Stomach Upset, Headache Halt President Eisenhower's Work

No Heart Trouble Says White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—An "upset stomach and headache" forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's engagements today, but the White House said "there is nothing wrong with his heart."

A terse statement by press secretary James C. Hagerty said the president's personal physician, Maj.-Gen. Howard Snyder, had been with the president "since early this morning."

Elaborating on that, Hagerty said at 8:50 a.m. EDT that the doctor had been with Eisenhower since 2 a.m.

Half an hour later the press secretary told reporters: "The president has no fever."

Mrs. Eisenhower was at the White House at the time Hagerty made his first brief announcement.

Asked whether Eisenhower had been given any medication, Haggerty replied:

"I haven't talked to the doctor on that yet."

Asked then whether Dr. Snyder was concerned, Hagerty replied:

"No, he is not, other than that the president has an upset stomach."

There was no immediate additional information on the basis for Hagerty's assertion that there was nothing wrong with Eisenhower's heart, which was damaged by a coronary thrombosis last Sept. 24.

As far as was known, this was the president's first illness requiring the attention of a physician since his heart attack.

The White House announcement came at just about the time the president had been scheduled to start the day's official engagements.

ATTENDED BANQUET

Thursday night Eisenhower attended the annual banquet of the White House News Photographers Association. He left the affair about 11:10 p.m.

He appeared to enjoy himself at the dinner, and told his hosts in a brief talk that he also enjoyed the entertainment provided.

On the regular menu at the dinner was filet mignon. So far as was known the president ate the steak along with the other guests.

Hagerty's emphasis today that "there is nothing wrong" with Eisenhower's heart now recalled that the first announcement of his illness last September in Denver referred also to a stomach upset.

Preceding the heart attack, Eisenhower complained of stomach distress after having eaten onions along with his lunch.

Eisenhower was in Fitzsimons Army Hospital at Denver for seven weeks after the heart attack. He then spent several weeks more at his Gettysburg, Pa., estate, returning to his White house duties early in January.

Niagara Rockfall Kills One

40 Flee Ruins Of Powerhouse

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—The most destructive rockfall in the recorded history of the spectacular Niagara gorge took one life late Thursday and left the huge power station on the American side in tumbled-down ruins.

More than 40 other employees of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. scrambled along the precipitious bank to safety as two of the station's three sections roared into the wild rapids behind them.

Company officials were appalled at the damage, which wiped out a 360,000-kilowatt power capacity in the twinkling of an eye.

They could only say that the damage will run well into the millions. Original cost of the two completely wrecked sections was about $35,000,000 more than 30 years ago.

Lost in the maelstrom of rocky debris was Richard A. Draper, 39, of nearby Lewiston, a machinist. Two companions saw him disappear in the cascading remnants of powerhouse walls.

HAD SOME WARNING

Draper and the others had been working feverishly sandbagging a leak at the base of the station. The seepage had been discovered only hours earlier. The staccato reports of cracking walls warned the men that the end of the building was near.

"All I know is that the walls and ceiling started to come down and I ran like hell," said Chris Nelson, 25, one of the crew. "I didn't stop for anything. I was really scared."

The station was hit by three earth-shaking slides which followed each other in rapid order starting just before 5:30 p.m. When it was over, the six turbine generators in the two sections were buried in debris at the foot of the 220-foot gorge.

The destroyed generators, all used in Niagara Mohawk's 25-cycle service for heavy industry, had a total capacity of 200,000 kilowatts. The sudden loss of power brought much of the area's big chemical industry to a halt.

ENACTING THEIR first scenes in the film of Ernest Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," veteran movie actor Spencer Tracy works on fishing lines at sea with Busito Chavez, a 13-year-old Cuban boy who plays a bit role in the production. Tracy portrays the courageous Cuban fisherman in the movie based on the Nobel Prize-winning novel.

Open Hostility Remains in Commons As Censure Motion Still Debated

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament's gas pipeline battle has ended but it has left the House of Commons split to the roots over the most bitter issue in decades.

Open hostility remains in the chamber. Presiding is Speaker Rene Beaudoin against whom the opposition has raised a censure motion accusing subordination of Commons rights to the government's will.

The motion is still under debate on the heels of the pipeline fight in which it was born amid unparalleled scenes of shouting, fist-shaking, name-calling revolt against the chair's authority.

Progressive Conservative and CCF parties, opponents of the bill, gave a last-minute show of resentment Thursday when all but one of their numbers boycotted the Senate ceremony in which the measure was given royal assent and became law.

TWO QUIET DAYS

The legislation provides for temporary government financing of two major parts of the $375,000,000 project of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. for a 2,200-mile line to carry Alberta natural gas to Ontario and Quebec. It will be the longest pipe of its kind in the world.

The Senate took only two relatively quiet days to deal with the bill. It became law squarely on the deadline day set by the government for its passage.

