PROPOSE HIGHWAY OPENING BE HELD AT TERRACE

Co-operation of Interior Communities Being Sought for Event

A local committee planning for formal opening of the Skeena River Highway will seek the approval of G. D. Archibald, engineer in charge of the highway, to hold the opening ceremony on August 12. Terrace is favored because of its central location.

It was decided to look into the question of obtaining the permission of the Canadian National Railways to use the highway where it crosses the railway line and is located on the right-of-way. This was considered necessary because the road is not available for civilian use and the railway, therefore, has the right to refuse passage.

Since it was thought impracticable to enlist committee members from other towns along the line, due to the short time before thee proposed day of the opening, it was moved that the plans of the local committee be submitted to the local authorities of the interior towns for approval before action was taken.

Present at the meeting of the committee Wednesday night were Mayor H. M. Daggett, City Clerk H. D. Thain, C. H. Orme, of Pioneers' Association,, Aldermen Rudderham, Hills and Black, Arthur Brooksbank, S. E. Parker, Joseph Scott, Chamber of Commerce, and A. Wallin of Trades and Labor Council.

Mayor Daggett was appointed chairman of the committee with Arthur Brooksbank as secretary. The following were appointed to be chairmen of subcommittees:

Publicity, L. M. Felsenthal; Finance, S. E. Parker; and program and entertainment, C. H. Orme.

Mrs. Len Griffiths and her two children left last night on a trip to Vancouver.

Railways' Big Job . . .

The dispatch published in the Daily News yesterday describing the important part played by the railways of Britain in the assembly and transport of the men and material of war prior to the invasion of Europe suggested an epic of accomplishment in mass traffic. The fact that Britain was more or less under constant bombing fire made the feat even the more marvellous. We in Canada — right here in Prince Rupert for that matter—have come to realize the importance of the railways as an integer in the war effort. Probably, however, we do not picture the intensiveness of such traffic in a restricted area like that of southern Britain where invasion preparations were concentrated.

Victoria Cross Winners . . .

Thrilling accounts of the action in Italy as a result of which Major John Keefer Mahony of New Westminster has been awarded the Victoria Cross are heart and imagination inspiring. The story is, evidently, one of the epics of the war as far as individual courage and calor is concerned. British Columbians cannot help but having a justifiable feeling of pride in their fighting men through the fact that of five Victoria Crosses awarded so far in this war to Canadians four have been to the fighting men of this province.

In this connection it can be recalled the proud record of Prince Rupert in having had two Victoria Cross winners in the last war—Col. C. W. Peck and Col. John McGregor.

Three Provincial Elections . . .

Three more provincial general elections in Canada in August will provide further testing ground in advance of the forthcoming federal election even though some political observers are contending that the Quebec, Alberta and New Brunswick polling will be on provincial rather than federal issues. The political set-ups in each province differ considerably. Alberta sees the C.C.F. as the principal challenge to Social Credit government the time of which many believe is about up. The C.C.F. will probably not figure very prominently either in Quebec or New Brunswick. In the former the Liberal government of Premier Godbout will have to contend with the Nationalist element as its principal adversary. There will be special interest in the New Brunswick election where the supposed Conservative-Progressive rejuvenation may make some impression on the strength of the Liberal government in what would appear to be largely a contest on old party lines.

SURVIVOR OWES LIFE TO DOCTORS

Alberta R.C.A.F. Navigator Is Unconscious For Three Weeks —Had Tough Jungle Journey

Written for the Canadian Press
By FLT. LT. R. J. CRAMPTON, R.C.A.F

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN BURMA, July 13 (CP)—One of the most grateful men alive today is a Canadian navigator, 30-year-old FO. Wally Prosser of Wainwright, Alta.

Badly injured and knocked unconscious when his aircraft crashed hundreds of miles inside a wild and mountainous part of Burma, Prosser was brought to safety by the devotion and courage of an R.A.F. medical officer and a flight sergeant who parachuted down into the wilderness where he lay and carried him out to safety after a month of hazardous journeying.

The R.A.F. medical officer is Flt. Lt. C K. Graham of Dunston, England, whose jump was the first he had ever made Flt. Sgt. T. E. White of Rhonnda Valley, Wales, who is a parachute training instructor, was his companion.

FO. Prosser is now recovering from his injuries in a Calcutta Hospital.

Unconscious for exactly three weeks after he was hurled through the nose of his aircraft as it crashed, and the sole survivor of all the crew, he still finds the story of his rescue "like a dream."

"I'll never be able to find words enough to thank Doc and Chalky; I shall never be able to show them the appreciation I feel," was his way of putting it. Within 48 hours of the crash, the two men with medical supplies and a camp bed for the injured man, had been dropped in a clearing near the crashed aircraft.

