117 Persons Killed In Fires In Montreal, Baltimore, Japan

100 Elderly Women Victims of Blaze

Compiled From CP and AP Dispatches

At least 117 persons are believed dead in three fires which occurred in widely spread separated parts of the world today.

Eleven persons were killed and at least a dozen injured when fire whipped through the top floors of an old brick apartment building in the heart of Montreal.

In Baltimore, Md., one fireman was killed and five others—including the fire chief—were believed trapped and feared dead when the roof of a clothing store collapsed during a nine-alarm fire last night.

In Yokohama, Japan, about 100 aged women died in flaming agony when a sudden blaze turned a Roman Catholic old ladies home into a 30-minute inferno early this morning.

Montreal firemen, scrambling up ladders in a heavy, wet snow, rescued a score of screeming, frenzied men and women from wooden balconies and window ledges.

The 11 victims died trying to fight their way through flame-and-smoke-filled halls and stairway of the four-story Salaberry apartments.

At least four panic-stricken apartment dwellers gambled on leaps from the fourth floor. Two women were in critical condition in hospital. Both suffered fractured spines when they landed on the pavement.

IDENTIFICATION LATER

All attempts to identify the dead were left until today.

Firemen still probing the upper floor ruins early today said there was "only a very slim possibility" that any bodies were left inside.

The fire was the worst in Montreal since 1951, when 37 pensioners died in a fire which destroyed the Ste. Cunegonde home for the aged.

At least 20 firemen were injured in the spectacular Baltimore blaze which burned more than three hours before being brought under control.

Rescue efforts to reach the five missing men were postponed early today until the weak walls could be shored against possible collapse. Still missing were chief Francis O'Brien and four firemen, believed buried beneath a mass of timbers, masonry and other debris.

Yokohama police said there were only 46 survivors and nearly all of these were burned or injured in jumps from the second floor of their two-story dormitory. Several are in critical condition.

The Canadian head of the old ladies home, operated by the Francisco Missionaries of Mary, escaped. She is sister superior Marie St. Longin du Sacre Coeur, the former Claire Cloutier of St. Narcisse de Champlain, Que.

Gibson Ousted From House

Move Follows Patronage Claim

VICTORIA (CP) — Staid Victorians and veteran politicians are waiting anxiously for the opening of the legislature this afternoon.

The usually dull proceedings of the budget debate flared up Wednesday when the speaker of the house, Thomas Irwin, ordered Gordon Gibson, retired logger and fiery Liberal member for Lillooet, to withdraw a remark he made Tuesday or leave the legislature.

The order was issued after Attorney-General Robert Bonner demanded withdrawal of a remark that bordered on a charge of patronage against the government.

Mr. Gibson refused to do so and thus became the first member of a B.C. legislature to be named.

READ FROM PAPER

Mr. Bonner, reading from the Vancouver Herald, quoted Mr. Gibson as saying: "I firmly believe that money talks and that money has talked in this—and I want that answered by the ministers. We are not going unanswered."

The attorney-general said the member was referring to a forest management licence application and demanded unreserved withdrawal for "implication of false and unavowed motives of the ministry of this government."

Mr. Gibson refused, saying he came to the legislature to say what he thought and would do so. He would further explain his remarks, but would not withdraw them. He did not deny the quotation.

TWO WARNINGS

The attorney-general's charge occurred just after the legislature opened.

Mr. Irwin said implications against the government had not been denied and gave Mr. Gibson the mandatory two warnings before ordering him to withdraw "until members decide what to do with you."

Mr. Gibson walked out to a chorus of desk thumping by opposition members and of silence by government members.

Later in his hotel room, he said if the question of forest management licences is put before the legislature's committee on forestry and if his charges were not born out, then he would retract.

BENNETT ABSENT

Mr. Gibson spoke Tuesday while several cabinet ministers—but not Premier Bennett—were in the house.

What at first appeared to be a clear-cut issue became confused as the house deferred completing the motions of naming a member. It should have considered what action to take as soon as Mr. Gibson left.

But at the request of CCF opposition leader Arnold Webster, Mr. Bonner moved and members approved suspension of house rules to give Mr. Gibson additional time to reconsider.

Because of the suspension of rules, Mr. Gibson may walk back into the house any time and he has been officially informed of it.

However, the Lillooet MLA said Wednesday night he will not re-enter the house unless invited, adding that withdrawals should have been demanded as he spoke, not a day following and not on the basis of a newspaper report.

Boss of Canadiens Here For Visit With Daughter

Frank J. Selke, managing director of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League arrived in Prince Rupert by plane today for an overnight stop to visit his daughter, Sister Enid, teacher at Annunciation school.

Mr. Selke has been making a tour of Canadien's farm teams and last night spoke at a hockey banquet in Calgary. He attended a hockey meeting in Palm Beach, Fla, February 11 and returned to Montreal before starting on his tour.

The Canadien's managing director will leave by plane for Montreal tomorrow in order to be on hand for a presentation to forward Kenny Mosdell next Saturday.

"If we provided storage sheds for fishermen we would be asked to build barns or storage of farm equipment and this practice would spread to every other group in Canada," Mr. Fournier said.

Among the figures in the agriculture departments statement are $47,000 for butter price support, $600,000 and $140,000 for cheese; $667,000 for skim milk price support; $372,000 compensation for diseased animal slaughter; $9,200,000 for cattle and beef price support; $27,000,000 for hogs and pork price support; $17,500,000 feed frieght assistance; $2,772,000 prairie farm assistance.

Pineau Seeks Approval For Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Christian Pineau, seeking approval as France's first Socialist premier in seven years, today finished piecing together a cabinet he hopes will satisfy the balky National Assembly.

