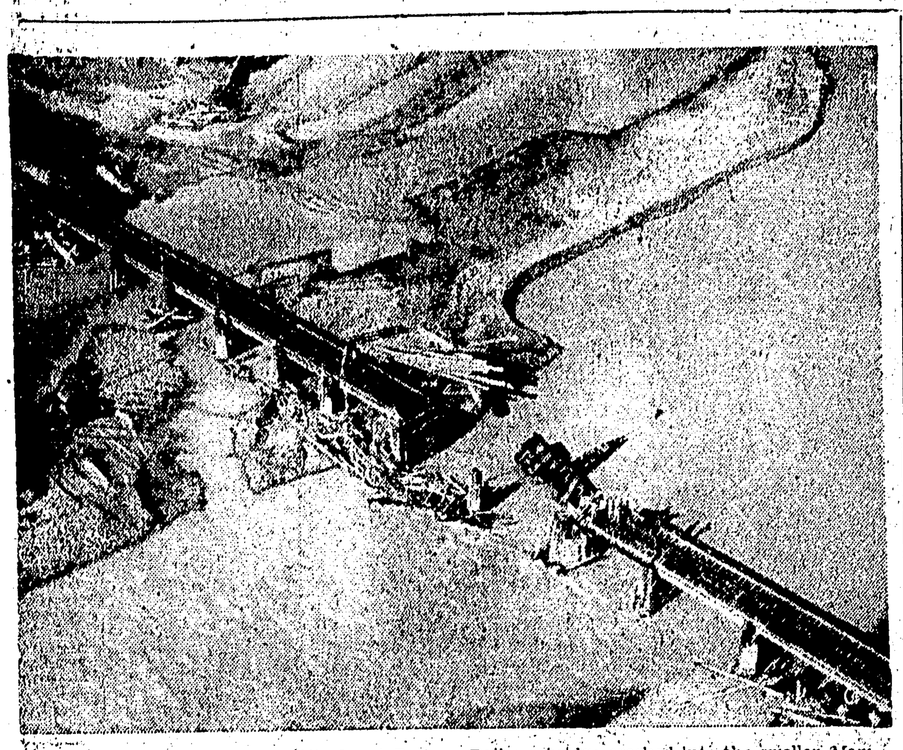
Slaughter's Three-Run Homer Gives Yanks First Series Win



A 60-FOOT section of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway bridge crashed into the swollen Mamquam River a half hour after a passenger train with 140 passengers crossed it. The span crumpled under the weight of a 35-ton crane clearing debris around the piling. The operator and another workman were uninjured. Service between Squamish, 40 miles north of Vancouver, and Lillooet, B.C. was halted more than a day. (CP Photo)

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Chief Urges Planning For Families, Sitters

October 7 to 13 will be observed throughout the country as Fire Prevention Week.

In a special message heralding the week, directed to all the citizens of Prince Rupert, Fire Chief Earl Becker today said that last year fire losses in the city of both life and property were higher than average.

The most heart-rending job of the fire department is the removal of charred child bodies from burned homes. Most of the parents had just "gone out for a minute," he stated.

In an all-out effort to reduce the fire death toll, Chief Becker gives these recommendations to families and baby sitters. Observing them could mean the difference between life and death.

● "Lady Luck was never meant to be a baby sitter. Leaving youngsters alone and helpless is one of the surest ways to lose them to fire. Be certain that your baby sitter is capable of protecting your children in an emergency.

● "Baby sitters and all children old enough to understand should be fire conscious. It is a good thing to hold little fire drills with them. Be sure they know all the exits and the most direct route from their rooms to the outside. Explain that it is quite all right to break windows with a chair or other object in order to get outside.

● "The baby sitter should know that at the first whiff of gas or smoke, she shouldn't waste time investigating. The best and safest thing she can do is get the children out of the house first of all. Tell her not to waste time dressing them but to wrap them up in a blanket or coat and get them out at once.

● "If she cannot reach your telephone safely and easily then tell her to call the fire department by pulling a fire alarm box, the location of which must be explained to her, or by using the telephone in a neighboring house.

● "Be sure the baby sitter knows where you are going, and how you may be reached in an emergency. Even if you are going to the theatre, the box office there will reach you.

● "Last winter, more than 50 Canadian children, four of them in Prince Rupert, and two in Port Edward, died in home fires —when their parents were out. In some cases, baby sitters died too. In one case, parents had left four children in the care of a 15-year-old who was mentally defective. In several others, parents were charged and convicted of criminal negligence when it was proved they had spent hours in beverage rooms, leaving the children to fend for themselves.

● "But most bereaved parents sorrowfully reported 'we just left the house for a minute . . .'

