ALL SHIP FISH BY RAIL SAYS RORVIK FISH COMPANY

REPRESENTATIVE SENT TO PRAIRIE TOWNS RETURNS AND GIVES GLOWING REPORT -- BIG DEMAND IS NOW ASSURED

hundreds of thousands of fish will be shipped from Prince Rupert to the prairie towns between here and Winnipeg as soon as the Grand Trunk Railway inaugurates a regular express freight service, according to B. B. Hangan, of the Rorvik Fish Company, who yesterday returned from an extensive business trip along the Grand Trunk line to the Manitoba capital.

There is no limit to the possibilities of Prince Rupert as a distributing centre," said Mr. Hangan. "On the one side you have an unlimited supply, and on the other hand you have a practically limitless demand. I have every point of any access along the Grand Trunk and it is not a town which will not receive from one thousand to three thousand pounds per week. And the centres of population, as Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, Winnipeg, will use proportionally as much more."

The Rorvik Fish Company has a strong organization in the prairie provinces and agencies in several intermediate towns. It can supply the fish at lower prices than those at present prevailing, and supply it from the local companies can be laid on the table, f.i., in Edmonton, in fifty hours, the article at present serving the fish eaters in the Alberta capital is from ten days to two weeks old.

The company will do business entirely different lines than the other operating companies," John Dybhavn, secretary-treasurer of the Rorvik Fish Co., said. "The export of fish from this town is limited to halibut and salmon. We intend to establish a fish and shell market at the lowest possible prices. We intend to utilize the different products. In short, I think the methods we propose to use will revolutionize the fish industry of the northern Pacific coast. We feel certain to be able to supply the year around. We have in our city a cold storage where we can freeze and keep fish at a reasonable rate. The source of supply, it has been recognized that the

FLOOD WASHES OUT FAIRBANKS BRIDGE

Fairbanks, August 26.—Constant rain during the last week has caused a flood in the Tanana valley and today the river was higher than it has been since the flood of 1905. The Turner street bridge, which connects the business district with the Tanana Valley railroad yards on Garden Island, was washed out today, the second time this year. The bridge which goes out every spring when the ice breaks up, is easily replaced and the damage was not great. The water is still rising.

AUSTRIANS CLAIM VICTORY IN A THREE DAYS' FIGHT

(Special to THE NEWS)

Berlin, August 26.—By wireless to Sayville, N.Y.: Vienna reports are to the effect that after the three days' battle at Krasnik in Russian Poland, the Austrians repulsed the Russian forces and put them to flight along a seventy mile battle line. They are pursuing them towards Lublin. Krasnik is just over the border of Austria so that in accepting this as true the Austrians have not penetrated the Russian boundary very far.

RUSSIAN ARMY NOW OVERRUNNING EAST PRUSSIA

(Special to THE NEWS)

London, August 26.—The Russian Embassy has received news from the general of the staff at St. Petersburg announcing fresh victories against both the German and Austrian forces. The messages declare that the Russian troops now occupy the whole of the eastern and southern half of eastern Prussia.

RUSSIANS HAVE ENEMY CORNERED EASTERN PRUSSIA

(Special to THE NEWS)

London, August 26.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says the principal Russian losses in Prussia have been the result of a determination of the rank and file of the Russian army to get at the enemy. Although the mounted guards in the center have suffered heavily, the infantry advances have been satisfactory. The enemy is virtually cornered now in Eastern Prussia.

BELGIANS DROVE ENEMY OUT OF MALINES

(Special to THE NEWS)

War Situation To-day

Some details of the big battle in southwestern Belgium are now coming through and while the British losses come with a terrible reality of the awfulness of the slaughter, they are not as heavy as it was at first feared. Field Marshall French gives an estimate of 2,000, and the British have never minimized their losses so that the figure can be taken with some assurance of accuracy. This represents probably only two per cent of the British troops engaged. The French losses were probably equal or even more and undoubtedly the Germans did not escape without a tremendous casualty list.

The capturing of 10,000 French prisoners reported from German sources through Washington, must not be accepted as fact until some official announcement comes from Paris. There is nothing yet to indicate the truth of it.

The commanders in charge of the campaign do not consider Sunday's battle a decisive one, and judging from the fact that the French are withdrawing troops from the Alsace campaign to put into the battlefield along the Meuse the Germans have a terrible struggle ahead of them.

Russia appears to be getting busy on the north and claims to have the enemy cornered in East Prussia.

Austria has declared war on Japan. She appears to be wielding her pen better than her sword.

In the Mediterranean and on the Yellow Sea the Allies are clearing out the common foe.