Commons passage, however, took three full weeks and spilled over into a fourth week as the two opposition parties used nearly every weapon in Parliament's book of rules and tactics to delay or block the bill they charged was a sell-out of a rich natural resource to United States interests controlling Trans-Canada.

During debate on the pipeline bill the opposition repeatedly demanded that the prime minister call an immediate election and take the issue to the people. The censure motion against the Speaker has brought renewals of that demand on different grounds—that a partisan vote on the motion will not mean restoration of unanimous confidence in the chair.

REJECTED TWICE

Both times Mr. St. Laurent has rejected the challenge.

But the opposition fight has not ended. There are strong indications the Conservative and CCF parties will attempt to hit at the government by trying to block an interim supply bill to replenish the administration's fast-vanishing spending money.

If the opposition succeeds in delaying that bill for an appreciable time, observers believe the government may have little choice but to go to the people.

TAKING OFF SHIRT ON HOT DAY SEES GARAGE PAINTER FINED

BINGHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Under some circumstances it can be construed as disorderly conduct if you take off your shirt while painting your garage on a hot day.

A school teacher from suburban Conklin discovered that Thursday and paid a $10 fine after pleading guilty.

Authorities said the defendant, Miss Selna Mary Smith, wasn't wearing anything under the shirt.

Legion, Firemen, Teen Club To Enter Beauty Contestants

First organization to announce its intention of entering a candidate in the beauty contest being staged as part of the Elks lodge Dominion Day celebrations July 2, was the Canadian Legion branch 27, E. D. Manson, celebrations chairman announced today.

In giving a progress report on plans for the Dominion Day festivities, Mr. Manson said that the Legion also planned to enter a float in the big parade.

Second city group to announce that it would enter a beauty queen contestant was Local 559 of the International Association of Firefighters.

First float entry to be registered with the Elks, Mr. Manson said, was the Civic Centre Teen club, which also plans to enter a special Teen club beauty queen candidate.

Other city groups should decide on their queen candidates as soon as possible, the celebrations chairman said, adding that there was less than 2 weeks to have photographs made and back from the engravers in Vancouver.

The biggest float parade ever seen in Prince Rupert is expected for July 2, Mr. Manson said. Already registered to enter floats are Buddy Taft's "Sweethearts on Parade", Fashion Footwear, Broadway cafe, Ellis Airlines, La Gondola cafe, McLean Shipyards, B.C. Packers and Lindsay's Cartage.

It is also hoped that a contingent of officers and men from one of the Royal Canadian Navy vessels can take part in the parade and Mayor George Hills has already written HMCS Naden at Esquimalt asking if a visit by an RCN ship can be arranged for July 2.

Help is being sought by Children's Zoo chairman Donald Wanamaker, who plans to have a collection of sheep, goats, pigs, chickens and a calf for the children to see at Algoma Park. Right now Mr. Wanamaker is seeking horses of any size or shape.

The Cessna 195, owned by Parson's Airways of Flin Flon, crashed while flying though heavy fog over the lake.

Pilot Bert Wartlag, 21, of Flin Flon suffered a broken arm and broken pelvis. The other two were in serious condition with undetermined injuries and shock.

The three passengers—all from Hanover, Ont.—were part of a prospecting party. Two of the three were brothers. One of the brothers was missing. One of the being withheld until next-of-kin have been notified.

Police Probe Horse Deaths At Burns Lake

Special to The Daily News

FRANCOIS LAKE — RCMP from Burns Lake are investigating the shooting of two logging horses two miles from Long Lake situated at the west end of Francois Lake.

The two animals, one of which had been shot six times, the other four, were discovered side by side last Saturday by Matthew Sam during a hunting trip.

Police have picked up rifles from homes nearest the scene of the shooting and bullets from these will be checked against those found in the animals.

It is reported that the position in which the animals were found gives the impression the horses had been led to the spot to be shot.

The horses were owned by Jake Knelson, proprietor of the general store at Southbank. Mr. Knelson operates a logging camp near Long Lake. The horses had not been used for work recently and had been kept at the camp.

Jet Planes Fill Sky As Queen, Duke Arrive

STOCKHOLM (CP)—With 300 jet fighter planes screaming overhead, Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived today for the first British Royal visit to Sweden in almost half a century.

The royal yacht Britannia battled fog all morning and slipped into the waters of Stockholm harbor at noon, slightly more than an hour behind schedule.

With the Britannia were the Canadian destroyer escort St. Laurent and two Royal Navy escorting craft.

As the Britannia hove into view after a four-day voyage from England, Swedish shore batteries roared out a shattering salute. Overhead the skies were filled with jet planes carrying out an intricate manoeuvre in the form of a four-leaf clover for good luck.

Oarsmen clad in blue and white rowed out in the Swedish royal barge Vasaorden, a replica of the 18th-century royal barge, to bring the British monarch and her husband ashore.

The royal couple were accompanied ashore by Prince Bertil of Sweden, who boarded the Britannia two hours before it docked here.

