Daladier Wins Vote Of Confidence

House Opposes Japanese Immigration

Legislature Prorogued Last Night; Many Bills Passed During Session

Federal Authorities Commended for Reducing Oriental Fishing Licences—Favor Expressed for Hospital Sweepstakes

VICTORIA, December 10: (CP)—The Legislature prorogued at 9 o'clock last night, ending a session of seven weeks which saw seventy acts assented to by the Lieutenant Governor. Prior to prorogation, the House recorded opposition to Oriental immigration into the province but turned down an Opposition motion which asked for Japanese exclusion through abrogation of the "gentlemen's agreement" between Canada and Japan which permits 150 Japanese to enter Canada annually. The House adopted by a vote of 28 to 14 an amendment by D. W. Strachan, Liberal member for Dewdney, to the exclusion motion which was proposed by Capt. Magregor Macintosh, Conservative member for the Islands. The amendment put the House on record as opposing Sino-Japanese immigration to British Columbia and commended the provincial government for making representations to Ottawa on this [illegible]

The House also recorded approval of a motion by Tom Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, favoring Dominion or provincial sweepstakes, twenty-five per cent of the gross proceeds of which would go to hospitals.

Japanese Fish Licences

R. W. Bruhn, Conservative member for Salmon Arm put forward a resolution expressing regret that the Dominion had not carried out the recommendations of a Royal Commission of 1922 for a reduction in Japanese fishing licences.

Hon. George Pearson, minister of labor, offered an amendment commending the federal government for having restricted the number of such licences and urging continuation of that policy. He favored banning further Japanese immigration, Pearson said. If they were forced out of one industry they would turn up in another. In 1922, Pearson said, Japanese had held forty per cent of 7606 fishing licences issued. In 1933 they held only fourteen per cent of 1305. Pearson withdrew his amendment after Bruhn withdrew his resolution.

DEMOCRACY MAY PERISH AT HANDS OF ENEMIES UNLESS FRIENDS AID IT SAYS EDEN

NEW YORK, December 10: (CP)—"World democracy may perish at the hands of its enemies unless its friends become more active in its protection," declared Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, former British Foreign Secretary, in an address here last night before a manufacturers' gathering. National animosities were endangering world peace and, whatever it might be, the world today was certainly not safe for democracy, declared Capt. Eden. Democracy was being challenged on a world-wide basis by governments with different philosophies. It was the former Foreign Secretary's first speech of his American visit.

Capt. Eden declared that British people were essentially the same in spirit today as they were in the greatest moments of the Empire's history.

Britain would stand firm, Capt. Eden said, for democracy in a ruthless and challenging world that had "not been made safe for democracy.....in a world where force is for many the only instrument of policy. He added: "We know we are destined in our land in our generation to live in a period of emergency which there is no need of. In such conditions we know we must believe in ourselves to live. For all this, in spirit, we are preparing."

He described it as necessary for his country to be conscious of the challenge confronting it and its own shortcomings but "to be conscious of our shortcomings is not to proclaim that we are faint-hearted, still less to suggest that we are decadent."

"I came to the United States to listen and to learn, not to speak," asserted Capt. Eden "but I shall endeavour to give you a picture of what the average Englishman is thinking."

The former Foreign Secretary declared that, in visiting the United States, he was fulfilling a life-long ambition.

On Monday Capt. Eden will leave for Washington to meet President Roosevelt. Next Friday he will sail aboard the Queen Mary on his return to England. While in this country, he will visit Annapolis and the New York World's Fair site.

He was given a rousing reception.

EXTENDING PACT AREA

B.C. Halibut Operators Would Have Continental Shelf Included in International Regulations

VANCOUVER, Dec. 10: (CP)—Prior to the annual conference of the International Fisheries Commission in Seattle, A. J. Whitmore of Ottawa and L. W. Patmore K.C. of Prince Rupert, members of the Commission, held a preliminary meeting with Vancouver halibut boat operators. Representatives of Prince Rupert halibut vessel owners and fishermen, on their way to Seattle for the conference, also attended the meeting which took place Thursday night.