Pineau plans to go before the deputies for approval Friday, but the most favorable estimates give him less than 320 supporting votes in the 627-member chamber. With likely abstentions, that could assure his confirmation but would promise a shaky government with a brief life expectancy.

Pineau was called in by President Rene Coty Monday to try to form France's 21st post-liberation cabinet—a task in which both Antoine Pinay, conservative Independent, and Pierre Pflimlin of the Catholic Mouvement Republicain Populaire had failed.

If Pineau wins assembly approval he will be the first Socialist premier since Paul Ramadier's government resigned in November, 1947. Since the 1951 elections the Socialists have even refused to serve in any cabinet because of their adamant stand. However, they voted solidly for Pierre Mendes-France, whose defeat on a vote of confidence Feb. 5 launched the present government crisis.

As unofficially reported, Pineau's cabinet lists four Socialists, four members of the MRP, four Radical Socialists, two members of the Union of Democratic and Socialist Resistance and three from the Gaullist Republican Union.

THIRD TARGET

Leonard was the third target of attempted assassination here within the last six months.

Sept. 15, Danny Brent, liquor club head waiter and ex-convict, was shot to death on a suburban golf course. Later, $175,000 worth of narcotics was found in his safety deposit box.

Bill (The Painter) Somentick was wounded during a gangland-style ride in Stanley Park. He escaped by jumping from the car and running from the scene. He was sentenced to three months for obstructing police in refusing to name his assailants.

His hearing on a charge of trafficking was adjourned until March 10 after a brief session Wednesday.

Pauline Leonard, the victim's wife, told reporters Wednesday she had no idea who would have planted a bomb in their car.

Flooded Burner Alerts Firemen

No damage was caused from over-heating by a flooded oil burner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitfield, 711 Fifth Avenue West this morning.

The Prince Rupert fire department was called to the Whitfield home as a safety precaution. The fire was allowed to burn itself out.

Five Homeless

SAYS FEDERAL GOVERNMENT "BLIND, SMUG" ON JOBLESS

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Canadian Congress of Labor official Wednesday accused the federal government of being "blind and smug" about unemployment.

Henry Weisbach, executive secretary of the CCL's political action committee also charged the government with "almost criminal" immigration policies.

He was speaking to the 18th annual convention of the British Columbia District of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL).

"How blind can those people in Ottawa get, how smug can they get toward the problem facing the Canadian economy?"

Mr. Weisbach said the federal government had done nothing to cut down the ranks of 500,000 unemployed in the country.

"Many thousands of people are being dumped into this country by a government policy of immigration which is almost criminal. This is a crime against the immigrants as well as the Canadian people."

He charged that employers were using immigrants to cut wages and fight unions.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Paulinous Miller, 71, died in hospital here Tuesday of injuries received when he was struck by a car last week.

Police identified the driver of the car which hit Miller as he crossed the street as Harold Bringland, 24.

Discrimination Drives Officer From Apartment

WAVERLEY, Iowa (AP)—U.S. Air Force Capt. Virgil A. Daniels says "racial pressure" of neighbors has barred plans to move his family into a government-financed apartment here.

Daniels, 37, father of three children, is the only Negro officer stationed at a nearby radar installation. He now must commute 42 miles round trip from Waterloo, where he lives in a mixed neighborhood.

Daniels said he took back his $20 deposit on the apartment after the apartment rental manager appealed to him to "take him off the hook" by not moving in.

The manager, Cleio Baker, said he received "four complaints" about the proposed rental to Daniels.

"Mr. Baker told me that some tenants had threatened to move because they didn't want to live with colored people," Daniels said.

Baker said the office of the apartment owner, the John J. Miller Construction Co. of Waterloo, told him there could be "no racial discrimination on a federal project."

Daniels, brother of jazz singer Billy Daniels, said he is going into debt by living so far from his work.

Kitimat Added To CBC Chain

Special to The Daily News

Vancouver—Kitimat has been added to the list of British Columbia towns now able to receive Canadian Broadcasting Corporation service. A low-power relay transmitter with a frequency of 740 kilocycles and call letters CBUK was installed this week.

This brings to 31 the number of such transmitters in areas where radio reception from outside points is very limited.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A fast-spreading fire caused $25,000 damage Tuesday when it gutted the stock room of a paint company here.

Postponed Atomic Tests Set Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—After three postponements, chances for the opening of the 1955 American atomic test series Friday morning appear brighter today because the Atomic Energy Commission has an ace in the hole.

The AEC disclosed that, beginning Friday, it will have a "less sensitive" shot ready for detonation in addition to the one which has thrice been cancelled since Tuesday.

The original shot was slated for explosion from a 500-foot tower on nearby Yucca flat with 1,100 military men in trenches 4,000 yards away.

The AEC did not disclose just how the second experiment would be conducted, but promised further disclosures later today.

Continuing cloudiness and high winds, coupled with sprinkles of rain in the Las Vegas area, forced the third postponement Wednesday night.

IWA Re-Elects Joe Morris

VANCOUVER (CP)—Joe Morris, stocky, blunt-spoken logger from Vancouver Island was returned to his second two-year term as president of the B.C. District, International Woodworkers of America CIO-CCL by convention delegates Wednesday.

Mr. Morris was the only one on the slate returned by acclamation and voting by referendum will be undertaken by the union's 27,000 members to fill other executive posts.

Treaty Change "Could Ruin" Pilot System

VANCOUVER (CP)—A proposed change in a United States-Canadian treaty that could "destroy the ship's pilot system in both countries" was opposed here Wednesday by representatives of 550 ship pilots across Canada.

The treaty, presently in the hands of the U.S. state department, calls for an International Board of Safety Navigation for persons of foreign nationality.

