Formal Surrender of Japan Set For Tonight

GRUESOME TALES OF JAPANESE BESTIALITY ARE BEING RELATED

OFUNA PRISON CAMP, Near Yokohama, Sept. (CP) — Ninety-five Americans and eight English risoners—liberated from the filth of a hidden con-ntration camp—today related the war's most grue-me tales of Japanese bestiality. They saw one man aten to death and seven die of malnutrition. Some were spit on in the streets on forced marches through irate crowds. Many were compelled to wear metal bits in their mouths for fourteen hours at a time. Others were left with their hands tied behind them for twenty-four hours.

One American flier told how he was shot down over Formosa and taken prisoner. His Japanese captors tied his hands behind him and fired twice at him. One bullet entered his arm and the other one pierced his chest. A Japanese made a practice swing at the American's neck with a sword after he had pulled the prisoner's collar down. Later an angered Formosan giving the airman first aid hit him in the back with a bayonet for not moving fast enough. At the hospital, the enemy shrapnel and bullets were removed without an anesthetic.

Ships Have Done Big War Job

Performances of CNSS Vessels Are Detailed in Statement

MONTREAL, Sept. 1—During early six years of war, vessels wned or operated by the Canadian National (West Indies) teamships sailed more than 500,000 miles in enemy submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific, R. B. Teale, general manager of the company, reported in a statement ued here today. All of the ships were in war service either fighting ships or transporting troops, munitions, persons on war business and foodstuffs to soldiers and civilians of the allied nations and to the peoples of countries freed from the Nazis.

As a single group of ships, the war record of the five famous "Lady" liners which were so popular in peace time with Canadian and American tourists to the West Indies is perhaps unequalled by any other Canadian vessels. These boats alone made 221 voyages totalling nearly one million miles.

Three—the Lady Drake, Lady Hawkins and Lady Somers—were sunk early in the war while assisting Canadian war effort on the seas.

The Lady Nelson, also doing a war job, was torpedoed, salvaged and restored to service as Canada's first hospital ship. Today she is senior vessel in this service.

The Lady Rodney is serving as a Canadian transport.

Three former Canadian National Steamships Pacific coast vessels—the Prince David, Prince Robert and Prince Henry—were taken over by the Royal Canadian Navy in 1939 and were converted for war service as auxiliary cruisers serving in the Pacific.

The Prince Robert captured the German merchant ship Weser. Converted again, this time to an anti-aircraft cruiser, the Prince Robert was assigned to protecting troops and supplies crossing the Atlantic to Great Britain. On D-Day she was part of the protective fleet guarding the convoy of troops and supplies which included her two sister ships, the Prince David and the Prince Henry, the first vessels to land troops on the French coast.

Today the Prince Robert is carrying medical supplies, food and clothing for Canadian prisoners of war and internees of the Japanese and assisting in their transportation back to Canada. These ships have been in continuous service since the war began.

While the mileage of CNSS vessels in Pacific wars, 152,021, was small compared with that in the Atlantic, some of the CNS ships had narrow escapes from being captured or sunk by the Japanese.

The last allied vessel to leave Penang was the CNSS Colborne on December 12, 1941. She escaped just before the Japs captured Penang, after spending three days loading a precious rubber cargo while wave after wave of enemy planes, 70 at a time, bombed and machine-gunned the harbor area. Going to Singapore, she was again caught in enemy air attacks. Three days before Christmas, 1941, she steamed out of port with only a mutilated chart, all that the hard pressed naval officers could produce to map her course. Her master, who had never been in that part of the Pacific before, had to steer the ship through the island-dotted seas of the Dutch East Indies waters, made even more treacherous by enemy mines.

Including the three "Lady" boats in the total of 38 vessels owned or operated by the CNSS, 13 ships, with a total gross tonnage of nearly 70,000 were lost. Two of the steamships, the Vancouver Island and the Big Island, steamed out of eastern Canadian ports and were never seen or heard of again.

