ANOTHER MARINE MYSTERY AFLOAT

Captain of Fishing Boat Sights Mysterious Ship in Hecate Straits

Captain James Batt of the fishing schooner Reef, which came into port with a poor catch of fish, owing to rough weather outside, reports sighting a vessel off Dundas island that acted in a strange manner. The captain has suspicions that it is another Japanese mystery ship similar to the two which came to this coast last year.

The vessel was sighted by Captain Batt off Dundas island on Sunday. She was a schooner with two masts and proved also to have auxiliary power. The vessel was one of about three or four hundred tons, he would judge, although he never got closer than about two miles from it. The local captain's attention was attracted to the suspicious looking craft and he came to the conclusion that she was perhaps in distress. No flag was flying from her. She was under shelter of the island. Captain Batt, thinking that help might be needed, proceeded in the direction of the craft, only to find that his manoeuvres were apparently watched and the mystery ship herself was retreating before him. She made in the direction of Bonilla island.

Captain Batt, finding that the strange ship was not in distress, did not pursue her. He is suspicious that she was a Japanese craft.

Gypsum Deposits Wanted

Prospectors or others knowing the location of gypsum deposits of a substantial area will learn something to their advantage by communicating with the commissioner of the board of trade. Gypsum is used for the manufacture of plaster of paris, and if a large enough commercial deposit is to be had in the north, that will stand rigid investigation, capital is to be had for the establishment of a plant.

Shot at King

PACKED HOUSE SEES "CHARLEY'S AUNT"

Last night at the Empress a packed house laughed itself hoarse at the funny situations in "Charley's Aunt" and the advance advertising which guaranteed sixty laughs a minute filled its contract. Charles E. Royal is by far the cleverest comedian who has ever visited our city and the supporting company was excellent throughout. The specialty between acts was a scream and "Charley's Aunt" can be labeled as the laughing hit of the season.

Tonight the great hypnotic play "Trilby" will be presented with charming Edythe Elliott in the title role.

OVERDOSE OF DRUG SAVED WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Cyr Took Laudanum With Intention of Ending Her Life

Yesterday Mrs. J. Cyr was in the police station telling her family troubles to the officials. They gave her sympathy and good advice, but in the afternoon she grew despondent and attempted suicide. She took a big dose of laudanum—so much that the effect was retroactive and she did not die.

The unfortunate woman was found by a neighbor in a room on Second avenue and medical attendance was called. She was removed to the hospital where she was brought out of the effects of the drug. She will be able to leave the hospital tonight.

Mrs. Cyr made a similar attempt about a year ago.

Will Build Frame Hotel

Frank Clapp has had plans out for a three-storey concrete building to be used for an hotel which he contemplated erecting on Third avenue near The Daily News office. The structure was neat and substantial, but contained only thirty-five bedrooms. As a result of the decision of the city council to compel the new licensed hotels to have sixty bedrooms, Mr. Clapp says he will change his plans and substitute a frame building with sixty bedrooms. Mr. Clapp admits that such a building would add to the fire hazard of the business section, but it is the only kind of structure that can be put up under present conditions to meet the requirements of the city council.

Court of Revision Today

The court of revision on the city assessment roll is in session today in the city council chamber. The mayor is presiding, with Ald. Dybhavn, Basso-Bert, Morrissey and McClymont as the court. One of the first appeals taken up was the assessment of a corner on First avenue owned by Joe Rousseau. The assessment was reduced from $17,000 to $15,000. The Bank of Montreal corner assessment was sustained at $93,000.

INTERESTING PICTURES AT THE WESTHOLME

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, a good house greeted the first regular picture program following the engagement of Mrs. Lester and Mr. Ransford at the Westholme last night. The usual Westholme standard of excellence was apparent from start to finish and all the pictures were very much enjoyed by those present. The same program will be repeated tonight. Friday and Saturday the third instalment of "Our Mutual Girl" will be shown containing many new and interesting scenes. These reels are of especial interest to the ladies, as each instalment shows a visit to some one of the great "glad rag" emporiums of New York City, where the very latest fashions and styles are presented under the most favorable conditions.

TO DRILL FOR OIL

Revelstoke Syndicate Will Under-take Development

Revelstoke, May 27.—Revelstoke is much excited over the prospect of the creation of an oil well close to the city. Ten miles of oil-bearing land have been staked by R. Smith and W. Poupore on behalf of a Revelstoke syndicate consisting of T. Kilpatrick, J. M. McKay, Dr. W. H. Sutherland, G. S. McCarter, W. A. Anstie, G. R. Lawrence, Dr. J. H. Hamilton, R. Smith and A. Poupore. The land consists of six square miles on the Columbia at Arrowhead, and four miles across the Arrow lake at Galena bay. It is the intention of the syndicate to install drilling machinery at the earliest possible moment. There are strong indications that the district contains a large oil deposit and reports from experts are that there is a strong probability that oil will be discovered at no great depth.

Government Sends Literature

A substantial shipment of government literature in the shape of 2,600 folders on British Columbia has been received by the board of trade, together with booklets covering the Peace river land recording division and the south fork of the Fraser river. Many enquiries are being made for pre-emptions in these sections. The new secretary of the bureau of provincial information, Ernest McGaffey, is keeping the local bureau well supplied with government literature.

New Naturalization Act

Hon. C. J. Doherty, in moving the second reading of the bill respecting British nationality in the house of commons, outlined the chief difference between the old and the proposed new law. The existing law requires a residence of three years, while under the present bill the period is fixed at five years. This five-year period, however, need not be passed by the applicant in that particular portion of the empire wherein he is seeking naturalization, but only twelve months of the period. The other four years may have been passed in any part of the empire, provided this period has been within the last eight years. The bill also provides that before an alien can be naturalized, he must have an adequate knowledge of either French or English. Another feature of the bill is that distinctions which have hitherto been made between naturalized and natural-born British subjects have been done away with. In future they will be placed upon the same footing. Certificates of naturalization will be issued under the joint authority of the imperial parliament and the parliaments of all overseas dominions which adopt this legislation, thereby providing for uniform naturalization throughout the empire.
