THOUGHT CITY BOMBARDED

The people living out on Fifth Avenue East thought a few nights ago that the German "Jack Johnsons" were bombing the city. A bolt of fire darted through the air, sizzling and snorting, and when it struck the ground there was a big explosion. The spectators were ready to dart for the hills and waited only to hear the second shot. The second shot hasn't come yet though and they are now thinking that perhaps after all it wasn't a "Jack Johnson," but a shooting star, or a meteor.

CITY TO ADVERTISE FOR ELECTRICIANS

At the City Council meeting last night the question of a staff for the electric plant at Woodworth Lake came up. It was decided to take steps towards advertising for such a staff. The superintendent of electric light will be consulted in the matter and the staff will be advertised for. The mayor last night raised the point of submitting a telegram he had sent to Mr. Ross, the expert of the city plant in Seattle, and the reply of Mr. Ross. The mayor had asked what in his judgment should be the qualifications of the men employed, whether they should be steam engineers or electricians. Mr. Ross had replied that he was of the opinion that the first requisite should be that of an electrician with a knowledge of steam engineering. This brought about considerable discussion. Alderman Morrissey felt this was something that should be attended to. The enterprise had cost about $350,000. It was necessary to have a first-class staff on duty. He rather favored advertising in the open for the best class of men. He moved that the Council should advertise for the staff as required. Alderman Basso-Bert agreed with this. Alderman Dybhavn thought it advisable to have a report from Superintendent Duncan on the staff required. He therefore moved that the superintendent submit a report as to the staff required.
