"THE SIEGE OF ANTWERP"

Monster Double Feature Program at the Westholme Tonight.

An unusual treat is in store for patrons of the Westholme opera house tonight and tomorrow night as in addition to the great feature of the evening. "Spartacus," there will be shown a new War Gazette, showing scenes from the siege of Antwerp and other incidents of the war in Europe.

"Spartacus." George Kleine's latest and greatest masterpiece in photo-drama, is declared to deal charmingly with an entrancing tale of love and liberty. It is based on a revolt of the gladiators against Roman dominion, and it is asserted that one of the most marvelous features is the manner in which the atmosphere of the period (73-71 B. C.) is maintained throughout the eight parts and three acts of this pretentious photo-drama.

Owing to the great length of this program (two and a half hours) there will be only one performance each evening, starting at 8:15 p. m. sharp. Doors open

No official information is this and such accounts as they available, but it is freely stated around camp that they are now I drifting in a very large body of ore. At all events their ore bunkers are full and every man on the job appears happy.

Road Superintendent Jennings visited the Crossing last week and had with him ten or fifteen ! pounds of very beautiful and quite remarkable ore which came from a recently discovered prospect near Usk, a station on the line of the G. T. P. not far from Kitselas. The discovery was made by Wells and Darby and is located but an easy mite distant from the railway. The ore is a very beautiful and lustrous bornite in a clear quartz gangue, the quartz being beautifully peppered with coars free gold.

Messrs. Wells and Darby are lucky in finding what is evidently a grass-root shipper.
