FIVE DONE TO DEATH IN ALBERTA

Cost of Highway to Connect Prince Rupert With Interior Over Four Million Dollars

Might be Completed in Three Years With Each Government Putting Up Three-Quarters of Million Each Year

The only possibility of constructing a highway connecting Prince Rupert with the rest of the world would be to do it in a big way, let three or four big contracts and have the work all finished in, say, three years, This would cost the provincial and Dominion governments approximately four and a half million dollars between them including not only the road to Terrace but 35 miles from Usk to Cedarvale and the rebuilding of the present road from Cedarvale to Hazelton and the construction of a ferry to cross the Skeena at or about Skeena City.

The highway would go south of Prudhomme Lake over an easy divide of about five hundred feet to the head of Warke Canal, then following a natural easy route between the mountains to Skeena City.

The river is a mile and a half wide at that point so a power ferry similar to that on Francois Lake would be necessary to take passengers and cars to and fro. The highway would then follow the south bank of the Skeena River to Remo where it would connect up with the Terrace highway system, a distance of approximately eighty miles from Taylor Lake, to which point the road will have been completed this winter.

There is possibility of an alternate route from the nighborhood of the Hot Springs on the south bank of the Skeena, following the Scotia River over a divide to the headwaters of the Wedeene River to join with the Kitimat River only a few miles up from Kitimat and then following that valley through to Lakelse. This route is long but it might prove to be easier to build than the other end and it would open up new country. It would be investigated thoroughly before any highway route was finally decided upon. In any event the difference in cost would be very slight.

Only Feasible Route

Both air and land investigation shows that there is no feasible route through the mountains between the Skeena and Naas Rivers and no feasible route for a highway connecting Prince Rupert with the Naas. It may be possible to get through as far as the Khutzamateen River but that would be of little value. Beyond that is a barrier of high mountains.

The proposed route for the highway would open up very little valuable land unless it should take the route through the Kitimat Valley. It would, however, give access to a number of lakes including Rainbow Lake or, if it went up the Skeena, would open to settlement a few small areas that might develop into dairy farms.

The section of the highway beyond Terrace would open up some valuable farming country through Cedarvale, Woodcock and other places and would be part of a highway which will undoubtedly be built soon for the convenience of settlers and miners in those sections.

There are several valleys which, explored from the westerly entrance, look as if they might provide a pass to the Kitsumkalum but these get gradually higher until they reach a height of between five and six thousand feet which is too high to be feasible for highway purposes. This country has been carefully explored from the air and land and it is proved beyond shadow of doubt, the engineers say, that there is no route

CHALLENGE BY KENNEY

Skeena Member Defies Vancouver Representative to Prove City Pays 75% of B.C. Taxation

VICTORIA, Nov. 16: (CP)—E. T. Kenney, member for Skeena, in the Legislature Friday, challenged S. S. McKeen, member for Vancouver-Point Grey, to prove the assertion by the latter that 75% of all the taxes in British Columbia was derived from Vancouver.

They may have been collected in Vancouver on fishery licences and timber leases of the interior, Mr. Kenney said.

"Some Vancouver members believe they should take all and give nothing," the Skeena member said

FEES ARE INCREASED

City Commissioner Boosting Basic Rate and Imposing Classifications as Well

The basic rate of trades licence fees in Prince Rupert is raised from $10 each six months to $15 under a new consolidation of the City Licence Bylaw, involving certain amendments, which was given introductory readings this morning when City Commissioner W. J. Alder was in session in his capacity as a city council. In addition, it is provided that, for each additional line of trade classification over and above the principal one, there shall be a further licence fee of $5. The total licence, however, shall not exceed $25. The object of the bylaw is to obtain additional civic revenue from the source of licences.

The theatre licence fee is also raised. For theatres of from 500 to 900 seating capacity, ths includng the Capitol Theatre, the new six-month licence fee shall be $87.50 instead of $50. Larger theatres shall pay $250 and smaller $50.

Otherwise, the scale of licence fees is largely unchanged. The new bylaw sets out the new classifications of trades to determine those on which the additional fees shall be charged.

The business interests of the city were represented at the meeting by C. G. Minns, W. F. Stone and D. G. Borland. No comment on the new bylaw was made or invited.