Sweden's 74-year-old King Gustaf Adolf and Queen Louise, who is the Duke of Edinburgh's aunt, greeted them on a red-carpeted stage near the palace and introduced them to Prime Minister Tage Erlander and other government officials. Afterwards, they drove off in two open carriages for a look at the flag-bedecked city. Thousands were on hand to greet them.

Rupert District Forest Fires All Extinguished

There are no forest fires burning today in the Prince Rupert forest district District Forester Percy Young reported today.

He said that the last fire being patrolled had been extinguished and Forest Service personnel keeping an eye on it had been recalled.

Mr. Young said that rain and four inches of snow at the higher levels on the border of Tweedsmuir park, 80 miles southeast of Francois Lake, had helped quell the last of six fires reported burning about a week ago. The five other fires were extinguished earlier in the week.

Board To Check Need Of North Pacific School

The Board of School Trustees for District 52 will investigate the number of school age children living in the North Pacific area on the Inverness slough and if there are enough to warrant it, a building will be sought as a possible school for the area, it was decided Tuesday.

Action was taken after the board learned that some pupils leaving Grade 6 at Sunnyside school at the end of this term would be carrying on to Grade 7. Capacity of Sunnyside school is 40 pupils and the board wondered what arrangements would be needed for school beginners in the fall.

Dr. R. G. Large, board chairman said that it had been hoped the problem could have been avoided when construction of a road to Inverness was first broached.

Grade 7 pupils would be brought in to Port Edward when the proposed road is completed.

The explosion sent flames and fumes into a block containing entrances to Gimbel Brothers and Saks 34th St. department stores, the Statler Hotel and scores of shops and restaurants.

Of the $200,000 involved—reported to have included the savings of old-age pensioners and widows—prosecutor Stewart McMorran said $110,000 was unaccounted for.

"No one knows where the money went to," he said.

Parliamentary Museum Piece

IF ALL the good arguments ever put up against retaining the Senate as a unit of government, the history of the pipeline bill provides one of the best. Here was an issue which created a storm of debate that the House of Commons will never forget. Members worked themselves into a frenzy that broke all precedent, while the whole country looked on in astonishment and wondered what the effect would be on the national political life. But when it came to the Senate's turn the whole thing was disposed of in a couple of days.

In this case, it was just as well that the Senate maintained its usual complacency. Had the pipeline bill not made the deadline set for it, a fundamentally sound piece of business would have been stalled. In essence, the legislation is merely authority to make a loan repayable with interest so that western Canada can sell gas which eastern Canada and the U.S. wants to buy.

But the passiveness of the Senate was no more excusable for that reason. The venerable Senators were never expected to make a fight of it and undoubtedly would not have planned to even if they had weeks to spare. The doctrine that they are there merely for political reward is so well established that any show of spirit to the contrary is the worst kind of heresy. Even the more independent members who not so long ago were doughty M.P.'s seem to have accepted the futility of speaking out.

The result is that the Senate is no more than a particularly expensive and particularly useless part of Canada's civil service. Admittedly its abolition would deprive Canada's parliament of a certain dignity and tradition which have their place in a young country that is inclined to go to the other extreme. But as a museum piece its cost runs pretty high. The money might be better spent on a federal project to promote interest in Canadian tradition and culture in other ways.

Sukarno Visit

OTTAWA—President Sukarno of Indonesia made a profoundly favorable impression here.

Many famous statesmen have visited the capital of Canada. Even during the last few years the members of Parliament have heard directly from such famous personages as Churchill, Eisenhower, Eden, and the heads of several governments in Europe. But this was the first time that the Chief of State of a great Asian nation had addressed the Senators and MPs of Canada. It is no exaggeration to say that the audience was deeply moved by the sincerity and clear thinking of the youngish President of the Indonesian Republic.

INDONESIA, is of course, the third most populous democracy in the whole world. It is exceeded in numbers only by India and the United States. That President Sukarno himself mentioned that fact, and in those precise terms, is itself of some importance. He described his mighty nation as the "third biggest democracy" in the world, and thus qualifies his own denial that Indonesia does not line up with any military or ideological blocs.

Both China and Russia are more populous than Indonesia, and the very fact that President Sukarno does not include them in the "democracies" therefore speaks for itself.

THE INDONESIAN President was himself a living proof of the truth that the world is moving forward at a dizzy rate of progress. Just over a decade ago, his country was still occupied by the Japanese. It took several years after the liberation from Japan to get the government of the Netherlands to do what Britain had already done in India—that is, faced the fact that the era of justifiable colonialism was over.

At the time of winning independence Indonesia had the highest illiteracy rate and the lowest standard of living of any country in the world. Now, at least half of the people can read and write in a rudimentary sort of way. There has been some slight improvement in the living condition of the people.

But, above all, President Sukarno points out that his people, and all other peoples who have won national self-government in Asia, have attained something which they value supremely high—their national freedom.

IT IS QUITE true that wherever the power has passed from the old imperial regimes to the new independent native governments there have been black spots as well as bright spots in the resultant picture.