Captain Rolla R. Johnson of Cleveland, vice-president in charge of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Waterway district in the U.S. called the clause in the treaty "the most vicious thing in U.S. Navigational history."

He said in an interview the change in the treaty would permit ship captains of foreign vessels to navigate their ships through the St. Lawrence seaways and other river waters without picking up Canadian or U.S. pilots.

He said the livelihood of some 400 Great Lakes active pilots and about 9,000 lake ship officers would be affected.

The Canadian pilots, meeting here for their ninth convention, voted support of the State and Federal pilot association in the United States who are fighting the proposed clause.

Sale of Wine in Steam Baths Sees Fine of $300 Levied

Two bottles of wine, proven to have come from a case of wine seized by police February 8 at the Prince Rupert Steam Baths resulted in Henry Moore being fined $300 in police court this morning for illegally keeping liquor for sale. In default of payment accused will serve three months in jail.

A police witness told the court he had purchased the wine at the steam baths off Moore around midnight February 7, using money supplied to him by a constable at the city detachment of the RCMP.

Earlier, the witness said, he had purchased a case of wine at the government liquor store and taken it to the baths.

Constable James Riddell identified the wine turned over to him at the detachment offices as coming from the seized case. Identification was made from the serial numbers on the government seals on the bottles.

In his defence, Moore told the court he had nothing to do with the steambaths, and should not be charged with keeping liquor for sale.

Before passing sentence, Magistrate W. D. Vance pointed out that the police witness had identified Moore as the man who passed him the bottles and took his money.

"You can't just go in some place and serve up their liquor," the magistrate told the accused.

Moore was not represented by counsel. T. W. Brown QC acted for the Crown. Mr. Brown asked that the liquor be confiscated, but subject to its being used as evidence in other pending liquor cases.

Burton Loucks, charged with selling liquor illegally, was remanded until February 24 at the request of his counsel, Mrs. Willa Ray.

Mrs. Ray told the court Loucks wished time to arrange to have his wife and children return to Saskatchewan.

WEATHER

Relatively clear skies returned to most regions of British Columbia during the night and temperatures dropped below freezing at the coast and near zero in part of the central interior for the first time in more than a week. A well established high pressure area lies off the coast forming an effective block against advancing Pacific storms. Most regions of the province will enjoy sunny skies for the next two days.

North coast region: A few clouds over the Queen Charlotte, clear along the mainland today and Friday. Little change in temperature. Winds northwesterly 15 in exposed areas near the Queen Charlotte, light elsewhere. Low tonight and high Friday at Port Hardy 30 and 43, Sandspit 32 and 43, Prince Rupert 25 and 40.

Good For the Navy

AN example of effective public relations is currently being provided on the west coast by the navy. With a squadron of new minesweepers taking over patrol of B.C. coastal waters, the navy is making sure that taxpayers fully understand the purpose of these little craft and how it is being achieved. Whenever it is possible during a visit in port, some arrangement is made to have local citizens on board and to put on a demonstration of how the vessels operate.

Owing to the confined quarters of the ships, invitations have to be limited. But it is clear that those in charge are doing their level best to stage a worthwhile show and to create interest in the minesweepers wherever they go.

Needless to say, such a program can be trying for the crew and there is the constant danger that some big shot, taking advantage of this hospitality, will make demands that are hard to meet. But for a public which hears so much about large defence expenditures without having any real knowledge of where the money is going, it is a refreshing experience.

Understandably the defence department is in a position of having to be secretive about many things despite their importance to the paying public. In this age it takes a news release only a few minutes to travel around the world, so that almost instantly it is the property of possible enemies as well as of established friends.

Nevertheless the armed forces occasionally betray too much of a tendency to look upon civilians as a race apart. With due regard to the warning that enemies are listening everywhere, this is an attitude that can be carried too far and is contrary to the very purpose for which national defence is organized, as well as to the principle from which it draws its strength.

In the case of the new minesweepers for B.C. the public is being given a much appreciated look at what it is buying without being exposed to the danger that secrets will be told out of school. It is good for the public, good for the service and, we trust, bad for those who look for a softening of democratic morale.

Globe-Mail Story

There is always keen public interest when a famous and powerful newspaper changes hands. There was unusually keen interest in the recent sale of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

The Globe and Mail has long since become something of a national institution. It enjoys a monopoly in the morning field in central Ontario. It is also as well edited a newspaper as there is in Canada, which is saying a good deal.

I WORKED on the old Toronto Globe from May 1928 till February 1933, during those five years, was to write the editorials on foreign affairs and imperial relations.

But I always chuckle when I think of how I nearly lost the job.

BEFORE the merger with the old Mail and Empire, the Globe had been THE great Liberal newspaper in central Canada. It had been founded by George Brown, the fierce Clear Grit who teamed up with his otherwise life-long enemy Sir John A. Macdonald to put through the Confederation of Canada.

But after Brown had been murdered, by an angry printer, the Globe had passed into the hands of the Senator Jaffray family. The first Jaffray was a fierce partisan—indeed it seems clear that he played a key part in collecting the campaign funds for the Liberal party during the years that Laurier was at the height of his powers.

But when Senator Jaffray died the paper passed into the hands of Will Jaffray, a fine man, but one who was a stock-broker by profession, and an arch-fundamentalist in religion. All of his natural inclinations were against the Liberal principles, and he had a deep distrust of, and contempt for, Mackenzie King.

DURING the middle twenties the Globe was therefore in this unhappy position.

The readers of the Globe were overwhelmingly Liberal by inclination. That was especially true of the Scots belt of central Ontario, where the Globe was called the "Scotman's Bible" and where they joked that the people wouldn't believe it had rained unless they read it in the Globe.

