NEW PRINCESS MARY AGAIN READY FOR RUN

Thirty-eight Feet Added Amidship—Increased Cabin Accommodation

The steamer Princess Mary of the C. P. R. line is again ready for commission. She has been in equisuit since January undergoing extensive alterations. It has yet to be decided what route the Princess Mary will be assigned to following her return to regular service, but in all probability she will be operated in the Victoria-Vancouver service.

This trim craft is now 38 feet 4 inches longer than when she was hauled out at the Esquimalt yards in January. The cutting of the vessel in two parts was a most interesting operation, and a large force of shipbuilders and mechanics has been engaged on the contract, which is the second of its kind carried out at Esquimalt.

As built by Messrs. Bow, McLachlan & Co., Paisley, Scotland, the Princess Mary was 210 feet in length, and as lengthened by Yarrows, Limited, she is exactly 248 feet 4 inches. The lengthened steamer now has a beam of 39 feet 11 inches, whereas she was originally 39 feet 9 inches in breadth. The additional length gives the vessel greater stability, and also provides for more passenger accommodation on two decks and greater freight space on the lower deck.

Prior to the lengthening operations, the Princess Mary had fifty-six cabins. Twenty-four additional cabins have been fitted, twelve on each deck, giving the vessel practically the same passenger space as contained in the Princess Sophia.

As the fine steamer Princess Alice is to be temporarily withdrawn from the Vancouver route to enable her to make several trips to Alaska in the excursion trade, it is highly probable that the Princess Mary will replace her in the gulf trade.

You will soon be able to purchase local shingles, made in Port Edward. 1021f

A Big Halibut Catch
The following item, clipped from the Seattle P.-I., shows what that city calls a big halibut catch. Prince Rupert can almost equal it and has hardly started in the business yet:

"Nine halibut schooners which arrived yesterday brought a cargo aggregating 679,000 pounds, which sets a new mark for receipts during the past several months. The catch was distributed as follows: Kadiak, 55,000 pounds; Athena, 75,000 pounds; Uranus, 15,000 pounds; Lister, 25,000 pounds; Liberty, 70,000 pounds; Magnolia, 17,000 pounds; Vansee, 42,000 pounds; Independent, 190,000 pounds, and Chicago, 190,000 pounds. The best price offered was 2 1/2 cents."

Boys, The Daily News' contest is on. Every five papers you sell gives you a chance at a new suit of clothes. It is never too late to start. First drawing June 15.

POLICE ARREST WOMAN WEARING MAN'S SUIT

Donned Garb to Elude Some One Following Her—Big Roll

Seattle, May 19.—Garbed in a man's suit, which she says she donned to elude some people who have been following her around, and possessing nearly $1,400 in gold and bills, a woman who gave the name of "Frisco" Andrews, 32 years old, was arrested in the King street railroad yards by Patrolman W. S. McGraw. She later gave her name to Capt. Charles Tennant as Frances Agnew Andrews. She said she was going to leave for Alaska Monday night, but missed the boat.

Mrs. Andrews said that she and her husband have been separated for some time and that, after collecting nearly $2,000 in dance halls in Arizona she decided to go to Alaska. She is being held in the city jail pending investigation.

MOLASSES AND WINE BOUGHT FOR OPIUM

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19.—Molasses and port wine is what many Chinese have bought as opium smuggled into the United States, according to the statement of treasury officials. Labels of well known opium manufacturers in China, it is alleged, have been forged and pasted upon the cans, some of which were said to have been sold for as high as $50 a can. Officials said the purchasers, not daring to report, were compelled to suffer the loss in silence. Forty-one cans of the decoction were seized at Calexico recently.
