a unique and pleasant manner and disposition, the late Mr. Edge won for himself a host of intimate and respecting friends to whom his death came yesterday as a great shock. Diversified in experience and attractive in personality, his company was ever sought for and his advice appreciated.

The late Mr. Edge was born 69 years ago in Wem, Shropshire, England, where a brother still resides. There are, besides, two sisters in New York. A nephew, Irving Bruyn, was in Prince Rupert several years ago and is now located in Oregon. Mr. Edge was unmarried himself.

The late Mr. Edge was an ex-alderman of Prince Rupert and a past president of the Fair Board. In politics he always played an active part as an enthusiastic Conservative. He was to have been elected honorary president of the Prince Rupert Pioneers' Association at the annual meeting of that organization next week.

A member of the Sons of England and Orange organizations, the late Mr. Edge travelled high in the Masonic craft. He was a Shriner and had taken the thirty-second degree in Scottish rite. He was a past master of Talmpsean Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and a past district deputy grand master.

Besides his paint and paperhanging business of twenty years' standing here, the late Mr. Edge was an extensive property owner, his estate including the Waldron Apartments. He was also the principal owner of the Dewdney Stock Ranch Co., Ltd., a property in the Fraser Valley which he acquired during recent years.

Funeral arrangements for the late Mr. Edge, which are in the hands of the B.C. Undertakers, will be under Masonic auspices.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partly free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

COTSWORTH IS STILL WORKING NEW CALENDAR

Plans to Make Change International and is Meeting With Considerable Success

Moses Cotsworth, who is well known to most British Columbians, is still working on the plans for a revision of the calendar. He has been at it for nearly twenty years and is making progress. A year or so ago it was said to be approved by the Vatican. He is very persistent and everyone admits that his proposal has merit.

Cotsworth is the man who prepared a booklet which was widely read previous to the defeat of the Bowser Government. He was at that time much reviled by the party in power and was sued for libel and fined, a penalty which crippled him badly at the time.

Dealing with his calendar proposal a Saskatchewan newspaper says:

After lingering around the outskirts of the field of practical reforms for a quarter of a century, the idea of reshaping the calendar has come prominently to the fore within the past few months. Many long years ago Moses B. Cotsworth, a resident of York, England, was an expert railway auditor. In his struggle with figures, accounts and returns, he discovered that many of the difficulties he met with could be accounted for by the peculiar nature of the calendar, a system of marking off time which no one had questioned for hundreds of years. This discovery led him to an investigation of the subject, and he made exhaustive inquiries into the nature and origin of calendars.

The investigation was followed by his invention of a plan to stabilize and standardize the calendar. This scheme worked out by Cotsworth over twenty years ago, is the same scheme which is now attracting world-wide attention and the same man, Moses B. Cotsworth, now of New York, is still the chief advocate and promoter of the idea.

Many well-known public men in the United States and many institutions including the League of Nations have considered his proposal seriously, but as yet no practical means towards adopting the proposals have been undertaken by any government.

Mr. Cotsworth would change the calendar by substituting a thirteen-month year for the present twelve-month year. Each month would consist of exactly four weeks of seven days each. Each week would begin on Sunday and end on Saturday. From the year of the inception of the scheme every date would fall on exactly the same day every year. All calculations which involved a time factor would be simplified exceedingly and all holidays would be arranged so that they would be of the greatest convenience to those participating and the least inconvenience to business. Interest calculations would be simplified to an enormous extent.

The Cotsworth plan of month-division would take care of exactly three hundred and sixty-four days. The extra day which each year boasts would be set apart as a special holiday and would not count at all in the calculation of time. The proposal is that this day should be inserted between the end of one year and the beginning of the next. It would be New Year's Day, but would not belong to any month or any week. In Leap Years there would be another day to take care of and this Mr. Cotsworth would insert between two of the summer months and treat in the same way as he proposes to treat the annual three hundred and sixty-fifth day.

It seems evident that there are many practical advantages in Mr. Cotsworth's proposals and no apparent disadvantages. There is no doubt that much confusion would be caused in international commerce if one nation adopted the calendar and others did not, but the inventor does not propose that the calendar should be adopted piece meal, one country at a time. He calls his method of computing time "The International Fixed Calendar," and its success, he admits, depends upon its adoption by all the leading countries at the same moment. There is a probability that his dream may be realized. Recently Mr. Cotsworth laid his proposals before the Canadian government, but the manner in which they were received have not yet been made public.

TAXING IMPROVEMENTS

Editor, Daily News.

It has just been brought to my attention that there is being persistently circulated among the electors a statement that I am in favor of the taxation of improvements. Nothing could be further from the truth. I have publicly warned the electors that nothing would sooner bring about this condition than the continual exemption of valuable property from taxation and extravagance in administration of the city's affairs. We have industries which have paid little or no dividends up to the present which are a great asset to the city. To impose improvement taxes on such properties might be the means of driving them out.

I hope the electors will not be misled by any such statements as those being circulated and that they will realize the true financial situation of the city. If we are not careful we shall have a staggering tax rate, no matter what mayor or council is elected.

HUNDREDS OF DOGS SUCCUMB TO MALADY OF CURIOUS NATURE

VICTORIA, Jan. 5.—Hundreds of dogs throughout the West, including scores in Victoria, have been victims in the last twelve months of a disease which appears to have made rapid inroads among almost every breed of dog.

