Large Gathering of Ratepayers Out Last Night to Listen to Address By Commissioner Alder

Talks Finances

Business and Industrial Activity Would Prove Solution of Difficulties—Co-operation Tendered

"I believe there are plenty of opportunities by which Prince Rupert may increase its business and industrial activity, the result of embracing which will result in our municipal financial problems vanishing into thin air" declared City Commissioner W. J. Alder last night in addressing a large body of taxpayers at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association in the city council chamber. "But we are failing to a large extent now in availing ourselves of those opportunities. I have as much confidence in Prince Rupert today as I ever had and it is because I believe that I may be of some assistance in putting the city on the map in a business and industrial way that I accepted the position of city commissioner. Let me assure you that I have not come here just for the purpose of scaling down maintenance costs and cutting salaries."

Mr. Alder appealed to the ratepayers for their assistance and co-operation in his endeavors to improve conditions generally here and, after his address, was tendered a resolution, on motion of G H. Arnold and F. W. Hart, pledging the support and co-operation of the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association in the execution of his duties of re-establishing the city's financial position.

Financial Position

Mr. Alder opened his address with a brief statement of the city's present financial position. On May 1, he revealed, the city owed on general account for salaries, social services, etc. some $40,000, in interest $50,325.34 and on principal $86,606.38. As it was not expected to be able to collect enough revenue to meet principal, it was hoped to refinance this over a period of twenty years. Letters were already being sent out to bondholders seeking their co-operation to this end. The tax levy this year was expected to cover all expenditures except principal.

In order to carry on the city' financial affairs, Mr. Alder stated that it was his plan to reduce expenses to the lowest possible level without working undue hardship upon those who were in the service of the city. He made it clear that it was not his intention to neglect the maintenance of roads, buildings, schools and such civic functions which must be maintained. Roads must be kept in repair and school services could not be disrupted, he declared.

Improvement Already

M. Alder declared that already there seemed to be an improvement

The Importance of the Ordinary

(By Rev. C. D. Clarke, First United Church)

The latter part of the parable of Dives and Lazarus teaches a lesson on the importance of the ordinary, that The Law and the Prophets, the ordinary means of grace, are sufficient for life. When Dives ran himself into difficulty by living an unbrotherly life he was concerned that his brothers should not follow him and he asked that they be warned by an extraordinary method, that one should be sent from the dead to warn them. He was told that they had the Law and the Prophets, the Bible of the day. He scoffed at the idea of his brothers reading such an ordinary thing as the Scriptures to find the way of the brotherly life.

No book is so widely circulated as is the Bible. It will be found in almost all homes. Most people have some knowledge of it, even if only what was gained in Sunday School. But how much is the Book read today? When we want light on the problems of life we read almost anything we can get our hands on except the Bible. It is too ordinary, we want the word of the scientist, the psychologist, the economist, the statesman or the industrialist. And how we do like to quote the great as our authority. It is well to have as good a knowledge as one can get of the modern writers and their different subjects but, when it comes to the business of living, the Bible is unsurpassed. In fact, Jesus, in the parable, bears testimony that there is sufficient in the Old Testament to provide nourishment that will build up the best life. For instance, the Law gives us the two great commandments: "Thou shalt love God with your whole being and your neighbor as yourself," and the Prophets sound the high note: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God." Moreover, the Old Testament contains the records of people, individuals and nations who experimented with the many ways of life and who wrote down their findings. And in the business of living with all our experiments we have not discovered anything new. It is all written in the Book—read and live.

Besides the Old Testament we have the New Testament, the record of One who blazed the trail in the highest way of living, the Spiritual. There we find the Life, the Truth, the Way. Let us read and live. Let us turn to the ordinary, the commonest Book in all the world that we might find nourishment, strength, faith, hope for days such as these.

William J. Garrett, manager of Atlin Inn summer resort, was a passenger aboard the Princess Norah this morning going through to Atlin for the season after spending the winter in Vancouver.

Joseph Clifton, well known Mayo merchant, and Mrs. Clifton, who have been on a trip outside, were among passengers returning north aboard the steamer Princess Norah which was in port this morning.

The Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association, at its meeting last night, passed for payment an account of $22.70 from Williams, Manson, Brown & Harvey in connection with steps which the executive of the Association took during the winter with a view to applying to the courts for the appointment of a commissioner for the city. The Association later dropped the proceedings after being advised that the bondholders had decided to take steps along the same line. As there was not enough money in the treasury to meet the account, the President appealed to all members to pay up their dues at once, a number of those present at the meeting responding by stepping forward to pay.

from the depression. Within a couple of years, he believed everybody would be feeling better. Meantime it was necessary for everyone to pull together and try to create industries and bring business to the city. He referred to the importance of small industries being started and the possibility of more goods being produced for local consumption. He mentioned the possibilities, among other things, of a small flour mill being established and also flowers being grown here which were now sent south for. He had already taken steps, Mr. Alder said, to see what could be done about the elevator and he was hopeful of the local house being operated more extensively this fall.