Final reconsideration and adoption of the bylaw is set for Wednesday morning.

Navy Personnel Will Increase

OTTAWA, Nov. 16: (CP)—There will be an increase in the personnel of Canada's Navy, although not a large one, as a result of the purchase of two new destroyers from Great Britain to replace the Champlain and Vancouver, it is announced by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence.

Capt. Mackenzie did not disclose how much the destroyers were costing. New they would cost about $1,500,000 each to build but those being purchased are five years old.

KEEP HOLD ON MADRID

Loyalist Defenders Claim Further Victories Both in Air And On Land

Fierce Fighting

Reports Conflict But Rebels Appear To Be Gaining Upper Hand

MADRID, Nov. 16: CP)—Two more rebel fighting planes were reported brought down by the loyalists in another aerial encounter over Madrid just before dusk Saturday night. The insurgent planes were engaged in another of their raids as a result of which 150 persons were said to be killed with many injured.

The loyalists also claimed another military victory over the insurgents near the capital, driving them back another three miles. This was denied by the rebels.

Violent fighting for control of the crossing of Manzanares River and Frenchman's Bridge raged today as insurgent troops struggled to gain a foothold in the University city which itself was under heaviest fire. The main battle however, lay between insurgents on the other side of the Manzanares and government militia on the Madrid bank. The civilian population of the University city was evacuated.

Unconfirmed reports from the Fascist camp outside the capital said that the insurgents had reached the Paseo de Rosales in Madrid. These sources said the rebels were about to capture the north station which was under heavy shell fire yesterday.

The capture of Madrid is by no means proving as easy a matter as the rebels had expected. Reports continue to conflict as to the trend of battle which, however, appears to favor the rebels.

Violent Session French Chamber

Fisticuffs and Invectives Exchanged Between Leftists And Rightists

PARIS, Nov. 16: (CP)—Swinging fists of leftist and rightist deputies stopped a stormy session of the Chamber of Deputies for a while on Friday. The trouble began during debate over the war record of Interior Minister Salengro. Opposing deputies screamed invectives at each other and, when Premier Leon Blum, mounted the tribune, leftists rushed from their benches and swarmed over rightists. The session was temporarily suspended as books were hurled and fists used by the members and it became necessary to adjourn.

Later the Chamber was called together again and a vote of confidence in the Blum government was passed.

PASSING OF HOTEL MAN

John O'Brien, Manager of Jasper Park Lodge Succumbs To Heart Attack

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16:—One of the best known hotel men on the continent passed away early Sunday morning in the person of John O'Brien, manager of Jasper Park Lodge, the Canadian National Railways' summer resort in the heart of the Rockies. According to word received by railway officials here death followed a sudden heart attack in the manager's quarters at the lodge.

It has been given to few men to view the parade of life so intimately as did John O'Brien. Before the advent of the Chateau Laurier into the political and social scene at the nation's capital he was for 24 years with the famed old Russell House and played the role of host to the nation's great and near-great before the turn of the century.

Twenty-one years ago he came west and from then on never left it. For six years he was manager of the first Harrison Hot Springs Hotel in British Columbia and then joined the Canadian National Railways hotel system as assistant manager at the Fort Garry Hotel in Winnipeg where he spent two years.

Jasper Park Lodge in the mountain-rimmed Athabaska Valley was emerging from a tented village then and the railway sent John O'Brien to build it up to its position of eminence today as the most unique summer resort in the world. In his 14 years as manager of the Lodge he made countless friends in every quarter of the globe. Among his souvenirs were many gifts bearing the arms of vice-royalty. His guests have numbered the great in every sphere of life.

Had Many Friends

His passing will be mourned most by a generation of students graduates and undergraduates of universities from coast to coast. Much of the temporary staff at the Lodge was recruited from student ranks and to them John O'Brien was more than an employer. Childless himself, he was a father in no ordinary sense to the young men and women who came to him each year from some of Canada's finest homes. His wholesome influence on the lives of these young people won him the highest regard from a generation of parents.

