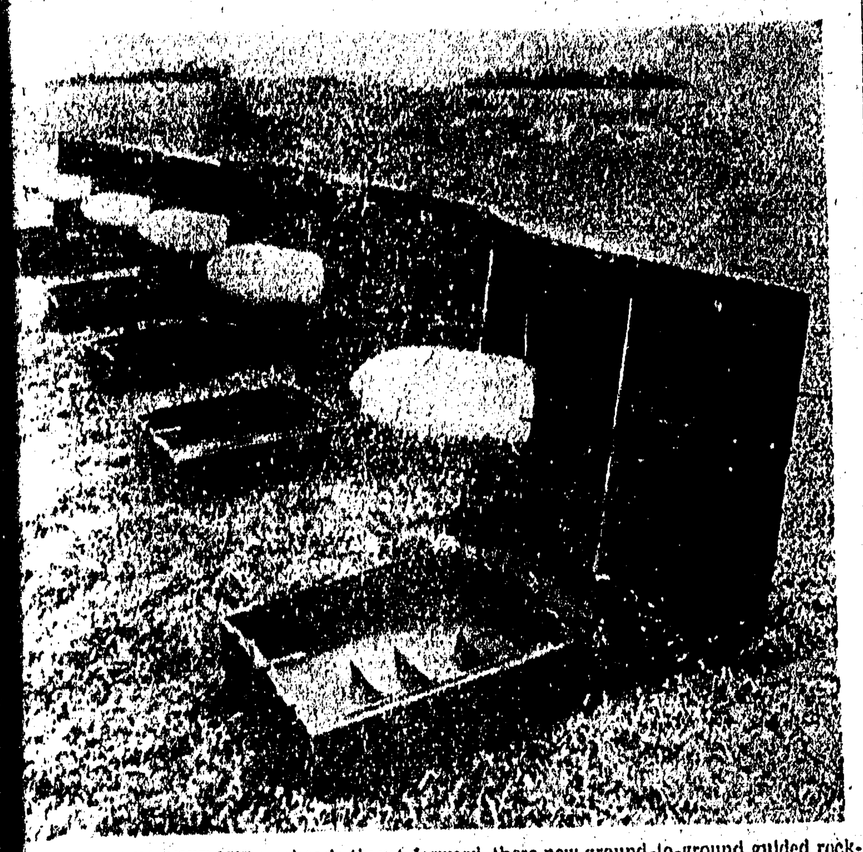
Senators On Narcotics Probe Applaud Addict For Testimony



IN THEIR TREACHEROUS warheads thrust forward, these new ground-to-ground guided rocket-missiles tested by the French Army seem to be straining at the leash. Army officials claim that these new death-dealers can pierce any known type of armor plate. Like their aerial counterparts, they will be electrically launched and kept on the beam by electronic experts. However, instead of being used against aircraft they will be directed against tanks, half-tracks and other ground war machinery. Their carrying cases serve also as launching platforms.

No Regulations Changes For 1955 Halibut Fishery

The International Pacific Halibut Commission this week distributed first copies of the Pacific Halibut Fishery regulations.

No changes have been made from decisions announced earlier in the year and the regulations this year do not differ materially from those of 1954.

As recently announced, the opening date of Area 2 and Area 3A is May 12.

Earliest date for validation of halibut fishing licences for Area 2 is May 10.

For Area 3A validation at ports outside the area will be allowed on May 7.

First season in both areas will end by announcement when each area catch limit is taken.

Second season in Area 2 and 3A will start July 27 and end on August 3 in Area 2 and on August 5 in Area 3A.

The department of fisheries said that in the unlikely event of the first fishing season in Area 2 or Area 3A not ending by July 17, some of the above dates will be changed.

Catch limits are placed on Areas 2 and 3A only.

These are unchanged from 1954: 26,500,000 pounds from Area 2 and 28,000,000 pounds from Area 3A.

All weights refer to dressed, with heads off.

RADIANT QUEEN ELIZABETH above, is 29 years old today, and this year is able to celebrate her birthday with her family. Official celebration of Her Majesty's birthday is held in June on a date proclaimed by Parliament.

Witness Describes Craving For Drugs

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eleven Canadian senators applauded a drug addict here Wednesday as he told his story under cover of a promise of anomymity.

He was one of nine witnesses heard by the special Senate Committee on narcotics addiction, which winds up hearings here Friday with a visit to Oakalla prison farm.

The tall, emaciated addict was introduced by Magistrate Thomas Dohm of Vancouver, himself a key witness at the hearing.

He said he used five to six capsules heroin a day and had served two prison terms. He was 27 years old.

Mr. Dohm examined the addict:

Q—Did you ever think of durgs in prison?

A—As long as my mind was occupied, no. But it seemed to come up every day.

Q—What happened when you got out?

BACK ON DRUGS

A—I tried to keep away from drugs, but I just can't fight the urge. I went back, gradually. I've had a couple of jobs, but I couldn't hold them. I could have if I'd had narcotics.

Q—Do you ever get hungry?

A—Yes.

Q—If you have money for food or drugs what do you buy.

A—I have to buy drugs.

Q—Why did you start?

A—I was curious. I was serving a sentence for car theft and I heard about drugs in prison. I tried it when I got out. I was 16.

COSTLY HABIT

Q—What is the daily cost of your habit?

A—Between $20 and $30 a day.

Senator J. P. Howden, a doctor from St. Boniface, Man. broke in to ask "If you had a reasonable supply of drugs, could you work?"

"Oh, yes, quite well," was the reply.

Mr. Dohm asked "would you like to have a family?"

A—Yes, I'd like to have a home, family and a job. I'd like to be like other people.

Q—How do you sleep?

A—There is no rest for a drug adict, no peace of mind.

Claims He Is Incurable

Q—Could you cure yourself?

A—I wouldn't want to speak for other addicts, I wouldn't want to say an adict is incurable. Some people have rebuilt their will. As for myself, I know I'm incurable. You know at night in the penitentiary when the craving comes back.

Q—Have there been any attempts to rehabilitate you?

A—No. The John Howard societies gave me a couple of meal tickets.

Senator Nancy Hodges of Victoria ended the interlude when she said: "I don't think it's fair to subject this young gentleman to any further inquisition."

Senator Thomas Reid of New Westminster, B.C., chairman, agreed: "We have subjected him to a lot of questions and he answered very well."

The senators pounded their desks as the adict walked back to sit in the public gallery.

He had been on the stand for 25 minutes.

Another witness, RCMP Harold Price, head of the RCMP drug squad in Vancouver, said more emphasis should be placed on the criminal background of addicts if a successful cure is to be found.