The first C.N.S.S. loss in the war was the sinking of the Eric Boye in 1940.

The greatest number of voyages, 106, was made by the Lady Rodney. The Lady Nelson, former flagship of the C.N.S.S. West Indies fleet, travelled nearly 300,000 miles, which was more than any other C.N.S.S. ship.

DONATION BY BOAT CREW TO PIONEERS' HOME

When the crew of the halibut fishing boat Signal set their quota this spring they decided that if they exceeded it they would donate $50 to the Pioneers' Home fund. This week the Signal landed a catch of 42,000 pounds thus exceeding its quota and the crew sent in their contribution to the council's health and relief committee. This is the first occasion of a fishing boat's crew contributing to the fund in a body and their donation raised the total to $14,457.86, of which $7,500 was contributed by the city.

The Signal's skipper is J. K. Iverson, while the crew consists of V. Fossum, I. Robertson, S. Dickens, R. Garries and W. Hansen.

Contributions for the Pioneers' Home fund are still being asked for and donations will be gratefully received by the Health and Relief Committee or H. D. Thain, city clerk.

LINE-UP FOR LIQUOR HERE

Thirsty Crowd Seeks Extra Ration For Labor Day Holiday

Anxious, on the eve of the long Labor Day week-end, to take advantage of the increased liquor ration for September, a queue of thirsty citizens, half a block long, and servicemen formed up at the provincial liquor store when it opened its doors at ten o'clock this morning and indications are that the store's staff will have a busy time today.

Two hours after it opened for business the liquor store line-up had diminished not a bit and Charles Youngman, the vendor, busily engaged seeing to the needs of his customers, breathlessly told The News that he had a "fair" supply of spirits, gin and beer. He thought it would be sufficient to satisfy the demand.

The September quota for British Columbia liquor permit holders is a 26-ounce bottle of gin in addition to the August ration, which was 26 ounces of spirits or three dozen pints of beer or two quarts of imported wine or one gallon of domestic wine. The additional bottle of gin must be purchased at the same time as the other purchase of liquor.

U.S.O. STAGES NEW PROGRAM

Public to Have Opportunity of Seeing Production

Starting Sunday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock, the U.S.O. will begin a new series of radio programs at that hour each week over CFPR entitled "Who's Guilty?" Each program will be a complete story and is a modernized version of a "who-dun-it" mystery, says Bob Herrick, program director of the U.S.O., who will direct the half-hour broadcast.

The public may come to the U.S.O. Club on Second Avenue and see an actual "live" program being produced on the air and also have a chance to compete for the prizes which will be awarded.

Opening night will find a specially selected jury sitting in the box including Magistrate W. D. Vance, Mrs. H. M. Daggett, Capt. F. S. Otis, S/Sgt. Ronald Mackall and Cpl. Douglas Sweeney.

Cast of the radio-play is composed entirely of members of the Radio Group of the Office, Prince Rupert Sub-Port of Embarkation, who are S/Sgt. Robert Geer, S/Sgt. Robert Tarrel, Cpl. Martin Moline, T/4 Nathan Goldberg, Pfc. Leon Thorner, Pfc. Max Karetsky, Pte. Leonard Groves, Pte. Perry Smithers, and T/4 Walt Montgomerie.

In the "Who's Guilty?" series the cast will unfold the background of the crime up to the direct accusation. Then the story will be cut off. With the evidence presented, members of the audience come before the micraphone and tell who they think to be the criminal. A mere guess is not sufficient. Each person must tell their reasons for thinking the party is guilty.

A jury will determine which contestant gave the most logical and convincing answer. Cash awards will be given to the winners.

The public is requested to be at the U.S.O. Ballroom not later than 6:15 p.m., Mr. Herrick emphasized, so that the program wil not be interrupted once it is on the air.

Herrick has been in commercial radio since its inception in 1943. He was program director for KMOX, a 50,000-watt station in St. Louis, Mo., for many years. For three years prior to coming to Prince Rupert, he was in charge of the radio department of the California State Department of Education.

