UNRRA ORGANIZES TRAINED STAFFS FOR RELIEF WORK

Functions of Great Organization Expected to be Clarified at Second Meeting of Council in Montreal.

By C. R. Blackburn
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (CP)—Misunderstanding of the functions of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration are expected to be cleared up at the second meeting of the UNRRA council opening in Montreal Sept. 15.

Launched at the first meeting of the council in Atlantic City last November, the work of UNRRA has been under fire because so far it has not operated in Sicily or Italy and has not figured in stories of the liberation of France.

Officials at the headquarters here of Herbert Lehman, director general of UNRRA, have drawn attention to these facts:

1. UNRRA is not empowered to operate in enemy countries, such as Italy and Germany.

2. UNRRA was not designed to operate in any area until invited to do so by the high command of the armies liberating that country.

3. UNRRA is ready to start, at a moment's notice, to discharge any of the functions for which it was designed.

4. At the present time UNRRA is operating seven refugee camps in Syria, Palestine, Egypt and Casablanca, caring for some 45,000 refugees and expects that number to reach 70,000 before winter.

It is expected that at the meeting in Montreal the scope of UNRRA will be extended to cover rehabilitation of peoples of conquered enemy countries which would open the way for operations in Sicily and Italy, if needed.

For Foreign Service

Just now UNRRA has a staff of 600 in Washington Headquarters, and 100 more in training at the University of Maryland for service abroad. Many of those in the Washington office are preparing for foreign service.

There are about 200 in London getting ready to move in any direction where operations are initiated, and another 200 in Cairo where a training school is operating.

From executives now in the Washington bureau a staff will be drawn for the Far East zone when a headquarters there has been decided upon.

UNRRA workers, comprising an international civil service, must be trained to live and operate in the countries to which they will be sent. This training consists of languages, customs and habits of the people among whom the employees will work, and physical custure to prepare them for rigorous existence.

There is a program designed to prepare selected Chinese to carry to their people modern methods of health conservation and sanitary measures, transportation and distribution methods and practical management. A class of about 40 Chinese is expected to be opened here in Washington within a month.

Another specitl training class will prepare to carry relief and rehabilitation to the Balkan countries for which preparations are now well advanced.

PASSING PARADE

In the Services

Staff Sergeant "Buck" Buchanan of the R.C.A.S.C. will be leaving for the south shortly enroute to a new posting. During his 18 months in Rupert he has made his mark in the service and has become a landmark and a shining light. It is with deep regret of many friends that he leaves the fair city of Prince Rupert. Expressing his regret on leaving pays Prince Rupert a very fine compliment—like has been done by so many boys in the armed services. "The hospitality of the people of Rupert and its wonderful weather are two of the greatest attractions any place has to offer," says Buck. "Speaking of the weather, if any other city on the Pacific Coast can produce more sunshine, such romantic moonlight nights, crisp mornings, let them speak up."

Buck has been the honored guest at a series of farewell parties this week with a presentation yesterday morning of a gift by the personnel of No. 4 Depot, R.C.A.S.C., followed by a luncheon at the Sergeants' Mess for the senior N.C.O.'s of the R.C.A.S.C. The Sergeants' Mess will miss his services as secretary which position he carried out with distinction.

The members of the C.W.A.C. will also miss him very much. Being a married man we shall not go into a long discourse on various shades of lipstick.

The services and Rupert wishes Buck a "bon voyage" and lots of success in his new field in the south, where it rains and the fog does not life for six months.

K. Ryan of the C.W.A.C. and a member of the R.C.A.S.C. Depot Office Staff sails south soon after a brief so-journ in Rupert—but long enough to become enamored of the place. Miss Ryan has seen service on Vancouver Island and still thinks that Rupert has many fine points, besides attractive boys in uniform.

DEVIZES, Eng. (CP)—The chief constable of Wiltshire has instructed all his policemen and women that they must salute all officers of His Majesty's forces.