DOUBLE PROBLEM

"In essence, a criminal addict as the adjective implies, a criminal first and an addict second," Sgt. Price said. "Should the addiction factor be removed, then we are still faced with the original problem—that of a criminal."

Sgt. Price told the senators that no trafficking ring in this area "has gone unearthed" in his 21-man squad's war on distributors.

Despite this, he said, there has been no letup in the illicit traffic, because "it is too lucrative a field for criminals to vacate."

K. Prime Minister ected Tory Leader

NDON (Reuters) — Conive party officials today mously elected Prime Min- Eden as their party leader first such vote in nearly rs.

Winston Churchill, whom succeeded two weeks ago, ected party leader in Octo- 940 — five months after over the wartime prem- lership from Neville Chamberlain.

Simultaneous with the party election, it was announced that Churchill will cut short his Sicilian vacation and fly home next Tuesday to contest his seat as an ordinary member of Parliament in the May 26 general election. He has represented Woodford, a north London suburb, for 30 years.

Clement Attlee, leader of the Opposition, flew home this morning from a curtailed visit to Canada to get the Labor party campaign under way.

The 72-year-old former prime minister travelled 8,000 miles from Vancouver in two days — and within a few minutes of landing here was on his way to discuss election plans with his party's national executive.

"We have a very good chance of winning," Attlee told reporters.

"We are always confident."

The election was going to be "a good fight," and his party's election plans would be announced shortly.

Cause of the derailment is still undetermined.

Queen Charlotte City Hospital Given Approval

Official approval has been given by the Board of Home Missions of the United Church of Canada in Toronto, for the construction of a $250,000 hospital at Queen Charlotte City on Graham Island, it was learned here today.

Also announced was the appointment of Dr. W. J. Craymer of Western Hospital to the United Church Mission hospital at Bella Bella as assistant to Dr. George Darby. Dr. M. A. Flock of Southampton, Ontario, has accepted an appointment to the mission hospital at Bella Coola, where he will act as superintendent.

The new hospital at Queen Charlotte City, with Dr. Donald Watt in charge, will provide for 20 beds and will replace the old Skidegate Inlet Hospital, which was condemned as unfit by the fire marshal three years ago.

Excavation work on the new hospital site is already well underway.

Approval for the hospital construction sees fulfillment of a three-year drive by the United Church under Rev. Lloyd Hooper, president of the hospital board and Dr. Watt, hospital administrator.

Contributing to the fund drive for which nearly $90,000 was needed, were three logging firms, fishing companies, the United Church women's organizations, various community groups and the federal governments.

The new hospital, to be known as the Queen Charlotte Islands General Hospital, will be a concrete and wood structure, one-story high with facilities for x-ray units and laboratory. It will house hospital and nurses quarters and will have facilities for extension.

Follow-Up Clinic Set For Vaccine

Public health officials announced today that a "follow up" clinic will be held at the Skeena Health Unit for all those children who were missed in the innoculation program, held at Prince Rupert and district schools this week.

Date of the extra clinic will be set after the second shots of Salk vaccine are given next week, Miss Helene Boehme said today.

Some 426 pre-school and Grade One pupils received their first innoculations and 34 who had registered for the shots failed to show up due to sickness or other reasons, Miss Boehme said.

Second innoculations will be given starting next Monday and parents and children are to keep the same appointments as they did for the initial shot, the public health nurse said.

Today, public health nurse, Miss Marian Williams is innoculating children at Port Essington.

Monday children pre-school and Grade One pupils from Seal Cove and Conrad Street school will be innoculated at Conrad School in the morning and King Edward pre-schoolers and first graders in the afternoon. A clinic will be set up again at Annunciation School Tuesday for those who were innoculated there, while next Wednesday registered Port Edward children will be innoculated. Thursday, Port Essington children will receive their second innoculation.

Third innoculations of the anti-polio program will be given starting May 23. Those who were missed in the first innoculation will be given their shots between April 26 and May 23.

Commission And BCE Effect Deal

VICTORIA (CP) — A threatened power rights dispute between private and public hydro-electric interests in British Columbia was avoided Wednesday through a multi-million dollar deal between the B.C. Electric Co. and the government-owned B.C. Power Commission.

The deal, involving power rights on Vancouver Island and the Sechelt peninsula, was announced at a hearing called by the public utilities commission to settle a dispute over power rights on the peninsula.

The agreement calls for the power commission to pull out of the Sechelt peninsula which it had served since 1945, and in return B.C. Electric will give the commission sole rights to Vancouver Island north of a line running eastwest through Duncan, 40 miles north of here.

The commission's $2,000,000 investment on the peninsula — about 30 miles northwest of Vancouver between Howe Sound and Jervis Inlet — will be purchased by BCE.

The commission will purchase BCE's two 132,000 kilowatt transmission lines running from Nanaimo to Duncan. Cost of the lines was not disclosed.

The agreement ended a dispute between the two power concerns over a BCE proposal to construct a $4,500,000 transmission line from Squamish at the head of Howe sound to the pulp and paper centre of Powell River.

Confirmation of the boy's condition brings to three the number of cases in this city this year.

Inside and outside civic workers will hold a meeting tonight to consider an offer made by the city yesterday on their 1955 contract demands, James Black, business agent for the Civic Employees Federal Union No. 5 said today.

Contract amendments, submitted first in November 1954 called for a 10 cent an hour across the board wage increase, overtime pay for all monthly wage earners working more than a 40 hour week, or time off in lieu of payment.

The union also asked that full time city employees be prohibited from holding any other job than the one with the city.

City representatives met with representatives of the union yesterday. Amount of the offer was not disclosed.

Greek Earthquake Kills 5, As 3,500 Already Homeless

ATHENS (Reuters)—A strong new earth tremor today killed at least five persons and injured 40 at Volos, in central Greece, where 3,500 persons already were homeless from a severe quake two days ago.

The prefect of Volos, a seaport 150 miles north of Athens, gave these figures of casualties so far counted after the new tremor, which crumbled most houses damaged in Tuesday's quake.

In the capital, which also felt the shock, the interior ministry announced that a message from Volos reported: "Fresh tremor completed disaster."

Interior Minister Joannis Nicolitzas left immediately for the area.

Further tremors continued after this morning's strong shock.

The head of the Volos police force in his last message to the interior ministry here said: "Earth trembling continuously, we abandoning offices."

"Town covered with huge dust cloud."

Crews of Greek destroyers were disembarked to patrol the destroyed parts of the town and take over security in the area.

An earthquake in the same area last April killed 27 persons and destroyed 3,800 houses.

Britons No Longer Translating U.S. Headlines As Papers Publish For First Time in 26 Days

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — A columnist in The Daily Sketch started off: "As I was about to say when I was so rudely interrupted . . ."

