Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McNab, of the C. P. R. office, returned today from a pleasant holiday in the East. They went East about a month ago over the G. T. P. and after visiting some of the big Eastern centers returned today by the Prince George from Vancouver.

TRAIN DELAYED.

Last night's train did not arrive before the departure of the morning train for the East. Consequently today's train lacked Pullman and diner. These will be taken up, however, when the delayed train is met.

The cause of the delay was a landslide in the vicinity of Hazelton. It is expected that it will be all cleared away in time for this morning's train to pass through.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT.

The thirteenth episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery," which was delayed by having missed boat connections in Victoria, arrived on the Prince George this morning and will be shown at The Westholme tonight and tomorrow night, together with a fine two-reel war picture showing the armies of the Allies in maneuver. These pictures were taken mostly before the opening of hostilities during mobilization and are exceptionally fine examples of military photography. The entire program is unusually good and deserves a large patronage.
