The sale of tickets for the Patriotic Concert on Tuesday night in the Westholme theatre is doing splendidly. A large number of reserved seats are already taken. It is understood that the Westholme theatre people are donating the use of their theatre.

Dan Nicholson, formerly of the G. T. P. survey staff on the construction work and who went east about a year ago, has recently joined the benedicts. He has taken up his residence at his old home in Cape Breton.

Mr. Nash, of Pride, Nash & Co., is in charge of the Prince Rupert store while Mr. Pride has gone east on a purchasing trip to secure new goods for both the "big four" stores on the prairies and the local store. Mr. Pride is an optimist of the first water and says business is prospering in spite of the war.

"THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY" MAKES A HIT

A crowded house turned out last night to see the third episode of the great "Million Dollar Mystery" at the Westholme opera house, and it may be safely asserted that a better pleased audience never filled the theatre. Not only was the "Million Dollar Mystery" fully up to the expectation, but every item on the program was good to see. The opening reel, showing scenes of the modern city of Athens, was exceptionally good. The same may be said of both the comedies and the Reliance feature entitled "The Broken Bottle," a story dealing with the cupid of certain elements of modern society, and quite as good in a way as the "Million Dollar Mystery," and that's going some.

For Wednesday only, a splendid three-reel feature, "Colleen Bawn," will be shown. This is a strong Irish play of unusual merit. All of the scenes take place on true Irish soil, the company producing these pictures having made a special trip to old Ireland, partly on vacation and partly on business. "Colleen Bawn" being one of the results of the business side of the trip.

"GIVE ME BACK THE WORLD I KNEW"

Plea of Church Visitor to Far North on Hearing of the War.

To be seven weeks out of touch with the world and not hear that Great Britain was at war with Germany, this was the experience of Rev. J. H. Arnup, of the Methodist Missionary Society, who recently returned from a tour of the mission stations throughout the country between Lake Winnipeg and Hudson Bay, having traveled eight or nine hundred miles in a canoe.

"I left the world at peace; I went into a more peaceful world, and I came out into a world of fire." This is how Mr. Arnup described his experience to the Toronto Globe. "I can't tell you how I felt when they told me all about it; my first feeling was one of unreality. I could not believe that the world could change so swiftly. I said, 'Give me back my world as I knew it before I went away.'"

In the country through which Mr. Arnup traveled the official mail only reaches the people four times a year. Mr. Arnup describes the missionaries as their "far flung battle line."

SHOT GERMAN GENERAL AND TOOK HIS HORSE

Wounded Belgian Soldier Did Not Know He Was Prince Von Buelow.

London, Sept. 14.—In a dispatch from Amsterdam the local correspondent of the Central News says that the shot which ultimately resulted in the death of Prince Von Buelow, one of the German generals, was fired by a Belgian private named Rosseau, who has since been decorated by King Albert for his conduct in the battle of Haelen.

Rosseau was lying badly wounded among a group of dead comrades, when he saw a German officer standing beside his horse and studying a map. Picking up a rifle from the side of a dead German, Rosseau fired at this officer and wounded him. He subsequently proved to be Prince von Buelow. Exchanging his hat for the German general's helmet and taking the general's horse, Rosseau made his way to the Belgian line and was placed in a hospital at Ghent.

COLLEGIATE ATHLETICS THROWN INTO TURMOIL BY THE EUROPEAN WAR

Kingston, Sept. 12.—The athletic directorate of Queens' University has been informed that there is some likelihood of inter-collegiate athletics being abandoned this year on account of the war and its effects. The suggestion is not welcomed here.

It has also been suggested that the net proceeds, in the event of the various sporting schedules being played, be devoted to the Canadian Relief War Fund. To this Queen's would heartily agree. All of the big college teams have been more or less depleted by the hockey and football men enlisting for active service. This is particularly true of the Royal Military College here. The latter has not as yet decided what to do under the circumstances, but the Queen's University athletic directorate will meet in a few days to consider the situation.