● "If anyone wishes help or advice in planning a fire drill in your home, phone the Fire Department—number 2211."

Truck-Train Collision Kills Three

MONTREAL (CP)— A truck-train collision at suburban Varennes Friday night killed three men and critically injured a 14-year-old boy.

Dead are: Gilles Langevin, 30; Adolph Brodeur, 50; Henri Dalpe, 27, all of Verchères.

Brodeur's 14-year-old son Alain, not found until two hours after the accident in which he was thrown 500 feet from the spot where the collision occurred, was in critical condition.

New Contest Underway Today

Daily News readers today get their first chance at winning some very valuable merchandise prizes as the city business-sponsored "Scrambled Names" contest gets under way.

The entire contest will run for five weeks, and each week three merchandise prizes will be given away. This week's prizes are: A woman's wrist watch, a mantel radio and a coffee percolator.

Required with each entry are contest slips which may be obtained upon purchase of $1 or more worth of merchandise from and of the business co-sponsoring the contest series. One contest slip will be issued on each purchase.

Judging will be based on correctness, neatness and originality of the entry.

In cases of ties, the number of contest slips sent in with the entry will be taken into consideration.

Once a contestant has won a prize in one of the weekly contests he is no longer eligible for prizes in further weekly contests, but should continue to submit entries as his bid for the grand prize of a combination radio-record player.

Closing date for this week's contest is October 15 at noon, and subsequent contests will close at noon Monday, seven days after the contest page for that week has been published.

Presentation of the prizes will probably be held at the Civic Centre at the close of the five week contest program.

Broken NCO To Be "Best Private"

PARRIS ISLAND (AP) — Staff Sergeant Matthew McKeon, greeted his court martial sentence review with the calm declaration that:

"I'll try to be the very best private in the Marine Corps."

The 31-year old ex-drill instructor who marched six Marine recruits to their death in a tidal creek here, last April 8 entered the Parris Island brig today.

His nine month prison sentence was cut to three months Friday by Navy Secretary Charles.

However, McKeon will only have to serve until November 4, because two months already have elapsed since he was sentenced by general court martial here.

McKeon's sentence as approved by the Navy secretary is the prison term and reduction to private.

Of this, McKeon said:

"I believe it is a very just sentence and a very fair sentence.

"I believed from the beginning I'd be down to private and I will try to be the very best private in the Marine Corps."

"I like to command troops and I'll never get to command troops again."

Gale Cuts City Wires To Outside

Communications Out 24 Hours

Prince Rupert remained virtually without communication with the "outside world" this afternoon, more than 24 hours after a southeast gale with winds up to 60 miles per hour, played havoc with telephone, telegraph, teletype and radio wires.

The storm which increased in intensity all yesterday afternoon and reached its peak about 6 p.m. dropped 45 telephone poles between here and Woodcock, about 180 miles by road east of the city. The wires went down about 3 p.m. both Canadian National Telegraphs and the Prince Rupert Telephone Department reported today. The CNR repeater station and city long distance telephone department reported five total failures in wire service between the city and Woodcock.

No telegraph service east or south has been possible since mid-yesterday afternoon and at press time the CN Telegraphs had more than 150 telegrams waiting to be sent the moment wire service is restored.

With no teletype or telegraph service available the only source of information The Daily News had today was a faint radio telephone conection with Canadian Press in Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands, over which a minimum of world news, including the World Series was obtained.

Unable to be received was the Old Country Soccer scores as by mid-afternoon the connection was still possible but operators were unable to hear Vancouver. Radio station CFPR has been without a CBC network connection since 3 p.m. yesterday.

The winds, accompanied by driving rain, tossed benches like cardboard around the Court House lawn and wrecked a garage on Atlin Avenue. Scores of city basements were flooded as .97 inches of rain fell in a six-hour period.

The west-bound CNR passenger train, due in last night was also a victim of the storm as was a Terrace-bound car. The train arrived about 6:30 a.m. today.

The train was halted by both

THE MUSEUM OF NORTHERN BRITISH COLUMBIA, above, will be centre of attraction this week as the local museum board observes National Museum Week from October 7 to 14. The museum, with its rich store of Northern British Columbia curios and examples of Native cluture, will be open to the public all week and will be the scene of an "Open House" next Sunday, October 14. On Wednesday October 10, the two prize winners in the Museum Week poster contest will be presnted. All children who took part in the contest have been asked to be present.

Five Saved, 3 Lost As Freighter Sinks

VANCOUVER (CP)—A small coastal freighter capsized and sank in Howe Sound about 16 miles northwest of Vancouver early today and a search was started for three missing crew members.

The wooden vessel Triggerfish, a converted American sub chaser, went down about 1 a.m. PST.

The weather office said winds were light.