Ceremony on Warship To Proceed Although Nips Seeking Delay

TO BROADCAST SURRENDER

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 1 (CP)—General Douglas MacArthur, Supreme Allied commander in Japan, notified the White House today that the surrender ceremonies on the battleship Missouri will go on the air at 6:30 Pacific Daylight Time tonight. President Truman will be heard during the ceremony.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 1 (CP)—Allied troops today extended their steel grip along both sides of Tokyo Bay—preparing the stage tomorrow for the final and formal surrender of the Japanese Empire. Japanese Imperial Headquarters made one half-hearted attempt to postpone the national ignominy a little longer by asking the Allies today for further conferences on surrender terms. However, Allied Headquarters declared that the ceremony aboard the U.S.S. Missouri will proceed as scheduled. The surrender actually takes place Saturday night, Eastern War Time—which is Sunday in Japan.

Already on hand for the ceremony are representatives of Britain, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, France, The Netherlands and Russia. The Canadian military attache to the high commissioner in Australia—Colonel Cosgrove Moore—will represent Canada.

DEFIED ORDER OF EMPEROR

Kamikazes Flew Over Enemy Cities Urging People to Fight On

TOKYO, Sept. 1 (CP)—The Japanese suicide planes flew over the major enemy cities dropping pamphlets calling for continued resistance to the allies two days after Emperior Hirohito declared that the war was over. The suicide pilots asked the people to disregard the emperor's word and fight on.

The pamphlets read: "Don't listen to the Emperor. He is ill-advised. The Emperor does not know the real conditions. We have enough food and planes to continue the war. When the Americans land in Tokyo we are going to give them a real surprise."

One Tokyo resident declared that the great majority of the people were shocked by the mere thought of disobeying the emperor. He said that the move died quickly for lack of popular support. The informant said that the suicide pilots undoubtedly would be put to death if caught.

Sparing of Hirohito Shortened War—Atomic Bomb Caused Surrender

Associated Press correspondent Richard Cushing interviewed the banker while watching the arrival of airborne troops at the Atsugi airdrome.

The Nipponese banker conceded that the Japanese were apprehensive lest suicide attacks be staged against the first landings at Atsugi.

The Tokyo banker said the atomic bomb was the greatest single factor in the decision to surrender.

Another Election . . .

The provincial general election date has been set for October 25. Soon we will be in the throes of another political campaign, the second for us in recent months.

As we have said so often in the past as an election campaign opens, it is to be hoped that nothing will be said or done to engender ill-feeling or to damage our esprit de corps and mutual co-operation as the people of a community with common ge[illegible]l interests.

Just now there is developing in Prince Rupert a healthy tendency toward getting together to meet serious problems affecting the future welfare of the district. There has been an inclination in that movement to sink politcial interest and feeling.

Even if an election is coming and we may have a contest along theoretical political lines, there would appear to be no real reason why, exercising the democratic privileges of expressing our views and casting our ballots, we should become bad personal friends about it.

The recent federal election in Prince Rupert was an example where friendly disagreements had no serious after-effects. We are quite confident that the coming provincial contest will be along equally exemplary lines. The Daily News will do its best to assist in making it such.

Central Interior Is On Eve of Big Development

Automotive Invasion Is Foreseen—Full Fruits of New Highway Soon to Be Realized—Power Development Import

(By JACK MacLEOD)

Into the towns and villages of central British Columbia this summer has come a movement of travellers which residents of the territory from Prince Rupert to Prince George firmly believe to be the vanguard of an automotive "invasion" destined to increase many-fold in the years to come. Spearheaded by tourists, that invasion is expected to become broadly economic.

With tires rationed and gasoline only recently released from wartime control, the parade of tourists actually was not more than a trickle but the sigh of those few sunburned, rubber-borne holiday makers and business travellers has sent a urge of anticipation through the residents of towns and villages of the Skeena, Bulkley and Nechako River valleys.

