TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. DONAT PACE DE SHAWINIGAN, QUE.
Feb. 3rd, 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2 1/2 years, I have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives". While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take "Fruit-a-tives" and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take "Fruit-a-tives" for they are the medicine that cures."

MAGLOIRE PAQUIN

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

RICH MEN'S SONS AVOID FIGHTING

Method of Young Austrians is to Secure Appointments as Correspondents.

London, March 2.—The Morning Post's Hungarian correspondent at Budapest sends the following:

"The original first line army of two million with which Austria-Hungary began the war is almost non-existent by now. These seven months have cost the monarchy four times as many men as they are willing to admit officially. They have lost not four hundred thousand, but one million six hundred thousand men, killed, wounded and prisoners. Of these 200,000 are generally being sent back to the front, some of them, however, not properly recovered. Accordingly, we can safely say the first line army of the first two million is entirely broken up already. New reinforcements have a comparatively small military value.

"The spirit of the army, however, is on no account broken, and one may expect some very good work from it yet, for the machine itself is sound and perfect, only its main power is beginning to give way. Its only hope is that the Russians are no better off. How much truth there is in that hope we shall see in April.

"At present the army of Austria-Hungary with the forces in the field and under training consists of between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 men, and that is the limit for her military powers. As in every other state institution the army is exceedingly corrupt. Everywhere you can see what bribery and influence can do in exempting the rich and aristocratic from military service. In Budapest, young, able-bodied men still enjoy life or travel as newspaper correspondents of favored government organs. They are often rich bankers' sons, whose fathers subscribed to the war loan on condition that their sons would not be called upon to serve and thousands of other parasites.

"A new business developed on a great scale when the war broke out. For instance, those whom newspapers appointed war correspondents were exempted from military service and thus rich youths have been offering large sums of money to the Austro-philic press for appointments. Some poor papers, indeed, have done a good business out of this and have half a dozen war correspondents working for nothing or even paying a monthly salary to the proprietors for their positions.

"Under such circumstances, naturally, the third and fourth levy of boys of seventeen and men of forty-five, are a pitiable sight, for the medical examination is confined to two questions, one regarding consumption and the other as to lameness. The question as to eye-sight, physical weakness, general fitness or mental powers never arises at these examinations and men are ushered in before the doctors in groups of twenty, and under the pretext that there is no time for a more thorough examination, a man is at once passed over to the recruiting room for enlistment. He gets twenty-four hours to settle his civilian affairs and make his will and then is taken to the other end of the country for training."

Will Hold No Bisley Meeting This Season

London, March 4.—Lord Chelmsmore, presiding at the winter meeting of the National Rifle Association, said he had asked the War Office if they would permit them to raise a battalion of Bisley shots. The War Office had refused, so they had formed a school of musketry.

The offer to place the Bisley camp and ranges at the disposal of the army was at once accepted. After serious consideration the council has decided it was impossible to hold a Bisley meeting this year.

Russian Hoax Kitchen Plan

Myth of Soldiers Passing Through England Spread Rapidly—For Germans.

London, March 4.—The famous hoax of the first weeks of the war when a body of Russian soldiers said to number from 100,000 to 200,000 men, was reported to have circled around from Archangel, landed in Scottish ports and had been shipped through at night to reinforce the British force in France, originated with Lord Kitchener himself, according to a statement made by a British officer to a correspondent of the Daily Dispatch. It is a noteworthy fact that although the myth spread like wild fire through the United Kingdom with any number of witnesses to swear they had seen and talked to the Russians in their native language, the Press Bureau did not issue an official contradiction for a long time.

The Russian story, says the British officer, was designed to impress the German commanders in Belgium and Northern France and to keep them in fear of a surprise either in the rear or on the western flank. It accomplished its purpose, for this dread was real among the German staff and accounts to some extent for the retreat of General Von Kluck from Paris.

To give color to the report, Lord Kitchener is said to have caused a hundred transports laden with sundry goods to be sent from Scottish ports to Archangel after insuring them in Holland. And when the British troops were moved from various points in Scotland and the north of England to Channel ports, he ordered the blinds of the trains to be lowered so as to arouse popular curiosity and speculation.