Five survivors were picked up by the vessel Hornblower and were taken to the North Vancouver General hospital.

Survivors were identified as skipper Douglas Manuel, 20, of Richmond, B.C.; chief engineer Kenneth Davies, 31, Vancouver; deckhand George Robson, 35, Vancouver; cook Earl McCuaig, 41, Vancouver, and Hank Van Der Zee, believed to be an engineer from West Vancouver.

All but Van Der Zee were released from hospital after treatment for shock. He was reported suffering from a broken arm and exposure.

Eight ships and an RCAF Canso that took off from Vancouver at dawn today were searching for the missing men.

West Vancouver police said two of the missing men were sleeping below decks at the time of the sinking.

The ship was bound from Vancouver to ports on Howe Sound.

The owners, Tidewater Shipping Company Ltd., said they had few details on the accident but one report said shifting cargo was believed responsible.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The Bolivian government has announced that it sent 46 political prisoners into exile by plane Wednesday.

Ford Comes Back To Curb Dodgers

NEW YORK (AP)—Enos Slaughter, 40-year-old veteran of the baseball world, slammed a three-run homer in the sixth inning today to provide a 5-3 victory for the New York Yankees in the World Series and put the Bombers back into contention after they had dropped the first two games to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Whitey Ford, who lasted three innings as Brooklyn won the first game last Wednesday, pitched steady ball this time allowing eight hits. The loser was Roger Craig.

The fourth game of the Series will be played tomorrow at Yankee Stadium and Yankee manager Casey Stengel said Tom Sturdivant would pitch for the Yankees. Manager Walt Alston said Sal Maglie, winner of the opener, Carl Erskine or perhaps Clem Labine, who finished today's contest would hurl for Brooklyn.

The crowd of 73,977 today saw a ding-dong pitchers' duel for five innings between Ford and Craig, who started for Brooklyn but left for a pinch-hitter after Slaughter slammed his three-run blast in the sixth.

It was a direct contrast to the merry-go-round struggle that required a record three hours and 26 minutes on Friday when Brooklyn blasted seven Yankee hurlers to a 13-8 defeat.

A single run by Brooklyn opened the scoring in the top of the second. The Yankees got it back quickly in their half when Billy Martin drove his second home run of the series into the lower seats in left field.

The Yankees' big inning came in the sixth.

After Brooklyn took a 2-1 lead with a single run in the top of the sixth, the American league champions boomed back with three in the bottom half.

Brooklyn added another run in the seventh and the Yankees scored one more in the bottom of the eighth.

Another Gale Heading Here

Another storm, forming to the southwest is expected to reach the north coast region by midday tomorrow bringing a large quantity of rain and winds to gale force. Winds tonight 20 mph frequently 30 mph and decreasing to 15 over night. Sunday mostly cloudy and expected high winds. Monday's forecast, mostly cloudy with rain.

Deane "Keen" For John As Leader

VANCOUVER (CP) — Deane Finlayson, leader of the Progressive Conservative party in British Columbia, came out Friday night for John Diefenbaker as national party leader.

"I think the election of Mr. Diefenbaker . . . would be applauded by Canadians from coast to coast," he said in an interview.

"He possesses qualities of leadership and would make a great prime minister."

Eden, Wife In Hospital With Fever

LONDON (AP) — Both Prime Minister Eden and his wife were confined to hospital today.

The 59-year old Eden was stricken with a fever Friday while he was visiting his wife in University College hospital. She had been admitted a few hours earlier for a dental checkup.

The disclosure that Eden was ill came today from No. 10 Downing Street.

NO PAPER MONDAY

The Daily News will not publish Monday as along with other businesses, stores, government offices and banks, the staff of the paper observes the Thanksgiving holiday. Publication will resume Tuesday.

The Post office, Monday, will have all its wickets, except that for money orders, open for business between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. The box lobby will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All outgoing and incoming mail will be handled as usual but there will be no house delivery of mail.

Pickup Service Scheduled For Members of Militia

A pick-up run for transportation to the Armories will go into operation commencing Thursday, October 11, for members of the 120th Troop of the Fifth West Coast Harbor Defence Battery RCA, (M).

The army vehicle, to be driven by Bombadier William Martin, will drive along the route from gun shed along Second Avenue to Atlin, along Atlin to Seventeenth Street, along Seventeenth Street to Second, returning along Second to Borden and up Borden to Sixth and to the armories. From Armories to McBride then to Conrad along Eleventh Avenue and over to Sixth East and up to Seal Cove and back to the armories via Sixth and Fifth past the hospital.

Personnel wishing to take advantage of the transportation plan should be at street corners along the route at time shown below. The vehicle will maintain schedule so members are urged to be punctual.