The commissioner referred to the natural resources of the district along lines in which he had already spoken. He again stressed the importance of people buying their goods at home and the necessity of local merchants selling at as low prices as possible. The prosperity of city generally was dependent upon the well being of the business community.

General Discussion

During a general discussion that followed Mr. Alder's address, T. Ross MacKay urged support of the Mount Oldfield trail project as a tourist attraction and also suggested that a trail be built from the highway to Butze Rapids.

Ex-Mayor M. M. Stephens felt confident that the commissioner was on the right track towards putting the city back on an even keel and he urged general support of the citizens for his efforts. This port was now well equipped for industrial expansion and world traffic.

Other speakers heard during the evening included Fred Riffou, N. Mussallem, A. J. Prudhomme, H. B. Rochester and G. B. Casey all of whom spoke along cheerful lines for the future.

A bewery and shingle mill were among the industrial possibilities which were mentioned while the advisability of a broadcasting station being established was also mentioned.

Fred Wesch, president of the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association, was in the chair.

SPORT CHAT

With the local baseball season due to open a week from Monday, when Sons of Canada, present holders of the Orme Cup, emblematic of city championship, and Elks hook up in the first of a nine game series for the trophy, tomorrow morning should see both teams working out at Acropolis Hill. Elks, who had planned on loosening up their arms last evening but were stopped by the rain, are requested to be on hand at 11 o'clock for a work-out.

As there are but two teams entered in the local senior league this year, there should be some high class ball dished up to the fans. Sons of Canada have practically the same line-up as they had last year with the addition of George Arseneau and Dido Curvich, the latter taking Bob Stalker's place who is out of the game with a sore knee, while the former is expected to fill McNulty's place who has left the city. Stan Moran, their manager, is confident that he can lift the cup again this year which would make it three years straight for the Canucks.

Elks, under their new skipper, Harry Kennedy, will field a likely looking team and one that will take some beating. Alex Mitchell will do the catching with Nick Chenoski on the pitcher's mound with Ray Commons as his relief. Jim Douglas will cover the initial sack and Art Barry is expected to play second. Jack Nelson, heavy hitting player who can fill almost any position on the diamond, will be seen at short with the old reliable, Vic Menzies, covering third. Doug. Stalker and Howard Hibbard, slugging outfielders, will fill two of the garden spots while Fong, Eckert, Antonelli and Raabe will try out for the third position.

FOOTBALL EXECUTIVE

Series to Be Arranged With M.M.S. Dragon—Dominion Day to Be Celebrated

At a meeting of the executive of the Prince Rupert Football Association last evening, President Bert Morgan in the chair, it was decided to arrange a series of games with H. M. S. Dragon during the visit of the British light cruiser here in August. Details of the series will be announced after the ship has been communicated with.

It was also decided to approach the Prince Rupert Baseball Association, the Prince Rupert Boys' Band and the Sons of Canada with a view to arranging a Dominion Day celebration on July 1 along lines similar to last year including a full program of sports and races. Of course, the Dominion Day Cup football final will again be one of the features of the day. The Dominion Day preliminary three-game series will be commenced on June 20.

The Stuart Shield football competition, a six-game series, will be started upon immediately after the Gilhuly Cup ownership for the year, which competition is now in progress, is settled. It was decided to hold the game which was postponed from this Thursday night between Canadian Labor Defence League and Canadian Legion tomorrow.

The meeting discussed the advisability of changing from Tuesday to Monday evenings for the holding of football fixtures providing the Baseball Association is agreeable to taking Friday night for its weekly fixture. There will be no change from Thursday night football.

The necessity of having repairs made to the grandstand was taken up and will be discussed further with the city engineer.

Board of Control

Prior to the meeting of the football executive, the board of control was in session to deal with the incident in Tuesday night's game when Hill and Gilker were ordered from the field in the Regiment-Canadian Legion game. Both players were ordered suspended for two games.