At the meetings in Seattle, British Columbia delegates will urge extension of regulated halibut fishing waters to include the continental shelf as a means of protecting the fishery from possible foreign incursion.

WAS DEAN OF HOUSE

No One Has Equalled Long Service Record of Late James Schofield As Legislator

VICTORIA, Dec. 10: (CP) — James Hargrave Schofield, who represented Trail district in the Legislature at Victoria for twenty-six years straight, held the record for long service as a member of the British Columbia Parliament The only approach to Mr. Schofield's long service record is that of Premier T. D. Pattullo who has now represented Prince Rupert for twenty-two years.

Mr. Schofield, who died yesterday at his home in Trail, first having served for five years as mayor of Trail, was first elected to the Legislative Assembly in the general election of 1907, being re-elected in 1909, 1912, 1916, 1920, 1924 and 1928. He always enjoyed a large measure of personal popularity in his home town owing to his genial although quiet and unassuming personality and, no matter what the trend of party politics might be in the province, he was always able to command a good majority at Trail. He was a Conservative.

Mr. Schofield was born at Brockville, Ontario, February 19, 1866, of old Canadian stock and was educated at Trinity College School at Port Hope. In 1892 he was married and had two sons and one daughter.

Mr. Schofield was prominent in Masonic affairs and was provincial Grand Master in 1907. He was a member of the Church of England.

The funeral takes place at Trail where Mr. Schofield made his home since before the turn of the century.

ABERHART AMBITIOUS

Would Double Area of Alberta by Extending Provincial Boundary To Arctic

EDMONTON, Dec. 10: (CP)— Premier William Aberhart disclosed today that Alberta will seek extension of the province to the Arctic Ocean—a move which would double the area of the province to approximately 500,000 square miles and take in rich gold and radium mining areas as well as fishing and fur producing districts.

Consideration has been given this proposal by the cabinet since the Premier's return from Ottawa where he went in connection with the province's refunding proposal.

The Policies Of French Premier Approved By Chamber Of Deputies

Struck Out Both at Fascists and Communists—Meantime Italian Campaign for Tunisia Appears to be Dying Down

PARIS, December 10: (CP)—The Chamber of Deputies today voted confidence in Premier Edouard Daladier by a vote of 315 to 241, approving his decree laws and the methods by which he smashed the recent general strike. The vote came after an uproarious debate. The Premier had sought Parliamentary support for a stiff stand against the expansion of Fascism at French expense and denounced Communists for what he termed an attempt to paralyze France.

Meantime the Italian campaign for the Frehch proctectorate of Tunisia is, apparently, letting up with the Italian press adopting a more moderate tone in anti-French articles.

GAS PRICE REDUCTION IS INITIAL STEP TO INSURE FUTURE OF COAL MINING

Report of Royal Commissioner Discloses Machinations Which Have Been Employed to Secure Fuel Business of Big Consumers

VICTORIA, December 10: (CP)—The third section of the report of Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald on the coal and petroleum industries of the province of British Columbia, which was tabled in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday, stated that in the oil industry heavy fuel oil costs had been loaded on to gasoline, enabling lower prices to be given to large consumers of fuel oil. Also in coal distribution domestic and smaller consumers had been saddled with higher distribution costs to enable lower prices to industry, railroads and large building heating plants.

"If the argument applies against oil, it must apply also against coal" but the commissioner says the report is, on the whole, favorable to coal only because the facts warrant it. With abundant coal resources, it is in the economic interests of the province to take every legitimate step to encourage its use and place it upon a footing of equality with heavy fuel oil.

The commissioner finds British Columbia coal adaptable to modern, efficient consumption methods. He denies that coal is a decadent fuel but warns that a "reduction in the cost of mining coal on Vancouver Island has to be faced if coal is to maintain a place as a competitive fuel . . ." He says that a large market for Vancouver Island coal was lost because of high costs of production and distribution. He also finds that oil companies have been selling heavy fuel oil in competition with coal at prices below the cost of production.