Schedule:

Leave Gun Shed at 7:20 p.m. Arrive at west end Section Two Bridge 7:25 p.m. Armories 7:30 p.m.; Conrad school, 7:35 p.m.; Seal Cove, 7:40 p.m.; Sixth Avenue bridge, 7:45 p.m. and back to Armories at 7:50 p.m.

The shoot planned for this weekend has been cancelled in view of the memorial services Sunday afternoon being held for Col. Cyrus W. Peck, VC.

Parade scheduled for Monday, October 8, will be cancelled due to Thanksgiving holiday.

Two Youths Recaptured After Escape From Lockup

Two juvenile boys who escaped from the RCMP lockup at Port Edward last night in the midst of a 60 miles per hour gale, were back in custody less than four hours later, RCMP reported today.

The pair, two 15-year-olds from Ketchikan, Alaska, appeared in juvenile court this afternoon charged with theft of a gillnetter and were scheduled to be transferred to adult court in Prince Rupert later today. An added charge of escaping lawful custody is expected to be laid.

Police said that the pair, originally picked up last Monday after a gillnetter was taken from the dock at Port Edward, were also being held for Alaskan authorities in connection with a boat theft in which they made their way to Prince Rupert. It is reported that the boat they arrived in was wrecked on the rocks near Port Edward.

At about 6:15 last night, police said, when Constable Kenneth Sutherland of the Port Edward detachment was carrying trays of food to the youths, the pair rushed past him, out into the bush near the RCMP building.

A call to Prince Rupert saw five members of the city RCMP detachment rush to Port Edward and nearly 30 Port Edward residents co-operated with the police in launching a manhunt in the midst of the 60 m.p.h. gale which had blown in from the southeast.

For nearly four hours the 35-man search party scoured the rain-and-wind pelted hillside above Port Edward for the pair who were clad in blue jeans and a sweater and windbreaker, respectively.

About 10 p.m. the pair walked out of the bush near the detachment building and gave themselves up.

Arriving today from Ketchikan was Sgt. Bradshaw of the Alaska Territorial police in connection with possible charges pending in the Alaska centre.

Film To Be Shown Here October 12 Shows Work of CARS Across Canada

"Never Surrender" a 27-minute sound and color film depicting the work of any of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society's eight Divisions across Canada, will be shown in Prince Rupert in the Civic Centre main lounge, October 12.

The story tells how a young girl, stricken with rheumatoid arthritis, overcame her fears, and fought to regain her health.

Bill Buckingham, actor and producer of Vancouver's Theatre Under the Stars, plays the part of the doctor and is narrator throughout the film. His wife Doris Buckingham, also well known on radio and television, is the girl's mother. Canadian Broadcasting Corporation actress Joyce Newman, plays the part of the stricken girl and TV actor Andy Snider, her fiance.

The supporting cast is made up of the professional staff of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, B.C. Division, its patients and some of the many volunteer workers who assist CARS.

Besides having entertainment value the film shows the extent of the work being done by CARS. It gives factual information about arthritis and rheumatism and will encourage those who suspect they have arthritis to seek medical advice early.

BILL BUCKINGHAM . . . Stars in CARS film.

Although filmed almost entirely in British Columbia, the film will be used by all CARS divisions across Canada and show how treatment can be arranged in remote centres far from a hospital.

The Prince Rupert branch of CARS is staging a fund appeal October 15, under the chairmanship of H. Weldon Stuel, to finance the CARS clinic set-up early this year in the Prince Rupert General hospital and to give financial assistance to patients in the district.

Miss Mary Pack, executive secretary of CARS will be in Prince Rupert October 11 and 12 to give lectures and address the Prince Rupert Rotary club at its luncheon meeting Thursday. She will also attend at a free public showing of "Never Surrender." Prior to arriving here, Miss Pack will visit Terrace, October 8, 9 and 10 where she will conduct a campaign on October 9 and 10, with the assistance of the Terrace Rotary club. At that time Terrace residents will have an opportunity to see the CARS film.

HOW good God is to me, he said,
For have I not a mansion tall,
With trees and lawns of velvet tread,
And happy helpers at my call?
With beauty is my life abrim,
With tranquil hours and dreams apart;
You wonder that I yield to Him
That best of prayers, a grateful heart?

How good God is to me, he said,
For look! Though gone is all my wealth,
How sweet it is to earn one's bread
With brawny arms and brimming health.
Oh, now I know the joy of strife!
To sleep so sound, to wake so fit.
Ah yes, how glorious is life!
I thank Him for each day of it.

How good God is to me, he said;
Though health and wealth are gone, it's true;
Things might be worse, I might be dead,
And here I'm living, laughing too.
Serene beneath the evening sky
I wait, and every man's my friend;
God's most contented man am I . . .
He keeps me smiling to the End.

