Bolton Buddies think Vizard, their dashing forward, full value for his cap this year.

What a wonderful record Celtics are piling up?—61 goals for and 9 against. Blackburn Rovers' high water mark is indeed watery compared with the Glasgow Irishmen. The Rovers lay claim to 59 for and 29 against.

Herb Greenhalgh, who was refused permission to play in the island league until he had apologized to the league for remarks made last year, will probably play professional soccer in the old country for the balance of the soccer season. The former Thistles centre left recently for the old country and will play with either the Motts County or Bristol clubs, of the second division. Greenhalgh has a brother who is now playing in South Africa and he comes of a family of noted soccer experts.

Soccer players of great ability, especially in the goal-getting line, will soon be quite as expensive as Marty O'Toole or Cobbs. An English club has offered the huge sum—in the shape of a transfer fee—of $12,000 to Air-dreionians for the release of Jimmy Reid, the great scoring centre forward of that club. There was no dicker; the offer was made flat-footed, but so far has not been accepted, and whether the clever Scott will cross the border remains to be seen. The offer is a tempting one, but with the Scottish ties ahead, it may be for the present ignored. Ardie needs Jimmy.

LADIES PLAY HIGH-CLASS GAME OF BASKETBALL

Game Interesting From Start to Finish—Wonderful Combination Work—Big Scores

The Auditorium last night was the scene of a magnificent game of basketball. A good many people went there to patronize a popular movement, and their surprise was all the greater when they were confronted with such skill and swiftness that perhaps has not been seen in the city to date.

The teams represented the married and single ladies of the Methodist Gymnasium club. The line-up was as follows:

Married—Mrs. E. A. Woods and Miss E. Taylor, forwards; Mrs. Hugh Dunn, centre; Mrs. A. J. Gilmore and Miss Morrissey, guards.

Single—Mrs. L. W. Kergin and Mrs. H. S. Parker, forwards; Mrs. C. E. Bainter, centre; Miss Irwin and Mrs. Vogue, guards.

The teams showed splendid training and were a credit to the director, Mr. Porter. The combination work of Mrs. Hugh Dunn, Miss Taylor and Mrs. Woods was exceptionally fine.

The goals of the evening were as follows: Mrs. E. A. Woods, 11; Mrs. E. Taylor, 7; Mrs. Parker, 5; Mrs. Bainter, 4; Mrs. Kergin 3. Several of these goals were penalties, so that the score was 41 to 23, in favor of the married team. About 500 people were present and the male teams were somewhat jealous because they could never draw a crowd like that.

The rooting was a feature of the game. The Reds and the Whites were in turn cheered on, and the whole spectacle would almost do credit to an inter-collegiate game.

SENT TO JAIL FOR SETTING DOG ON BOY

Schoolboys Snowballed Man and Dog Bit One of Them

New Westminster, Feb. 16.—"Any man who sets a dog on a school child is a beast," said Magistrate Edmonds when he sentenced Charles Snazel to serve three months in jail for such an offence.

The complaining witness against Snazel was William Kennedy, 15 years old, son of a storekeeper, who was bitten in eight places by a hound owned by the defendant. According to the evidence, Snazel was passing the Central school grounds when several school children threw snowballs at him. Snazel was unable to overtake the children, being hampered by four pictures which he was carrying. He set his dog upon them, and the animal dragged the Kennedy boy to the ground, biting him severely. For several days the boy was under the care of a physician.

Snazel pleaded guilty when arraigned, but asserted that the snowballing his spoiled the pictures and angered him. The court ordered the dog shot.

The Tale The Wagons Tell

My office window faces a street, close to the railway freight sheds.

All day long a steady stream of trucks and lorries lumber by—loaded with boxes, barrels and bales.

One truck I noticed the other afternoon was particularly interesting. No two boxes were the same, and stencilled on the end of each was the name of some well-known product—soap, tobacco, socks, breakfast food, cocoa, port, tea, chocolates, perfumery and baking powder.

Gathered there in prosaic wooden boxes were the results of thousands of hand's labor in all parts of the world.

The cocoa had been grown in Brazil, shipped to Bristol, transhipped to Montreal and finally distributed from Toronto.

The tea was gathered by swart-skinned natives of the romantic island of Ceylon; from sunny Portugal the luscious, big grapes had been gathered years ago, fermented, bottled and branded with a famous name; from Egypt had come the cotton and from South America the dyes that entered into the product finally stamped with the brand of a well-known hosiery.

There, behind that obviously prosaic truck-load of freight was the whole romance of modern commerce—the skilled production, the universal demand for food, drink and raiment, and the world-wide distribution of the things we use every day.

And then I speculated why we use these things every day, instead of some other things; and that brought me plump back to my own job of advertising.

The names of some of the boxes on the lorry were known everywhere to-day, but had been unknown a few years ago; and I saw then more clearly than ever before that Advertising is really a great channel digger. It is like the Panama Canal. You can sail from Montreal to Vancouver now, around the Horn. You can get there, but it is going to take months. A year or so from now you will sail through the Panama Canal and chop the journey to less than half. A new channel will have been dug.

The great names in commerce to-day are those of the manufacturers who have let modern advertising steam-shovel a channel across the isthmus of distributing difficulties.

The great names in the commerce of to-morrow will be those of men who widen and dredge this channel so that the greater traffic may pass smoothly and quickly from the source of production to the homes of the consumer.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 533, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

ENGLISH HAND-MADE LACE

MADE BY THE COTTAGERS OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE.

This is the old-fashioned lace made on the cushion, and was first introduced into England by the Flemish Refugees. It is still made by the village women in their quaint old way.

Our Laces were awarded the Gold Medal at the Festival of Empire and Imperial Exhibition, Crystal Palace, LONDON, ENGLAND, for general excellence of workmanship.

BUY some of this hand-made Pillow Lace, it lasts MANY times longer than machine made variety, and imparts an air of distinction to the possessor, at the same time supporting the village-lace-makers, bringing them little comforts otherwise unobtainable on an agricultural man's wage. Write for descriptive little treatise, entitled "The Pride of North Bucks," containing 20 striking examples of the lace makers' art, and is sent post free to any part of the world. Lace for every purpose can be obtained, and within reach of the most modest purse.

Every sale, however small, is a support to the industry.

Collars, Fronts, Plaistons, Jabots, Yokes, Fichus, Berthes, Handkerchiefs, Stocks, Camisoles, Chemise Sets, Tea Cloths, Table Centres, Poyles, Mats, Medallions, Quaker and Peter Pan Sets, etc., from 25c. to $10.00. $1.50, $2.00 up to $5.00 each. Over 800 designs in yard lace and insertion from 10c., 15c., 25c., 45c., up to $3.00 per yard.

IRISH CROCHET. Mrs. Armstrong having over 100 Irish peasant girls connected with her industry, some beautiful examples of Irish hand-made lace may be obtained. All work being sold direct from the lace-makers, both the workers and customers derive great advantage.

for Prince Rupert and Northern B.C.

The Daily News goes into nearly every home in Prince Rupert. It is the popular newspaper of the city because it is clean and reliable. It has all the news of the city, and keeps in touch with events and topics interesting to Northern British Columbia. It treats these subjects with moderate optimism and reliability.

The Daily News is the most valuable paper to advertisers because it is read by the buying public. It has a bigger circulation than any other paper in the city. It is read by the class of people the advertisers want to talk to.