A Daily Express cartoon showed a gentleman in a bowler hat crawling around with a newspaper in his mouth while his wife explained to a neighbor: "He has to teach Rover — all over again — how to fetch our paper."

And The Daily Telegraph gave thanks that Britons now can stop trying to dig such North American jive as "Red Wings Rip Leafs as Canadiens Blank Bruins."

The great London newspaper strike was over.

After 26 days in a muzzle, the nationally distributed dailies, most of them in expanded editions, set out this morning to tell their 15,000,000 readers what they had missed.

Such chit-chat, for instance, as the retirement of Sir Winston Churchill and that a general election is coming up May 26.

Emulating its New York counterpart after that city's big 1953 strike, today's Times carries a 12-page supplement summarizing the lost news day by day.

On the front page, where they always appear, are four solid columns of birth, death and marriage announcements — just the first instalment of a huge backlog.

The Telegraph has an eight-page supplement highlighting the lost 26 days and most other newspapers hit the high spots in smaller condensations.

The tabloid Daily Mirror, whose readers like pictures of pretty girls, had to make a choice from an accumulation of nearly four weeks. And what was it?? What else but Marilyn Monroe on a circus elephant?

The Telegraph, noting that attempts had been made to fill the news vacuum by flying in newspapers from the Continent and New York, implies strongly that the language barrier kept this from being entirely successful — especially the language barrier between English and North American sports pages.

"5 Giant hrs., Hearn clobbers Phils 8-3."

Frankly, they had trouble with that.

In their editorial columns, the newspapers take a serious view of the strike and call for a government guarantee against any repetition.

The presses were stopped March 26 by a walkout of 700 electricians and maintenance men seeking higher wages.

Health Group Delays Action On Fluoridation

VANCOUVER (CP)—The metropolitan health committee will wait another month before deciding whether to recommend fluoridation of Greater Vancouver's water supply.

The committee decided Wednesday to delay action to allow members more time to study the controversial proposal.

The committee's decision to delay the vote until May 18 was made despite recommendations by two health experts that fluoridation was not dangerous to health and was a deterrent to tooth decay.

Double Game

IT WILL be surprising if Chief Justice Sloan does not have some strong words, private or otherwise, to say to Premier Bennett over the award of an important forest management licence on Vancouver Island.

Having recently been appointed to look into the government's forest management policy, Chief Justice Sloan now finds the policy being altered right under his nose. By the terms of the licence just awarded to B.C. Forest Products Ltd., a major change has been introduced in the amount of timber that can be cut by independent logging operators working under contract. As one interested and apprehensive spectator sees it, small loggers will be subjected to cutting timber at contract price where previously they could have cut it on a sustained yield basis and sold their logs on the open market at the going price.

But whether the policy were altered or not, Chief Justice Sloan would still have reason to protest that forest management licences of any kind were being issued just at this time. Since presumably it will take his commission a few months at least to complete its inquiry and prepare its findings, he could expect that in the meantime the government would hold its hand. Otherwise present practices could be continued to a point that would make the report look like ancient history before it was ever published.

From the government's point of view it might be argued that granting of the licence immediately opens the way to construction of a multi-million dollar pulp mill and the building of much needed roads to cross the Island. This is good for commerce in general and employment in particular.

Nevertheless the impression is left that the government is playing a tricky double game, with a carefully moving royal commission on one hand and some fast manoeuvres on the other. It is the kind of game that the government seems to enjoy but it also brings to mind that Gordon Gibson recently resigned as Liberal MLA after taking exception to some of the government's practices in forestry.

It was difficult at the time to tell who was right and who was wrong. But if there is much more of this fast double game, public opinion will certainly swing in favor of Mr. Gibson.

Uncensored Buffalo

THE Saskatchewan film censor recently rejected the Walt Disney film "The Vanishing Prairie" as being unsuitable for public showing. The ridiculous reason for the ban was that the film includes a scene which shows the birth of a buffalo calf.

The film's distributors appealed this decision and the provincial government set up a board of appeal, composed of private citizens, to review the censor's action. They apparently assumed that few people of film-going age (young as that is) any longer believe that babies — human or buffalo — are found under cabbage leaves in the garden. They reversed the decision and the film will be shown without any cuts.

It is gratifying to know that this fine film has been readily accepted in B.C.

As I See It

By Elmore Philpott

Let's Keep Lines Clear

THE Vancouver Sun printed a letter recently from the Rev. T. F. Zabelka, a Franciscan Friar of Golden, B.C.

The crux of his criticism is:

"The British have long since insisted, as has Elmore, that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu be handed over to the Reds because they are an integral part of Red China and—in return—we might be granted the favor of a cease-fire around Formosa."

The above criticized policy is not only the policy of the British government, our Canadian government, all other Commonwealth governments — but the publicly proclaimed policy of the present administration of the United States.

President Eisenhower himself has told the world that the present government of China would be allowed to take peaceful possession of the two small offshore islands, if it would give any indication that they were not to be used for attack on Formosa.

In his recent visit to Ottawa John Foster Dulles was most explicit on this point.

In his press conference he made it crystal clear that the U.S. government is not interested in the two small islands "as such."

The nub of the real quarrel between the U.S. government and the new government of China is in effect that the U.S. wants to swap the two small islands for recognition of its right to temporary retention "in friendly hands" of the big island of Formosa.

✦ ✦ ✦

FATHER ZABELKA asks me a direct question which I am glad now to answer.

"Elmore should tell us how long Britain would have remained free under the appeasing hand of the Chamberlain government—even though the freedom of the Poles, Czechs and Austrians was bartered."

Not long.

Obviously Father Zabelka was not a reader of this column in the years when Hitler and Mussolini were on the rampage or he would remember that I was one of the very first in Canada to advocate armed allied resistance to their aggressions—indeed this signed column was started for that precise purpose.

I advocate now exactly the same policy—no more, no less.

I THINK our attitude toward Communism should be exactly the same as it was and is toward Fascism—we should not attempt to interfere with it when it is a purely internal affair—but we definitely should resist it—by force—when it takes the form of International aggression.

We did not go to war because Mussolini, Dolfuss, Franco and Hitler rose to power internally by one degree or other of civil war.

We went to war against Hitler for exactly the same reason as we went to war against the Kaiser—because he had sent his armies swarming across international boundaries.

The bedrock basis of the UN Charter is that every nation may manage its own internal affairs in its own way, without outside interference; but that all law-abiding nations will combine to resist an International attack by any nation on any other nation.

If we stick to that bedrock principle we might come through this great world crisis without war.

If we have to fight, let's be 100 per cent sure of our moral ground.