The commissioner finds that a reduction in the selling price of gasoline is the first step to save the coal mining industry from extinction. If the price of gasoline is reduced, then heavy fuel oil will be compelled to carry its own fair load of costs and compete with coal on a fair competitive basis.

The report says that reduction in gasoline price would not be intended to interfere with service stations as they now exist although, ultimately, the multiplicity and duplication of service stations should be eliminated.

The commissioner recommends that the entire price reduction be absorbed by the oil companies.

The report claims that substantial savings could be made in heating plants and buildings through the use of coal instead of fuel oil, also by the use of coal in railway locomotives.

Coastal ships and some deepsea vessels can profitably use coal, the report finds.

The commissioner is unabe to determine from the evidence whether coal is as safe as oil for use in logging operations and recommends that research determine the comparative fire hazards.

Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald was appointed in 1934 to investigate the coal and petroleum industries for the government of British Columbia. The first two sections of his report were tabled last year and the third yesterday.

ALL IS WELL WITH THE WORLD

The possibility is that all is well with the world and everything is working itself out in the best possible manner if we only could see the whole picture. It is possible that a few million more lives may have to be sacrificed before the nations of the world learn what it was hoped the Great War would have taught them.

We remember seeing a man plowing in the field and the plow passing through the middle of an ant's nest. The little creatures were all upset by the terrible disturbance and then a brood of young pheasants ate up most of the ants that had just lost their natural home. It was disaster to the ants but the world continued to turn on its axis the same as before and even the men who knew of the disaster hardly gave a thought to it. So if a million lives are lost through the foolishness of those tiny creatures known as men, it has little effect on the universe. There are plenty more millions left.

PRESTIGE OF BRITAIN

Many people have felt since Munich that Britain has lost prestige which she can never regain. And yet if we look back we find many times when it seemed almost hopeless. Just ninety years ago Lord Shaftsbury despaired for the Empire. He is reported to have said: "Nothing can save the British Empire from shipwreck." The following year even Disraeli, the man whose vision was responsible for the completion of the Suez Canal, as shown in a picture at the Capital this week, was moved to exclaim: "In industry, commerce and agriculture, there is no hope." That must have been a very difficult period for in 1852, when the Duke of Wellington was dying, he is reported to have murmured: "I thank God I shall be spared from seeing the consummation of ruin that is gathering about us." The two statesmen, Wilberforce and William Pitt, both had their periods of despondency. Wilberforce would not marry. He said he dared not do so because the future was so unsettled. Pitt, at one time, saw nothing around him but ruin and despair.

Members of the British Empire seem fully imbued with the danger of the situation as it exists today and that is half of the battle. We have to thank the dictators for keeping before us the precariousness of the situation and making us all conscious that we must prepare to meet it. In the first place we must defend ourselves should it be necessary and in the second place we must refuse to be lulled to sleep again by any promises of security.

Coy Bay Boatbuilding Shops Are Busy—Lining up Fishing Vessels for Naval Reserve Service—High Tides and Stormy Weather

Japanese boatbuilding shops in Cow Bay at Prince Rupert are busy on orders this winter, having contracts on hand which will keep them occupied until well into spring. The Matsumoto yard has practically completed a 40-foot halibut boat for Barney Roalds, formerly a member of the crew of the Ingrid H., and now has construction well advanced of a 44-foot troller which had been ordered by Harold Jacobsen, who came to his death under tragic circumstances this week. On completion of the Jacobsen boat, Matsumoto will start construction of a forty-foot troller for Patrick M. Kelly of Vancouver and has further contracts lined up after that. K. Tsumura has completed planking of a 34-foot trolling boat for Red Chandler and, when it is finished, will start on a similar vessel for Olof Jensen. Y. Suehiro has finished planking of a 43-foot troller for the order of Ole Olsen and Vincent Ubell.

A 20 h.p. Hein (Danish) diesel engine will be installed in Barney Roalds' new halibutter which is to be named the Neptune.

Naturally, there is uncertainty as to what will happen to the boat being built by Matsumoto for the order of the late Harold Jacobsen. This will be a matter for the widow to decide. Jacobsen's intention had been to install the 20 h.p. Regal engine from his former boat Active II.

