FASHION-CRAFT STYLES for MEN

In a Land where Fine Ulsters are common FASHION-CRAFT ULSTERS have more uncommon style, uncommon fabrics and uncommonly fine tailoring than any other ulsters.

It gives one a sense of protection merely to look at these fine coats.

And you get the same sense of protection when you look at the prices.

PORT SIMPSON MAN KILLED AT ANYOX

Alexander Brentzen Missed His Footing and Fell Into Concentrator Bins Last Week

A fatal accident occurred at the concentrating mill at Anyox last week when Alexander Bretzen met his death. It appears that while carrying out his duties he missed his footing and fell into the fine crushed ore bins, being smothered with the contents. The body was later discovered by a workman at the chute of the bunker.

Deceased was born in Port Simpson, and is survived by brothers and sisters of that town and Prince Rupert, also a sister in Anyox, Mrs. J. R. Carr.

An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury. Funeral service was held in Christ Church at 10 a.m. on Thursday. Rev. J. S. Brayfield officiated, and the deceased was taken aboard S.S. Prince George for interment at Port Simpson.

JOINT FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

Father McGrath Officiated at Rites for Late Henry Farasche and William Archer

The funerals took place jointly at 2:30 this afternoon of the late Henry Farasche, who died yesterday morning in the Prince Rupert General Hospital, and the late William Archer, whose death occurred last week in a gasboat accident near Butedale. Father McGrath officiated at the service which took place in the chapel of the B.C. Undertakers and interment in each case took place in Fairview Cemetery.

The late Henry Farasche is survived by a widow and son.