It was Mr. O'Brien's custom to spend Christmas in Vancouver where he was well acquainted, particularly in the ranks of golfers who attend the annual fall tournament at Jasper. W. G. Connolly city passenger agent for the C.N.R. here, was a close friend and Mrs Connolly left for Jasper last night to accompany Mrs. O'Brien to Ottawa where the funeral will be held next Friday.

Surviving besides Mrs. O'Brien are his mother and sister, Mrs. W. Smith, both residing in Ottawa.

The police say that three others, approaching the scene of the slayings, were fired at but escaped injury.

NO CHANGE IN STRIKE

Mayors Planning to Take Action—Food Shortage in Hawaii And Alaska

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16:—There is no change in the Pacific Coast maritime workers' strike situation which since October 29 has completely tied up all shipping on the west coast of the United States. Both employers and union men Saturday night rejected the latest peace plan of Edward S. McGready, assistant secretary of labor. Mr. McGready was still hopeful, however, of a settlement being reached soon.

Mayors of San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland and other coast cities, seriously hit by the tie-up, are planning an immediate conference in Washington to see if some plan of settling the trouble cannot be devised. Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco left by plane yesterday for the national capital and the others are expected to leave at once.

As a result of the tie-up of ships, the food shortage in Hawaii and Alaska is reported to be getting acute and is beginning to cause real alarm.

Tourists numbering several hundred who have been stranded at Honolulu when ships failed to move are seeking to have at least one vessel released so they may return to the United States.

TRUCE FOR LABORITES

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 16:—At the opening of the convention of the American Federation of Labor here, President William Green expressed hope that an agreement might be reached with insurgent unions led by John L. Lewis. In any case, these insurgent unions are not expected to be expelled from the American Federation at this convention.

The convention decided to demand perpetuation of the Works Progress Administration.

Building The Highway

Every person in the Prince Rupert district should read the article on the front page of this paper today on the cost of the highway and the difficulties of construction and location. It is a matter that is vital to the city and also to the people of Terrace and other interior points. It also has a national significance that should not be overlooked.

At first glance the cost of the proposed undertaking seems extremely heavy, but the writer of the article seems to have omitted mentioning that the work, if proceeded with, would provide employment for a thousand men for three years and would be a tremendous factor in solving the problem of providing employment for all the people.

The tourist value of the highway was not mentioned in the article. At a time when government money is being extended in advertising the attractions of the country, Prince Rupert has felt that she is not in a position to take advantage of industry as she should owing to the fact that she is not yet on the highway. The same may be said to some extent of the people of the interior for people who drive through that part of the country wish to come as far as Prince Rupert and find they are unable to do so. The steamships would benefit because hundreds of people would drive their cars to Prince Rupert and take them south on the boats. It is safe to estimate that thousands of people would drive to Prince Rupert if they were able to do so.

While the total cost of the undertaking looks very large when it is divided into a three-year program and again divided between the two governments the cost is not very large each year, not more than might be expected on a transcontinental project.

At the present rate of progress the highway will be still under construction when our children are old men and women. By making one brief effort the whole thing could be completed in three or four years and this part of the country would be really a part of British Columbia, something which does not seem to be the case today except when the tax collector sends out his notices.

It is possible that the highway might be completed for less than the amount stated in the article but it must be remembered that the country is rough and construction would be difficult and the lesson of the recent floods is that the lower levels must be avoided wherever possible.

Seemingly impossible undertakings have been carried out successfully when those behind them used brains and energy in promoting them and pushing them to fruition.

Presentation At Badminton Meet

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Greggor Are Honored Yesterday Afternoon

Sunday afternoon was the occasion of a pleasant party on the courts of the Canadian National Recreation Badminton Club when the presentation of a picture "Sunset in Prince Rupert Harbor" was made to Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Greggor, Mr. Greggor having recently received word of his transfer in the service of the forestry department to Vancouver district. The presentation was made by F. M. Davis, who made the statement that the gift was merely a token of the esteem in which the departing members were held. He wished them Bon Voyage. Mr. Greggor, in a fitting acknowledgment, assured the members that they would be welcome at his future home and that he would keep the picture on his wall in a prominent position in memory of his many pleasant associations in this city.

