CANADIAN SHOPPING WEEK FOR LONDON

London, Nov. 17.—An effort is being made here to establish a Canadian shopping week early in the New Year. Large retail houses are to be asked to give prominence to goods from the Dominion. This idea probably partakes of the ingenious turning to account of the "No trading with the enemy" propaganda which lately has been extensively boomed by certain newspapers.

THE WESTHOLME. New War Pictures and "The Old Curiosity Shop" Tonight.

Another metropolitan moving picture feature will be shown at The Westholme tonight and tomorrow night. "The Old Curiosity Shop" is a photo play of extraordinary merit, after the story by Charles Dickens. It is in five reels and gives a very complete synopsis of the entire story. The characters are strong and varied and there are many instances of a quaint, and at times even a sort of grim humor which was rather characteristic of Dickens, and occurs in the majority of his works. The War Gazette will be as usual, both interesting and instructive, showing views of the countries where the war is at present raging.

OBJECT TO RECEPTION

London, Nov. 17.—A storm of protest has been aroused in Melbourne by the suggestion that Captain Carl von Muller, commander of the German cruiser Emden, which was destroyed recently by the Australian cruiser Sydney, be given a public reception in recognition of his gallantry and courtesy when he arrives in that city. This statement is made in a dispatch from the Melbourne correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company.

BRITISH FLEET AGAIN BOMBARDS GERMANS ON BELGIAN COAST

(Special to The Daily News—1:30 P. M.)
London, Nov. 18.—The British fleet on Monday carried out a vigorous bombardment of Knocke and Zeebrugge on the Belgian coast, much damage being done to German stores and supplies.

By the historians of the momentous era in which we are living, the landing on our shores of a large body of Canadian troops to take part in a great European war will be noted as a landmark in the progress of the British Empire," says The Scotsman.

"They are a magnificent proof of the loyalty and patriotism of the people of the Dominion—a tribute of faithful attachment to the cause of the Mother Country which is more precious and welcome for being offered voluntarily and in the hour of need. "This is the first landing on these shores of armed men from other lands since the Battle of Hastings."

GERMANS IN TURKEY. Nearly Three Thousand Teutonic Officers in Naval Service—Mistake in Treatment of Khedive.

London, Nov. 18.—An Englishman, long a resident of Constantinople, which city he left on November 1, has arrived in London. He says that in addition to the crews of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau, nearly 3,000 German officers and men are in the Turkish naval service.

Two months ago, he says, all the German clerks of public and private establishments were taken over by the military authorities, and placed in charge of the telegraph and postal departments and the censorship. He adds: "Every Turkish ship has a German officer in command. It was a mistake that the Khedive was not allowed to return to Egypt some time ago, where he would have carefully watched developments, whereas in Constantinople he is the center of the intrigues and of discontented Arabs of the National party and the Germans."