Just as it was true here in Canada that our first home rule governments which replaced the old Family Compact were often more inefficient and certainly more corrupt than what they had replaced, so in Asia today.

But, just as we learned by trial and error in Canada, so the Asians are grappling with their own problems. In any event, as one of the wisest of the British Viceroys of India once said: "Good government is no substitute for self-government."

No nation can really begin to grapple with its own problems until it has self-government, because until it has self-government it is, in fact, nothing but a disguised slave plantation. It should be remembered that many of the old slave plantations, like many of the possessions of the imperialist powers, were well and benevolently run. But that fact cannot alter the essential evil of the principle of the slave plantation itself.

PRESIDENT Sukarno's visit to Canada is really a by-product of a recent more intelligent world attitude on the part of the United States. For some years the governing attitude in the U.S.A. was one of hatred of and contempt for the big "neutralist" nations of Asia, such as India and Indonesia.

Thank God, the Americans are now abandoning that foolish and even childish attitude. President Sukarno's visit is proof of that fact. Prime Minister Nehru is the next invited guest of the government at Washington. The very fact that he has been so invited by President Eisenhower speaks for itself.

Insurance Hike Being Studied

A revision in the amount of liability insurance carried by School District 52 to cover students while at school or engaged in school activities is being considered by the Board of Trustees.

An increase in the limits of coverage per pupil and per accident was suggested by E. L. Campbell, representative of the Yorkshire Corpration Ltd. of Vancouver Tuesday.

Mr. Campbell suggested increasing coverage from $20,000 for one person to $50,000 and from $40,000 for one accident to $100,000.

Trustee A. Bruce Brown said that while he agreed with the $50,000 figure for one person, he felt the single accident coverage should be up to the half million dollar mark.

Premium amounts for the extended coverage would be forwarded to the board, Mr. Campbell said.

Mr. Campbell did not commit himself when asked by Board chairman Dr. R. G. Large whether the board's present evaluation figures for schools were adequate.

Dr. Large said that most of the schools were new or of recent construction and it was not hard to arrive at a replacement figure.

"I could not say, I am not a professional appraiser," Mr. Campbell said.

The board agreed to apply for insurance coverage for trustees on school board business.

Board Boosts Substitute Teacher Pay

The salaries of substitute teachers in School District 52 has been increased $2 a day, the board of school trustees announced this week.

Substitute teachers in the elementary school have been raised from $8 to $10 daily and substitute high school teachers from $10 to $12.

Relieving teachers in elementary schools have been raised from $10 to $12 daily.

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

The news may be surprising, but the stranger-than-fiction truth is that Parliament Hill's undoubted personality of the past turbulent week has been an individual who has played no part whatever in the stormy drama of closure and the pipelines bill.

In fact, he has been a complete stranger to the Capital and not too well known even by reputation before his arrival. His name is President Sukarno of the Indonesian Republic.

Perhaps the most novel, even if not the most important detail about the Indonesian President is that he has no first name. How the ommission came about isn't explained in any of his official biographies. The matter is simply dismissed with the intriguing statement that "the President has no first name."

His visit to the Capital could easily have been one of the lesser events of the week. He had no concrete mission and everyone's attention was engrossed with the crisis in Parliament. There was little disposition to pay him or his entourage too much attention.

But as the head of an Asiatic state of some key importance in the unfolding drama of Far Eastern diplomacy, practical considerations of policy as well as of protocol demanded that he be shown some top-level red carpet treatment. That meant being given the opportunity of addressing a joint session of the two Houses of Parliament.

Thus it was the MP's and Senators experienced one of the mot impressive occasions of its kind which the Capital has ever witnessed. Tall, soldierly-looking President Sukarno, the trained engineer who spent part of his youth in jail for conspiring against Dutch colonialism and another part of his adult life first as a prisoner and then as a pretended collaborator of the Japanese, didn't waste either his own time or that of his listeners with polite platitudes. Instead, he gave a straight-from-the-shoulder talk on the aspirations of Asiatic nationalism and the importance to the modern democratic world of co-operating with it.

It wasn't a pretty picture of colonialism that President Sukarno gave. Kipling wouldn't have been pleased with it. But the point that the Indonesian President was intent on making was that the reality of colonialism was far different from the romantic legend of the white man's burden that had been created to justify it. He said bluntly that colonialism had come to the rich countries of the East, drained off their riches, and left the native population poorer materially, culturally, and physically than it had found them.

The message of the Indonesian President was that Eastern nationalism, along with African nationalism, was the most significant force rising in the world today. He pleaded for an understanding partnership between it and Western democracy. He spoke with a deep undercurrent of philosophy, a passion of sincerity, and an occasional lofty flight of poetry. Parliament has heard fw as moving or as practical addresses.

MUSEUM—briefs

By JOCELYN BOLTON

Another busy week with quite a good number of tourists visiting us. Miss Sally Tyler of London, Eng., was among the visitors as were people from a great many American cities and also British Columbia cities, Trail, Ocean Falls, Kitimat, Vancouver, Grand Forks, Victoria, Kamloops, Stewart, Cloverdale. So you can see our British Columbians are travelling these days.