Anti-Strap Fad

DESPITE what many psychiatrists, psychologists and parents contend to the contrary, there is much in the old adage about sparing the rod and spoiling the child.

Without use of the strap in school in the past, the land would be filled with more criminals, no-goods and other types of misfits than it is today. Few children, even among the bravest, can truthfully claim they are not frightened of it. And many an adult, looking back on his school days, is thankful that it was used to correct his ways of misdemeanor which, otherwise, may have been carried into later life.

It is understandable, then, that teachers in Timmins, Ont., have launched a campaign opposing the ban placed on the strap by school boards, principals and inspectors. It is, they say, their only means of discipline, and, without it the pupils are not frightened of anybody.

—The Halifax Chronicle-Herald.

Too Literal

ANYONE who takes seriously the more ridiculous aspects of female garb shouldn't expect to be taken literally.

But there's a tale going around of one male who cracks down on the women of his family with a smirk of real satisfaction. He picks occasions when he knows his action is duly noted and disliked but cannot be argued with.

He simply refuses to offer any gallantries to women wearing blue jeans. He doesn't open doors for them, pick up things they drop or stand up when they enter the room. At the dinner table he is careful to hold the chair for a lady in skirts. He ignores the lady in jeans.

—The Cornwall Standard-Freeholder.

All Aboard

By G. E. MORTIMORE

When the atomic bomb first swaggered on the world scene, everybody shrank away in horror.

Now some people are beginning to treat the bomb like an old friend that may have uncouth manners, but is really a good creature at heart, and doesn't mean any harm.

Britain set off the big bang recently at her Australian proving-ground. The display did not impress Major-General Ivan Dougherty, New South Wales chief of civil defence, who said that an underground shelter with three feet of earth or concrete in the roof would give ample protection.

Panic is the chief danger, he said.

Maj.-Gen. Dougherty reminds me of the sort of man who keeps assuring people that his large, grim-looking dog is the gentlest beast alive, and wouldn't hurt a flea.

As the man speaks, his old pal charges at you with jungle ferocity and clamps a death-grip on the fat part of your leg.

"That's strange," the man says, "I never knew him to do that before. I'm very sorry."

You may accept his apology, but it is too late to get your leg back.

We feel the same about Maj.-Gen. Dougherty and the atom-tamers who have learned to know and love the nuclear bomb.

We're just a bunch of poor old laymen, but a lot of us still believe that the bomb can bite.

Even if we accept the assertion that a dugout with a three-foot roof is a safe haven—which is probably wrong—there is still room for grave doubts.

Few shelters exist. And if they did exist, how many people would be in them when the bomb burst? The atom may hit a nation without warning, either from an intercontinental missle that goes thousands of miles an hour, or from a box planted in a ship, or a suitcase.

Thanks all the same, general. With due respect to your knowledge, some of us would rather take the word of Professor Einstein, who warned that atomic war meant race suicide.

Ex-Cabinet Minister Offers To Buy Schools

PENTICTON (CP)—A former B.C. cabinet minister who has offered to buy three Roman Catholic parochial schools for $15,000 said Thursday he is "opposed to separate schools."

The schools, valued at almost $300,000 and attended by some 800 children, have been threatened with seizure by Coquitlam Municipality, 22 miles east of Vancouver, because the Catholic School board owes $10,000 in taxes on them. R. G. MacDonald, municipal affairs minister in the former Coalition government, said that:

"If I owned the schools I could make a better statement but I believe the Catholic School board and the Municipality will come to some kind of an agreement."

Asked what he would do with the schools if he was able to purchase them, Mr. MacDonald said "I have certain developments in mind."

He said the question of buying the schools and then returning them to the school board has "been a consideration but I do not know which school board would get the schools.

"I am opposed to separate schools." He deposited a $15,000 cheque with the municipality last Monday but municipal council has not yet decided whether to accept it.

Execution Stay Granted Pair

VANCOUVER (CP)—A stay of execution was ordered Thursday by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson for Joe Gordon 34, and James Carey, 26, sentenced to death for the murder of Constable Gordon Sinclair last December.

The new date is November 20. The two were scheduled to hang October 16. The appeal court has reserved decision on an appeal by Carey. Gordon's appeal was turned down last week and he is considering whether to appeal further.

Woman Jurist Writes Book On Delinquency

Special To The Daily News

NEW YORK—The rapid spread of juvenile delinquency in recent years has become the cause of growing alarm among the responsible citizens of both Canada and the United States—both as a national problem and as something affecting their personal lives and the health of their communities. Now a respected U.S. woman jurist has written a book out of her personal experience that helps explain how and why children become delinquents and what the courts are doing to help them. To be published October 15, it is called "Other People's Children" (The Ronald Press Company). The author is Anna Judge Veters Levy.

