Mr. A. H. Tomlinson, the local horticulturist, delivered an interesting lecture today before the Board of Trade on "Agriculture in the North." He quoted a number of interesting facts and figures which makes the article of special value and it will be reproduced in tomorrow's issue in full.

Alderman A. W. Edge returned today from a pleasant visit to the South, going as far as California. He visited the Overseas contingent at Victoria en route. During his absence the people placed a handle to his name, which he wears with a smile.

Captain W. J. Thomas, of the launch Alice B, arrived back in town today after a two months' visit in Victoria. He reports general dissatisfaction with the government in the South. Among all the people he talked with he says there was not one who had a good word for them. It looks like a landslide.

PERFECTLY NATURAL ABSTINENCE BY JOFFRE
According to a Paris report, General Joffre has not read a newspaper since the war began. Prayerful consideration of what remains of a French newspaper these days after the censor has done his deadly work leads us to believe that General Joffre would be far more remarkable if he did read one.

The average French newspaper today consists of neat vertical and parallel lines, showing where the columns in which the news would have been printed if the censors had not seen it first.

Naturally, literature of this kind is not calculated to tear any man away from the interesting game of outguessing the fellows in the other trenches.—Ex.

BRAVE RESCUE AT GUYSBORO

Guysboro, N. S., Jan. 20.—What came near being a drowning accident occurred here a few nights ago.

It was a beautiful moonlight night, a large crowd of merry-makers were gathered on Hart's Cove enjoying the fine skating, when suddenly cries of distress were heard from the lower end of the Cove, and on hurrying to the scene the skaters found Miss Ollivia Heal and Miss Eva Macguire struggling in the water near the channel at the mouth of the Cove.

Without waiting to remove skates or clothing, Fred Brown at once plunged into the icy water and grasping Miss Heal by the arm succeeded in bringing her to the edge of the ice, where willing hands soon had both drawn to safety.

In the meantime Harold Heal had arrived and plunged after Miss Maguire, who by this time was well nigh exhausted. The water was very deep and weighted down as they were with skates and clothing the outcome was for a time in doubt; but after a brave struggle these two were also landed in safety and rescued and rescuers hurried to the residence of Moses Scott, nearby. Restoratives were then administered, and by the time Dr. Buckley, who had been hastily summoned, arrived at the house they had recovered sufficiently to talk over their experience; but if it had not been for the bravery of the two young men who so gallantly risked their lives, this account would have a very different ending.

BRITAIN MAY NAME GREAT NEW YORK HOUSE HER FINANCIAL AGENT

London, Jan. 20.—The Daily Express understands that Messrs. Morgan, Grenfell & Company are about to be appointed financial agents to the British government. Charles Grenfell, of the London branch of the famous New York house, is also a director of the Bank of England.

In the Letter Box
Editor, Daily News:
Sir—I see by the papers the city clerk is advertising for a weighmaster.

In his advertisement he states that the weigher gets light and water; I would like to have the city clerk show me where the light and water come from.

There is no water in the building and the water pipes are still laying where they were promiscuously thrown on the G. T. P. Reserve two and a half years ago.

And I fail to see where the light comes from, unless some genius at the City Hall has discovered some means whereby they can get light from the telephone wires. There are no other wires in the building and never have been.

Respectfully,

GERMANS RUIN TURKEY, SAYS THE EX-MINISTER

Leaders of Young Turks Pocket Millions of German Marks.

Paris, Jan. 20.—"The smashing blow dealt to the Turkish army in the Caucasus has blasted any hopes the Young Turks may have had of triumphing over Russia and Britain. As an immediate result a fearful and bloody revolution in Constantinople will wipe out the last vestiges of the Young Turks' prestige and rid the Ottomans of their crime-stained masters and German monitors. This accomplished, saner heads will take the Empire's future in hand, go penitently to the Allies and plead with them to spare Turkey from the calamity of being wiped off the face of the earth."

This is the gist of a statement made by General Sherif Pasha, one of the wisest of Turkey's former leaders—whom the Young Turks shot in his apartment in Paris last winter, and who received a press representative at his bedside, being still confined.