Meanwhile, two American doctors, who had also received word that there was a badly injured survivor of the crash, were on their way to the scene on muleback.

They reached it after five days of hazardous travel and joined forces with the Englishmen until their help was no longer needed. For 14 days the patient was cared for in a rough cattle-shed where natives who had first found him had carried him and were keeping watch over him. He was injured about the head and one ankle was badly fractured.

When he could be moved, the camp bed was used as a litter and carried by coolies, while mules carried the medicines and supplies and the rescuers travelled on foot.

Parachutes were ripped and sewn by natives to make sheets and pyjamas for the injured man. With the Japs never far away, the little caravan traversed some of the worst country of Burma during the next two weeks, threading their way through swamps, stumbling over barren scrubland and struggling up and down steep mountain trails.

Nights they spent, sometimes in lonely native huts or "bashes." They were willingly helped by the natives of the region, but at other times they had to use capolery to get assistance. It was during a night in one of these "bashes," where there were sinster-looking natives smoking opium, that Prosser first regained consciousness.

"I looked around and saw dim figures in the smoke. I had no idea where I was and what had happened, except that the last thing I remember was the coughing and spitting of one of the engines of our aircraft," said Prosser. "At first I thought I was in the hands of the Japs. Then I saw an American uniform and the two silver bars of a captian. That made me feel a lot better. Next I saw was Chalky and the Doc, and they told me what had happened.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

(By Dorothy Garbutt)

The Service Wives' Club met in the Ladies' Lounge at the "Y" on Thursday afternoon with eleven ladies and seven children present. Mrs. Nelson donated the raffle which was won by Mrs. Hepp. Little Master Jimmy Strand celebrated his first month's birthday by coming to the club, very smart in brand new bonnet and shawl. The tea wagon for the use of the Club arrived and was unpacked and will have its initiation at next week's meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. Hepp.

Chester Le Maistre listened to the rehearsal of the massed bands yesterday at the navy drill hall and he said it was thrilling. Four of the service bands—the Naval band, the Area band, the Sault Ste. Marie Regiment and the American Post band—are giving an open-air concert Sunday afternoon in front of the court house. Let us pray for good weather so that we can all be out to enjoy their concert. I think radio has pretty well spoiled us for real band concerts. I wonder how many of you have read Henry Shute's "The Real Diary of a Real Boy" and remember the joy "Beany" the hero used to get out of going to the town square of an evening and listening to the band practice and how his soul yearned for a cornet. You could fairly hear the "oomphas" of the horns, the toot of the flutes and boom of the drums.

If any of you have those big glass fish floats and want an ornamental knotted string bag to hold them in, I think maybe Charlie Webster of the Naval Stores could make you one. He's making them like crazy just now and they are fine to carry them around in. Now, if I can just locate a green glass float before I leave, I'll give him an order too.

We now have a typewriter set up in the Hut for the use of any of the boys and girls. It's a convenience that has been much needed and will I hope, be appreciated by taking good care of it when used.

AFRICAN MANPOWER PROBLEM

To Survey South Africa's Needs for Fighting Services and War Industry

CAPETOWN, July 14 (CP) — The manpower situation in South Africa is becoming increasingly serious. Recruiting for the 6th Armored Division now fighting in Italy is in progress and the Sunday Times says the question of manpower will be the most urgent problem Prime Minister J. C. Smuts will face on his return from Great Britain.

At a recent meeting at Benoni, Transvaal, engineering workers mobbed Hon. W. B. Madely, minister of labor. Their complaint was that they are not allowed to fight because they are skilled workers and yet they are not doing a real war job because the firms employing them are engaged on private work.

The general position is difficult because demands on South African industry, already great, are likely to increase still further when the Far East offensive gains momentum. Mr. Madely has promised he will ask the controller of manpower to undertake a survey of the country's resources in this regard.

Urging that the question of releasing the "willing worker" be considered, the Rand Daily Mail commends the labor minister for his helpful attitude. The Daily Mail continues:

"It is a heavy responsibility for the controller in critical times to tell men where duty lies. It is doubtful whether all of them are engaged on work essential to war and large numbers are only too eager to enlist. Something should be done immediately to enable as many as possible to do so."

Recruiting officers report a good deal of success though no official figures have been released.

The campaign to eradicate typhus in native reserves will be intensified in August when a 700 mile quarantine cordon of deverminized stations will be drawn around the Transkei and Ciskei districts. For six months no native will be allowed to travel by public conveyances within the territories without a medical certificate or to leave or enter the territories without medical attention including de-verminization and immunization.

