Our American cousins to the south as a rule are excellent fellows. The quota that has come to make their homes among us in Prince Rupert are among our most respected citizens. Nevertheless it frequently happens that some light-headed American breaks through the traditional customs and does something very insulting to Canada, Flag incidents are very common all over the country. Indeed a certain class of Americans seem to take pleasure in insulting everything Canadian. Yesterday an American flag was placed on the pinnacle of the dry dock smockstack just above where the football game This city is about to appeal was played. It is hardly possible that the individual who placed it there was ignorant of the international courtesies that forbade it. In primitive times a lesser incident would be the cause of war. Even now an event like that on the American side would soon raise the ire of the mob. Canadians, however, are perhaps a little too broad minded in the matter and allow the thing to slip. In view of the reciprocal greetings that were ex-

Prince Rupert has at last a first class baseball team. The game put up on Dominion Day would do credit to many a larger centre. It looks real bad to have a team come in from one of the smaller centres such as Hazelton and trim the local team. In spite of the fact that Ketchikan has a first league players, the Prince Ru_ pert team put up a game that will do much toward boosting the city. Wholesome sport is about as necessary as bread and butter and every city of even ordinary importance is expected to turn out a crack baseball team. A few patriotic citizens have with their own funds brought the team to its present standing, but the publie should not expect this to continue, Don't forget to put your hand in your money basket every time the collection box is passed around.

from the decision of Justice Morrison in the case of the City vs. Ritchie. This is regrettable for, in the first place, the case should have never been tried. The whole fight is over the fact that Mr. Ritchie and his associates insisted on charging an outsider the small sum of $100 to secure connection with the sewer. The sewer is private property. Why shouldn't they endeavor to get back a portion of the original cost? If the city had left the matter alone it would now be peaceably solved. But to appeal the case is not only foolish but useless. Even if the city wins, what does it get? Simply power to show a little vindictiveness towards Mr. Ritchie and his associates. The city will not have gained in dollars and cents and a similar case need never arise.

THAT FLAG INCIDENT

Dry Dock Management Not Responsible

Prince Rupert, B.C. Dear Sir .- Referring to your local in yesterday's issue relative to a foreign flag having been raised on the dry dock smokestack on Dominion Day, allow me to make this statement, that this was done entirely without any official knowledge or consent, and up to this writing the identity of the parties who took it upon themselves has not been discov-