A 15 h.p. Vivian engine is to be installed in Red Chandler's new troller.

The new Olsen and Ubell boat will be equipped with a 20 h.p. Hein diesel.

Friends of the late Harold Jacobsen, successful young Norwegian salmon troller, who came to his death in a Prince Rupert rooming house on Wednesday of this week by his own hand, have been unable to account for his rash act. Jacobsen was known as one of the steadiest and most sober of the Prince Rupert trolling operators. He was most temperate in all his habits and did not suffer from financial worries such as beset some fishermen. For several years he was high troller at Prince Rupert. His widow was his consistent helpmate and, indeed, assisted him actively in his operations.

In connection with the making of final arrangements for the organization of Prince Rupert fishing vessels under the new fishing vessel naval reserve plan, Lieut. Commander C. D. Donald R.C.N. arrived in Prince Rupert on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from Esquimalt naval base to spend a few days. Quite a number of Prince Rupert halibut vessels will be going to Esquimalt in January and February to take up naval reserve training activities during the quiet season as far as fishing is concerned. Registrations of these vessels has been under way for some time.

The well known Vancouver halibut boat Joan W I., Capt. Al Wole, was in port Thursday. She had on board a load of 40,000 pounds of black cod which she took on to Vancouver to dispose of.

A Real "Siwash Village"

Inspired by the declaration of Doc Telford, leader of the C.C.F.rs, that Prince Rupert is nothing but a siwash village anyway, waterfront parliamentarians, who took time off from consideration of the international situation this week to discuss matters of immediate local welfare, evolved the idea that, if we are really only a fishing village, we might do something to help the natives and, at the same time, put our terminal facilities to some use. The elevator, being our most imposing white elephant at this time, the proposal was made by one of the sages that the Indians might be given a shot at it. Indeed, it has been declared that the elevator would at least be doing better than it is today if it were given to the natives for use as a great smoke-house. In an extremity, the ocean dock, which has already been used as a storehouse for totem poles, might make an admirable potlatch pavilion. Some opine that it would be better to be a good "siwash village" than a languishing world port. At that, there are some of the boys who feel that the so-called "siwashes," if they were given a chance, might do better than some of the politicians.

Exceptionally high tides have been experienced in Prince Rupert harbor during the past few days. They have been accompanied by the usual blustery weather. Except for a few minor mishaps, the waterfront came through nicely. The climax of the storm came with a stiff westerly on Thursday morning which had lines snapping in all directions.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, was late arriving in port at 6:30 o'clock this morning from the south. The vessel sailed at 10:30 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

H. A. Hughes, regularly purser of the steamer Venture on southern runs, will be here tomorrow night as purser of the Union steamer Catala, relieving A. W. Robinson who has gone ashore at Vancouver for his annual vacation.

Demonstration Of Fire Alarm

Effectiveness of System at Local Hospital Proven by Unexpected Night Call

The effectiveness of the fire alarm system between Prince Rupert General Hospital and Nurses' Home was demonstrated recently by dead of night when a short circuiting of outside wires during a windstorm set off the bells in the Home, arousing the nurses from their slumbers and causing them to turn out in short order prepared for any emergency at the hospital. Fortunately, it was soon seen that all was well at the hospital but it was reassuring to know by practical demonstration that, had there been anything wrong, there would have been no delay in coping with the situation.

The monthly report of the fire chief referred to the short circuit in the alarm system having been caused by the crossing of slack wires during a windstorm. The matter of making necessary repairs was referred to the house committee.

Word Received in City of Death Of Miss Maude Eason, At One Time Member of Daily News Staff

Advice has been received in the city and will be learned with of regret by many old friends of the death at Peterborough, Ontario, on November 25 of Miss Maude Eason, who for many years was a highly esteemed resident of Prince Rupert, being at one time a member of the business office staff of the Daily News.

Miss Eason, who returned about fourteen years ago to her native province to resume residence after having been for several years in Prince Rupert, had been in failing health for the past year or so and, suffering from cataracts, had been almost blind for several months. Five days before her passing, she suffered a stroke and never regained consciousness.