Yet the owner of the Globe was a man who differed from those Scots on almost everything, except religion.

I HAD worked for four years as assistant to John Redpath Dougall, the editor and owner of the Montreal Witness.

But the elder Dougall was then in his middle eighties and I knew the firm would fold up (as it did) when he died. So when the Toronto Globe sent me an invitation to come up and talk over a job, I went gladly.

But I had told Mr. Jaffray in a letter that I had disagreed strongly with the editorial line of the Globe, for several years. So the first thing he said to me was: "In what respect do you differ from our editorial line."

I had no time even to think up a diplomatic answer so launched in bluntly to tell him how unfair I thought they had been to Mackenzie King, on "Equal Status" and the whole Byng-King, constitutional controversy.

If I had lashed Mr. Jaffray with a whip across the face I could not have hurt him more equally than I did. Yet, in about four months he sent for me to come and take the job.

In the meantime he had had a talk with Prime Minister Bruce of Australia—and the Australian Tory confirmed some of the things I had told Mr. Jaffray, while he did not know, till then.

So I had the great privilege of serving on the old Globe in a sort of brief Indian summer of its Liberal lifetime.

URGES FISH FARMING

The Editor,
The Daily News,

Successful fishing on a commercial scale is a matter of fish farming, as well as keeping the streams clear to spawning grounds an dthe paying of bounties for the destruction of fish killers.

It comes as a wonder to me why we have not established more fish hatcheries for spawning and protecting the young fry. Every inlet and creek on the coast could be used for such a purpose.

Such operations have proved practical in the past and it should be a matter of concern to everyone to increase our fish harvest.

If continued success in the fishing trade and commerce of our Dominion is desired, it will be necessary to consider the first part of the operation — planting, as well as the latter part — reaping.

The short - sighted policy which has allowed our fish supply to remain constant, rather than seeking a permanent increase in the face of too high prices for the consumer and a world market, eager to accept more of ou rhigh class product at a reasonable price, is not to be commended.

Modern methods of fishing result in bigger catches, therefore a far greater suppl of fish for the modern and far more efficient and less-cost-per-unit methods of fish packing, labelling, sorting and marketing, is demanded.

Fish farms are imperative. We have advanced mibhtily in every branch of the fishing industry, except for the beginning — the protection and propagation of the fish. Prices have increased, the product is decreasing.

An increase in the quantity of the fish, will fill the nets of the fishermen at less expense and with fewer trips to catch their quota. In the long run the fisherman will be better off.

In the case of the canner and marketer, business expansion will be axiomatic with more fish and greater consumption.

EDWARD W. GREEN.
Vancouver.

PARIS (AP)—Two large groups in the French National Assembly today decided not to take part in the government which Christian Pineau is planning, but the 50-year-old Socialist is still expected to go ahead with formation of his cabinet.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

Would you be interested in rent monthly magazine of renting a moderate apartment containing from one to four bedrooms for a rental of from $9 to $24 per month, with the further provision that if you paid this rent faithfully you would own your unit after ten years?

If you would like to get in on such a deal, the opportunity is present. Yes, as you probably suspect, there is just one slight hitch. You would have to move to Venezuela to qualify.

Here is the story:

A number of the embassies here along Diplomatic Row issue propaganda publications of varying degrees of pretentiousness. Circulated to key figures on Parliament Hill, they usually are received with an equanimity which cynicism easily could mistake for apathy. But the curiously tipped off their colleagues that it was "must" reading.

The feature that so appealed to the Parliament Hill statesmen was an article describing a government - sponsored project whereby some 36,000 Caracas workers (averaging 5.8 persons per family) are being moved from slum conditions to modern apartment dwellings at the rents already mentioned and with the prospect of ownership of their accommodation after ten years payment of rent.

The apartments are located in 19 buildings, 15 stories high, serviced with elevators. They are modern to the latest gadget—kitchens with built-in sinks and laundry tubs, latest type bathrooms, a garbage disposal unit, cross ventilation in all rooms, and even a small ventilated passage to hang wet laundry. Construction of the buildings themselves is of steel frame and concrete, making them earthquake-proof as well as fire-proof.

The 19 buildings are costing a total of $23,000,000 and the funds are being provided by The Workers' Bank, a Venezuelan Government agency. There is no profit motive. In fact, a government subsidy which is described as "small" is involved. Part of the scheme consists of the occupants of the larger and more luxurious units (the $24-per-month super collossal jobs) helping to pay a portion of the cost of the more modest apartments which will be occupied by lower-paid workers. With construction of the 19 buildings now virtually completed, a start is to be made during the present year upon another group to house an additional 15,000 persons.

The article describing the project in the Venezuelan magazine carries impressive illustrations. MP's who have digested it have clearly had their imaginations stirred. When Central Mortgage and Housing affairs are before the House they're going to want to know why some similar scheme isn't possible in Canada. And they're going to expect a real answer—no brush-off—from Public Works Minister "Bob" Winters.

Fear, Ignorance Still Big Factors In Building Prejudice Club Told

Fear and ignorance are still the main factors producing racial prejudice the Prince Rupert Business and Professional Women's Club was told last night.

Speaking after the club's solemn International Candlelight ceremony held in the Civic Centre, William Hankinson told the group that too many people are still afraid of color, foreign accents and other races. This fear builds up prejudice, he said.

The passage of laws, which although it brings about a social conscience, is not enough, Mr. Hankinson said.

"The solution," he said, "is to get behind the United Nations charter and to practice true Christianity, each and everyone of us."

"We should assist New Canadians in learning our ways and customs," Mr. Hankinson said, adding that he would like to see the people at home give a hand whenever necessary.