Recalling her eight years on the bench of a New Orleans juvenile court, Judge Levy describes the shocking procession of unhappy children she has come to know. From thousands of cases she has selected the stories of typical unlucky youngsters, recounting the dramatic details as they unfolded in court.

As more and more cases are seen through Judge Levy's sympathetic eyes, a clearer understanding of delinquency grows. She shows that the children who appear in our courts are usually victims of circumstances—of unhappy homes or inadequate institutions charged to care for them. Above all, she shows they are not "other people's children;" they might be yours or mine.

Eisenhower Against Move To Cut Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday he does not regard as entirely wise the U.S. constitutional amendment that bars a third presidential term.

Eisenhower, making no attempt to apply his remarks to his own case, said he believes that by and large the American people should be able to choose as president anybody they want, regardless of the number of terms.

He told a press conference that there have been objections that this might concentrate power in one individual. But he said he has the utmost confidence in the long-range judgment of the American people.

Eisenhower, under questioning said he likes campaigning—that he likes to get out and see the people instead of just getting reports.

LETTERBOX

REPORT UNFAIR

The Editor,
The Daily News.

The right to criticize is one of the cardinal principles upon which our democratic system of government is based. Not only is it a right, it is a privilege.

During the last two decades millions of men have willingly sacrificed their lives for its maintenance. But like all other privileges, the use of it entails certain responsibilities.

Among other things criticism must be fair; it must be constructive and must be based on fact. Unless so based it hinders rather than helps the democratic progress. In particular this is true of criticism by such public organizations as our Chamber of Commerce. By wise and constructive criticism, such organizations can add immeasurably to the welfare of the community. But by abusing this prerogative by unfair criticism such organizations can detract from the value of their own constructive work in the future.

I have in mind the reference of the chairman of the highway committee of our local Chamber of Commerce to Highway 16 between Galloway Rapids and Rainbow Lake as 'quagmire' as reported in Tuesday's issue of your paper under large type headline.

Mr. Editor, I had occasion to travel that part of our Highway Saturday night and instead of finding it a 'quagmire', found the road in better shape than I can remember it ever having been at this time of year.

Some years ago, station operators in Prince George area were soundly criticized by our local Chamber for allegedly giving erroneous reports on the condition of Highway 16 to the detriment of our local tourist trade. I submit that that absolutely untrue report on Tuesday will do a lot of harm to the operators of Rainbow Lake Lodge and that a public statement on the part of our Chamber would be in order.

May I suggest to the chairman of the highway committee that there is undoubtedly lots of valid criticism which can be levelled at the Provincial Department of Highways.

But that statements such as the one I have referred to are to put it mildly, not factual, will only cast doubt on the validity of other criticism.

No doubt some of the members of our local chamber are unaware that the Provincial election is now over and that making misstatements and slinging mud have not proven to be overly effective weapons in our modern democratic society.

However, for the common good, the Chamber of Commerce will do well to firmly dissassociate itself from any further extension of the late election campaign.

H. E. E. FAURE,
Prince Rupert.

PROFESSIONAL MEN POOR AS DRIVERS SAYS OFFICIAL

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Lawyers, doctors and scientists make worse automobile drivers than persons of low mentality, says Arthur L. Berlin, chairman of the school driver education program here.

"The man who drives while thinking of his business is a poor driver, while the man with low mental ability won't be thinking about much of anything," he said at a state traffic safety conference.

"THE GRACE OF GRATITUDE"

Monday is Thanksgiving Day, part of the last long weekend of the summer season and thousands of Canadians will journey to summer cottages for the last trip this year, while many others will put on storm windows, clean up gardens, etc., in preparation for winter.

In the midst of all our activities let us not forget to give thanks to God for His blessings of the past year. The harvest of land and sea is in, and once more the bins and storehouses are full to overflowing with the produce of God's creation. Once again God has been faithful in His ordaining of the seasons.

We are often inclined to take God's faithfulness for granted in this matter of the seasons. Oh, that man were as faithful in the matter of giving thanks! We are always ready to blame God for every disaster which strikes mankind. Are we equally as ready to give Him credit for all the gifts and blessings He has showered upon us? If you take time to set down all the things you have to be thankful for against those things you wish God had not sent to you, I am sure that the positive will far outweight the negative.

Such being the case, let us not forget to give thanks to God tomorrow at our Thanksgiving church services.

One of the finest human qualities is that of gratitude. It is one of the divine characteristics which separates us from the animal kingdom. The wild animal kills and devours its prey in the jungle without any thought of gratitude, merely satisfying the desires of its stomach or the lust to kill. When man loses the grace of gratitude, he sinks toward the level of the beast.