SPOILS OF WAR — Captured Nazi documents which fill stacks of file cabinets at a former naval torpedo factory near Washington are inspected by M/Sgt. Ignaz Ernst (top) and M/Sgt. J. E. Bodling. Negotiations between the U.S. and German governments for return of the archives are expected to begin soon. In all, there are 22,500 feet of files of German documents, including "Hitler's Minutes," some of which were found in Der Fuhrer's Berlin bunker. Hitler's material on the Russians gave the U.S. more information about the Soviet army than it was able to obtain at the time as an ally of the USSR.

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

Sporting characters amongst the MP's are having a really hard time these days to discover any of their colleagues enthusiastic enough or reckless enough to bet any money upon a happy ending for next week's preliminary Dominion-Provincial Conference.

Indeed, the advance prediction around the House of Commons lobbies and in the smoke-filled Chateau Laurier bedrooms where the prospects of the Conference are being discussed is that it will turn into anything but a love feast. If the new feuds that it starts don't substantially outnumber any differences it succeeds in bridging, the rank-and-file MP's of all political parties will be a truly surprised lot.

Being practical politicians themselves, the MP's are just unable to envisage the conference surviving the heavy political atmosphere which it is going to have to breathe from the start. In at least three provinces — Ontario, Nova Scotia, and Saskatchewan coming general elections already are casting their shadow. And since nothing is ever certain about an election, the provincial governments concerned aren't going to take any chances upon compromises with the Federal authority that might prejudice their chances on polling day. Instead, they're going to be looking for the sort of on Ottawa deal that will demonstrate to their electors just what smart and sharp negotiators they are.

Maybe this isn't the way things should be, but the world of practical politics is far from being a perfect world. And to imagine such diverse hard-headed and hard-fisted provincial battlers as Messrs. Maurice Duplessis, T. C. Douglas, and E. C. Manning — not forgetting Messrs. Leslie Frost, W. A. C. Bennett, H. D. Hicks, Hugh John Fleming, ot al—singing the same tune with Prime Minister St. Laurent writing the music is equivalent to believing in Santa Claus.

The real truth underlining the situation is that Federal and provincial politics have become so separated in recent years that their motives, instead of being complementary, now actually conflict. A senior Deputy Minister with a gift for observation summed up the matter recently in the comment: "When you get governments entering closely into the lives of the people either to take money away from them or to pay money to them, the old traditional pattern of two-party politics just cease to exist."

And that's the position of all the governments at the moment. The Federal Government can't take its hand out of the taxpayer's pocket because of the vast sums it must extract in order to return them — or a part of them — in the guise of family allowances, pensions, and hospital and welfare benefits. The provinces, for their part, want a new deal in respect to unemployment relief and other responsibilities in order that they may enlarge their own Santa Claus programs of more and better roads, greater aid to education, and bonussing the old age pensions. There just isn't enough in the taxpayer's pocket to satisfy both authorities, especially since both authorities are anxious to maintain the fiction that, very deep down, they are the taxpayer's friend. It's a situation that holds little prospect for common ground.

VICTORIA REPORT

By J. K. Nesbitt

BY JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — When did women first vote in British Columbia?

That's the question a letter writer asks this column. It's a bit of a difficult one to answer.

Women voted for the Provincial legislature and federal House of Commons towards the close of the 1914-18 war. For some years before that they had been voting for mayors and aldermen, reeves and councillors — depending on the broad-mindedness of the city or municipality concerned.

But when did women vote in B.C. for the very FIRST time? That was the question the letter asked, and in an effort to answer it, this column went scurrying into history to find out what could be found out about women and the vote.

As early as the 1870's, certain women were on the rampage in Victoria demanding the franchise. Speakers came from the United States, among them Susan B. Anthony, and they raised much hue and cry, and the mistresses of Victoria's big homes looked upon these proceedings with raised eyebrows, though probably, in the privacy of their own minds they wished the suffragettes success, but wouldn't dare tell their husbands so, husbands in those days being quite convinced that ladies who were really ladies should stay at home, and let the men run public affairs.

Miss Anthony shook Victoria in 1870. Night after night she held meetings. The Victoria Colonist reported: "Miss Susan B. Anthony lectured at the Alhambra — on the 'Power of the Ballot' — and made an excellent impression. She showed to the satisfaction of the audience — which loudly applauded — that woman was prevented from filling the position in life for which God designed her because she was deprived of all political power. Give her the ballot and she would protect herself, obtain as high wages for labor as man and fill the highest positions of the state."

This, of course, filling the highest positions in the state, was just what the men did not want women to do.

The suffragettes were looked upon as most unladylike females, what with their speechifying and loud talk on street corners and dire threats to the men unless they enfranchised the women.

But, the question now is: when did women first receive the vote?

It was 1884, in Victoria. The women had been rampaging now for more than 10 years. Victoria was the leading place in the province. There was no Vancouver and New Westminster was but a small place.

Victoria's city fathers, after much thought and in an effort to quieten the noisy ladies, permitted them to vote for school trustees.

Women couldn't possibly do much harm voting for school trustees. Women however, had not the intelligence to vote for mayor and aldermen. So reasoned the mayor and aldermen.

It was a great victory for the ladies — the thin edge of the wedge, as it turned out.

So it is that it seems likely women voted for the first time in B.C., in Victoria, in 1884, for school trustees. It would not, indeed, be surprising if it was the first time women voted in Canada. However, to answer that question would take a great deal of research, in the library of the House of Commons in Ottawa.

It was quite a day in Victoria, that June day of 1884 when women voted for the first time in B.C. — for school trustees.

The Victoria Colonist commented: "The voting commenced — the novel feature of the day being the sight of the ladies flocking to the polls — how the men did stare to see the women exercising the franchise. It seemed to be one of those things that a great many of the present generation will never understand.

"Some 400 women exercised the privilege and did so without in the least impairing their claim to be considered as wives, mothers and daughters."

Residents Have Last Chance To See Potpourri Tonight

Sunshine and warm weather gave an added boost to the second day of the Civic Centre Potpourri yesterday when a steady and enthusiastic crowd came and went from one display to another throughout the day.

Huge white baskets of beautiful spring flowers, colored streamers and balloons provided a fiesta setting for the outstanding exhibits and the various booths of home-cooking, candy, chinese laundry, plants and a large variety of other interesting stalls.

Prince Rupert women in their spring bonnets enjoyed the tea room in the auditorium sponsored by the Imeprial Order of the Daughters of the Empire.

Outstanding examples of craft work from the Vancouver Branch of the Canadian Institute for the Blind are on display for sale and members of the Prince Rupert Business and Professional Women's Club, sponsoring the CNIB exhibit report a great many sales have been made. Among articles in the CNIB collection are cracker trays, dog baskets, fern stands, bassinets and shopping baskets.