Quite a few guests have arrived by road and tell me it is quite good, although dusty in spots. However, we will soon have it paved and then we can expect a real influx of tourists via Highway 16. Do hope they will be able to find somewhere to stay when they do arrive. We also had two young ladies from Peru visit us and they were busy taking photos of our totem poles and seemed to be enjoying their trip to Alaska. They mentioned what a nice town Prince Rupert was, and of course I agreed.

Mrs. J. R. Lynn was an Edmonton guest and she and her husband hope to soon make Prince Rupert their home. I believe Mr. Lynn is a CNR employee. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Lynn and am sure they will enjoy living in Prince Rupert. Both are anxious to make friends.

We are happy to report that some repairs have been made at the museum, and again we must thank the two lads who so willingly help with paint jobs, John Zille and Ray Pawluckl. They were busy on Saturday and Sunday—and will apply another coat of paint to brighten us up this weekend, weather permitting. The windows have been cleaned inside and out, and it's surprising how much brighter the museum looks. Some had not been done for years and made it look so uncared for. We hope to have a few more necessary jobs done before too long.

This has been a week of meetings, Chamber of Commerce, Museum board and also Tourist bureau and now for the summer it will be a matter of "welcome Tourists" and keeping the museum shining. The matter of the new building is of primary interest to the board, and we hope that everyone will give this project support. It will require the support of all organizations and citizens so that we can have something of which to be really proud. When this building is a fact, we can hav some local exchange exhibits, really assist the young people and have showings that everyone will enjoy. Our slogan is "New Building."

Elimination Bout Tonight

Patterson Favored To Take Jackson

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, a graceful, precision puncher ticketed early for fistic greatness, and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 24-year-old eccentric, clash tonight in a 12-round elimination bout that will move the winner one step from the vacant heavyweight throne.

The 21-year-old Patterson, grown into a 181-pound six footer, is a 2-to-1 favorite to whip the strong, tireless 6—1½, 193-pound Jackson and go on to a title fight against light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore in September.

Not in recent years has a non-title fight whipped up such interest around the world as this collision of heavyweights with widely contrasting styles. Although the scrap will be broadcast 7 p.m. PDT locally as well as nationally, a crowd of 10,000 will pay around $50,000 to see the "live" action.

Each fighter will receive $40,000 for their biggest purses to date. They have been guaranteed $20,000 each out of the International Boxing Club's $75,000 radio-television receipts, and $20,000 each from the gate with a privilege of 25 per cent of the turnstile collections.

Patterson, beaten only by former light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim in a 30-fight career, was a 13-5 favorite early in the week. Plenty of money poured in on Jackson dropping the odds to 2-1. The price may be lower by fight time. This is one of the biggest betting fights in a long time.

The Jackson supporters say the indefatigable Hurricane from New York's Far Rockaway section will take everything the 1952 Olympic champion has to throw and wear him down with his mauling style.

Iron Curtain Wildlife Papers Tops Meet Told

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian wildlife authorities have reached behind the iron curtain to gather information about birds and animals familiar to Canada, the 20th North American Wildlife Conference was told here.

Dr. C. H. D. Clarke, an Ontario delegate, said he has received co-operation from both Russia and Czechoslovakia to the extent of getting books published on muskrats and Hungarian partridges.

The Russians have done excellent papers on moose and on hunters' collectives, while the Czechoslovakians have one of the world's best scientific publications on Hungarian partridges, one of Canada's most popular game birds, he said.

"I would like to see the Canadian wildlife service get hold of all the papers published and circulate titles to provincial departments so they can decide if they want to get the full texts."

JULY SOCCER EXHIBITION HERE AIM OF KITIMAT FOOTBALLERS

Kitimat and District Soccer Association issued an appeal last night to Prince Rupert soccer enthusiasts for an exhibition match between the two centres, possibly some time in July.

George Madden, president of the Kitimat and District Soccer Association said in Kitimat last night that Kitimat Association would be sending a team to Vancouver August 11 and wished to arrange exhibition tilts prior to that date. An Alcan centre team played at Terrace last Saturday, winning 7-0.

Anyone wishing to arrange for a soccer exhibition was urged to get in touch with him at Box 582, Station "A," Kitimat, Mr. Madden said.

The Kitimat Association is composed of 10 teams, each playing an 18-game schedule.

Mr. Madden said that enthusiasm for soccer was strong in the smelter town and that the group hoped to organize a northern district soccer association to play off with the Lower Mainland for the B.C. Championship.

Knockout competition for the George Sparling Cup takes place in July.

Souchak Picks Hogan To Win 5th "Open"

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Big Mike Souchak figures Ben Hogan will win his fifth National Open championship next week because Ben can play all the shots and because he doesn't like to finish second.