Princess Adelaide Loses Softball Game by 21 to 6 Score

Despite weather conditions softball was in full swing last night at the Canadian National Recreation Association grounds when MacLean's Wildcats of the steamer Prince Rupert came back at the Princess Adelaide and administered a 21 to 6 trouncing. The Canadian Pacific boys are anxious to know where MacLean imported his pitcher from. This boy, Rivett, hurling for the Prince Rupert, certainly knew his softball and seemed able to put the ball anywhere he wanted. The Adelaide boys must have thought they were on a rough sea when they swung at it.

There was only one knockdown during the game and Skipper Norman MacLean took that on the optic for the count of three. Wilson, for the Rupert, was the star batter getting a home run and three two-baggers out of five times to bat. The Aedlaide's first baseman took everything that was offered. If some of the pitchers in the City League would care to get a few wrinkles on pitching come down next Friday and see how Mr. Rivett does it.

OPENS NEW PLANT HERE

Most Modern System For Cleaning Clothes Being Established In City

One of the most modern cleaning and dying plants in the country has been installed in the city by Even Evenson, formerly with the Pioneer Laundry and for the past twelve years engaged in the business. It is located in the building formerly occupied by Red's Transfer on Second Street.

The feature of the new plant is the Glover's continuous flow cleaning apparatus which makes it possible to do the highest grade of work at the lowest possible cost. It is the system used by all the large modern plants but is the first of its kind established north of Vancouver.

Mr. Evenson, in telling of his plans, says he has expended a good deal of money on this plant because he believes in the future of Prince Rupert and thinks the people here will appreciate having something better in that line than they have ever had in the past. He will open for business Monday and he expects to make his new enterprise pay. He suggests that from now on there will be no reason for sending work out of town because he can compete on very favorable terms with any plant in Canada. Mrs. Evenson who is also experienced in the work will assist.

The proprietor of the plant will be glad to meet prospective customers and handle their cleaning business on and after Monday next. Phone 358 and articles will be called for and delivered on completion.

ECONOMIZE...
with Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for every milk and cream use

Every year sees an increasing number of women using Nestlé's Evaporated Milk. These women have learned to their own satisfaction that their threefold question as to when, how and for what Nestlé's Evaporated Milk may be used, can be answered with one safe, simple and economical rule—"For every milk and cream use".

For Nestlé's Evaporated Milk can indeed be used wherever milk or cream is required, with amazingly satisfactory and economical results.

Diluted with an equal quantity of water, this pure, concentrated, doubly rich cow's milk is used in the same way as the original milk. If extra "creaminess" is desired, the milk can be left in the rich form in which it comes from the tin.

In cakes and pies, soups and sauces, you will find Nestlé's Evaporated Milk not only an economy but an actual improvement. There is a finer texture to cakes and pie-crust and a smoother, rich creaminess to soups and sauces when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is included. You'll even notice an added richness in the coloring.

If you want sour milk, for a special dessert or dressing, you simply add a tablespoon of vinegar to the diluted milk; for sour "cream", you do the same, leaving the milk undiluted.

And last, but certainly not least, this amazing milk will whip! Below we give instructions for whipping Nestlé's Evaporated Milk.

"Nestlé's Milk has taught me the secret of inexpensive, successful cooking. I use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk in preference to any other brand, in all my recipes that call for milk. I certainly find it invaluable as a money and time saver."

Whipping Nestlé's Evaporated Milk

The Nestlé's Evaporated Milk must be well chilled (below 50°F.) but should not be diluted. If it is scalded before it is chilled, it whips more readily and is somewhat stiffer.

TO SCALD Nestlé's Evaporated Milk, several cans may be prepared at once, by covering them with cold water, bringing to a boil and boiling for 5 minutes.

CHILLING Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is quickly brought about by pouring it into a freezing tray in your electric refrigerator and leaving for about five minutes. If not convenient to use a freezing tray, to chill the milk, pour it into a bowl surrounded by chipped ice and salt. Whip the milk rapidly. It will not "turn to butter" no matter how long or how many times it is whipped. Nestlé's Evaporated Milk, when whipped, increases in volume about three times.

Lots of Halibut Still Left For Fishermen This Year —Several Boats on Dry Dock—Dunc Kennedy Takes a Bath

According to official figures of the International Fisheries Commission, a total of 12,406,084 pounds of halibut had been taken up to the end of April this year from the two principal halibut fishing areas of the Pacific Coast for which the total quota allowance for 1933 is 46,000,000 pounds. This year up to the end of April, the Commission announces, 7,146,722 pounds had been taken from Area 2 for which the year's quota allowance is 21,700,000 pounds while Area 3 had been fished to the extent of 5,249,362 pounds out of a quota allowance of 24,300,000 pounds. Fishing, it may be observed from these figures, has been much more intensive so far this year in the nearer Area 2 than in the further Area 3. These figures are inclusive both of American and Canadian fish.

