RECOMMENDED CHANGE IN PLAN OF PAYMENTS

First Avenue Sewer Scheme Discussed in City Council Again

At last night's council meeting the finance committee recommended that all proceedings re the construction of the First and Third Avenue sewer as asked for by Messrs. Lynch and Besner be rescinded and that the work be carried out under the local improvement scheme with four year payments instead of one.

Ald. Montgomery wanted to know the whys and wherefores.

Ald. Morrissey explained that it was now possible to finance it by selling four year debentures, whereas when the application was first made it was thought impossible to do it. He said the property owners preferred the four year payments but that the committee did not care whether it passed or not.

Ald. Montgomery thought the committee did care. He hinted that they wanted this work to take up the debentures intended for Summit Avenue which is being abandoned. He believed the four year debentures with the discount and the interest was working a hardship on the property owners.

Ald. Dybbavn wanted to find out whether the property owners were agreeable.

The city solicitor pointed out that it would require a two third vote to carry the adoption of the report.

The question was allowed to stand over for one week.

Drowned in Cow Bay

John Beatty, a sailor off the Prince Albert was drowned early this morning in Cow Bay. He was found about six o'clock by a man named Cook, employed at the Dry dock. The tide had gone out leaving the body aground. Beatty had been drinking and about two o'clock wandered into the electric light station on his way to the dry dock where the Albert had been tied up. He was then under the influence of liquor. Later he went out and evidently walked off the wharf, falling about 15 feet into the water.

An inquest will probably be held tomorrow.

Somebody passing the post office site recently and being holding the filthy body of water reposing in the hole, remarked: "That's where the Conservatives wash their dirty real estate deals."

That Fifth Ave. Menace

Fifth Ave. East residents are organizing for their fight against re-decking the plank roads. As one property owner pointed out there is a constant traffic of the automobiles on that street and the children who are forced to play on the street and ladies are in constant danger of being run over. Convalescent patients from the hospital are afraid to walk on the streets. Side walks are needed more than the road. "Ald. Morrissey says there is danger of automobiles breaking through and killing the driver. I want to say there is constant danger of the autos killing children and pedestrians."

WILD ANIMALS IN MOTION PICTURES AT WESTHOLME

Of all the wonders of modern moving pictures Paul Rainie's African hunt which will be shown at the Westholme Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday is emphatically the greatest and most wonderful. It is in a class by itself and has no competitors. Imagine two men perched in a huge tree in the heart of central Africa close to a water hole, where wild animals congregate daily in search of that precious necessity, water. There is no water visible in the water hole but the animals know that it is in there and can be found by scratching in the sand to the depth of twelve or fifteen inches. Lions, elephants, leopards, giraffes, rhinoceros and thousands of monkeys find their way every morning to this water hole. Up in the tree sit two lonely men with a moving picture camera and a scanty supply of food waiting for them. Here comes the advance guard! Perhaps, an elephant, blowing and sniffing, for there is a very strange scent in the air. He perceives it but cannot locate it. Other animals follow and in a little while the water hole is alive with strange wild animals and the camera in the tree is busily clicking away. In this manner these wonderful pictures were obtained and they have produced a sensation wherever shown. Another feature on this program will be the linking up of the G. T. P., taken in the neighborhood of Fort Fraser by artists especially sent there for the purpose. These pictures are of special interest to all residents of Prince Rupert and vicinity.

CITY TRUCK EXPERT RECOMMENDED PACKARD

At the close of last evening's council meeting J. H. Rogers asked the mayor why the city had purchased a Packard auto truck for the scavenging department in preference to his offer of an English truck at a lower price.

Ald. Kerr replied that Mr. Rogers' tender was $40 higher.

Mr. Rogers said the purchasing agent told him the Packard cost $4,400 while his offer was $4,200.

Ald. Kerr—Your tender said the car was slightly used did it not?

Mr. Rogers—Yes, used three weeks as a test and then new tires put on.

Ald. Kerr—Yes, I remember your price was lower but the city officials recommended a new truck which was guaranteed.

The Mayor said the Packard car was recommended by someone in the city service who understood trucks as being a superior machine and it was on this recommendation that the purchase was made.

The identity of the expert was not disclosed.

WOULD CHANGE SITE NEW CIVIC BUILDING

Aldermen Have Another Idea on Place to Plant Telephone Central

Having inherited a site for the telephone central all excavated by last year's council and kept clean by Chief Vickers' boarders, some of this year's aldermen look upon it and are sad. They don't like second hand sites and if the electors are willing to let them erect a new telephone building they would put it on a site of their own choosing where it would stand as a monument to their sagacity, forethought and originality.

At last night's council meeting the mayor reported the plans of the new building ready.

Ald. Morrissey accepted the opportunity to say he and many electors did not approve of the site already excavated at the side of the city hall as there was a lot of rock back of it which could not be taken out once the building is erected. He favored a site on Fulton and Fifth.

Ald. Montgomery also favored a site on the opposite side of the street as it gave two streets to bring in the wires on.

Ald. Kerr said the plebiscite on changing the grade of Fifth Street would affect this question also.

The mayor said both questions would have to be submitted to the electors.