In Terrace, Hazelton, Smithers, Telkwa, Burns Lake, Vanderhoof and Prince George the air seems vibrant with the promise of what the next few years will bring.

There is a concerted sense of awareness that the attention which less deserving sections of the country have always taken for granted, but which this territory has been stubbornly denied, is about to achieve proper direction.

The simple statement, "It's going to come. It's got to come!" spoken persistently and universally in the extended region is the expression of a certainty that, in its search for new frontiers, the world will "find" central British Columbia.

Undoubtedly one of the outstanding factors in cementing this belief throughout the 500-mile ribbon of population has been the completion of transprovincial highway to Prince Rupert. Proof of this is established by the bitter reaction which was aroused by recently current rumors of neglect and abandonment of the road.

Built For War, To Serve in Peace

"It was built for war, but it's certainly going to serve us in peacetime," said a Hazelton garageman after unburdening himself of a rich store of disgust which the rumors had aroused in him. "The only time that the people of this country will allow someone to stop them having a gravel road through to the coast is when someone offers to pave it for them. And that's going to come, too."

Solicitude of the provincial government in taking over the series of small, privately-owned power plants serving the towns is generally commenced by most of the people, who visualize unfailing electricity carried by cross-country power lines in place of limping village deisel and gasoline plants now in use. Living by those rivers they daily see thousands of potential horsepower of hydro-electric energy flowing past their doors and it builds up dreams of bastion-like power-houses backed by artificial lakes which will fill the canyon-like river beds.

Here, they promise, will be the energy which will refine the tremendous natural mineral and forest wealth awaiting development. A visit last month by two members of the B.C. Power Commission and assurances that those small plants will be taken over by the government as the first step in an electrification program undoubtedly had a popular reaction.

Philosophers of the interior, and there are many, all establish their theories for territorial development on the fundamental promise that what the country needs is more people. Starting at that point they gallop off in every direction.

Some say that population will not come to central B.C. until there are more inducements in the way of modern living standards and better prepared economic opportunities. They claim that the flow of population to the comforts and uncertainties of city life proves the point. They urge the immediate expenditure of money in sums large enough to bring this about.

At the opposite extreme of thought are a few hardy individualists who maintain that a rich and rugged country should be a challenge and that progress will be a result of men's efforts and not the forerunner of it. That, they claim, has usually been the case in other places. "Opening the country up," they assert, is a matter of faith and labor—largely on the part of those who had the initial fortitude to challenge its rawness.

Peace River Rail Connection

From Vanderhoof west there is a marked unanimity concerning the desirability of getting a rail connection between the Peace River block and Prince Rupert, its natural seaport. Opinion in this regard is solidly formed and there is a continually expressed fear that the C.P.R. may take over the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

"If the C.P.R. takes over the P.G.E., you can be sure that everything from the Peace River country will drain south to Vancouver when the line is put through," a Burns Lake resident declared gloomily. "The Peace River rail outlet should join the C.N.R. line west of Prince George."

The Hazeltons, which like Caesar's Gaul are divided into three parts, find spiritual union in the belief that a highway should be built north from there to the Yukon. Dissatisfaction is expressed over the fact that apparently so far no consideration has been a survey of the Hazelton route on an equal basis with other routes.

But while people from Prince Rupert to Prince George ponder the remoter problems in search of their varied solutions, everyone realizes that one of their pre-war problems—that of automotive access to the coast—has been solved by the construction of the Prince Rupert Highway which had its official opening just a year ago.

BARRETT WINS OVER YANKS

Six to Nothing Shut-Out in Friendly Softball Game

Holding the Intermediate Softball League champions, Acropolis M.P.'s to two hits in nine innings and striking out twelve bat weilders, Hank Burman pitched the Barrett Seniors to 6 to 0 triumph over their American opponents in a friendly soft ball game last night at Gyro Park.