By the same token, Souchak figures to do well this week in the 15th Round Robin tournament at Wykagyl. Mike held a slim lead over Bob Rosburg and Gene Littler after Thursday's opening round. He's a better-than fair hand with a driver or iron and he doesn't see any sense in being runner-up.

"Who knows who finishes second" Mike asked after shooting a 67—it should have been 65—and piling up 15 points in the first of the Round Robin tournament's five rounds.

"I finished second ten times last year and nobody knew it. This year I was second a couple of times, then finally won one. Still, to be in the top ten every week, you have to be very good. There are so many good players around."

Souchak's round of 34-33—67 over the par 37-35—72 course gave him only a one-point advantage over Bob Rosburg and Gene Littler going into today's two rounds.

Rosburg had 34-34—68 for the day's second-best round. Littler and Fred Haas, each with 34-35—69, were third in scoring.

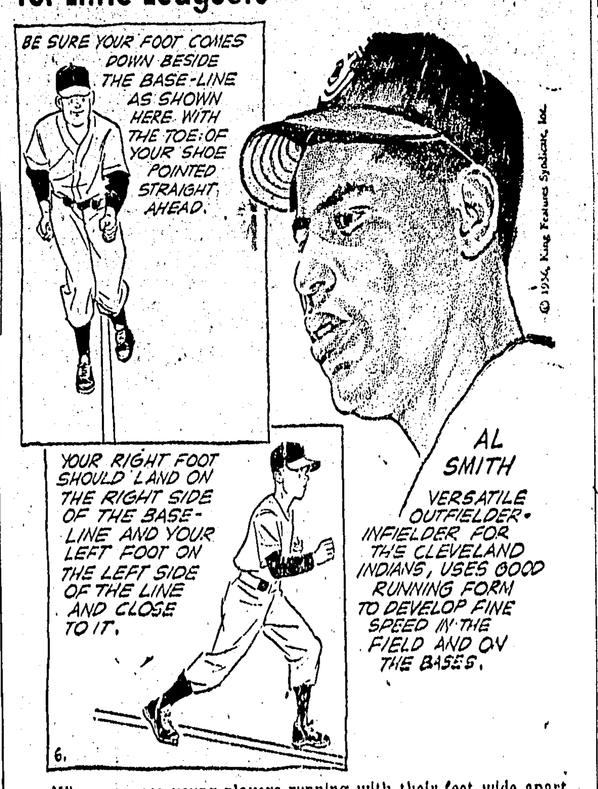
INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By MICKEY McCONNELL
Major League Scout and Instructor



When you see young players running with their feet wide apart, their toes pointing out or in, their arms swinging from side to side or doing something else which slows up their forward progress, you realize how much they are handicapping themselves as baseball players.

Baseball is a game of speed, and everything you can do to increase your speed will help you. Being able to start and stop or change directions in a hurry is something you should try to develop. Ty Cobb and Jackie Robinson, whose base-running exploits have made baseball history, could be daring on the bases because they developed excellent body control. Being able to get an uncanny break, starting at full speed with the first stride, has made the difference for them and will for you, too. Some of the fastest men in baseball never developed this skill and so were unable to take advantage of their speed.

Anyone who saw Jackie Robinson—in the 1955 World Series—make a big turn around second base, hesitate momentarily to draw a throw to second from the outfield, and then gallop on into third base ahead of the relay throw will realize what an asset a quick break can be. Al Smith, Jackie Jensen, Billy Martin, Don Hoak and Willie Mays are others who get a lot of mileage out of their ability to run.

Berra Blasts A's Pitching To Give Yanks 4½-Game Edge

By The Associated Press

Now that Kansas City manager Lou Boudreau has Mickey Mantle "figured out," what's he going to do about Yogi Berra?

Boudreau did about as good a job of "stopping" Mantle as any one has this season, employing a shift that packs the defence to the right when the switch-hitting Mickey bats lefthanded. Mantle got only four hits in 11 trips and his major league-leading average dropped from .411 to .403 in the three-game series just completed by the A's at Yankee Stadium.

But what about Berra? Yogi smacked six hits in nine trips in the three games, drove in five runs, scored six and hit three homers. The Yanks hardly knew Mantle was missing.

Berra, a bad-ball spray-hitter you can't set up a shift against, powered his 16th homer of the season—and fourth in four games—to get the Yankees rolling on a 9-1 decision over the A's Thursday. He also added two singles and drove in two runs—giving him a total of six homers, 10 RBIs and a .545 bat average in six games against the A's this year.

REDLEGS TAKE LEAD

The victory pushed New York into a 4½-game lead as runner-up Cleveland was dumped by Baltimore 5-2. Chicago White Sox beat Washington 7-5 and Boston trimmed Detroit 6-5 in 10 innings.

Cincinnati's rugged Redlegs boomed into the National League lead by a half-game over idle St. Louis by blasting Philadelphia 8-5 while Chicago Cubs were dropping Pittsburgh to third 5-2. And Milwaukee closed Brooklyn's winning streak at four games as Bob Buhl pitched a four-hitter to win 4-1.