Beside a display of pottery from the Vancouver School of Art the Potpourri features a large display of crafts carried out by Civic Centre members during the year and the individual stalls of pottery, flowercraft, copper work, leatherwork and woodwork are all beautifully displayed with color and imagination.

Youngsters have been having a wonderful time going from the Gyro fish pond, Civic Centre Carnival stall, Kinsmen dart throws, Moose candy stall, Girl Guide popcorn and doughnut stall.

Greatest variety of handmade articles are displayed in the Miller Bay Hospital booth including beadwork, finely carved totem poles, jackets, slippers, moccasins and crocket work.

The surprise packages of the Royal Purple Chinese laundry have been giving delight to the customer while the Prince Rupert General Hospital Auxiliary reported making large sales in its variety stall.

Attracting many admirers were the copperwork by William Collins and George Ferguson and a large entry of needlepoint by Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, who is more than 80 years old.

Biggest crowd is expected this afternoon and evening, which will see the wind-up of the Potpourri, when the Prince Rupert Film Council will show films on handicraft.

Films to be screened are "Peter The Potter," "Warp and Felt," "Craftsmen at Work," and films on metal craft, puppetry, model houses and paper sculpture.

MUSEUM — briefs

— By JOCELYN BOLTON —

We hope that you will all come and enjoy the films being shown at the Civic Centre next Sunday and bring the children. This movie showing is being sponsored by the Museum and Tourist Bureau, and as Tourist Week is from May 1 to May 7, we thought this would bring to mind the advantages of the Museum, also of having an established Bureau.

Judging from the many letters received and answered, the coming season looks like it will be a very busy one. We have many visitors already and out of town cars are noticed on the highway and in town.

We hope that any business having something special for the tourists will advise this office so that we can send them to your place of business. We are always glad to do this and it makes the visitors feel as if they are expected, welcome and that we are willing and glad to serve them, and they do enjoy a friendly chat and greeting.

Films to be shown are as follows: Natural History — "Flight of the Sea Birds"; Comedy — "The Loan Stranger"; Miscellaneous — "Mother Mack Trains her Seven Puppies"; Travel — "Northward Bound"; "Flying Surveyors."

These pictures are not very long and we believe that the whole show will be about an hour. We hope that many of you will come and enjoy this Free showing of interesting films.

We are still hoping for more volunteers for our "Tag Day" to be held on May 7, as we hope to have plenty of taggers on hand and to make it a real success. All taggers will be given their lunch — hot dogs, homemade cake and soft drinks — and a small prize to the "high" can, so we ask that the young people rally around the cause of Museum Tag day. As so many seem to enjoy the Museum, we hope they will feel that they can help which they certainly can. "Thank you" to all those young people who have come and put their names down, it makes one feel encouraged at the response.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Residents Give Hand to Commission In Construction of New Power Line

By A. H. NEAVE
Daily News Correspondent

FRANCOIS LAKE — Farmers and residents between Burns Lake and Francois Lake are helping the B.C. Power Commission speed the job of providing power to this area.

Work has already started, with those residents who are to be supplied with power busy all week clearing bush, felling trees, cutting and hauling poles. The poles are being dug in as soon as they arrive. At times there have been 30 men working and at one time they were getting the clearing done almost as fast as the surveyors could mark the way.

By doing the work this way, it will be possible to extend the power line further and more times will have electricity. The monthly rate will be lowered and the Power Commission will not have such a large financial outlay.

Decision to help out in this manner was reached at a meeting of the Farmer's Institute attended by Cyril Shelford, MLA. Members promised at that time to help with the cutting of brush, providing poles and digging holes with them.

With such help it was agreed that the line could be extended beyond the 20-mile limit.

Spring has come to Francois Lake. The pussy willows are out and the robins have been busy finding nesting places. Although there have been some bad places in the road it is possible to get through every day, as work has been done on the road recently.

Jack MacDougall celebrated his 81st birthday last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Calder and their little grandson Jackie Wiens are visiting friends in Prince Rupert for two weeks.

Tom Nash has returned from Kitimat. He had a short visit with the Earl Hanke family while there and reports that they like it there very much.

One of John Keefe's cows had twins last week, but they both died.

Dick and John Johnson spent part of their holidays with their sister Mrs. Albert Jeffrey.

Bob Wardrop has moved from Tchesinkut Lake to Burns Lake.

Ted Spankie has a cut eye from a logging mishap while he was working up Nadine River. He was cutting cable with a chisel when a piece of metal flew into his eye.

Two newcomers arrived in Francois Lake last week—a baby girl for Mr. and Mrs. Abe Peters on April 12 and a baby boy for Mr. and Mrs. Abe Weins on April 15. The Weins baby missed arriving on his brother Jackie's birthday by two days.

Canon Atkinson conducted services here on Easter Sunday which was a beautiful day and so warm that the door of the church was left wide open during the service. The church was bright with spring flowers and the congregation heard an encouraging Easter message.

Friends and relatives of the Beatty family gathered here Saturday afternoon when funeral services were held for Mr. Beatty.

The Everett Jeffrey family is back again in their own home this side of the lake. They were at Tatalrose for some time this winter, when Everett was logging.

Captain and Mrs. Stretch left Friday for Vancouver for a week's holiday.

Mrs. George Lawson is back home from the hospital.

The Bill Corner family left by car Thursday for Vancouver and the Jack Loewan family have gone to the Prairies for a few weeks.

Canadian Compromise Between Britons And Americans UBC Dean Tells Club

The Canadian is a man of balanced judgment—resourceful but undemonstrative—a man who regards stability as a highly desirable thing, a person who has neither the British love of pageantry nor the Americans love of a spectacle, a Prince Rupert audience was told last night.

The speaker was Dean G. C. Andrew of the University of British Columbia English department who outlined the national characteristics of the Canadian people in an hour-long talk entitled, "Is There a Canadian—Does He Exist?" to the Prince Rupert Canadian Club at the Civic Centre.

NO CLEAR CUT TRAITS

There is a Canadian national, Dean Andrew opined, but not with the clear-cut characteristics of the Englishman, American or other nationals.

The Canadian character is made up on the one hand of the French and on the other the Scot with the addition of people from central and northern Europe.

First contribution to national identity had been made by the French, with their strong sense of history, Dean Andrew said. The British who followed, had, according to the French-Canadian outlook a strong sentimental feeling to English institutions.

TWO MAIN FACTORS

Two factors have played a part in the evolution of the Canadian character— climate and geography, Dean Andrew said. There were only really two seasons, summer and winter, he said and from October until school was out, the Canadian was a sober, worthy person. During the summer the average Canadian "got away from it all," and hadn't time to develop an interest in a national birthday, typified by the Americans with their July 4 celebrations.

