QUEEN CHARLOTTE OIL FIELDS TO BE TESTED BY GOVERNMENT

GREAT BRITAIN ANXIOUS TO SECURE OIL ON BRITISH TERRITORY—EXPERT TO BE SENT OUT—GRAHAM ISLAND WILL GET ATTENTION

Dominion government oil experts are to be sent to British Columbia to make examinations of the various oil discoveries which have been made here. News of this was communicated recently to several companies who have obtained leases of oil lands in various parts of the province. These were asked to send to Ottawa what information was in their possession regarding the fields in which they are interested. They were also asked to make reports on what work they have done, what improvements had been made and report also on the indications of oil as shown as work progressed.

It is explained that this season the government geological department, which has carried its inspection of general mining districts to such a point that accurate information regarding almost any section of the Dominion is now available, intends to proceed to obtain reports by its geologist on the oil lands of the country.

Several important oil discoveries have been made in British Columbia, most notably those on Graham Island, the largest of the Queen Charlotte group. On the rock-bound and storm-swept coast of this island oil tar exudes, natural paraffin wax is found in most unlikely places, the rocks are saturated with oil and tar and burn rapidly on that account, the formations are good for indications of oil, but the drills at work thus far have not yet obtained sufficient depth to tap the flow.

The government has had reports on this field before, but nothing of late, nor anything particularly detailed from a geological standpoint. There are several other places in the province where indications of oil are strong.

The British Government is particularly anxious at this time to find oil on British soil. Mexico and California at present are the large producers of fuel oil, and this is the character of the oil most largely sought as fuel oil. It is fast taking the place of coal in the shipping world, and also for the furnishing of power for warlike vessels.

The fact that the Standard Oil interests will soon locate a refinery on Burrard Inlet, and in this connection will endeavor to obtain possession of such oil lands as are proven, is lending a great deal of activity to the efforts to discover the flows. Government experts last fall examined the discoveries in the vicinity of Edmonton. Attention this season is to be devoted to British Columbia.

Chinaman Got Off

Habeas corpus proceedings were argued before Judge Young yesterday. Stank Kip, who was found guilty by two magistrates at Port Nelson of selling liquor to Indians, was lodged in jail in default of paying his fine. He employed a lawyer, who discovered that this imprisonment was technically illegal. After argument Judge Young allowed the Chinaman his liberty.

under the British flag, still the conditions were such that only those of the strongest character could survive it. The environment was antagonistic to their ideals; they could only work five days a week if they were true to these ideals, and it was difficult to bring up their children in the true Jewish spirit because they breathed in a secular atmosphere even a Christian atmosphere. The loss of Judaism was a picture of desolation, a large number of the people drifted away to "nothingness," and if they could get the figures upon the subject they would be appalled.

"It is tragic," said the speaker, to see Jews slain in Russia, it is just as heartbreaking to see the fading of Judaism in this part of the world. There must be found a land where the Jewish spirit can be fostered, and that land is Palestine. Even in Canada and the United States they are beginning to close the doors to the Jew because they require passports from the Russian Jews from the Russian government."

Then came the propaganda of the Zionist movement, which was to buy land in Palestine and encourage Jews to settle there, because there Judaism would flourish, and it would mean the giving of a new heart to the Jewish people.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Norda Zion club, and at the close $100 was collected for the movement. Ten thousand dollars is the amount aimed at in Canada, and of this amount over $8,000 has already been collected.

GRAND PRIZE WHEAT ON LINE OF G. T. P.

Paul Gerlach of Atlin, Sask., Grows Best Wheat in World

An evidence of the fertility of the soil through which the Grand Trunk Pacific railway passes is given in a circular recently issued by Mr. Paul Gerlach of Atlin, Sask. Mr. Gerlach is the winner of the world's grand prize for growing the best sample of wheat. The circular describes his method of improving the seed through a process of several years. The seed used was originally a sample of Marquis secured from the Dominion government. This was planted in small plots and carefully selected each year until last year Mr. Gerlach produced 35 bushels to the acre with a sample which weighed 71 pounds to the bushel.

The prize was awarded at the International Dry Farming congress held in the United States recently.

JEWS IMPORTED TO BUY PALESTINE

British Flag Gives Freedom but Environment Inductive to the Abandonment of Faith

It is doubtful if the Lyric theatre, Toronto, in all the vicissitudes of its strange and chequered career ever heard such an address as that given recently by Dr. Abramowitz of Montreal, the leader of the Zionist movement in Canada. The history of that strange, silent figure, the Jew (who is an alien in all countries) with all his hopes and aspirations for a final rehabilitation of his "homeland" was set forth by the speaker in so eloquent a manner, and with such beauty of language that even the most stolid was moved to enthusiasm.

The speaker deplored the fact that many Jews were taking merely an academic interest in the question of the return of the race to Palestine, and gave a thrilling recital of the persecution of the Jews in some countries of Europe, the atrocities which they suffered and the gradual process of extermination to which they were being subjected. "The Russian Jew is in constant fear of his life," he declared. The Jew in Poland was boycotted commercially, and this produced a result worse than the massacres, because the latter were only periodical.

Then came the question of Judaism, the gradual dropping away from the faith of their fathers. While they were allowed all the freedom possible

The Tale The Wagons Tell

My office window faces a street, close to the railway freight sheds.

All day long a steady stream of trucks and lorries lumber by—loaded with boxes, barrels and bales.

One truck I noticed the other afternoon was particularly interesting. No two boxes were the same, and stencilled on the end of each was the name of some well-known product—soap, tobacco, socks, breakfast food, cocoa, port, tea, chocolates, perfumery and baking powder.

Gathered there in prosaic wooden boxes were the results of thousands of hand's labor in all parts of the world.

There, behind that obviously prosaic truck-load of freight was the whole romance of modern commerce—the skilled production, the universal demand for food, drink and raiment, and the world-wide distribution of the things we use every day.

And then I speculated why we use these things every day, instead of some other things; and that brought me plump back to my own job of advertising.

The names of some of the boxes on the lorry were known everywhere to-day, but had been unknown a few years ago; and I saw then more clearly than ever before that Advertising is really a great channel digger. It is like the Panama Canal. You can sail from Montreal to Vancouver now, around the Horn. You can get there, but it is going to take months. A year or so from now you will sail through the Panama Canal and chop the journey to less than half. A new channel will have been dug.

The great names in commerce to-day are those of the manufacturers who have let modern advertising steam-shovel a channel across the isthmus of distributing difficulties.

The great names in the commerce of to-morrow will be those of men who widen and dredge this channel so that the greater traffic may pass smoothly and quickly from the source of production to the homes of the consumer.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