Hank Bauer hit his 13th homer for the Yankees, knocking in his 34th run—not bad for a guy hitting .203. The A's didn't shift against three southpaws led by loser Alex Kellner—and he had two-for-four. Bob Turley won it for a 3-2 record.

Magistrate Says Kitimat Settling Down

VANCOUVER (CP) — Kitimat, British Columbia's exciting new boom town, is gradually settling down after a riotous youth, Harvey C. Jessop told the B.C. Magistrates' Conference here.

"We now even have a traffic problem," said Mr. Jessop, 35-year-old magistrate in the aluminum centre, 70 miles southeast of Prince Rupert, since last August. Previously he practised law.

In his temporary courtroom he also acts as small debts magistrate and coroner for the town of 5,000 people.

"The big-time gambling and bootlegging is a thing of the past up there now," he said. For one thing the new liquor store has killed off the big bootleggers.

"Pay cheques are still pretty fabulous so there is a lot of gambling. But it's mostly private bunkhouse games that don't invite police intervention unless someone is cheated or gets into a fight."

Mr. Jessop said the company is looking for a steady type of worker, encouraging settlement by making it easy to build and buy homes.

A worker can build on a $750 down payment. This means more cars on the town's 35-odd miles of road plus a parking problem that downtown Vancouver would not envy.

SLOW RECOGNITION

The British army nursing service started by Florence Nightingale in 1854 was not officially recognized until 1919.

EXHIBITION SOFTBALL TILT WITH KITIMAT HERE SUNDAY

Prince Rupert softball fans will have a chance to see exhibition softball this weekend between an all-star city team and an outside entry.

Mike Kutzak, president of the Senior Men's Softball Association said this morning that the association had arranged a double-header at Algoma Park between Prince Rupert All-Stars and Kitimat Canadian Comstock. It will replace the twin bill originally slated between Terrace and the local All-Stars, cancelled yesterday through failure of the interior town to field a team.

Game times are 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. at Algoma.

Rain-Out Forces Twin-Bill

Rain-out last night of the scheduled Prince Rupert Senior Baseball game between Esquires and Hotelmen will be played here Sunday, turning the day's baseball at Roosevelt park into a double-header, it was announced this morning.

Hotelmen and Esquires were already scheduled for one game Sunday, while Gordon and Anderson are in Terrace for a twin bill.

Game times here will be 1:15 and 3:45 p.m.

Censure Motion Action Sparks Note of Regret

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A note of sad regret rang persistently through opposition speeches Thursday as the Commons considered an unprecedented censure motion by Opposition leader Drew against Speaker Rene Beaudoin.

"There have been many members who, in the course of this debate, have said this is a tragedy," said Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North), "and that is so and in a personal way."

He had held, with others, a genuine respect for Mr. Beaudoin even when he thought he was wrong at times.

"You had raised the prestige of the speakership; you were our Speaker," he told Mr. Beaudoin, who occupied the chair during much of the debate.

"ALMOST UNFORGIVABLE"

But, he added, the Speaker "made a mistake which is almost unforgivable because you impaired the rights of the opposition as we saw them."

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC-Esquimalt-Saanich) said he appreciates deeply "the ordeal to which Mr. Speaker now has been subjected."

Gen. Pearkes, however, like other opposition speakers in the day-long debate, also had his criticism:

"The events of the last few days have shown that his honor the Speaker and his deputies have not permitted equality before the chair."

Finance Minister Harris said the censure motion is little more than a reminder that some members disagree with Mr. Beaudoin.

Speaker's rulings are subject to appeal, said the government House leader. Voting on such appeals usually went along party lines.

CONTINUAL REMINDER

He wondered, therefore, whether any useful purpose could be served by the censure motion "except to continue to remind the Speaker that there are members in the House who disagree with him and nothing much beyond that."

The censure motion arose last Friday after Speaker Beaudoin ruled out of order a motion the previous night by Colin Cameron (CCF-Nanaimo) that two letters printed in the Ottawa Journal be censured by the House as being derogatory to Parliament. That Thursday night, Mr. Beaudoin had allowed Mr. Drew to begin speaking on Mr. Cameron's motion.

Mr. Drew's censure motion says Mr. Beaudoin took unprecedented action in reversing one of his decisions without notice, in repeatedly refusing to allow members to state points of order and in subordinating Parliament's rights to the government's will.

Peter Townsend To Pay Visit To Canada After Retirement

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—Group Capt. Peter Townsend today announced that he is giving up his career in the RAF to go on a lone motor trip around the world which will take him through the United States and Canada.

He indicated that the 18-month tour would end in Africa, from where "I may never come back."

The group captain has continued to work in the British embassy here since Princess Margaret publicly renounced marriage with him last October.

Townsend was asked whether he was going on any scientific or other mission on the trip. He replied:

"No, I shall be on no mission whatsoever. I just want to go."

Asked whether he will be alone in his car during his world tour, Townsend said: "Yes, that is the idea."