Public health officers operating in special squads in affected areas report that the campaign is going well and already the incidence, though severe, is less than in normal years despite the tested.

For the first time since the outbreak of war the food prices graph in the Union showed no change in May from April, remaining at 1,401 over the basic figure of 1,00 for 1938. Figures range from 1,449 in Martizburg to 1,361 in Kimberley. Stocks of butter, cheese, flour, meal and wheat have all increased.

It's simple, first we subtract then you add, that's all!

SAYS ELSIE: "KLIM Powdered Milk is pure, whole milk with nothing removed but the moisture. So all you do is take water, add KLIM, mix, and presto you have fresh creamy milk again. Easy, isn't it?"

Only KLIM has all these features:

1. KLIM is pasteurized whole milk—powdered. Only the natural moisture has been removed. All the cream is left in.
2. KLIM keeps fresh indefinitely in its vacuum-sealed container. Even after opening, KLIM keeps fresh and sweet for a long time. (Note: Be sure to replace lid tightly.)
3. KLIM is light, easy to carry. Saves space. Ready for immediate use. Just follow the simple directions printed on the can.

KLIM is a vital product required in large quantities for our fighting forces everywhere. Naturally the amount for civilian use is restricted. However—for infant feeding—if you have difficulty in getting a sufficient supply have your dealer get in touch with us.

To This Canada we love...

"May we gain a higher degree of national consciousness, a greater pride in our nation and our country . . . a pride in keeping with the land that bore us. May we learn to cheer as our troops march by. May we have a greater appreciation of our achievements in this war and not be so hesitant in making them known to others, so that they in turn may have a greater respect for Canada and the Canadians who populate it."

THIS, in words simple as may be chosen, is a sincere tribute to the people of Canada.

First, naturally, to our first citizens . . . the men and women of our Navy, our Army, our Air Force.

But no less to the people—all the people—of Canada. To those who cannot serve in uniform, though they would. To the workers who stand behind the men behind the guns. To those whose daily tasks carry neither the glamour of a uniform nor the proud badge of an essential war-worker.

Yes, to the Canadian people! The little people and the big people. The people who combine to make the never wholly drab, but never entirely brilliant pattern that is Canada. To the woman who gives a son to the Vimy or Jutland of this war. To the man who dies in business-harness, a war casualty even as the dead of Dieppe.

And to the millions on whom no spotlight falls. To those who pay, so willingly, the taxes to support a Canada at war. To the many who have dug so deep to buy Victory Bonds. To those who ever hear the Red Cross plea. To those who abide by our rationing regulations to the letter and the spirit of the law . . . gladly . . . anxious to do more . . . determined to do no less than their utmost.

To the beginner with his pocket-handkerchief Victory Garden. To the farmer who counts his wheat-acres in the hundreds. To the man on the street and to the woman in the home. To Canada . . . and to all Canadians, let us express a heartfelt wish, a hope.

May our pride within our borders, and the respect from other lands that is ours, give us confidence to plan for the future on a scale big enough and grand enough to be worthy of this Canada we love.

On Parade...

1st (Reserve) Bn. Prince Rupert Regt. (M.G.)

Camp time is fast approaching and there is every indication that the Regiment will be well represented at Gordon Head.

Arrangements up to the present stand as follows:

The Battalion will leave Prince Rupert on the evening of July 29, fall in at the Armory and, headed by the band, march down to the C.N.R.

All personnel must check up on their equipment. The order of dress will be "Full Marching Order" except that great coats will not be taken and in their place two issue blankets will be carried in the large pack. Field Service Cap will be worn with respirators in the alert position.

In order to ensure uniformity throughout the unit, clothing and equipment will be carried or packed as follows:

Small Pack — (on left side) mess tin, ground sheet, towel, and personal cleaning articles; mirror, water bottle slung on the right side.

Large Pack — Two issue blankets, 1 pair issue socks. One issue waist belt. One pair drill trousers.

Kit Bag — One drill shirt, one drill trousers, one pair coveralls. One steel helmet. Personal articles suggested as follows: sweater, swimming trunks, running shoes, light walking-out shoes, spare laces, etc.

One pair socks and one khaki drill shirt will be worn on the person.

The kit bag will be carried in the baggage and will not be available for the journey.

Quartermasters Stores will commence issuing the special camp clothing next week and, to avoid a last-minute rush, come early and avoid the crowd.

The One Way—

TO PREVENT WHITE CLOTHES TURNING YELLOW

You can't wash the white back into white things. They'll turn yellow eventually unless you restore the white by giving them a rinse in blue on washday. That's the one sure way to keep your hard-to-replace bed linens, towels, table linens white and new looking—always.
