PRINCE RUPERT AND THE PEACE

Clive Planta, member of the Legislature for Peace River, has been telling the Vancouver people that the outlet for the Peace River is to be on the west coast of British Columbia and not on the south coast. He says that the products of the Peace will be exported by way of Prince Rupert or Stewart.

We are glad to welcome a new champion for the ports of Prince Rupert and Stewart. We are inclined to think we also have the backing of the C. P. R. whose rich mines in the northern interior have to be given transportation facilities. At any rate the member for Peace River has set tongues wagging once more in regard to the prospects of an early connection with the Peace country and the making of a real port at Prince Rupert. The time for such a move has evidently almost arrived.

RECOVERY HAS COMMENCED

The budget speech of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance, at Ottawa yesterday is a clear indication that recovery has really commenced and that we are now on the road to a better condition. We are twenty million dollars nearer balancing the budget than we were a year ago. That is something but it is not sufficient to give hope of any reduction in taxation such as that which this week brought joy to the British taxpayer. We shall have to wait until next year before anything can be done in that direction and, in the meantime, there may be an election and no one can tell what may happen. There is always the possibility of a new minister of finance introducing the next budget. At any rate, conditions are improving and should improve, no matter who is at the helm.

SUGAR TAX OR GOLD TAX?

Despatches published in this paper yesterday announced that the sugar tax had been cut in half. That will mean a considerable lessening of taxation to the people of the country. When the tax was put on last year it came in for a great deal of criticism as being a high tax on poor people. We are glad that the government has recognized the situation and decided to at least reduce the tax from two cents to one cent.

Whether the tax on gold will prove any more popular than the tax on sugar seems doubtful. Gold production is one of the industries that is bringing back prosperity. A ten percent tax will prove very unpopular in all mining communities, especially in those places where mines are operated on a very small percentage of profit.

Premier Pattullo is proposing to encourage prospecting for gold and Premier Bennett immediately discourages it to the limit of his ability by taking away the incentive to gold mining with a heavy tax.

We do not wish to be critical of everything the federal government does. That government has had a difficult task and still has a difficult job on its hands. Taxes have to be raised and it would be a brave man that would begin to suggest where they should be levied. At the same time we regret that it has seemed necessary to strike a heavy blow at British Columbia's prmier industry in order to carry on the affairs of the country.

The sugar tax is a heavy tax on the wage earner. The gold tax is a heavy tax on an industry that provides a means of livelihood for the wage earner.

PIANIST IS TO BE HERE

Miss Ursula Malkin is Talented Instrumentalist Who Has Studied In Europe and England

Music takes the place of golf in Vienna. So states Miss Ursula Malkin, brilliant young British Columbia pianiste, who has just recently returned from a year and a half's study in Vienna, and who plays here in concert performance at First Presbyterian Church next Saturday evening.

Four business men who in this country would go out and play golf on a Saturday afternoon, will, in Vienna, Miss Malkin states, get together and play quartets.

"It's always waltz time in Vienna," says Miss Malkin, "or any other music time. To the Viennese music is golf, tennis, bridge and every other kind of pastime rolled into one. Even the street cleaners seem to be connoisseurs of the masters, and everyone from the lowest to the highest turns out to the many concerts, symphonies and operas performed nightly."

While in Vienna Miss Malkin studied the piano with the well known concert pianiste and teacher, Dr. Berta Jahn, and musical appreciation with Egon Wellesz, a modernist composer of note both on the Continent and in England.

Over a year's successful study on the part of this young B. C. artist was climaxed by a concert performance in Vienna given before a large and enthusiastic audience. Her playing was commented on as follows by a prominent reviewer in the Vienna Salonblatt: "Miss Malkin captivated the audience with her fluent bravura technic, showing a high musical intelligence, and serious artistic ambition."

Won Gold Medal

Miss Malkin's studies in Vienna were preceded by a long record of musical achievements in British Columbia. In 1928 she won the gold medal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music for securing the highest marks in Canada in the teachers and performers A. T. C. M. examinations. She was then a pupil of Mrs. Douglas Johnston, and later of Jan Cherniavsky.

This pianiste's unusual talents were first made known to the British Columbia public when she received an enthusiastic and spontaneous ovation at the first Vancouver symphony concert for her rendering of the Fourth Beethoven Concerto. During the symphony concert in December she again played under Allard de Ridder, conductor, taking the first piano in Bach's concerto for four pianos.

Miss Malkin's program here next Saturday evening will comprise Mozart's Sonata in D. Major, a Ballade by Edvard Greig, Debussy's "Reflections in the Water," three studies and two mazurkas of Chopin and Franz Liszt's "St. Francis Walking on the Water."

This last selection by Liszt is one of two legends set to music by this most famous of Hungarian composers. The music portrays the saint's performance of a miracle in walking over storm-ridden seas. The theme of the piece traces his struggle and triumph over the forces of nature.

Man in the Moon

Good afternoon. Have you done your spring shopping?

What a great and glorious feeling it is when the sun is shining and you are out in the country with nothing to do all day.

Prosperity is on the way back but we have not yet heard anyone remark: "Keep the change."

Now that we are not to be saved by silver, why not a little personal effort to build up Prince Rupert?

The budget indicates that Canada is several points removed from paying her way but her condition is steadily improving.

And my personal budget is comparatively worse than that of the finance minister.

If the Peace outlet moves to Stewart, Jake says he's going to move there too. He is tied up with the Peace.

Mr. Planta was a brave man to tell the Vancouver people they had only third claim to the Peace outlet.