Mr. Hankinson was introduced by Mrs. Percy Young, past president of the club.

The ceremony which saw National BPWC Federations represented, saw 20 candles lit for the different countries with two smaller candles standing for Mexico and South America, where clubs have been organized.

There were three unlighted candles representing Communist-dominated Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Aims of the International outlined by president Miss Pauline Watkinson who also welcomed the guests are:

- To promote the interest of business and professional women and to secure combined action by them.
- To work for high business and professional standards of service.
- To promote friendly relations and understanding among the business and professional women of all countries.
- To make available, and ensure the use of the specialized knowledge and economic and technical skills of business and professional women in the promotion and support of the programs and activities of the United Nations and other world governmental organizations.

Lighting candles for the various countries were: Mrs. M. Schaeghofer, Austria; Miss H. Hopkins, Australia, New Zealand; Mrs. J. Ewart, Belgium; Percy Young, Cuba; G. M. Marhauer; Mrs. V. Pussinen, Finland; Mrs. Josephine Boulsson, France; H. J. Schalten, Holland; Dr. D. Venturini, Italy; Mrs. Karl Giske Norway; Miss M. Ballantyne, Southern Rhodesia, South Africa; Mrs. R. Johnson, Sweden; M. Guardet, Switzerland; Mrs. M. Janes, Great Britain; A. Steigleder, West Germany; J. H. Lewis, USA; Girl Guide Anne Eyolfson, Mexico; Boy Scout David Ridsdale, South America; and Mayor Hills, Canada.

Guests representing international organizations were: Alf Rivett, Gyro; T. B. Black, Rotary; J. Burns, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Miss E. Clements, Soroptomists; Anne Eyolfson, Girl Guides; David Ridsdale, Boy Scouts; and Mr. Hankinson, Canadian Citizenship Council.

Soup With Cheese, Shrimp Make Tasty Rarebit

Sea fresh shrimp, cheese and the faint suggestion of tomato flavor blend tastily in this new way to make Rarebit. Using canned tomato soup saves precious minutes and it doesn't take long to add the other ingredients. This Rarebit is quick to prepare and unusual too! It's a perfect dish for your next buffet supper.

Shrimp-Cheese-Tomato Rarebit on Fluffy Rice
Tossed Vegetable Salad French Dressing
Hot Pecan Rolls
Lemon Meringue Pie

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups water
- 1, 10½ oz. can condensed tomato soup
- ½ cup milk
- 1 lb. American cheese, grated
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 2 cups diced, cleaned, cooked shrimp

METHOD

Put the rice, 1 teaspoon of salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from heat, but leave lid on 10 minutes. While the rice is cooking, heat the soup and milk in a saucepan over a low heat.

Add the cheese, salt, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, paprika, and shrimp. Stir until the cheese melts. Serve the shrimp-cheese mixture from a chafing dish or candle warmer. Serve the rice in a separate dish. Spoon servings of the shrimp-cheese mixture over servings of rice. Or spread the hot rice over a hot platter and pour the hot shrimp-cheese mixture over the rice. Garnish with whole shrimp.

This recipe makes 8 servings.

J. M. Jopp Named Director Of Engineering

Wentworth Brown, vice-president and general manager of Columbia Cellulose Company, Limited, announced in Vancouver this week the appointment of J. M. Jopp as director of engineering for the company. Mr. Jopp will have staff responsibility for all phases of the company's engineering, and will be located in the Vancouver office.

Mr. Jopp comes to Columbia Cellulose with long experience in the pulp and paper field. A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, he joined the Manitoba Paper Company, a subsidiary of Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company, as engineer on the construction of a newsprint mill at Pine Falls, Manitoba, and remained with that company as operating and maintenance engineer.

In 1945, he joined the Brown Company at La Tuque, Quebec, as design engineer, and three years later was appointed chief engineer. In May, 1953, he was promoted to assistant to the president-engineering, for Brown Company and Brown Corporation.

With the sale of the Brown Corporation, he was transferred to the Berlin operations in New Hampshire, where he was engaged in modernization, rehabilitation and expansion plans of the company's Berlin properties.

Mr. and Mrs. Jopp have taken up resident in Vancouver.

The Auto Corner

Submitted by The Prince Rupert Auto Club

During the last six months or so we have had a flea in our town, a four wheel flea that during the last few years has been busy making a remarkable name for itself in Canada and the United States.

The proper name for this little four wheel creature is the Volkswagen, a product of Germany. Not only does Germany boast of being the oldest car manufacturing country, but also German firms repeatedly produce advances in automotive engineering that are copied by the American manufacturing firms in the years that follow.

Popularity of the VW in Rupert is not exceptional and that is to be expected, because of it's radical difference in styling, but nevertheless the many motorists that have never driven a VW have a very large surprise in store for themselves.

The top speed of the VW is not a very exciting figure at 66 M.P.H. yet when on the highway it's very seldom that the driver has to slow down for sharp corners as if it was on rails, and on rough surface the bumps are heard but very little shock is felt. It's no hardship at stop lights either when a zero to 30 M.P.H. in 8 seconds, or in economy, for a VW will give up to 35 miles per gallon. The biggest bug bear in the small car is the tiring affects of a long trip. Not so, is the cry of the VW owners, for on a long trip the affects are no worse than any car in the 100 HP class. The luggage space could be enlarged, cross winds make it tend to wander more than is considered good. Also it has a tendency to over steer which isn't a good feature in a rear engined car. Summing up the VW is one of the most versatile and amazing car in it's class. It combines performance in traffic with ample highway cruising speed and remarkable all round economy not only in fuel consumption but in other things including first cost, depreciation and repairs. For any mans money it's a best buy even though we admit it could be improved by a little larger engine, better luggage space, and less oversteer.