The Overseas contingent in support of Great Britain will make up an army of considerably over 100,000 men, a great fighting force in itself. The first of them will be at the front in a few weeks.

BRITISH LOST ESTIMATED 2,000 IN BATTLE AT CHARLEROI

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE BRITISH PREMIER --LORD KITCHENER SAYS BRITAINS FOUGHT WITH GREAT GALLANTRY

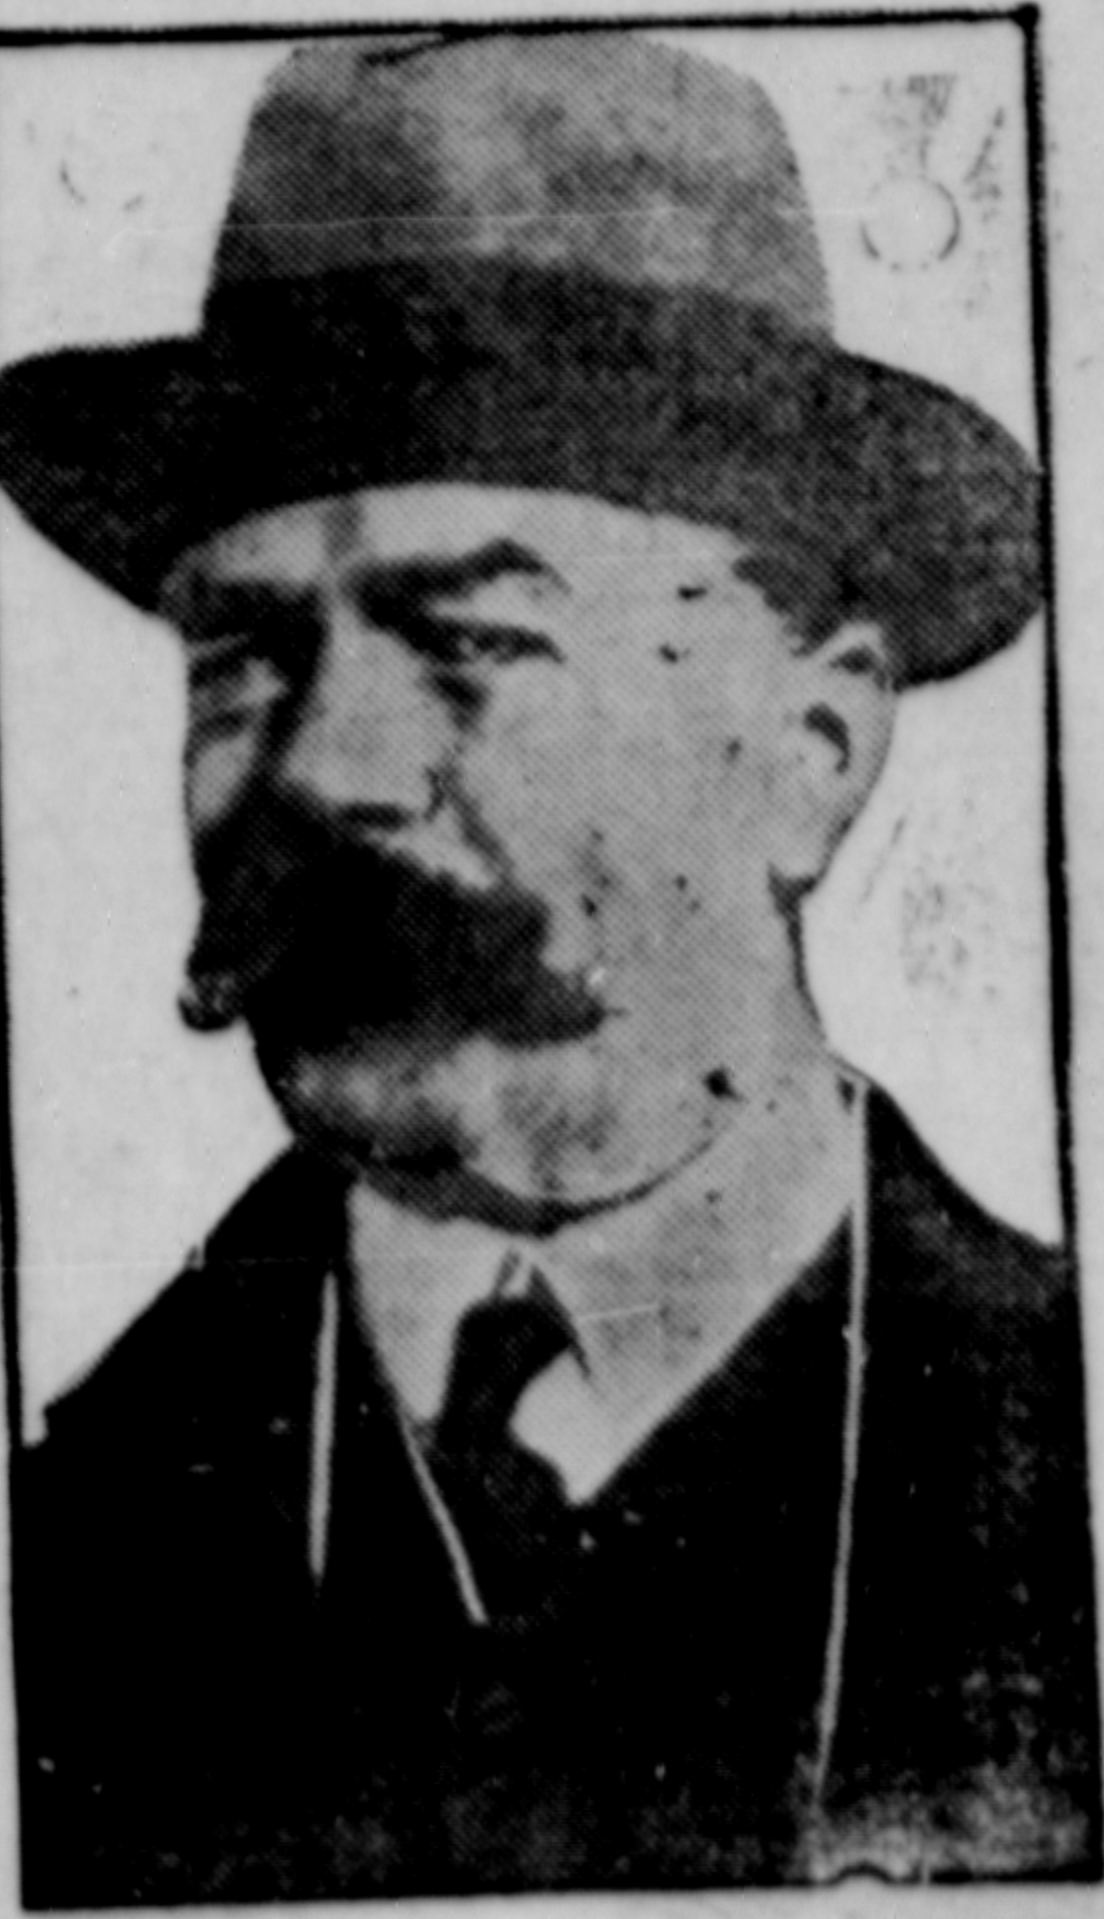

(Special to THE NEWS)

London, August 26.—Premier Asquith made a statement in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon concerning the big battle from Namur to Mons on Sunday and Monday. He said Field Marshall Sir John French estimates the British forces lost 2,000 men in the battle in southern Belgium. Later in the day Lord Kitchener made his first speech in the House of Lords. He said the British troops were in the fight thirty-six hours, and behaved with great gallantry.

THE GERMAN VERSION

Washington, August 26.—The German Embassy here states that a wireless message received here from Germany gives a great victory to the Germans. It claims the Germans captured 10,000 French prisoners and 150 field guns. The army of the Allies under General Joffres is said to be broken up.

NO FINAL ENGAGEMENT

London, August 26.—The British Official News Bureau has the following announcement: "There has been no final engagement and the British troops have been doing well."

SONS OF OLD WARRIORS FOUGHT ON FAMOUS BATTLEFIELD

London, August 26.—A Paris despatch says that at the moment when the French battalion had left Charleroi under German shells, the British cavalry gave battle to the German cavalry before Waterloo at the foot of the famous lion. The sons of the soldiers of Wellington and the sons of the soldiers of Blucher drew sabres on each other close to where the two great generals embraced a century ago after the meeting of their respective troops.

SWISS MINISTER PLEADS FOR LOAN

Washington, August 26.—Dr. Paul Ritter, the Swiss Minister, again made representations today to the State Department in behalf of his Government for a loan of gold from the United States.

Switzerland, in a state of siege, with practically all her male population under arms, is facing a serious situation in regard to feeding her army.

The imputation that his country might involve the United States in a violation of neutrality by using the proposed loan for war purposes was ridiculed by Ritter. He said that aside from the question of national honor, Switzerland's domestic financial stringency was such that she must have fluid currency to restore normal conditions at home.