The following peliminary figures covering hailbut production in the two areas month by month are given by the Commission as well as the final totals for the same three months in 1932 for comparison:

	Area 2 Pounds	Area Pounds	Totals Pounds
1933 Prelimirary
Feb.	2,005,110	1,843,003	3,848,113

Piloted by Flight Sergeant M. Costello of Vancouver, one of the two Fairchild seaplanes of the Royal Canadian Air Force, which are engaged in aerial mapping and photography work on the Queen Charlotte Islands, arrived here about 10:30 Tuesday morning of this week from the Islands with Gordon H. Joliffe of Queen Charlotte City on board as a passenger. The plane, with its passenger, left at 11 o'clock Thursday morning on tis return to Queen Charlotte City.

Halibut landing at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1933 season up to and including yesterday totalled 5,990,600 pounds as compared with 4,389,050 pounds at a similar date last year. Landings of American vessels this year had reached a total of 2,830,500 pounds as against 2,621,800 pounds in 1932 while Canadian landings stood at 2,160,100 pounds in comparison with last year's 1,767,250 pounds at a corresponding date.

For the week of May 20-26 inclusive landings amounted to 369,200 pounds of which 224,200 pounds had been brought in by American vessels and 145,000 pounds by Canadian. The high price of the week was 6.9c. and 4c. paid the American boats Addington and Alki for catches of 9,000 in each case while the low price for American fish was 5c. and 3c. which the Arrow received for 25,000 pounds. For Canadian halibut the high bid of the week was 5.4c. and 3c. which the Capt Spencer received for 17,000 pounds, the low and prevailing price for Canadian fish being 5c. and 3c.

Whenever any one around this man's port has the questionable distinction of falling accidentally into the harbor and getting "all wet," it is the signal for the opening of another "razzberry" season. Dunc Kennedy, popular carpenter of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., is the latest to find this out for great was the mirth among his confreres on Thursday of this week after he had taken the plunge which assured him of a place in the waterfront's "Hall of Fame." It appears that Dunc was working from a scaffolding making repairs underneath one of the company wharves when said scaffolding gave way and down went Dunc like the proverbial Humpty Dumpty although it is not recorded that all the king's horses were needed to pick him up again in addition to the number of men. In any case, they soon got Dunc onto dry land again little the worse for his immersion. Some one, however, was heard to be so unkind as to wonder, in view of the fact that it took him so long to change, if the famous skipper of the Muskeeters' cribbage team really only had one suit of underwear and had to go to bed while that was being dried out. Despite the joshing that Dunc received from his many friends, he is still in the best of health and spirits.

The Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s fish packers Chief Zibassa and Grier Starrett and the halibut boat Tahoma were all taken up on the pontoons at the local dry dock on Thursday of this week for cleaning and painting.

It is understood that the fishermen's community on Digby Island, which has been steadily expanding during the past year or so, has now taken on such proportions as to have made application for the establishment of a public school for its children who now have to make the trip into town daily to receive their education. The necessary application is being forwarded to the authorities, it is reported, and the school is expected to be opened after the summer vacation.

The Letter Box

A PATROL PROTEST

Editor, Daily News:

Being present at Digby Island during the inspection of those boats that submitted their tenders for charter to the Department of Fisheries for patrol service during the coming season, I noticed the boat belonging to the president of the local Conservative Association there also for inspection, no doubt with the thought of putting it on the service.

This, to my way of thinking, should never have been done, and should have been withdrawn in favor of those that are trying to make a living out of their boats, and not drawing down a sure salary, every month, of $250 or so.

Yours for fair play,
Oona River, B.C. H.L.M.

CONCERT AT PT. SIMPSON

Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society Visits Neighboring Village and Gets Good Reception

The Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society's choral party visited the neighboring village of Port Simpson on Wednesday and presented that evening in the United Church there a selected program of miscellaneous numbers from the society's repertoire in its series of concerts in the city during the past winter. There was a large audience and the local singers were given a splendid reception. Sea chanties, of which a number were offered, seemed to be particularly popular. The Junior Symphony Orchestra assisted in the program.

The concert was staged under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Port Simpson General Hospital and for the benefit of that organization. Dr. A. E. Perry presided, the choir was conducted by H. N. Brocklesby and C. P. Balagno was accompanist.

Following the recital, there was a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Perry.

About sixty persons made the trip aboard the Salvage Princess, leaving here at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and returning at 2:30 the following morning.

William Bacon of the Bacon Fisheries returned to the city on the Princes Adelaide Friday from a business trip to Vancouver.