(Another type of car will be described next week.)

HELPFUL HINTS

If you file distributor points, be sure all particles of metal or dirt are removed. One way of doing this is to fold scotch tape with the adhesive side out, press it between the points, bring them together. However, point replacement usually is best.

ROAD REPORT

The highway to Terrace is just about the same, the summit has a periodic fall of snow and is slippery at these times so use caution when driving up there.

Big pat on the back for the city works boys, see they have fixed up all but one hole on Hays Cove Circle, also putting an end to the worst ones one Third Avenue. Keep it up fellas, we car drivers hate dodging holes on main streets. Work is progressing on the Galloway bridge and the fill will soon be finished on the Terrace end. Will have to wait awhile for it to be paved though as the fill has to settle, so continue to be careful at this spot for awhile yet.

CLUB NOTES

Seems there has been another mixup in the date of our next dance and it had to be put off until March 4 but it's for sure this time. Next Sunday is meeting night at C. Giordano's office. We will be forming a definite racing program fellas so if you're interested please attend. Any person having an older model car for sale cheap, one of the members could convert to a stock type racing car please contact Don Harrison at 5866 or C. Giordano at 2883 and give full particulars.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

The Master Has Ability to Change Plan of Play

Most bridge players realize it's a good idea to have a definite plan for the play of every hand. This is much better than just banging down your aces and kings in a haphazard fashion.

But one of the marks of a master player is the ability to change his plans during the course of a hand. This often becomes necessary by reason of running into unexpectedly bad distribution.

Mr. Champion is a master at this sort of thing while Mr. Muzzy (if he has any plan at all) bullheadedly barges through with it to the bitter end.

In today's deal Mr. Abel led the king of diamonds which Mr. Champion ruffed. Now it looked like he could pull trumps in two leads leaving a trump in dummy to take care of the fourth round of spades. The contract could then be made handily with the loss of just one club trick.

TRUMP CONCENTRATION

The only thing that could possibly cause any trouble was a concentration of all three outstanding trumps in one opponent's hand. This happens only about 22 times in 100.

So Mr. Champion laid down the ace of hearts and Mrs. Keen showed out, discarding a diamond. Now Mr. Champion had to start planning all over again.

South dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

The heart distribution was no longer a theory. It was a hard and unpleasant fact.

Well, he could still try to ruff his fourth spade in dummy. This would fail only if Mr. Abel had started with two or less spades.

He would hold as few as two about 38 times in 100.

ADD TO CHANCES

But Mr. Champion saw a way to add considerably to his chances. Suppose the opposing clubs were divided 3-3? The odds were against this distribution but a club had to be lost anyway.

The only danger in trying to set the clubs was that Mr. Abel had one club or none. The odds against this were prohibitive so a low club was led and ducked in dummy. Mrs. Keen won and returned a diamond.

Mr. Champion ruffed again, led to the ace of clubs and ruffed a third club high. When the suit broke, it was all over.

He now pulled the remaining trumps and had dummy's queen of spades left for an entry to the good clubs. On one of these he discarded his losing spade.

UBC Student Beaten, Robbed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 27-year-old University of B.C. student was beaten unconscious and robbed on a lonely campus trail early today by attackers who tied him to a tree.

Douwe Bakker, a Dutch immigrant studying arts at the university, was reported in good condition in the university hospital.

His feet were bound to a tree with his own shoelaces.

Bakker told police he was returning from his night shift at a sawmill, and pushing his bicycle through the wooded path when the men jumped him and started beating him. He was unconscious within seconds.

Approximately $9 was taken from his wallet.

To Process Cordwood at Anacortes

ANACORTES (CP)—A new $1,000,000 wood preparation plant here to process cordwood, including alder, for use in making bleached sulphite pulp was announced Wednesday by the Scott Paper Co

The announcement was made by Walter Miller, plant manager for the Coos Bay Pulp Corp., a branch operation here.

The development will provide an entirely new source of raw material for the pulping operations here, Miller said. Previously alder has not been used.

USSR Team May See Vs Play Return Game

BERLIN (Reuters)—The Soviet world hockey championship team may watch Canada's Penticton Vs play a return game here Friday against a Canadian—Swedish—German side, West Berlin sports officials said today.

The officials said they expected the Russians to come since Paval Korotkov, president of the Soviet Ice Hockey Association and 10 other Russians were keen spectators Wednesday night when Penticton beat an international side 11-4.

Heinz Henschel, chairman of the West Berlin Ice Hockey Association, which is host to the Canadian team, said today that Korotkov Wednesday night refused to give interviews to the press or to sports officials.

But East Berlin reporters had told West Berlin sports officials of the planned visit of the Soviet team, which left Moscow Monday to play two training matches in West Germany before the world championship tournament begins next week.

SATISFIED WITH CONDITIONS

The Penticton team leaves Berlin for Prague on Saturday to play two matches there.

Referring to published deports Wednesday that his team has been beefing about accommodations here, Clem Bird, manager of the Canadian team, told Reuters today that his men are satisfied with their living conditions in West Berlin and "I have no idea where a contradictory report can have originated from."

They are staying in the Sachsenhof Hotel in the United States sector.

West Berlin papers are unanimous in their praise of the Canadians' speed, fairness, and skill. Der Tagesspiegel says "The canadians showed everything they had promised."

Berliner Morgenpost says the Canadians displayed hockey "as Berlin has not seen it for decades."

REED RINK TO BE GUESTS OF CALGARY ON WAY EAST

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — The high school curling champions of British Columbia, outfitted in white sweaters emblazoned with a huge red apple, left here Wednesday in search of the Dominion curling title at Sydney, N.S.