In many cases owners have felt it incumbent to have their pets destroyed. In many cases the dogs have died despite careful attention. There has so far appeared nothing of a dangerous character to warrant the animal's destruction, and no case has been reported of the "patient" indulging in savage methods—as would be in the case of rabies. Unless the dog is too old to fight off his infirmity there is no actual need to invoke the humane assistance of the lethal chamber.

Inquiries made from such well-known veterinary surgeons as Dr. Hamilton and Dr. H. Keown, elicit interesting details of the trouble. Chief of Police John Fry has fully acquainted himself with known facts, and is now awaiting the result of examination and analysis of the head of a dog sent over to Vancouver for the purpose of studying the mysterious malady, and the discovery of a serum for counteraction or prevention.

According to the veterinary surgeons there is little variation in the manner of attack and progression of the disease. The first symptoms appear to be a nervous collapse with a tendency to drag the hind quarters. The dog will appear to be in a "doped" condition for a short spell, after which he will bark and run round and round, oblivious to any object in his way. He will then relapse into a quiet attitude and seek consolation from his master or mistress. In some of these cases he foams at the mouth, giving the impression that he is in a fit of hydrophobia. When these symptoms appear there is little danger of being bitten, unless the dog is naturally of a savage type, according to dog experts.

When a dog shows any signs of illness it should be treated with the old familiar castor oil and according to Dr. Hamilton fed upon vitaminous food only. When this does not succeed he should be taken to a veterinary.

COUGHS AND COLDS DREADED BY MOTHERS

What a weight of responsibility rests on the mother of the family during the cold weather season. In every cough and cold she seems to hear the warning of serious developments. She dreads croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption and realizes that these are the natural results of neglected colds.

But Dr. Chase has provided a prompt relief for coughs and colds and a preventive of more serious ailments of throat and lungs, in his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. This medicine is so well-known that only a reminder is necessary to most people to recall its effectiveness in relieving croup, bronchitis, asthma and all forms of throat and bronchial troubles.

RUSSIA EXPELLING EXTREME MEMBERS COMMUNIST PARTY

(Victoria Times)

Some time ago Christian Rakovsky was expelled from the Communist Party of Russia. He had been Soviet Ambassador to France; but was recalled because he had combined that position with odd jobs in behalf of the cause of world revolution. Now the Central Committee of the Communist Party has relieved him of his duties as assistant commissar of foreign affairs as well as from the chairmanship of the Soviet delegation for negotiations with France. In other words, Rakovsky will be able to keep Trotzky and Zinovieff company, and help them to stir up opposition to Stalin and the more moderate wing of the party.

These continual expulsions of prominent members of the inner circle of the Communist Party are interesting if only for the reason that they represent the growth of the new outlook on the part of the majority in control. They are still more significant in their reflection of the authority which Stalin now is able to wield. No doubt Trotzky still has many influential friends in the party and a fair amount of friendship in the army; but there are no indications so far that he can muster anything like sufficient opposition to the policies of Stalin to restore his influence. In getting rid of the extremists, the men who still dream of and plot for world revolution, the Central Executive Committee at least is doing its best to convince the rest of the world that Russia is preparing to return to the international fold. Of course it will take some time; but the process obviously is going on and in this the world is intensely interested. Russia's harmonious co-operation in European affairs would be a great factor for peace.

FREE UNITED STATES FROM LYNCHING AND ALL MOB VIOLENCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Church people have been summoned by the Federal Council of Churches to penitence and prayer on February 12 to free the nation from lynching and mob violence.

The summons which fixed that date for the observance of Race Relations Sunday was issued through the council's Commission of Race Relations, of which Dr. George E. Haynes is secretary. Need for the call had been stressed by the Commission on Interracial Cooperation.

"Lynching is a crime which leaves its stain upon us all," the call declares.

CLARENCE DARROW WOULD ELIMINATE CRIME OF WORLD

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Ninety per cent of the world's crime could be eliminated in a single generation if society cared enough about finding out how to do it, Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer of Chicago, believes.

"Man's destiny," Mr. Darrow told the New York Rotary Club in an address "is controlled by accident and circumstance alone. Environment and circumstance send men to prisons and criminals drift into crime as naturally as others drift into professions. Every child should be taught a way to make a living. Such a course would accomplish more than ever can be done by seeking to terrorize the community into virtue."

SEEDLESS LEMON IS LATEST THING IN FRUIT DEVELOPMENT

OROVILLE, Cal., Jan. 5.—O. W. Baker of Pentz, Cal., is the originator of a seedless lemon. At the Orange and Olive exposition here he exhibited his fruit and explained the development of it.

"Several years ago I budded sweet seeding orange trees with a navel orange and an Eureka lemon. The fruit was navel oranges and lemons. I noticed the lemons were seedless and pruned the tree down to the lemon branches. The fruit has since been of good quality and seedless."

Baker also has in his orchard a seedless orange tree which bears navels, seedless lemons, limes and grapefruits.

SUGGESTS CHRISTMAS ALWAYS ON SUNDAY

Bishop Sweeney is Forwarding Recommendation to League of Nations

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—The suggestion that Christmas should be fixed for a Sunday every year is being forwarded to the League of Nations by Bishop Sweeney. The proposal is supported by the Commercial Travellers' Association.

Bishop Sweeney pointed out that the adoption of the proposal would insure a day for essentially religious observance and the Monday following would be devoted to festive celebrations.

D. Cavalier will sail tomorrow morning on the Prince Rupert for Seattle.
