Great Britain Asks Germany If It Feels Able to Conclude "Genuine Treaties"

LONDON, May 8: (CP)—A clear declaration from Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler as to whether Germany now regards itself able to conclude "genuine treaties" was requested today in a British questionaire presented to the German Foreign Office.

Referring to German proposals for European peace treaties, the questionaire said: "It is, of course, clear that negotiations for a treaty would be useless if one of the parties felt free hereafter to deny its obligations on the ground that the party was not at the time in a condition to conclude a binding treaty."

MOLLISONS PLAN TRIP

To Try Flight Around World Via Equator Route—First Of Its Kind

LONDON, May 8: (CP)—Capt. James Mollison announced last night that he and his wife had completed plans for a flight around the world this summer following the equator. It would be the first flight of its kind.

"We should not attempt it if we did not think we could do it," Mollison said. "We should take something up to but not exceeding three weeks."

Old Massett Is Bereaved

Death Strikes Among Young — Paul Brown's Passing Very Sudden

MASSETT, May 8—Paul Brown a well known and popular native boy at Massett, recently took sick one night and expired less than twelve hours later. The suddenness of his passing was a shock not only to family and friends but to the community as a whole. The entire population attended the funeral which was conducted by Rev. A. Abraham, the Anglican Church missionary. There were numerous beautiful floral tributes.

Other recent sad deaths here have been those of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Davis and of Miss Agnes Bell. Alfred Adams, local lay reader, officiated at both funerals in the absence of Mr. Abraham at the time.

Stevens Suspects Great Plot To Unify Railways, Imposing Fascist Regime Upon Canada

OTTAWA, May 8: (CP)—"The public mind is being poisoned against the Canadian National Railways," Hon. H. H. Stevens warned the House of Commons last night. He wondered if some gigantic plot was afoot to hand over the system to private hands at a fraction of its cost.

"I submit that unification means turning over the Canadian National system to a great transportation trust," said Mr. Stevens. "In my opinion that is the plan that is behind all this agitation. That would mean fascism and would lead to bondage of a more aggravated type than we have ever believed possible in Canada."

Critics of the Canadian National were grossly overstating the case, he charged. People were being terrified into "a surrender of this valuable asset at less than cost."

THE LAST CALL

This week sees the end of the clean-up campaign of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Up to the present it has been very effective, a number of unsightly nuisances having been removed, raking done and painting is under way. All this is excellent but the members of the Junior Chamber say there are still one or two people who have not yet acted. It is hoped that influence will be brought to bear on them and that by the end of this week there will be no unsightly spots left in the city.

OFFERING PRIZES

The Provincial Bureau of Information and Publicity at Victoria is offering a number of prizes for letters written by students in the high schools to persons resident outside the province drawing attention to the attractions of the province. The writer of the letter must also produce the reply received. For the best letter written by a pupil in grades nine and ten there are prizes of ten and five dollars and similarly for grades eleven and twelve. Letter must be more than 250 words in length and less than 500. The contest, which is now going on will close at the end of June. Notices in connection with the competition are being sent to the principals of the various schools and doubtless will receive attention.

BASEBALL AT OCEAN FALLS

Paper Town Looking Forward to Active Season with Four Teams In Competition

OCEAN FALLS, May 8— Baseball at Ocean Falls for the 1936 season got away to a good start at the anual meeting last week when officers were elected as follows:

President, W. McCarrick.
Vice-President, Pat Dolan.
Secretary-Treasurer, T. Main.

Executive—R. Fuller, manager of the Paper Makers' team; G. Baillie,, manager of Mechanics; P. C. Campbell, manager of Youthfuls; F. Magano, manager of Japanese.

There will be a four team league this year and, with many new men, it is felt that snappy ball will be played.

Wes Hauptman, Seattle right-hander, has arrived to visit relatives here and, in all probability, will cover the slab for the Papermakers.

According to word received from the Queen Charlotte Islands the entire Massett native fishing fleet there is prepared to leave for the trolling grounds.