The funeral took place in Peterborough where there were general expressions of esteem for the deceased and regret at her passing.

While in Prince Rupert, Miss Eason was also identified for a time with the office staff of the old F. G. Dawson fholesale company. She was also for a while in business for herself. She still owned the cottage on Fifth Avenue East near Green Street in which she resided while here.

About three years ago Miss Eason re-visited Prince Rupert.

News of Miss Eason's passing was received by an old friend, Miss Jessie Rothwell.

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert General Hospital was held last night. G. P. Tinker, president, was in the chair and others present were W. M. Brown, G. V. Wilkinson, Frank Dibb and Mrs. H. L. Landry, directors; H. W. Birch, managing secretary, and Miss Jean Harrison R. N., lady superintendent

Dr. Victor Dolmage, well known Vancouver consulting mining engineer, arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from the south.

Aboard the Pachena, a hunting party consisting of Capt. Paul Armour, Thomas Boulter, F. M. Good, R. G. Hopkins, W. O. Fulton, G. A. Bryant and J. A. Lindsay left at midnight last night for Kwinimass. They expect to be back tomorrow night.

Ex-Service Men To Be Handled

Arrangements Made Whereby They Will Be Treated Here Instead of Vancouver

The board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, at the regular monthly meeting last night, decided to enter into a contract with the Department of Pensions and National Health whereby ex-service men of a certain classification may be admitted to the local hospital for treatment at a fee of $2.75 per day which is 25c above regular public ward rates. Dr. L. W. Kergin is the local doctor of the Department of Pensions and National Health.

By means of the arrangement, the necessity of sending certain patients from this district all the way to Shaughnessy Military Hospital in Vancouver will be obviated.

Formal Application To Be Made For Gift From Lord Nuffield

The local hospital board decided last night to make formal application, through the British Columbia Hospitals Association, for one of the iron lungs which Lord Nuffield, British automobile manufacturer and philanthropist, is presenting to every hospital in the British Empire, even the most remote.

Mrs. H. L. Landry mentioned at last night's meeting of the hospital board plans of the Women's Auxiliary to assist in the providing of Christmas Cheer in hospital wards.

MORE ABOUT CREDIT UNIONS

Editor, Daily News:

Recently several attempts have been made to explain the functions of a Credit Union, more especially since that matter has received attention in the Provincial Legislature at Victoria.

Since most people in British Columbia are not familiar with the objects and purposes of a Credit Union although they have been functioning in other provinces of the Dominion for some time, we would like to point out through the medium of your paper a few, at least, of the important features connected with Credit Unions.

The capital of every Credit Union shall be unlimited in amount and shall be divided into shares of a certain par value to be determined by the Act. We believe the par value in Nova Scotia is $5.00 per share.

The objects of a Credit Union shall be:

(a) The promotion of thrift among its members.

(b) The promotion of co-operative enterprise amongst its members.

(c) The creation of a source of credit for its members at legitimate rates of interest, exclusively for provident and productive purposes and merchandising purposes.

For the purpose of carrying out its objects, every Credit Union may, subect to the provisions of the Act:

(a) Receive money from its members either as payments on shares or as deposits.

(b) Make loans ti its members ofr provident and productive purposes and merchandising purposes.

It requires ten persons to subscribe to the memorandum of the Association. It serves a specified area. There are no salaried officials except a treasurer. Loans are made only to members and for provident and productive purposes exclusively. Character, honesty and industry are required for membership, and on this basis loans are made. Control is vested in the members on the co-operative principle of one member, one vote. All profits revert to the members after expenses of operation are deducted. After a person has paid in full for one share in the Credit Union he may make irregular deposits for the purpose of thrift. Interest on loans is limited.

If there is need in the community for an agency to promote thrift and if you are convinced that a Credit Union would benefit your community, the first thing necessary is study. You must known what you are going to do and how you are going to do it. When you make loans under a Credit Union Act you will know that the funds will be used locally and that your community is the place that is going to benefit from the transaction.