The afternoon was spent by rival teams, captained by F. M. Davis and Percy McIntosh, hustling the shuttle-cock back and forth over the net, the first mentioned winning the fixture by a narrow margin. Mrs. W. L. Stamford and Miss E. Rivett of the ladies' committee, with assistants Saw to the serving of refreshments.

Synopsis of Land Act

PRE-EMPTIONS

VACANT, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Full information concerning Pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C.; Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, or any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre east of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre west of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

Pre-emptions carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land, $2.50 per acre. Further information is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

As a partial relief measure, reverted lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under grazing regulations amended from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Priority in grazing privileges is given to resident stock owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

COST OF HIGHWAY TO CONNECT PRINCE RUPERT WITH INTERIOR OVER FOUR MILLION DOLLARS.

suitable for a highway through that way.

The cost of construction through most of the country over which te highway is proposed to be built would be approximately $35,000 a mile. That is said to be about what the road is costing at this end.

The question then arises how might this highway be constructed if the cost is to be $4,500,000. The two governments would have to collaborate on the work and spread it over a period of about three years, more or less. That would mean the expediture of $1,500,000 a year for three years, of which the federal government might put up $750,000 and the provincial, $750,000. It it was to be considered a military road the Dominion might stand two-thirds of the cost or $1,000,000 a year for three years and the province half a million a year for three years. These are possibilities. The cost is heavy but not at all prohibitive. What statesmen will have to consider is whether the cost of the work would be offset by the advantages to be gained by the districts served and by the country as a whole.

In Prince Rupert the people are very keenly in favor of the road as are also the residents of the interior. What will be necessary will be to show the authorities that the benefits will be so great as to justify the cost.

When it is considered that it was proposed by a former government to spend ten millions or more on a road to Alaska, the cost does not seem so great. The highway would have great military value to the United States in giving access to that territory by land. So it is claimed it would be of great value to the federal government of Canada to have the highway through to Prince Rupert, giving an alternate route to the coast of great stategic value.

There are at present 72 men employed on the highway at this end completing the work as far as Taylor Lake and, if the weather is good, this should be completed by the end of the year. No money is at present available for further construction at this end this year.

To Help Prevent Many Colds

Vicks Va-tro-nol is the scientific aid in preventing colds. Vick Chemists spent more than nine years and $250,000 in research, experiments, and tests before perfecting this exclusive Vicks formula.

Va-tro-nol is specially designed for the nose and upper throat, where 3 out of 4 colds start. The moment you apply it—a few drops up each nostril—Va-tro-nol spreads swiftly through this trouble zone, aiding and gently stimulating Nature's defenses.

Used at that first sneeze, sniffle or any sign of nasal irritation—Nature's usual warning that a cold threatens—Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds, and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

And when neglected irritation has led to a stuffedup nose or a miserable head-cold, Va-tro-nol brings comforting relief. It reduces swollen membranes, clears clogging mucus, makes every breath clear and cool again.

You'll find Va-tro-nol wonderfully easy and pleasant to use at home or at work.

To Help End a Cold Quicker

When a cold strikes without warning or gets by even the best precautions—as some colds always will—Vicks VapoRub helps end it quicker.

You simply massage VapoRub on the throat, chest, and back for three minutes. Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once: (1) It acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster; (2) Its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages.

This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irirtation, helps break congestion. While the patient relaxes into comfortable sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Cough Drops Free, Too

For the throat that is dry and harsh, or irritated by coughing, Vicks Medicated Cough Drops—throat - soothing ingredients of Vicks VapoRub in pleasant candy form—provide quick, convenient relief.

Get Your Free Package Today

Don't forget—your druggist has only a limited supply of free trial packages containing these Vick preparations. Get yours today, before they are all gone.

And be sure to look in your free package for full details of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds—which cut sickness from colds more than half in clinic tests among 17,853 people. What it can do for your family may be less—or more—but doesn't this fine record make it well worth trying?

TRAINS ON RUN AGAIN

Better Time Than Was Expected Made in Clearing Up Wash-Outs

Through train traffic is again moving along the local line of the Canadian National Railways. Washouts in the Pacific sector, which tied up the line since last Thursday, were cleared up about 7 o'clock last evening, about ten hours sooner than had been at first expected.