The vastness of the country, with largely unexplored north had also developed Canada's personality in that the Canadian had adapted himself to the rigors of the country and had learned to "live" with the north.

Canadians were proud of the job they have done in the north, but they do not regard their achievements with the incurable romanticism the British reserve for outstanding feats, Dean Andrew said.

Himself a fifth generation Canadian, Dean Andrew said, while the British regarded the conquest of Everest with the romantic outlook of a goal achieved, as a Canadian he had asked himself, "what did they do it for?"

While others might consider the Canadian's undemonstrativeness as dullness, he said he developed our own sense of humor which he found among his friends.

Dean Andrew, who has lived in both eastern and western Canada and travelled widely, said that, during the 1930's it would have been impossible for a Canadian to establish a national identity in Europe. However, he said, polite interest had now given way to genuine interest.

No Major Changes Seen In Tax Rental Pacts

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Some question marks hang over next week's federal-provincial conference, but the central government's main approach appears definite.

It's fairly certain that the federal government will not propose basic changes in the set-up of tax rental agreements between itself and nine provinces.

Statements by federal ministers in advance of Tuesday's meeting here indicate the government plans to stay, fundamentally, with the current arrangement.

Finance Minister Harris made this plain in his budget speech. It would be difficult, he said, to see any reallocation of taxing powers or sharper definition of revenue sources likely to meet all future contingencies.

SEEK MAJOR CHANGES

But some provinces—and here is where the question marks come in—undoubtedly will seek major changes in the agreements which all provinces except Quebec have signed. They expire March 31, 1957.

However, the meeting is not likely to tackle these firmly. It was called mainly to draw up an agenda for a general conference later this year at which the agreements will be renegotiated.

But already notice has been served that some provinces want amendments. Premier Henry Hicks of Nova Scotia would like to see federal payments to the provinces, now made on a five-year basis in exchange for rental of taxation rights, solidified by a clause of the constitution.

However, he admits he is uncertain of the mechanics of guaranteeing individual provinces participation in the national income through an amendment to the British North America Act.

As is customary, the stand of Premier Duplessis of Quebec remains enigmatic.

He has made it clear he will not give up the province's own taxing rights in return for federal grants. But he has not indicated what subjects Quebec wants on the agenda of the main conference.

Some sideline observers here take the view that Mr. Duplessis has something up his sleeve and will call for a general redistribution of taxation rights, though without tax rental agreements. If he has, he is keeping it to himself.

Another question mark is Social Credit Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia, a former Progressive Conservative who has been feuding with the federal government on some issues not concerned with fiscal relations.

He has not come out with any definite proposals, but has stated he is not travelling to Ottawa with a chip on his shoulder. He wants a better deal for B.C., he says, but no better than other provinces get.

CCF Member Assails Licence As Evidence of Broken Faith

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. (CP) — John Squire, CCF member of the legislature for Alberni, said here Wednesday night the granting of a forest management licence on the west coast of Vancouver Island was "evidence of broken faith by the government."

Mr. Squire said the new licence granted Tuesday to B.C. Forest Products Ltd., "swallows up" a public working circle in the Clayoquat area where small operators had been allowed to cut 5,300,000 cubic feet of timber a year.

Mr. Squire said that at a meeting here three years ago, deputy forest minister C. D. Orchard had assured small operators that public working circles would protect them with enough timber to carry on operations.

Enough timber for B.C. Forest Products' proposed pulp mill at Crofton could have been obtained further up the coast, "although in an area not so easily accessible," he said.

Strader said he has paid the $500 entry fee, and officials of the 30th annual Indianapolis classic—although frankly puzzled by the builder's description—have accepted it. For the officials, Strader defined his power plant this way:

"The fuel mixture is compressed in two combustion chambers through a system of rotors."

He said the engine has a displacement of 137 cubic inches, half the 274 cubic inches allowed on non-supercharged engines. Although it has a system of rotors, it isn't a turbine—"It's an internal combustion engine, all right," Strader said.

How did he figure the displacement without cylinders to measure?

"It had to be figured on compound curves and arcs of circles," Strader said, a trifle mysteriously.

HELPFUL HINT

Blowout—What to Do—If a tire blows, never jam on the brakes. No matter how fast you are going, maintain speed until the car comes out of the swerve caused by the blow-out. After the car's course is straightened out, bring car carefully to a gradual stop.

For control in quick stops, apply and release brakes several times. Don't release the clutch until slowed to 15 mph.

Archbishop Attacks Segregation

VICTORIA (CP) — Archbishop Harold E. Sexton of British Columbia Wednesday hit out at racial segregation in South Africa, criticized revisions to the prayer book and suggested missionaries should be subsidized by governments.

The archbishop made his remarks in an address to the synod of the Anglican diocese of B.C. here.

"The church stands completely opposed to arrogant, aggressive racialists who are puffed up with their own sense of superiority and often try to maintain that a color bar is a divine institution."

Of the church in South Africa, the archbishop said: "May God grant them the strength and courage to stand fast against injustice and exploitation at the hands of the state."

The new draft prayer book, a confidential copy of which has been issued to bishops, has "ample grounds for criticism, especially where changes appear to have been made merely for the sake of change." He did not elaborate.

Archbishop Sexton said it would "pay the nations handsomely to subsidize missionaries in their great work of world unification through Christian teaching."

THIS NEW FIVE-CENT stamp will be issued June 1 by the post office to mark the 10th anniversary of the International Civil Aviation Organization. Dr. R. G. Langston was named vice-president and Dr. W. L. Elliott Tarrison, treasurer.

Robin Roberts Only Barrier Between Brooks and New Mark

By The Associated Press

So now the Brooklyn have won themselves nine straight games.

And all they have to do to take No. 10—the one that would set a modern major league record for consecutive victories at season's start—is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

Roberts, the best righthander in baseball, hasn't had too much success against the Brooks in the past, but this time the Philadelphia ace is off to his best start in four years.

Robin is 2-0 thus far, beating the world champion New York Giants twice. Both decisions were by 4-2 counts, and only two of the Giants' runs were earned.

For a time Wednesday night, it looked like the Brooks wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Ridzik for seven 2-3 innings. But then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off on a three-run inning and a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

It was pitching weakness by the opposition, too, that snapped a string Wednesday. The Baltimore Orioles made the best of Bob Grim's wildness and a two-run homer by Hal Smith to beat the New York Yankees 6-3 and win their first decision of the American League season. They had lost six.

In the only other American League game, league leading Boston beat Washington 1-0 on Willard Nixon's five-hitter. The Chicago at Detroit game was rained out.

In the National, St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 3-0 and Milwaukee clipped Chicago 9-5. Winless Pittsburgh was leading the Giants 3-0 when rain halted play after three innings.