BUILDING DISCUSSED

Color Scheme of New Hospital Decided Upon—General Business At Board Meet

Except for Matters in connection with the construction of the new hospital building, business at the regular monthly meeting of the boarl of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital last evening was largely of routine nature. The color scheme of the new hospital came up for discussion and the opinion of members of the board, so far as was expressed, appeared to favor outside color similar to that of the new Post Office building with green or black window trimmings and an interior color of a light fawn. The main entrance driveway and walks will be taken up with the grounds committee. As a protection to the walls, Miss Jean Harrison R. N. the lady superintendent, suggested that all beds be equipped with casters and bumpers. The house committee will go into this matter. The board was informed that there was no reply as yet from the Co. as to what the extra cost would be of finishing up the attic of the new hospital as living quarters for maids and night nurses.

Regarding a recent break in the hospital sewer, which it was felt might have been caused by the piling of heavy building materials on the ground above the sewer line, it was decided to leave the matter over for adjustment when a final settlement is made with the contractors on the whole building project. The suggestion has been made that the sewer line was in bad shape and due to break anyway and that, therefore, the hospital itself was fairly responsible for the cost of making repairs.

There was further correspondence from the Department of Indian Affairs in regard to the grant in connection with the new building project.

Miss Jean Harrison, the lady superintendent, reported receipt of a check for $16.95 from Cambrai Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, to buy a new rug for the chapter's ward. It was decided to defer the purchase of the rug until after occupation of the new hospital.

General Business

General business at the meeting of the board included correspondence from the Workmen's Compensation Board in regard to deductions made from hospitalization accounts on the grounds of overhospitalization. Explanations had been received from the doctors concerned and the cases will be taken up further with the Compensation Board although it was felt, in the light of past experience, that there was little which could be done.

There was further correspondence in regard to a recent isolation hospital case of a scarlet fever patient who was admitted from a passing steamer and in regard to the responsibility for the payment of whose treatment some question has arisen. The man came from Victoria but that city has refused even to pay a per capita grant covering him. It appears that the man should be taken care of by the marine benefit scheme. In any case, the local board has refused to have anything to do with the matter as far as any financial responsibility for the isolation hospital is concerned. The board had previously notified the city commissioner of its position in regard to the isolation hospital and a letter from the commissioner, at last night's board meeting, arknowledged the notification.

Metlakatla Sale Of Work

Successful Affair by Ladies' Benovolent Association

A sale of work by the Ladies' Benevolent Association at Metlakatla was held last Wednesday night and was a successful affair. All needlework put out on display was sold. The paddle wheel booth, fish pond, coffee, hot dog, ice cream and soft drink stands all did good business and the gratifying sum of $88 was realized from the happy spenders as the total proceeds.

One Indian carved silver bracelet was raffled. The drawing was conducted by Acting Chief Councillor H. Prevost, Master Buddy Rudland, young son of President Mrs. William Rudland, was called upon to draw the lucky number which turned out to be the one held by his grandfather Reuben Leighton.

Part of the proceeds will be used for finishing up the ladies' room in the basement of Community Hall.

Dancing was in full swing following the sale and was much enjoyed. Splendid dance music was furnished by the Young Men's Benevolent Association Orchestra, Jimmy Prevost wielding the baton.

BEST COUGH MEDICINE CAN NOW BE MADE AT HOME

COSTS BUT FEW CENTS CHILDREN WILL LOVE IT

Mothers do this—make a syrup by dissolving 2 tablespoons of sugar in half a tea-cupful of warm water. Add the contents of one small bottle of Buckley's Cough Mixture and mix well. This will make 3 bottles of the most effective creamy white alkaline cough remedy and you save money. Take a dessert spoonful every half-hour. It's really wonderful to see how quickly it relieves stubborn coughs and colds. Right away that tightness loosens up—phlegm is expelled—bronchial passages cleared—breathing becomes easier—you sleep soundly.

Get a bottle of Buckley's Mixture today and make 3 bottles—enough to last the family all through the bad weather. Learn for yourself why we say the best cough medicine is made at home with Buckley's Mixture. All druggists sell Buckley's Mixture. 15