UNITED IN MATRIMONY

Miss Cathie Irvine Bride of Tommy Fraser at Beautiful Ceremony

Before a congregation the size of which taxed the capacity of First United Church, a beautiful marriage ceremony of outstanding interest, uniting one of the city's best known and most popular young couples, took place last evening at 8 o'clock when Miss Catherine May Irvine, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Irvine, became the bride of Thomas Fraser, only son of Mrs. Robert McCook. The nuptial rites were performed by Rev. C. D. Clarke in the attractive setting of a large lattice-work floral arch under a large white wedding bell. The church had been specially decorated for the occasion by the friends of the couple. The choir was in attendance.

As Miss Swanan Olafson played the Wedding March from Lohengrin on the pipe organ, the bride entered the church upon the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She was beautiful indeed in her lovely wedding gown fashioned on long lines of lustrous white satin. She had a braided white turban hat with veil. Her bouquet was of red roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Charles Hayward, as matron of honor, attended the bride. She was charming in a gown of blue velvet with silver bandeau and veil, carrying pink and white carnations.

George Peters was groomsman.

During the signing of the register, the choir sang "O Perfect Love."

Ushers were H. G. Kennedy, Douglas Frizzell, Robert Irvine and James Irvine. The guest pews were marked with pink and white rosettes.

The Reception

Following the marriage ceremony, the bridal party and guests proceeded to the home of the bride's parents, 895 Borden Street, where a reception was held. Mrs. Irvine, mother of the bride, in green figured chiffon with black hat, and Mrs. McCook, mother of the groom, in black and white silk crepe with black hat, received the guests. Congratulations and best wishes were tendered to the bridal couple who stood with their attendants under a white wedding bell with pink and white streamers. The rooms had been tastefully decorated. The bride's table was centered with a pretty three-tier wedding cake surrounded by four pink tapers. The cake was duly cut by the bride during the serving of refreshments.

A toast to the bride was proposed fittingly by Rev. C. D. Clarke, the groom responding. A toast to the matron of honor was proposed by the bride's father. The groomsman responded and also read telegrams from the Old Country and the east.

Mrs. J. H. McLeod sang "My Heart is a Haven" with Miss Swanna Olafson accompanying on the piano.

Mrs. C. D. Clarke and Mrs. William Reid presided at the urns with Mrs. James Krikevsky and Mrs. Clavring assisting. Serviteurs were Miss Ella Steen, Miss Ruby Krikevsky, Mrs. J. A. Frew, Mrs. H. G. Kennedy, Miss Lillian Lowe, Miss Dorothy Patmore and Miss Peggy Steen.

Many beautiful gifts, testifying to the popularity of the couple, were displayed.

Invited guests at the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCook, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Frew, Miss Molly Frew, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Pullen, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. William Reid, Robert Davie, Mr. and Mrs. James Krikevsky, Roy Franks, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steen, Miss Ella Steen, Miss Peggy Steen, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Patmore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayward, S. J. Mellor, Miss Lillian Lowe, George Rorie, Miss Ruby Krikevsky, Miss Dorothy Patmore, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dunn, Bruce Stevens, Douglas Frizzell, Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Clarke, George Peters, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. William Stone, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Orme, A. M. Pryce, C. D. Fyfe, Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, Col. and Mrs. J. W. Nicholls and Mrs. J. Clavring.

Enthusiastic Send-Off

Later in the evening the happy couple sailed aboard the Prince Rupert for a three weeks' honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Victoria and elsewhere in the south. They were given an enthusiastic send-off by numerous friends as the steamer pulled out. The bride's going-away costume was a navy swagger suit and hat with primrose accessories. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Lillian Lowe.

On their return to Prince Rupert, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will reside at 222 Fifth Avenue West.

Both bride and groom have resided in Prince Rupert since early childhood. Both have been for years members of the staff of the Daily News. They have been active in social, church and athletic circles. They will have the fellcitations and best wishes of many friends.

Dr. Mandy Tells Rotary Club Of Many Things He Saw And Lessons He Learned While Away

BUSINESS EFFICIENCY

Is More Pleased With Northern British Columbia as Result Of Travel in States

The wonderful efficiency and courtesy shown to visitors everywhere they went in the United States, especially in the largest stores, was one of the noticeable features of the recent tour taken by Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Mandy as described to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at its luncheon yesterday by Dr. Mandy, W. M. Blackstock presiding.