The Dodgers' win tied them with the 1918 Giants, 1940 Dodgers and 1944 St. Louis Browns, who shared the record of nine straight victories at the start of a season. Only the Browns, incidentally, went on to win the penant.

Baltimore made the most of their winter deals to break into the win column. Irv Palica and Ray Moore, former Dodgers, combined to six-hit the Yankees while Billy Cox, another former Brook, got one hit and scored twice.

Nixon had the Senators in hand all the way, although he had to bear down in the ninth after Mickey Vernon opened with a double. Norm Zauchin, rookie first baseman singled home the lone run with a pop up single to centre in the fourth—his first hit in 16 trips.

Milwaukee got its big push from Bobby Thomson, who smacked his second major league grand-slammer in the second and later singled home another run. Lew Burdette was touched for 13 hits by the Cubs. Sam Jones was the loser, lasting through Thompson's bases-loaded blast.

St. Louis scored a run in the first on Rip Repulski's single and two more in the fourth on Joe Frazier's homer and left the rest up to lefthander Luis Arroyo.

WCBL's Esks Sign First Player

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos of the newly-formed Western Canada Baseball League announced the signing today of their player-catcher Stan Kulka of Edmonton.

Kulka, 21, played in the class C Pioneer League with Billings, Mont., and the class C Arizona-Texas League with Phoenix in 1953.

Club manager John Ducey also announced that Al Brightman, Seattle University baseball coach will not sign as manager of the Edmon on team. He has not been able to get leave-of-absence, Ducey said.

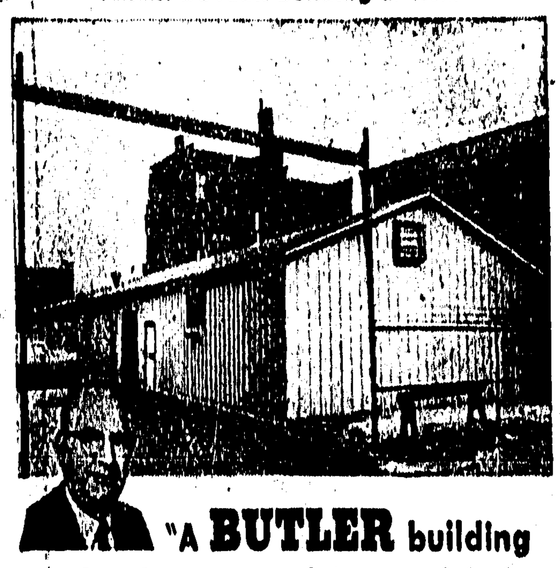
Another BUTLER Building at Work


"A BUTLER building solved our warehouse crisis in a hurry," says Mr. R. E. Dinnsen, Asst. to General Manager Midstates Auto Electric Co., Distributors
"Our old warehouse outlived its usefulness," Mr. Dinnsen relates. "We are central warehouse distributor for several manufacturers and couldn't stand much delay in getting a new warehouse. A Butler steel building saved us plenty of storage headaches. The structure was ready for use in one-fourth the time conventional construction takes. Fits our warehouse needs to a "T," and the cost was lowest for a building that fitted our needs. Maintenance is practically nil. We are satisfied we made the most profitable selection in every way."

AT PRESENT Andy Carey is playing a lot of fine third base for the New York Yankees and Manager Casey Stengel intends to keep him busy for years to come. But there is nothing wrong with planning for the future — and that camera in Andy's hands is part of his future. He hopes to become a professional photographer when his ball park days are over. As a step in this direction Andy has already set up a swank Hollywood studio called "Andy Carey's Portraits of Distinction."

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)— As is customary at this stage of the big league races, pitchers are complaining that the "new" ball they are trying to throw past the hitters is so full of rabbit you can lift it by the ears.

Actually, says the company which turns out identical balls for both leagues, there not only has been no change whatever which could account for the rash of homers, but the boys still are swinging at leftovers from last season if they want to know the truth.

It is a matter of baseball history that the Brooklyn Dodgers won their first nine starts back in 1940, yet finished a dozen games behind the champion Cincinnati Reds. It's a long, long season.

Already Chicago White Sox, with a heavy-footed Walt Dropo playing first and Bob Nieman breaking into their outfield, are being described as a far cry from the base-running "go-go" gang they were under Paul Richards. But the crowds at Comiskey Park like Marty Marion's new order and are calling for the long ball.

Portage la Prairie Terriers walloped Oshawa Generals 8-2 to win the Memorial Cup 13 years ago tonight at Winnipeg. Terriers had won the first two games of the best-of-five series but Oshawa scored an 8-4 victory in the third game. In the fourth, however, centre Lin Bend and winger Jack McDonald each scored three goals in the decisive win for Portage.

Rainiers Blank Solons To Move Game Off Pace

By The Canadian Press

Seattle combined two-hit pitching and airtight fielding Wednesday night to shut out Sacramento, 3-0, and move within a game of the Pacific Coast League-leading Solons.

Jehosie Heard notched the two-hitter, besting Sacramento's Bud Daley, who before his meeting with Rainiers had the PCL's best 1955 record, 3 wins and no losses.

The win moved them into a tie with the San Diego Padres in second place.

Portland, meanwhile, tried for the second straight day to get its first home series under way but rain once more washed out a scheduled doubleheader with the Padres. The day-night twin bill was rescheduled for today.

Hollywood and San Francisco were rained out, too, but Los Angeles and Oakland put in their nine scheduled innings and Oakland won, 6,2.

Wanderer's Hopes To Catch Chelsea Virtually At End

LONDON (Reuters)—Wolverhampton Wanderers' hopes of overhauling Chelsea in the English League first division soccer race virtually ended tonight when they were beaten 3-0 by Manchester City, the Football Association Cup finalists.

With only two games apiece to play, the Wolves and Manchester City are four points behind Chelsea, which also has a superior goal average. Even if the London club should lose its remaining two games, it is highly unlikely it would be caught by the two contenders.

Eastern Junior Champions Favored In Battle For Prized Memorial Cup

REGINA (CP)— The Canadian junior hockey final opens here tonight, filled with all the old rivalries linked with any big sports event bringing together eastern and western Canada teams.

There's an underdog and a touch of sentiment; provincial honor and a tremendous will to win.

Regina Pats representing the West are the underdog team with the wise money resting on Toronto Marlboros, eastern champions. Pats have the sympathies of the entire West after six straight years of eastern junior supremacy.

BOTH CLUBS HUNGRY

Both clubs are hungry for the top prize in junior hockey, the Memorial Cup which was donated to honor players who lost their lives in the First World War.

Marlboros past won it in 1929. Pats claimed it in 1930.

The best-of-seven series brings together a big team and a little team, Pats the smaller man for man.

But that smallness may be the undoing of the Toronto team.