"Constantinople," he said, "will rock beneath the shock of revolution when it is known, as mysterious emissaries will make it known, that, following Russia's shattering blow, the remnant of the flower of our army is fleeing from the snowbound Caucasus. Our troops, once the finest fighters in the world, cannot recover from their gigantic defeat, because, under the Young Turk regime, the army entirely lacks organization, and, therefore, recuperative powers.

"There are patriotic Turks in Constantinople who will now jump in and make a desperate effort to save the Empire from annihilation. The men headed by Talaat Bey, the corrupt and nefarious artisans of Turkey's ruin, will disappear. At present they have the people completely beneath their heel.

The Only Way to Salvation.
"I have evidence that in the last eighteen months these men have pocketed millions of marks which Germany poured out in order to set Turkey politically, militarily and aggressively against Russia. Talaat Bey, especially, wallows in ill-gotten Teuton treasure, but their venality and treachery to the tottering Empire are bound to excite the population to reprisals, now that it is seen that German domination of the army has availed us nothing.

"Under a new constitutional government Turkey, by immediately going humbly to the Allies, demanding pardon, and offering instant and unconditional peace, may even yet retain Constantinople. That way only lies Turkey's salvation."

BELGIANS WILL TEACH INTENSIVE CULTIVATION
Experts Trying to Repay British for Hospitality Shown Them in Their Need.

London, Jan. 20.—Great Britain is to reap benefits from the agricultural skill of the Belgian farmers who are exiles in Great Britain. As a token of their appreciation of hospitality the Queen of the Belgians has suggested that the agriculturalists from her country instruct British farmers in the system of intensive cultivation which has made Belgium famous the world over.

As many as five crops of vegetables are grown in a single year by the Belgians on tracts under glass.

NOT SEE PRINCESSES ON COAST THIS YEAR

Charlotte Cannot Be Placed on the Alaska Run Owing to Commandeering.

Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the C. P. R. coast steamships, in speaking of the commandeering of the company's new steamships, Princess Margaret and Princess Irene, stated that he did not expect they would be seen on this coast during the present year. When chartered by the Admiralty, the two new coasters were practically ready to leave the Clyde for Victoria to enter the Canadian Pacific Service on the triangular route. The Princess Margaret was complete and the Princess Irene had reached the steam-trial stage.

Now, Captain Troup states, much of the work that has been finished has been undone, the fine furnishings having been stripped out of the craft in order that they may be converted into fast scout cruisers.

Guns are to be mounted on the decks of these splendid passenger craft, which are to be used for sterner work than was intended when the contract was placed with Messrs. William Denny Brothers. Captain Troup is keenly disappointed at the recent turn of events, although he realizes that the two craft can be used to splendid advantage by the government, owing to their great speed.

The two vessels were designed after Captain Troup's ideas, and are undoubtedly the finest type of marine architecture ever turned out of a shipbuilder's yard for service on the Pacific Coast.

In view of the commandeering of the Princess Margaret and the Princess Irene, the plans outlined by the C. P. R. for the summer's travel will have to be changed. Following the proposed arrival of the new steamers on this coast this spring, the C. P. R. planned to place the Princess Charlotte in the Alaska tourist trade. As no other vessels are available, this scheme will have to be abandoned.

GERMANS AGAIN ARRESTED; FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

Vancouver, Jan. 15.—Some days since Baron Von Mackenzen and Dr. Redlick were arrested by the provincial police here at the request of the military authorities on the charge of smuggling officers of the German army into the United States en route for the seat of war.

Owing to subsequent instructions, the men were released, but were kept under surveillance.

On Wednesday fresh instructions were received by Chief of Police Smith to rearrest the two men, together with a third member of the alleged gang, and Constables Blair and Markland were dispatched to Port Kells, where they placed Karl Von Mackenzen, a brother of the famous German general; Dr. Redlick and Hans Merzenich under arrest.

The men were brought down and placed in jail at New Westminster on Thursday, and will be held as prisoners of war, pending an inquiry into the case.

You do not wish alum in your food
You desire to avoid it. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder contains no alum or lime phosphate. Its use is therefore a safeguard against objectionable mineral salts which are left in the biscuit and cake when made with inferior powders.
Chemists have shown that a large percentage of the chemicals of which alum baking powders are made remains in the food in the form of Glauber's Salt, hydrate of aluminum and other impurities.
Read the label on the can. Reject a baking powder unless the label shows cream of tartar. Buy and use
