ALL SHE WANTS IS JUST HALF MILLION

Breach of Promise Suit Started for an Ardent Wooer

New York, Feb. 9.—Octavio Guinle, a wealthy young Brazilian, and a member of a New York exporting firm, has been arrested in an action brought by Miss Monica P. Borden to recover $500,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage. Guinle, who was released on $50,000 bail, was to have been married to Miss Borden today, she asserts. Miss Borden declares in her complaint that after promising to marry her and going so far as to have the banns published and the date for the wedding set, the young man had made preparations to leave the country, complying in this with the cabled wish of his mother. She further claims that the defendant had been an ardent wooer, and had told her that he inherited five million dollars from his father, who died recently, and one million from his father's partner, giving him an income of $300,000 a year. Of this amount she was to get annually $50,000, Miss Borden alleges. Guinle's firm maintains offices in Paris, London and Rio de Janeiro.

STRATHCONA AIDS FIRST WIFE'S SON

J. H. Smith, Who Recently Said He Would Put in No Claim, Benefits by Will

New York, Feb. 10.—James H. Smith of Brookline, Mass., who recently announced that he intended to put in no claim for part of the estate of his stepfather, the late Lord Strathcona, benefits by the will. The income of $125,000 is placed in trust for him, and he receives outright real estate in Pictou, N. S. This was disclosed when the text of the will was made public by the late peer's attorneys here. Smith was the son of Lady Strathcona by a former husband.

THOSE BRITISH TITLE SCANDALS KEPT ALIVE

Publication of Article by Gibson Bowles Stirs Up More Mud—The Alleged Price

London, Feb. 10.—The scandal in reference to the purchase of titles and other honors which was first broached by Sir George Kekewich, and reiterated by F. A. Thomas of Cardiff, has received additional flavor by the publication of an article in the Canid Review, by Thomas Gibson Bowles, a former M. P. on both sides of the house, and who has long been a thorn in the side of each party, in which he gets down to details as to the scandal. He asserts that the Conservative fund, which in 1874 totaled £20,000, rose to £80,000 in the nineties. The Liberal funds, which were very low in 1886, reached £7,000 in 1907, stood at £500,000 in 1901 and are now estimated at £400,000. He asserts that the tariff for honors is £50,000 for a baronetcy, with anywhere from £150,000 to £400,000 for peerages.

He declares that correspondence passed between a party whip and a would-be peer, who refused to pay the contribution. Thereupon the party whip expressed a fear that a claim for the peerage would not be considered. The would-be peer, however, threatened to publish the correspondence if his name was not included in the next birthday honor list, and the name appeared.

He also asserts that there are city brokers who tout for baronetcies, their terms being £4,000, with £6,000 more lodged in the bank if the honor is given, as well as 10 per cent commission to the man who introduces the business.

According to a story told here a party of prospectors from the Colorado gold fields were returning in 1805 with treasure when the men were attacked and all but one of their number killed by Indians. The survivor buried the gold.

RANCHER DUG UP 40 POUNDS OF GOLD

Thinks It Was Buried by Prospector Attacked by the Indians

Jetmore, Kan., Feb. 11.—A box of gold nuggets weighing forty pounds and estimated to be worth $12,000 was found buried in a hill near here by Ralph Chesney, a homesteader. The nuggets were deposited in a bank and Chesney went back after more of the precious metal he believes is hidden in the hill.

The thorn in the editor's cushion feels like a briar patch before the day's work is done.

CONSPIRACY TO FORM LABOR GOVERNMENT

Details of Alleged Plot Expected When the Session Begins

London, Feb. 10.—It can now be stated practically officially that no matter what will be the effect on domestic politics, the imperial government does not intend to take the slightest action in connection with the deportation of the labor leaders from South Africa.

It is stated in circles which claim to know that the colonial office has been assured that the deportations were only undertaken upon absolute proof of a plot by the labor leaders in South Africa to capture the ministers of the union government and declare a labor republic. If that be the case, it is asserted that international law as well as practice would support every act of the Botha government.

The details are not likely to come out until parliament has been in session a short time, but it is certain that when the subject is discussed the government here will be able to make statements which will completely change public opinion and place the defenders of the labor leaders in a very different position.

How Brown Learned How.

There is a man who makes shoes for children—and sells them to stores all over Canada But he is only just learning how people buy.

It was this way: His wife—let us call her Mrs. Brown—phoned to him and asked him to buy some underwear for little Brown.

Picture Brown now among the throng of mothers at the "Children's Underwear" counter. He asks for Underwear for a child of six. He looks it over helplessly. What on earth does he know about Children's Underwear? For lack of anything better to say he asks: "Is this good quality?" The answer is short and quite conclusive: "It's Blank's"—naming a well-advertised line. That short word says everything. Brown pays his money and goes home, quite satisfied with his purchase.

Now what bothers Brown—a manufacturer of shoes, is this: How would it affect the purchase of a child's shoes if the salesman said "They're Brown's"?

Nobody knows Brown's shoes. Brown doesn't advertise. The name Brown signifies nothing when used in connection with children's shoes. The salesman must use all his persuasive wiles to induce people to buy them.

The point is—If the name Brown was as synonymous with Children's Shoes as "Blank's" is with Underwear, wouldn't Brown sell more shoes with less effort?
