FINGER PRINTS VERY USEFUL

Between 600 and 700 Received Each Day by Bureau of Investigation

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 29.—With a file of approximately 1,300,000 finger prints of persons arrested for felonies in the United States and Canada, the identification division of the department of justice is receiving between 600 and 700 new prints a day.

J. E. Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation, revealed before the house appropriation committee that the division finds approximately a third of the 600 prints received dail belong to persons with previous criminal records.

"As indicative of that work," Hoover said, "let me refer to the situation in St. Louis following the tornado there. The chief of police proposed to appoint a number of temporary policemen. He sent us the finger prints of 545 he was going to appoint. Of those ten had previous criminal records. Two had been convicted and served sentences for petit larceny, two for grand larceny, one for desertion, one for desertion and larceny, one for seduction and one for burglary. One was wanted for investigation.

"The chief of police of St. Louis has advised me that in addition to those ten found by our bursau he found 11 more, making 21 persons who were to be appointed there who had criminal records, thus proving the value of the finger print system."

Was Subject to BRONCHITIS Every Winter

Mrs. Wm. Healey, 524 Hill Street, London, Ont., writes:—"My daughter, aged fourteen, was subject to bronchitis every winter.

"She would cough until she was sore from the exertion.

"Last winter a friend advised me to get a bottle of your

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

so I got a small bottle to try and was delighted to find that before she had taken half of it her cough was completely relieved.

"I certainly feel justified in recommending it to those suffering from coughs and colds."

NATIONAL SONGS OF CANADIANS

Proposal to Tour Canada With Grand Opera Singer of Note

OTTAWA, Feb. 29—Plans for a nationwide concert tour to make known historic Canadian songs were announced today by the Association of Canadian Clubs. The tour, organized by the national headquarters of the Canadian Clubs, is supported by the National Museum of Canada and the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

Madame Jeanne Dusseau of Toronto, formerly a leading soprano of the Chicago Grand Opera, will make the tour. Gwendolyn Williams of Toronto will be her accompanist.

The tour will be started in Ottawa March 15 and will continue westward, embracing about fifty Canadian cities.

Most of the songs have been collected by C. Marius Barbeau of the National Museum of Canada, an authority on folk songs.

DIES LISTENING TO LECTURE ON HEALTH

WINNIPEG, Feb. 29.—While listening to an address on health by Dr. Orlando E. Miller in a local theatre, George Murray, tie inspector on the Canadian National Railways was seized with a heart attack and died in his seat.

Mr. Murray and his wife left home to attend the Miller lecture. At that time he was in good health. Just as the lecturer announced in effect that people could prolong their lives by having the will to live and regarding the rules of health, Murray slumped forward in his seat and was dead when a physician reached him a minute later.

NELSON WANTS LANDING FIELD

(Nelson News)

Some time ago, the question of establishing in Nelson a landing field for airplanes was broached, but nothing has yet been done.

It is a matter for early action. Difficulties of securing a suitable landing place increase month by month as building operations extend and land becomes occupied and of more value.

Nelson's topography does not make it easy to select a suitable location for a landing field, but a landing field is going to be a necessity and the sooner we take steps to set one aside the less will be the difficulties involved.

Even today, a Nelson-Spokane air service is quite within the bounds of commercial practicability. The number of Spokane mining men and others who would cheerfully pay two or three times the railroad fare if they could get up here, do business and return in one as against the three days now occupied must be substantial.

NEGRO THEATRE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—New York "is a city where men are measured by their achievements," Mayor James J. Walker said in opening the Princess Theatre in Harlem, destined to be a negro repertory house.

"This play tonight is an indication of the progress of the negro group in our city," the Mayor continued. "After all, no matter what the veneer is, the best we can do is just be human. And this is a vindication of the progress of American government."

Otto H. Kahn is said by newspapers to be aiding the negroes in getting their project under way. The first play presented, "Meek Mose," was written and acted by negroes.

BOOKS ABOUT USEFUL ARTS

Among recent additions to the public library in this city are a number dealing with the useful arts. They include:

"Lace in the Making" by M. L. Brooke.

"Why We Behave Like Human Beings" by G. A. Dorsey.

"Colds" by R. L. Cecil.

"Commander R.N." by G. B. Hartford.

"Elementary Practical Mechanics" by J. M. Jameson.

"We" by C. A. Lindbergh.

"Roses for all American Climates" by G. C. Thomas.

"Home Radio up to date" by A. H. Verrill.

Man in the Moon

THERE was a crisis recently in the affairs of some local people. It seems that creditors wanted the last pay check and nobody would lend any more so what was that poor man to do?

A COCKROACH is always in a wild rush going nowhere in particular. Don't be a cockroach.

SILENCE is one of those peculiar after-effects of a family storm.

NO matter how clever, capable and agreeable an employee, if you cannot depend upon him you do not want him around.

A SCOTCH salesman sent his sweetheart a penny packet of flower seeds as a New Year's gift, with these directions: "Plant these th' noo, Maggie, ma bonnie lassie, and ye'll ha' a braw bouquet for ye'r bairthday giftie."

"GOOD morning," accosted the salesman, "are you the lady of the house?"

"No," snapped the lady at the door, "my daughter is out playing tennis."

CHARLES Kingsley said "Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do which must be done whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you temperance, self-control, diligence, strength of will, content, and a hundred virtues which the idle never know."

IT is reported that the fur seals are agitating for a tax on bachelors. It seems that the bachelors have the best coats and the others are jealous.

OUTGESSING Wall Street is a dangerous pastime.

ANY person putting money into mining stocks will now be able to talk about "Me and the Duke of Devonshire."

SUPPOSING we met a poor man on the street with only a few ounces of clothing to cover him, how our hearts would ache at the thought of his sufferings. And yet, women . . . . but enough has been said about them already.

JUST a few years ago Prince Rupert was known as the city built on piles with plank roads and big rock cuts. Now it is likely to be known as the city beautiful where gardens and flowers delight the eye.

THE Prince Rupert Pioneers are to have a dance after their big dinner next week. On the program I am told there are to be old time dances. So then here is a suggestion for the parties that call off the movements:

"Balance your pardners, one and all,
and grand right and left around
the hall,
Promenade around in a single file
Lady in the lead in the Injun style,
Ladies bow low and the gents bow
under,
Couple up tight and swing like thunder,
Lady round the gent, and the gent
goes so,
And the lady round the gent and the
gent dout go.
Leave the lady and home you go,
Opposite the gent with a do-se-do,
Jump right up and never come down,
And swing that calico round and round."