The human being who has not learned the art of giving thanks is to be pitied. And the taproot of all thankfulness is gratitude to God for the gift of life with all its opportunities and hazards. The keynote of Christian worship is that of praise and thanksgiving to God for all his mercies. Especially we thank Him for the great gift of His Son, Jesus Christ, who loved us and gave Himself for us on the cross.

"Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." (1 Cor. 15: 57.)

Rotarians Give $600 To School

The sum of $600 will be given to the Prince Rupert school for retarded children it was decided Thursday night when 50 couples attended the Rotary club's dinner-meeting, in honor of Rotary International District Governor Ralph Bartholomew, of Ketchikan.

Mr. Bartholomew on an official visit here, accompanied by Mrs. Bartholomew, addressed local Rotarians at the Prince Rupert Aero club.

He spoke on the international aspects of Rotary, its good fellowship and particularly the Foundation from which 880 university graduate students from many countries to date have been awarded scholarships.

This year 90 men and 32 women have won these scholarships from 24 lands, Mr. Bartholomew said. He also spoke on Rotary's concern in assisting thousands of children who arrive in Hong Kong from the Chinese mainland and the interest CARE has in these destitute children.

In other business, two new members, A. S. Cooper and R. B. Davis were officially inducted by the district governor.

President A. Donald Ritchie thanked Mr. Bartholomew for his address, welcomed visiting guests and thanked the officers, directors, committee chairmen and members for their support in making the club a success.

Following the dinner meeting members and guests enjoyed dancing.

Dance Staged by Air Cadets Termed Most Successful Yet

More than 250 swinging youngsters jammed the Armories Hall last night, jiving and dancing to rock 'n' roll music in what was termeo the most successful dance of its kind ever sponsored by Prince Rupert Air Cadet Squadron 559.

Well organized and attended, the dance was staged solely by the youngsters.

Members of the other two service cadets as well as school students were invited.

A tap dancing display by Georgina Ferguson, Dana Peterson, Jackie Halliwell and Camille Lindseth was well received. Keith DeWitt was the pianist. Refreshments were provided by the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Cadet Squadron.

Marjorie Beach on Job As Program Director

The new program director for the Civic Centre is 39-year old Marjorie Beach, a qualified draughtsman and a talented woman besides.

She succeeds Rusty Thain, last year's program director who has left to take up residence in Vancouver.

Mrs. Beach, wife of Booth Memorial High School bookkeeping and mathematics teacher, arrived recently from Trinidad, British West Indies and will supervise and conduct junior programs for young Civic Centre members as well as teach junior crafts.

Programs under Mrs. Beach's direction will be Pre-School handicraft for children 3 to 6 years; junior playground from 6 to 12 years; junior painting for children 6 to 12 years; Teen-age painting for the 13 to 15 year olds; tea-time crafts; Junior Story hour for 6 to 12-year olds; Junior drama for those 8 to 12 years; Pre-school Rhythm band and story hour and roller-skating.

Full Civic Centre programming gets underway next week.

Food Shorts

The tawny color and tangy flavor of apricot whole fruit nectar make it a favorite ingredient for molded autumn salads. Bananas, grapes and plump pieces of cooked prunes make a tasty combination of fruits to mold in a nectar gelatin base accented with a little cinnamon.

Prepared cooked chocolate pie filling according to package directions. Stir miniature marshmallows and coarsely chopped walnuts into the hot filling. Turn into a baked pastry shell for a handsome and delectable "rocky road" pie.

Canned cling peaches topped with creme de caçao are truly party fare. Serve the fruit at room temperature to get th full flavor of the luscious peaches. Pass coconut macaroons with them.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mrs. Keen Makes Grand Slam By Using Right Finesse

With typical optimism, Miss Brash pictured her partner's hand as containing a club suit of at least five cards, headed by ace-queen-jack. That would enable her to discard any red suit losers she might have.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	7 ♠	All Pass

The actual cards laid down by Mr. Abel were a considerable disappointment to her, although she gave no outward sign of it. Mr. Meek was afraid to lead away from either of his honors in the minor suits and chose the eight of hearts for his opening.

Dummy's nine went on, Mr. Champion played the jack and Miss Brash won with the ace. Even she did not know at this point that the hand could be made by choosing to finesse against a five spot rather than against a king.

She took three rounds of trumps, ending on the board and led back the nine of hearts. Mr. Champion covered with the queen and the king won. Mr. Meek dropping the seven. Unless Mr. Meek was false-carding (something he practically never does), Mr. Champion now had left the five and trey of hearts.