The through train from the east, which should have been in Saturday night, left Smithers at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and arrived here at 3:20 this morning. The wayfreight, which left early yesterday morning for Terrace and Usk, was back about 1:30 Sunday morning. Traffic is running normally on the line again today, the regular train for the east being set to leave on time at 6 p.m.

IS LAID AT REST

The funeral took place this afternoon from the chapel of B. C. Undertakers to Fairview Cemetery of Gus Peterson, 44-year old Scandinavian miner, whose death occurred last Friday in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Rev. Lawrence C. Jensen, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, was the officiating clergyman.

From Flin Flon, Manitoba

Yesterday from Flin Flon, Manitoba, we received the following letter:

"Just will send you a snap shot of our baby girl. She's bottle fed on Pacific Milk. The snap was taken of her when she was 10 months old, weighed 23½ lbs. So sure praise to this milk. I sure think Pacific is wonderful milk for a baby. Everybody who sees her remarks about how fat she is and asks what she's fed. She was given no other food before she was over seven months old. The doctor said she was fat enough with only drinking Pacific Milk. She's 11 months old now. Weighs 25 lbs.—Mrs. S. R.

The snap shot shows a baby beaming with life and health.

With through traffic moving again on the local line of the Canadian National Railways following the clearing up of last week's washouts in the Pacific area, movement of grain from the prairies into the Alberta Wheat Pool's local elevator is being resumed. There is no word yet as to when further boats may be expected here to load for export.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. John Muir, arrived in port at 10 o'clock last night from the south and sailed about midnight for Port Simpson, Stewart and other northern points whence she is due back here southbound Tuesday afternoon.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, running a day behind schedule on account of delay in returning to Vancouver last week after a special voyage to Skagway, arrived here at 8:45 this morning from the south enroute to Alaska, leaving about an hour later for the north. The Princess Norah was at Alert Bay at 7:30 yesterday morning. She had on board a large consignment of mail for Alaskan points although not quite as big as last trip. She had on board 173 passengers, 93 of whom were for Juneau. Four disembarked here and a similar number took passage here for the north.

Armour Salvage Co.'s power tugs

Armour Salvage Co.5s power tugs Daly and Pachena left Saturday afternoon and were away over the week-end taking the Auriol logging camp outfit from its present location at Denise Arm, back of Kaien Island, to a new site of operation on Pitt Island between Gibson Island and Stewart Anchorage. That job is expected to be completed by today when the Daly will deliver a tow of logs from Denise Arm to Big Bay mill. Then she will proceed to Banks Island to pick up and bring into Prince Rupert some three hundred thousand feet of logs which were salvaged recently from a Davis raft which broke up in Hecate Straits while being towed by the T. A. Kelley Logging Co.'s camp at Atli Inlet to the mainland.

The Petersburg halibut boat Excel was in port this morning for a load of green vegetables and fruit. Other small boats have been here recently for similar cargoes during

SMALL TOWN DRAMA HERE

Pat O'Brien and Josephine Hutchinson in "I Married a Doctor" At Capitol Theatre

A stirring drama of small town bigotry and intolerance, "I Married a Doctor," comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the main feature offering for the first of this week. The picture is based on a widely read novel by Sinclair Lewis which showed cruelties resultant from the attitude of self-righteous small town people in judging others by their own narrow standards. It is said to be filled with pathos, tragedy and dynamic scenes enlivened by romance, sparkling dialogue and comedy. Pat O'Brien and Josephine Hutchinson have the romantic leads, he as a country doctor who takes his city bred wife to his small town where she imedmiately arouses a bitter and jealous antagonism among the husbands and sweethearts who are attracted by her beauty and wit. A scandal develops and the bride flees back to her city home. In a surprising climax she and her husband are re-united. A talented supporting cast includes Ross Alexander, Guy Kibbee, Louise Fazenda, Olin Howland, Margaret Irving, Alma Lloyd and Robert Barrat.

The other end of the first of the week double bill is a comedy-romance of the early days of the Twentieth Century entitled "Gentle Julia," featuring Jane Withers, Tom Brown, Marsha Hunt, Jackie Searl, Francis Ford and George Meeker.