The winners secured five of their six counters in the third frame on singles by Lipke, Burman, Gemmell, Root, Gerwinski and Tonczyk. The remaining run was scored on successive doubles by Scherle and Lipke.

Held hitless until the seventh inning, the M.P.'s never challenged Burman's mastery over them. The Americans' two singles were made by Rosterchuk, the pitcher, and Ambrose.

The score by innings follows:

Acropolis	000 000 000 -	0	2	0
Barrett	005 001 00x -	6	10	2

Batteries: Acropolis — Rosterchuk and Gauvin; Barrett—Burman and Bard.

TIGERS ARE FALTERING

Close Race Continues in Both Major Leagues

The Cleveland Indians struck another blow at Detroit's pennant hopes yesterday as they beat the Tigers 7-2. The Washington Senators took a double drubbing from the New York Yankees by tallies of 3-2 and 3-1. The Philadelphia Athletics split with the Boston Red Sox with the "A's" capturing the opener 6-3 but giving up the nightcap 4-2. The St. Louis-Chicago tilt was postponed.

In the National circuit, the St. Louis Cardinals narrowed the gap between them and the pace-setting Chicago Cubs to three games by toppling the Cubs 4-1. The Philadelphia Phillies shaded the Boston Braves 6-5 and the Pittsburgh Pirates edged Cincinnati's Reds by the same verdict, 6-5.

Here is today's schedule:

American League—
St. Louis at Chicago;

BOWLING IN FINALS NOW

Last night the semi-finals and final for the novice singles were played in the Canadian Recreation Lawn Bowling Club.

In the semi-finals Taylor beat Berner by a score of 15 to 4 and in the finals Hodges won over Taylor by a score of 18 to 6. Both games created considerable interest as they were well contested.

Thursday evening the Woodland Memorial cup was run off with the rink consisting of Judge, Berner, Frew and Skipper McDonald winning the trophy.

During the week-end holidays the McClymont Memorial Cup will take the form of an international Scotland versus all comers and the Benson Trophy will also be played for to wind up the season.

The Singles championship is expected to be finished next week. The green is in fine shape and weather permitting the committee hopes for a large turn-out.

SHORT SPORT

The Junior Softball League game scheduled for tonight between the Knights of Columbus and Wartime Housing has been postponed until next Thursday. The teams still have to play a sudden-death game to decide the junior softball championship of Prince Rupert and, for that matter, Northern B.C., since there are junior teams in no other centre in this area.

Doctor-Fiddler-Tar Active Forty Years

LONDON, Sept. 1 (CP) — Boyd Neel is a musician plus.

The musician part is proved by the fact that his string orchestra is about the best in Britain. The "plus" part is:

As a boy he longed to go to sea and trained as a midshipman. Eventually, however, the navy bored him and he went to Cambridge to study medicine. Then for a time he was general practitioner—but all the while he wanted to write music. When he found his amateur musical activities were taking up more time than his doctoring, he took the plunge and formed his own 17-piece orchestra.

And despite what he has packed into his life, Neel today is only 40.

REGIMENT ON TERRACE TRIP

Will Spend Labor Day Week-End on Manoeuvres in Interior

In four army trucks and a jeep, Major C. J. Toombs, officer commanding, with some 60 of the personnel of the Prince Rupert Regiment, rumbled off at mid-afternoon today to journey to Terrace for a week-end of maneouvres. Weather was fine and everything appeared auspicious for an active and pleasant outing to which the officers and men have been looking forward for some time. The unit will be quartered in the old army huts at Terrace. Return to the city is scheduled for Monday evening.

LUPPITT HONITON, Eng. (CP)—Miss Mary Jane Llewellyn Stamp, 86, aptly-named postmistress of the Devonshire town, has retired after 59 years in the postal service.

BRIGHTON, Sussex, Eng. (CP)—The Skylark, one of the "little" ships that served at Dunkerque, has come back to Brighton to resume her pre-war occupation of taking holiday-makers on pleasure trips.