Dr. Mandy gave a comprehensive sketch of the trip and of the impressions derived from it. He and Mrs. Mandy travelled through many states and visited a good many cities, among other places the Grand Canyon which he describes as one of the world's wonders which would take a whole lecture to describe.

In his address yesterday, Dr. Mandy, speaking to business and professional men, devoted much of his time to the business rather than the cultural aspect of what he saw. One of these, which he considered good business, was the attention received by themselves, a couple of tourists, from the staffs of the big stores, who were both efficient and courteous. He found that the education of the staffs in the matter of meeting the public was part of the merchandising system of these stores. In the floral department of a big store at Dayton, Ohio, they were offered specimens free of cost and the clerk insisted on their carrying away a packet of seeds to try when they reached home.

While away Dr. and Mrs. Mandy travelled about 9,000 miles and they gleaned much information in regard to many things. He urged that members of the club, when possible, should make similar trips. He paid a compliment to the local agent who had planned the trip and given them so much information, all of which had worked out as they had stated. Either of the local steamship agents could, doubtless, plan such a trip equally well.

The amount of travel in the United States, even at the early date that they were there, suggested that there would be a similar large amount of travel to British Columbia this year. The Grand Canyon was thronged with visitors.

Many Large Projects

Dr. Mandy was favorably impressed by the large number of large public works going on, such as the Boulder Dam project. In San Francisco two huge bridges were being built, one costing $35,000,000 and the other $77,000,000. President Roosevelt was subjected to some criticism for the expenditures being made but he found the President had a great many friends who expressed the opinion that he was too busy a man to answer criticisms. The works that were being carried out not only provided employment just now but they also were permanent works from which the country would benefit in the future. He was firmly of the opinion that this plan was sound and that the fears expressed by critics were misplaced.

One of the remarkable features of every community visited was that all were taking advantage to the fullest possible extent of every advantage the community offered. He contrasted life in some parts of the country with those of Northern British Columbia much to the advantage of B.C. This part of the country should have no qualms for the future considering the advantages possessed. He came home feeling that British Columbia had a marvellous future.

Coming home from the south he was impressed with the need of an industrial payroll in Prince Rupert. He told what he had seen in other places in building industries from a very small beginning to huge dimensions. At Muncy, Indiana, for instance, there was a glass industry that was started by three brothers in one room and which had become the largest of its kind in the world. They shipped an average of 5,000 carloads daily.

Richmond, Indiana, advertised as "America's Rose City," had the largest greenhouses in the United States. There were 1500 rose bushes in one greenhouse and roses were cut and shipped in huge quantities every morning of the year. To provide manure for fertilizer the owners of the greenhouses had started a herd of prize dairy cattle.

Turning for a moment to the cultural aspects of life, the speaker showed how in Chicago, with all its crime and gloom and poverty, they were providing the children with educational facilities and giving them cultural education. Classes from the schools were taken to the parks and gardens and museums and other places and shown the beautiful things and given instruction which was of great benefit. He was glad to know that in Prince Rupert, under the able administration of City Commissioner Alder, park improvements were going on which would be of great benefit to the city in time to come.

Interest In North

Throughout the trip the people they met showed an intense interest in the north. The first of a series of lectures given by Mrs. Mandy was at Richmond. The people were fascinated with the descriptions of life in the north of which they knew almost nothing. They imagined the whole was a country of ice and snow and they knew absolutely nothing of British Columbia or the Yukon. Alaska was the only place of which they had heard.

California, they had heard, was a country of flowers but they had not found it so. The flowers grown there did not compare with those of Prince Rupert. The mangy looking lawns cost a fortune to keep up. The most beautiful thing they saw on the trip was a sight of Prince Rupert as they returned.

Al Small and Bert McWatters were introduced as new members of the Rotary Club. They will be initiated later. Visitors present were Theo Collart of Prince Rupert and C. F. Dawson of Victoria.
