DAILY EDITION

Thursday, April 2, 1914

At the last Dominion elecmanufacturers tion the frightened the artisans and workmen into the belief that if Laurier were elected all the factories would have to shut down. The result was that thousands of men dependent upon the daily wage for support for themselves and families voted against the Liberal government. This appeal to the stomach is an old dodge.

Appeals to reason are now, however, waking up the people to a realization of the mistake them made in putting the Borden administration in office.

People collectively, like people individually, are forgetful at times. For a moment they forgot all that the Laurier government had done for the country and the great prosperity that prevailed during that entire administration.

Now, however, when they see the falsity of the promises which Borden made out of office, the criminal recklessness and waste which he has allowed while in office, and when they contrast the prosperity under the Laurier administration with the hard times under the Borden regime, they see things with a new light.

The people realize as never before that the great good of all the people was always uppermost in the mind of the Liberal chieftain. They know now as never before that the Old Chief was always the master and not the servant of They see that while Laurier was for the whole people, Borden is hemmed in by the financial interests which put him in office, whose will he must do, and whose determination to prey upon the people the leader of the government has not the moral courage to

The budget at Ottawa is mounting up to an alarming extent. A growing country like Canada may expect an ever increasing annual expenditure, but the manner in which the public business is being conducted by the Borden administration shows a recklessness and waste of the public funds which would would make the prodigal son look like a Shylock.

One does not, however, have to go outside Prince Rupert to understand why the enormous budget of this session. Fifty per cent more paid for a post office site than was the market value tells part of the tale, and when one remembers that this stealing of public funds is practised all over the country it is easy to see where a

Last August the well known aviator M. Pegoud made a descent from an aeroplane in a para chute invented by M. Bonnier. M. Pegoud descended slowly and safely. Recently M. Lemoine took up a passenger, M. Bourhis, who was attached to the parachute. 'At a height of 1500 feet M. Lemoine, the pilot, released the parachute, which carried M. Bourhis out of his place. Held up by the parachute the latter was carried by the wind at the rate of some forty miles an hour to a point about half a mile distant from where he left the aeroplane and fell into the Seine, from which he was rescued without difficulty.

and, let us hope, a little more wisdom.

This city came into being fire within itself. during the administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. To his far sighted statesmanship is due the fact that the city is on the map. Prince Rupert will show its appreciation next election by sending back to Ottawa a supporter of the policies so ardently advocated by the Grand Old Chief.