Ladies' of Parish Give Affair at Which Sisters of St. Joseph Meet Mothers of Pupils

In observance of St. Joseph's Day, ladies of the parish of the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation held a delightful tea and reception yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's convent in honor of the local Sisters who were thus afforded the occasion of meeting the mothers of the pupils of the day school as well as of the commercial, music and kindergarten classes. There were upwards of fifty ladies calling during the afternoon and the proceedings proved most enjoyable to all.

Mrs. J. Fred Ritchie was hostess for the afternoon. Mrs. B. Curtin and Mrs. W. H. Kinkade presided over the tea tables and the ladies assisting were Mrs. Hubert Ward, Mrs. R. E. Moore, Mrs. C. P. Balagno, Mrs. C. H. Hankinson, Mrs. J. L. Blain and Mrs. Arthur Murray.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with yellow daffodils.

A benediction at 5:30 p.m. brought the afternoon's proceedings to a close.

SPORT CHAT

The local football fraternity is beginning to bestir itself, what with all signs of spring in the air and softball and baseball already started, and prospects are for another interesting season in 1934 for the ancient and honorable soccer sport. There is believed to be plenty of talent on hand but the success of the season's activities will, undoubtedly, depend to large extent upon how it is organized. A meeting of the executive of the Prince Rupert Football Association is to be held tonight and the probability is that a general meeting of the association will be called for next week.

The Anyox Golf Club, at its recent annual meeting, elected officers for the year as follows: honorary president, Charles Bocking; honorary vice-president, W. R. Lindsay; president, H. R. Taylor; vice-president, A. W. Gigot; secretary-treasurer, D. McLeod; captain, R. O. Cutler; chairman of greens committee and vice-captain, D. T. Evans; executive, F. C. O. Edwards, J. T. Kirkwood, W. Henderson, Don Cavalier, J. Dixon and R. Lavery.

Despite the earliness of the season, Terrace anglers are already busy enjoying their line of sport in various parts of the district around the interior strawberry town. George Beveridge, popular manager of the Bank of Montreal at Terrace, was high man among the fishermen of that community on a recent Sunday when he took nine fish at Copper River.

TALK ON TRAVELS

R. G. Van der Sluys Interesting Speaker Before Parent-Teachers

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association was held last evening in the Borden Street School. The president, Mrs. D. C. Stuart, presided over a good attendance of members.

To help the schools carry on their program of organized sports a grant of $20 was made to each of the large schools—Borden Street, Booth Memorial, and King Edward High School—and a grant of $10 was made to the Seal Cove School. It was decided to hold a tea on Friday, June 8, at the home of Mrs. S. V. Cox.

Following the business meeting, R. G. Van der Sluys, in the course of an address, entitled "Here, Here and Everywhere," gave an informative and intensely interesting talk describing his travels and adventures in many different parts of the world.

The natural scenery and the primitive happy life of the natives of the Polynesian and Melanesian groups of the South Seas were very interestingly described and contrasted with the Hawaiian Islands much to the detriment of the latter. The popularity of the Hawaiian Islands, the speaker said, was due to the extensive advertising campaign carried on in San Francisco and other parts of the United States. The Fiji Islands had much more natural beauty than Hawaii, and had larger and better beaches but were not so advertised by Australia.

A very interesting island of the Fiji group was Viti Levu where the Columbia Sugar Refinery Company of Australia had erected the largest sugar refining plant in the world. Shark fishing in the island seas and off the west coast of Australia was described. The many uses made of the shark and the skilled work of the natives of the islands in fashioning many beautiful and exquisite things from the shells of turtles all proved to be most interesting.

New Zealand, with its mountain scenery, thermos springs and beautiful cities, was next visited.

The great ranches of Australia—one of which had an acreage equal to the area of England—Sydney with its beautiful harbor and lovely beaches—were vividly portrayed. Melbourne and Perth were next described.

From Perth the speaker went on to Ceylon, passing the Cocos Islands where the German cruiser Emden was sunk. Colombo and Kandy were two very interesting cities in Ceylon. At the latter city was the famous Temple of the Tooth of Buddha. Life and labor on the tea plantations was vividly pictured and much information regarding the picking and selecting of the various grades of tea was given.

Life in Bombay and Calcutta with its diversity of wealth and abject poverty was also described before leaving India to travel on to Cairo and the pyramids of Egypt. On the way interesting accounts were given of Sokotra, Aden, Perim and Jaffa.

Mecca, sacred to Mohammedans, was next visited. Here the speaker told of the pilgrimages made by devout Mohammedans who journeyed to Jaffa and walked miles inland to Mecca to holy shrine sacred to Mo and win virtue.

Visiting the famous and describing their con an interesting conjecture they were built was given.

Passing through the Su the audience in imagina ted in turn Alexandria, Gibraltar.

The last stage of the was across the Atlantic O Bermuda and thence to ward and Leeward Islan bados, St. Christopher, Tobago, and Trinidad we bed. In Trinidad was the lake of pitch which for ma had supplied the pitch England's streets. Its seems never to decrease.

Passing through the Pa nal the speaker explained struction and described and locks.

Tells of Shipwre

A most interesting which was often interspe humorous narratives, with an account of Mr. Sluys' experiences on the gos Islands where he and of his boat were shipwre

Mr. Van der Sluys pro some future date to des travels on the Continent and also to give an accou work and travels of a expedition of 300 days in zon Valley.

During the evening J. accompanied by Mrs. J. sang two vocal solos, and drey Parkin delighted the with her rendering of solos. The meeting closed singing of the National after which refreshments ved and a splendid social joyed.