Disdaining the obvious diamond finesse, Miss Brash led to the ace of that suit, returned the deuce of hearts and put in the four when Mr. Champion followed suit with the trey. She then cashed the six of hearts and discarded the queen of diamonds from dummy. She ruffed her last diamond and claimed the balance.

Mr. Champion appeared to be fighting to retain his sanity. He kept mumbling over and over, "bidding a grand slam that depends on a finesse against a lousy five spot."

"Well, somebody had to have the five of hearts," said Miss Brash brightly. "It was either you or Mr. Meek. It was a 50-50 chance."

"50-50?" screamed Mr. Champion. "What were the odds I would have both the queen and jack of hearts and that Meek would have specifically the eight-seven doubleton? I suppose if you held what you should have held for your bid, namely the king of diamonds and the queen of hearts, you'd have bid seventeen spades."

"I might have," grinned Miss Brash. "But why get so excited over one little finesse?"

Tribute Paid Little Loop Progress As Young Ball Players End Season

"They'll never learn," was the rather pessimistic prediction of one of the original coaches of Little League baseball when it started up in Prince Rupert four years ago.

It was uttered thoughtlessly and inconsiderately, after he surveyed the youngsters before him—youngsters who didn't know the first thing about pitching or hitting and even a few who didn't know which end to hold the bat. But they are the same youngsters who hurled and swung their way up the ladder of ability so that today they are recognized as baseball potentials in every sense of the word.

Such is Little League. A collection of enthusiastic youngsters all shapes and sizes.

And such was the description of Little League baseball yesterday and today as Art Williamson knows—the man described as having done more for Little League promotion in the city than anyone else.

Paying tribute to the Sea Kings, this year's winners of the Wasyk trophy under the leadership of captain John Scuby, Mr. Williamson told a crowd of more than a 100 boisterous youngsters: "If you won you won. If you lost—you lost. But of all you played ball.

Thirty young ball players received their certificates at the Annual Little League banquet last night in the Canadian Legion auditorium. They will move up to Pony League next year.

Acting mayor, T. Norton Youngs who issued the certificates, told the boys the main reason they were bound together was because of team work.

"Little League has progressed all over the country and has developed not only good ball players—but good citizens. The mayor and city council congratulate you," he said.

W. C. Hankinson, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation manager for radio station CFPR, told the youngsters that to get ahead whether in baseball or business, "you've got to be smart." Team work is not good unless you yourself are good, he said to the boys.

"Although there is only one sport on the face of the earth that exceeds all the others, it is so much better when well-organized. To accomplish this we must work with the team and adhere to the rules," he advised.

Little League has come far this year and now ranks as one of the top leagues in the province. Tribute for the advance goes to managers and coaches Doug Kerr, Doug Walker and Art Ogilvie of Sea Kings; Jack Sparks, Terry McNiece, Joe Arseneau of Shop Easy; Dick Boyle, Kenny Warren of North Stars and Gordy Cameron; Joe Griesel and Don Cameron of Kinsmen.

The banquet was provided, prepared and served by mothers of Little Leaguers.

Shuttle Play Outlined For Season

Civic Centre Badminton Club will start this season's play Wednesday, October 10, and will continue on Wednesday evenings and Sunday afternoons throughout the season, it was announced today.

At a meeting held last night the following officers were elected to the club's executive:

Bruce Mills, president; Steve King, vice president; and Miss Miz Aral, secretary-treasurer.

On the games committee are Bob Tough, Bill Donaldson, Stan Vickerman, Miss Frances Cross, Nick Pavlikis and George Viereck.

Social committee members are: Miss Pat Morrisey, Pete Moroz, Mrs. S. Dominato. Alf Bell is membership chairman.

On October 17 the first "refreshment night" will be held and a "get-acquainted tournament is scheduled for October 24.

Woodpeckers Play Havoc At Ball Field

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — It's going to cost $692 to fix up what woodpeckers did at Bennett Park's athletic field.

The tackhammer beaks of the birds ruined a 70-foot pole supporting a light standard, and Richard Tash, grounds superintendent, told county supervisors it will cost $482 for resetting the lights, $150 for a new pole and $60 for putting up the new pole.

Lumley Quits Black Hawks

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (CP) Goaltender Harry Lumley, a veteran of 12 seasons in the National Hockey League, left Chicago Black Hawks' training camp Friday night because of a contract dispute.

Lumley, traded to Hawks earlier this year by Toronto Maple Leafs, said there was "no personal disagreement with club officials at all . . . just a disagreement over contract."

He returned to his home in Owen Sound, Ont.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

Duke Snider became the first Brooklyn Dodger to hit three home runs in a world series when he powdered one with sacks empty in the sixth inning of the sixth game against the Yankees four years ago today. But the Yanks won that one by 3-2, and took the series by four games to three in the final game next day.