The Kelowna rink, made up of Dennis Reed, skip; Bev Trautman, third; Dale Gregory, second; and Bud Meekling, lead; will be guests of Mayor Don Mackay of Calgary Thursday.

The boys will get in a few practise ends in Calgary, attend a hockey game, and leave Friday by air for Montreal and other engagements before continuing on to Sydney.

Interior Puck Playoffs Battle Down To Wire

By The Canadian Press

The playoffs in the interior amateur hockey leagues won't be won without a struggle.

Kimberley Dynamiters rode into the third game of their Western International League series with Spokane Wednesday night leading two games to none—and they lost 4-1. The fourth game goes tonight.

Kamloops Elks had a firm grip on their Okanagan Senior Hockey League semi-final but Kelowna Packers slipped past them 2-1 Wednesday night to force a fourth game tonight.

In Spokane, George Senick kept the Spokane Flyers in the running by firing home three goals and picking up an assist on Lorne Nadeau's marker.

Barry Craig scored the only Dynamiter goal.

Earl Betker, Kimberley netminder, was the star of the Dynamiter team in a losing cause. He booted out 37 shots including 17 in the free-wheeling first period.

In Kamloops, the game was a battle from start to finish. Dave Wall poked home the winner at 7:51 of the second period when he took a pass from Bob Dawes.

In other action tonight, Trail will tackle Nelson Maple Leafs in the Queen City. Nelson leads the best-of-five series 2-0.

Don Arney Bowls Near-Perfect Ten-Pin Game

Denis Fontaine, making a bid to take the high single game and high three games last night in the Men's Ten Pin Bowling League down to Marpole with him was thwarted when Don Arney in his last game of the night came close to the perfect score when he banged over nine perfect hits and then ran into the bowler's nightmare with a split in the tenth and last frame. Arney came close to getting the split also but the corner stood up and he wound up with 265.

Denis Fontaine, rolling a 236 to start with and then followed it with a 255 which broke the high single that was scored by Bill Woods about three weeks ago, ran into all kinds of trouble in the last game and wound up with 140 to give him a 631 threesome which was high for the night. Arney's placed second with 608.

Grant & Newton took three points from the RCMP to close the gap between them and City Transfer who were upset by a hot rolling Albert and McCaffery squad who took three points from the Transfermen. The only clean sweep scored in the night was by the Canadian Pacific Airlines led by Arney over the Moose.

The night featured a good number of big scores besides those mentioned. Al Sheppard had a 226, Norm Kinslor and Gerry Lord scored 213's, Vic Menzies a 206 and Bob Rudderham a 204 and 200. High single team game was rolled by Grant and Newton with a 918 and they also completed the sweep with a high threesome of 2604.

B.C. Lions Sign 230-Pounder

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions Wednesday announced the signing of Chester (Chet) Daniels, 230-pound guard and kicker with the University of Oregon before he joined the U.S. Air Force in 1950.

He was a member of Oregon's Pacific coast championship team in 1948 and all-coast guard in 1949 and 1950.

Daniels is the ninth U.S. import signed by Lions.

Pushovers Tie Footwear In A Loop Mixed Kegling

Pushovers crept even with Fashion Footwear last Thursday to tie A loop standings in the Mixed Five Pin league while Orphans and Hill's Shoe Store are still tied in B loop.

Fashion were only able to get three points in their game with Shenton's while Pushovers made a clean sweep in their contest with Fowlie and Ruttle.

Both leaders in B division saw their opponents take three points as Cook's Jewellers edged Orphans and Bob Parkers took Hill's.

Alice McMeekin of Headpinners topped the women in A loop for high single with a 308 game and Bertha Dunbar of Pushovers took high three honors with a 705 score.

Jim Intermela with scores of 349 and 715 took men's high single and three while Fashion Footwear scored team high three with 3620 and Shamrocks posted a high single game of 1367.

Muriel Eriksen of Hill's Shoes posted women's high single of 259 in B division and Chatham's Bev Matson was the women's high three winner with 577. Norm Christensen of Canfisco with a 363 game was high men's single winner and George Kolde of Bob Parkers rolled the loop's high three games for a score of 642. Bob Parkers with 1142 posted team high single and Cook's 3212 was good for team high three.

Results: A League—Pushovers 4, Fowlie & Ruttle 0; Esquire's 4, La Gondola 0; Fashion Footwear 3, Shenton's 1; Whalen's Lucky Six 3, Shamrocks 1; Harold's 3, Thom Sheet Metal 1; Frosty Lockers 3, Headpinners 1.

B League — RCMP 3, Eby and Sons 1; CPA 3, Daily News 1; Cook's Jewellers 3, Orphans 1; Bob Parkers 3, Hill's Shoes 1; Chatham 3, Booth School 1; Esso Extras 3, Canfisco 1.

Standings: A League—Fashion Footwear 44, Pushovers 44, Shamrocks 34, Frosty's 32, Headpinners 31, Fowlie & Ruttle 29, Esquires 26, Shenton's 25, Whalen's 24, La Gondola 19, Harold's 15, Thom Sheet Metal 13.

B League — Orphans 36, Hill's Shoe Store 30, Cook's Jewellers 33, Canfisco 29, Eby & Sons 28, Esso Extras 28, Chatham 27, Bob Parker 26, CPA 26, Daily News 23, RCMP 20, Booth School 16.

The pantomime as a form of acting without speech appeared in Rome about 360 BC.

Vial Contents Refined Radium

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCMP aid Wednesday investigation of a mysterious vial of radioactive material at Port Arthur, Ont., indicates it is partially-refined radium which is not dangerous unless handled over a long period.