RESIGNS FROM RAF

He added: "My itinerary will be to India by way of Persia, then on to Burma, Malaya, Australia, Japan, Canada, America, Mexico, South America, across to Africa, and through the African jungle.

"Most of the time I shall be a lone driver."

He told Reuters news agency he will resign his commission in the RAF towards the end of the year, adding:

"I am not sure about the date. It depends on the arrival of my successor, which I do not think is fixed yet."

Townsend returned here from London last July to resume his position as air attache after Princess Margaret, in a public statement, said she had decided not to marry him.

DIES AFTER HUSBAND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Whitely, 64, telephoned her niece, Frances Giorgio, Thursday that her husband, John Whitely, had died suddenly. Miss Giorgio called the family doctor and rushed to the Whitely home. She found Mrs. Whitely dead beside the body of her husband, also 64.

FIRST IN RUSSIA

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Symphony Orchestra Thursday night announced acceptance of a Soviet invitation to play in Russia this summer on its European tour. It will be the first United States symphony to play in Russia. The tour is scheduled during August and September.

CCF Veteran Angus MacInnis To Retire

OTTAWA (CP)—Angus MacInnis, dean of the CCF members in the House of Commons, is retiring after 26 years in parliamentary life.

The 70-year-old member for Vancouver Kingsway, known as the elder statesman of his party, told a reporter Thursday he will not run again at the next general federal election because of poor health.

He was amplifying on a statement he made in the House earlier: "If there is an election before there is another session I will not be here and I may not be here at the next session even if there is no election."

Mr. MacInnis has represented Vancouver ridings in the Commons continuously since 1930. He was first elected as an Independent-Labor member and ran under the CCF banner starting in 1935.

He said he plans to live quietly at his Vancouver home and work in his garden. He is entitled to the $3,000-a-year pension paid MPs who retire after about 17 years' service.

Mr. MacInnis has been in indifferent health for about two years, missing long stretches in Parliament.

DECLARED AIRWORTHY

LONDON (AP) — The Comet II jetliner, an advanced version of the ill-fated plane abandoned by Britain after a series of crashes in 1954, was certified as airworthy Thursday. The plane is listed as a medium-stage intercontinental airliner. It has a redesigned fuselage aimed to overcome the structural weakness blamed for the earlier Comet's crashes.

LOTS OF BATHS

The new CPR liner Empress of Britain has more than 120 baths.

Unorthodox Methods Can Supplement Cards

When Mr. Muzzy is his partner, Mr. Dale adopts unorthodox methods himself. Mr. Champion says this is the wrong way to get Mr. Muzzy in shape for the annual team-of-four match with the Uptown Club. However, Mr. Dale figures that Mr. Muzzy is always confused anyway, so why not try to get everybody confused?

In today's deal Mr. Dale decided to open his club suit and his normal lead would be the fourth highest club. But in an effort to give Mr. Champion a garbled picture of his distribution, the old boy promptly laid down his fifth-highest club, the deuce.

He had a tough guess—and he guessed wrong. He dropped the queen of hearts.

Mr. Dale then led his lone king of hearts and Mr. Champion won with the blank ace. Mr. Muzzy had stubbornly held onto the king and one spade and he was bound to win the setting trick.

Now there was no reason for Mr. Champion to suspect that this was anything but a "standard" fourth highest and if it were, then Mr. Dale had exactly four clubs and Mr. Muzzy three.

Mr. Muzzy didn't think about the lead at all. He just went up with his king and was surprised when it held the trick. He returned the seven of clubs, Mr. Champion won with the ace and Mr. Dale dropped the eight spot.

TAKES COUNT

Counting up his winners, Mr. Champion saw that he had five diamonds and one trick in each of the other three suits. For his ninth trick he could try either the spade or the heart finesse. But which? He decided that running the entire diamond suit might furnish some clue.

On the last three diamond leads Mr. Muzzy discarded two small hearts and a small spade. Mr. Dale shed the six and deuce of spades and the four of hearts.

On the fifth diamond Mr. Champion himself had to make a discard. He chose the seven of hearts. He had learned practically nothing about the location of the major suit kings. It was possible that both of them were wrong. But why guess?

NO SOLUTION

Remembering that Mr. Dale's opening lead had indicated possession of only four clubs, he simply led a club. The plan was that, after cashing his two good clubs, Mr. Dale would have to lead into the ace-queen of either hearts or spades.

Very fine—except that the old master rattled off three club tricks. Mr. Champion followed suit once, then discarded the seven of spades. On the last club he was down to the ace and queen in both spades and hearts.

CRASH KILLS BRIDE

PENNOCK, Minn. (AP)—The car of a honeymooning Canadian couple struck a telephone pole Thursday, killing the bride, throwing her husband up 12 feet on to the cross-arms of the pole, and knocking out eight long-distance phone circuits. Mrs. Ben Quan of Ottawa was killed in the crash. Her 32-year-old husband, who had to be removed from the tangled telephone lines and shattered cross arms, escaped with facial cuts.