Coach Turk Broda watched his boys in a practice session Wednesday and remarked he wasn't happy with the way they were skating. Marlboro players who took a peek at Pats working out said they were impressed with the speed and agility of their opposition.

BIRTHDAY PRESENT

That could be the big factor in the upset victory Pats look for as a birthday present for Saskatchewan, celebrating its golden jubilee this year.

Pats made short work of Winnipeg Monarchs of the Manitoba Junior Hockey League in the western final with Monarchs every bit as large as Marlboros.

Regina outskated Monarchs taking the series in five games. They also displayed an adeptness at playing the puck instead of the man.

The combination could bring the cup to the West for the first time since 1948 when Port Arthur Bruins won it.

Rest of Prairie Gets Rain After Long Alberta Snowfall

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta's three-day snowfall now is giving heavy rain and snow to Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Snow was expected to end last night in northern Alberta and the weatherman predicted sunshine for today. However, a rider — very cool — was added to the forecast.

Edmonton was covered with 17 inches of snow, an April record for a single storm. The previous mark was 10 inches, set in 1899. The snowfall was the heaviest of the 1954-55 season. Prior to the storm, Edmonton's total snowfall since November 1 was 23.6 inches.

STOPS IN EDMONTON

The snow stopped Wednesday in Edmonton and a day earlier in Calgary where 16 inches fell. Lethbridge got eight inches.

The weatherman predicted a high of 35 degrees today for Edmonton, about 15 degrees below normal.

The snow was beneficial for farmers who wanted more moisture in the ground for spring planting. But newborn calves and lambs on southern Alberta ranches were believed to have suffered from the deep snow.

More than an inch of rain mixed with snow pelted Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon Wednesday. Winnipeg has had a little more than half an inch of rain since midnight Tuesday.

The British Columbia coast has had sunshine for the last three days with temperature near the 60-degree mark. Daffodils have been in flower for the last couple of weeks and tulips are starting to blossom.

VALUABLE SALMON

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — The tourist angler spent about $7 a pound for the salmon he caught in New Brunswick last year, when everything is counted up. Visiting sportsmen spent more than $2,000,000 most of it going to guides, local merchants and camp owners.

Dale Guides Muzzy on Beautiful Play

Mr. Dale seems to bring out the best in Mr. Muzzy. What there is of it, anyway. When these two are partners and Mr. Muzzy is playing a hand as declarer, Mr. Dale does not relax after laying down the dummy.

He does everything the law allows to help Muzzy bring home the contract. First he is careful not to look at any of the other hands because then he would lose his rights as dummy.

Two of dummy's important rights are these: He may warn declarer when it appears that declarer is about to lead from the wrong hand and he may question declarer (or any player) regarding revokes.

ABEL'S QUEEN OPENS

In today's hand Mr. Abel's opening lead was the queen of diamonds, which Mr. Muzzy won in his own hand with the king. Immediately he started to reach for the spades in dummy.

"Your hand," exclaimed Mr. Dale, just in time.

If Muzzy had touched a spade in dummy the defenders could have required him to lead a spade from his hand and then a trick would have been lost to the king.

Saved from this fate by his alert partner he now led a club to dummy's jack, returned the ten of spades and let it go when it wasn't covered. Another spade lead dropped the king and a third round cleared the suit.

A TRICK AHEAD

With a cry of triumph he reentered dummy with the queen of clubs to discard his losing hearts. But he got a trick ahead of himself. On the third lead of clubs he discarded a heart.

"No clubs?" demanded Mr. Dale sternly.

Sheepishly, Muzzy located the nine of clubs in his hand and played it, picking up the heart. This was not a revoke as a revoke is not established until the offender or his partner leads or plays to the next trick.

From this point on Muzzy had no trouble, losing only one trick at the end and making six-odd.

Mr. Judge, who was kibitzing the game, made a very appropriate remark.

"Beautifully played, Dale," he said.

Radioactivity In Canada Infinitesimal

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. O. M. Solandt says Canada and perhaps the entire world is being subjected to some radioactive dust, but the amount is infinitesimal and harmless to humans, animals and vegetation.

The 46-year-old defence research board chairman estimated radioactivity caused by United States and Russian atomic explosions would have to be stepped up at least 100 times their present intensity for global radiation to be considered dangerous to humans.

"And I don't envision that kind of situation ever occurring unless there is a full-scale atomic world war," he said in an interview.

One problem that will have to be given increasing consideration in future years, he said, is how to dispose of radioactive waste from atomic power plants.

"CAUTIOUS AND CAREFUL"

"We have ways of doing it and better ones will come as we go along. We will face trouble only if we disregard the disposal problem. It is a question of being cautious and careful."

He disclosed that the board has been monitoring radioactive fall-out — the drift to earth of radioactive particles following an atomic explosion — at various points across Canada for several years. Previous reports were that the board measured activity only in the Ottawa area.

Statuesque German Girl On Second Movie Fling

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cornell Borchers, a statuesque beauty from Germany, is having her second fling at Hollywood. This time it appears she will make the grade.

Miss Borchers is the third German lovely to cause a stir here since the war. Previous entries were Hildegarde Nefe, who is starring on Broadway in "Silk Stockings," and Ursula Theiss, now Mrs. Robert Taylor.

The new import is tall, flaxen-haired and shapely and has often been compared to Ingrid Bergman. She did resemble Bergman when she first came to Hollywood — wholesome, intelligent and full of a healthy kind of sex appeal. She has been signed for a picture a year at Universal-International and the bosses have big plans for her. She's now co-starring with Rock Hudson in "A Time Remembered."

HOME AND BACK

This is not the first time she has been here.

"I came to Hollywood a few years ago," she related. "Twentieth Century-Fox brought me here to appear in a picture called 'Mabel and Me' with Dan Dailey. Mabel was a goat, and the story told how it was used for an escape from behind the Iron Curtain.

"It was rather a fantastic story and it was never made. I waited around for four months, doing nothing. Finally I told them I was going home."

And she did. But her return to Hollywood was more triumphant.

HOME BOMBED OUT

Miss Borchers was born in Heydekrug, Germany, daughter of a college professor. Her family home in Hanover was destroyed by Allied bombings.

After the war, the beauty went to Berlin, where she attended drama school and got small roles in films and plays. Her big break came when George Seaton picked her for "The Big Lift," starring Montgomery Clift and Paul Douglas.

Cabbie Beaten By Two Youths

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two youths made off with a taxi here early today after hitting driver George Rudichuk over the head with a hammer. They did not take any money from him.

Rudichuk, treated and later released from hospital, told police he picked up the youths in the eastend area and drove them to a suburban address. He was hit over the head during an argument about the fare. The abandoned cab was found later.