A spokesman said the vial, now in the radium vault of the Port Arthur General Hospital, was obtained by Angus MacDonald in Holland while serving with the Canadian Army provost corps during the Second World War. MacDonald traded various articles for the vial which he brought to Canada.

Labine Hero Of Bruins As Rangers Held To Tie

By The Canadian Press

There's a suspicion around the National Hockey League today that somebody told Leo Labine his hometown plans to fete him Saturday night with a "Labine night." in Toronto.

Maybe nobody mentioned, it but the Boston centre seemed to be giving a little extra push Wednesday night in New York where the Bruins played Rangers to a 2-2 draw.

A committee from Haileybury, Ont., where Labine was born July 22, 1931, announced Wednesday night that a chartered bus will take of load of Haileybury businessmen to Toronto Saturday to honor the town's only NHL player with the key to the city and other gifts.

It's unlikely Labine had read of his "special night" before game time in New York, but he went out and scored the goal that brought Bruins from behind for the draw. It was his 1st goal of the season.

TAKE 2-0 LEAD

Rangers had built up a 2-0 lead on goals by Pete Conacher and Danny Lewicki in the second period. Boston defenceman Bill Quackenbush cut the margin to 2-1 seconds later on a solo breakaway, setting the stage for Labine's tying marker in the early second of the third session.

A crowd of 6,809 fans watched Bruins grab the tie to extend their unbeaten string to nine games. The single point advanced Bruins within four points of third-place Toronto Maple Leafs, who were idle. For the fifth-place Rangers, it was another missed opportunity to close in on a playoff berth.

Labine gets one more chance to shine before Bruins go to Toronto to meet Leafs Saturday night. Boston meets the last-place Black Hawks at Chicago tonight and a win would put Bruins in position to move even with Leafs with a Saturday night triumph.

In tonight's other NHL encounter, first place will be at stake as the league-leading Detroit Red Wings meet second-place Canadiens in Montreal. Only a point separates the two, with Wings having 73 points for the lead.

Victoria, New Westminster Tied For WHL Third Place

Victoria Cougars have taken the big step and today are standing eye-to-eye with New Westminster Royals on the third rung of the Western Hockey League ladder.

Both clubs are looking fondly at second-place Calgary Stampeders, only one point ahead.

Saskatoon Quakers, meanwhile 10 points in the cellar and 16 out of the last playoff spot, aren't letting it bother them. They haven't lost a game in the last six.

And the New Westminster club, who dropped their last four games, have asked waivers on goaltender Lucien Dechene. The Vancouver Herald said the Royals were trying to get the loan of Dave Gatherum from the Detroit organization, presumably to replace the WHL's fabulous fat man.

Victoria climbed into a tie for third place by whacking the Royals 3-2 Wednesday night. In the only other game scheduled, Saskatoon Quakers blanked league-leading Edmonton Flyers 3-0.

Victoria travels to Calgary tonight in the league's single encounter.

In Vancouver, Canuck owner Coley Hall expressed more than a passing interest in Dechene. He said, "we want our own goaltender next year. When Johnny Bower was recalled to New York last December, we went into that horrible losing streak. It wouldn't have happened with him here."

Pitcher, Fielder Ink Sox Contract

BOSTON (AP)—The signing of pitchers Truman Clevenger and Al Curtis and outfielder Al van Alstyne was announced today by Boston Red Sox.

Clevenger, a 22-year-old righthander, had a 2-4 record with the Sox last year.

Curtis, a righthander, had a 3-5 with Louisville in the American Association last season.

Van Alstyne, a member of the Boston system since 1950, hit .279 at Louisville last year.

Counter-Suit May Be Posted By Stampeders

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union may launch a counter-suit to one posted by Washington Redskins against Calgary coach Jack Hennemier.

Ed O'Connor, Stamps president, said Wednesday the club had heard nothing from the Redskins regarding a $50,000 damages suit against Hennemier on a complaint that he enticed two Washington players to jump their contracts.

"All we know is what we are hearing indirectly," O'Connor said.

He said that all particulars of the case were in the hands of the Calgary club's lawyers. Any decisions would be made by them. However, it was possible Stampeders might post a counter-suit against the Redskins. The National Football League recently signed Eddie Lebaron and Gene Brito. Both were members of the Stampeders 1954 team. Lebaron and Brito played for Washington the previous year.

American Girl Captures Skating Crown

VIENNA (Reuters)—Tenley Albright, 19-year-old American medical student, won the compulsory figures of the women's world figure skating championships here today with a clear lead over Austria's Hanna Eigel, who was second. The Boston girl had 990.6 points to Miss Eigel's 946.7.

Austria's Ingrid Wendl was third and 21-year-old Erica Batchelor of Britain was fourth. Yvonne Sugden, 15, also of Britain, was sixth.

Carole Jane Pachl of Ottawa was seventh and Ann Johnston of Toronto eighth. Miss Pachl had 919.1 points and Miss Johnston scored 913.5.

The free skating part of the competition for the title will be held tonight.

Chris Chataway, Marciano To Attend Polio Dinner

TORONTO (CP) — Twenty-three athletic stars of past and present and from as far afield as Britain assemble here today for the annual $25-a-plate sports celebrity dinner in aid of crippled children.

The notables of national and international sport will assist the Ontario Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association in launching the 1955 Canada-wide Easter Seals campaign.

Among those around the dinner table tonight will be world heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, who is making a special flight to Toronto today to attend; Chris Chataway, Britain's great distance runner, who flew in from England Wednesday night, and a host of others.

Ten sports will be represented by the 23 outstanding sporting figures, star attraction at the dinner. Proceeds go to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

The dinner has been sold out for some time and the sports writers association expects to realize about $20,000 for the society from the more than 800 paying guests.

Marciano will fly here in a plane owned by Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club.
