DAILY EDITION Wednesday, August 19, 1914

Recent despatches tell of the execution of the leader of the German Socialist party because he refused to join the army.

Germany, on the other hand, always wants to show her authority. A policeman or a soldier stands at every corner and interferes with even the trivial conduct of the people.

This very act of Germany serves to show the contrast of her rule with that of Britain. The British plan has always been one of tolerance.

All the despatches received so far tell of German reverses. Too much credence must not be placed in this for naturally her opponents will not readily tell of her successes.
