BERNHARDT IN DANGER.
 Somewhat Better After Reaction From Previous Improvement.

Bordeaux, March 10.—Sarah Bernhardt, whose condition was considered excellent for several days after the amputation of her right leg, February 22, recently has felt a reaction and her condition for the last forty-eight hours has caused her friends some anxiety. It was announced by her physicians last night, however, that she was somewhat better.

The girl who marries for the purpose of getting a home sometimes takes in a boarder.

GEN. SCOTT STARTS TO PACIFY INDIANS

Difficult Mission Is Entrusted to Chief of Staff of United States Army.
 Washington, D. C., March 10.—Brigadier General Scott, chief of staff of the army, has left here for Utah, to attempt a peaceful settlement with the recalcitrant Piute Indians.

General Scott has a long record not only as an Indian fighter, but also as a mediator among the Indians, whose dialects he speaks and whose habits he knows thoroughly. War Department officials say he has more influence with the Indians of the West than any other white man. About a year ago he brought the recalcitrant Navajoes into camp without bloodshed.

As General Scott left Washington he announced that he would proceed by rail to Morrison, Utah. At that point he would strike into the mountains on horseback, for a distance of 170 miles through the snow. Besides Colonel Michie, his aide, General Scott will be accompanied by an orderly. It is also possible that he will take with him some Navajo Indians to act as guides and to make camp.

The general's mission will be attended by considerable personal risk to himself and his little party, and some of the old soldiers in the War Department today gloomily recalled experiences in the Indian country.

SPLENDID SHOW AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Majestic Theatre, under the control of the new company, is more popular than ever. The orchestra has been augmented, and the management is sparing neither trouble nor expense in securing the finest of films.

Last night the large audience was treated to a blend of drama, comedy and farce. "Falling Into Luck" provided the thrills, while "The Tie That Binds," in two reels, depicted the evil influence of bad companionship driven out by the uplift of home ties. "Limping Into Happiness" kept the house in a ripple of laughter, while Charles Chaplin's antics in "Laughing Gas" set everybody rocking and roaring.

Harry Lacelle sang "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier," a mother's protest against militarism.

The films at this house are clearer and steadier, and of a higher class than ever before. One of the specials for Wednesday and Thursday is "The Merchant of Venice."

SAW PHENOMENON.

There was a phenomenon passed through Prince Rupert today. It walked on two legs, wore a pair of pants with a check loud enough to talk and a crease that would shave you. It also had on a snug little coat that might have been made for a lady, and a bow tie that had to be turned sideways to get through the door of the car—a little like the old-fashioned yokes the farmers put on their geese—only it was crosswise instead of up and down. There was a stunning little hat on what might have been the head, and it carried a cane that was too delicate and costly to dip in Prince Rupert's mud. They say its name sounded like something you hear in church.

Fall of Constantinople Means Discredit to Germany—Turks Will Be Furious on Learning the Truth.
 Paris, March 10.—A man who belonged to the school of the Old Turks for a long period of years and is in close touch with what is happening in Turkey, discussing, today, the aspects of the situation in the Dardanelles as it appeared to be developing, said:
 "From what I know of Turkey and the Far East, the fall of Constantinople will mean the complete discrediting of Germany. Hitherto, the people of Constantinople and throughout the empire have been fed on lies and once they realize the truth, as they will do when Constantinople is forced to capitulate, they will be furious with the government that misled them. A massacre of the Young Turks will be one almost certain result and I have, for my own part, little doubt that as soon as the first battleship is seen from Constantinople, the people will take things into their own hands and white flags will be seen flying from every house in town."

"Presumably the Allies will establish a committee of control and keep the administration of things in their own hands, but there will clearly be need of native administrators. It is too soon yet to speak of the men who are fitted for such work—but they exist—men who have neither been dominated by the Young Turks nor mixed up in their schemes."

BIG TRAIN WRECK IN MOVING PICTURES AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

"413" is the title of a highly sensational mystery play in three parts to be shown at the Westholme Opera House tonight and tomorrow night. This picture is exceptionally interesting and exciting, full of plots and counterplots, interspersed with most sensational developments which almost take your breath away.

One of the great scenes in this production is the wrecking of a real train, consisting of an engine and tender with four coaches, which runs into an open switch at full speed, causing a most realistic smashup.

This great picture drew crowded houses for one entire week at the Rex Theatre in Vancouver and was generously praised by the papers of that city.

CARD OF THANKS.

JOE MARTIN MAKES APOLOGY TO TAYLOR

Vancouver, March 10.—Mr. Louis D. Taylor is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Joseph Martin, in which that gentleman withdraws certain defamatory statements made on the public platform on Wednesday evening last, after uttering which he challenged Mr. Taylor to sue him for libel. At that time suit was already being prepared against Mr. Martin and his paper for opprobrious language used in the second number of The Evening Journal. It may be added that scarcely an issue of the sheet has appeared that has not contained most unjustifiable and abominable attacks on the candidate for the mayoralty. Mr. Martin apologizes in this one particular instance, and as stated above, withdraws, but the letter printed below can scarcely be considered satisfaction for the insults and abuse to which Mr. Taylor has been subjected for a whole week on the platform and in the columns of Mr. Martin's paper: March 6, 1915.

Dear Sir—In a report which appeared in The Evening Journal Thursday last, of a meeting at which I was a speaker, the following paragraph appears: "As to Mr. Taylor's financial support, he only needed to point out the paradox that he was broke, yet had all sorts of money. Where did he get it? 'I'll tell you,' said Mr. Martin, 'he gets it from the trust of Chinese gamblers and from the people who want Alexander Street wide open. I am willing to go into the courts and substantiate my statements. I know that they give ground for an action for libel, but I believe I can prove them.'" The report was printed under the following head: "Money to back Taylor coming from red light district—Mr. Joseph Martin exposes perfidy of aspiring L. D.—Chinese gamblers and organized immorality behind Taylor." While this is an accurate statement of what I said at the meeting, I withdraw the statement made in the above paragraph and heading, and apologize to you for same.

Yours truly,
 JOSEPH MARTIN.

The Evening Journal, over which it has been stated officially Mr. Martin has no control except as to the editorial columns, attempts to cover its own retreat by printing the above in its editorial columns and drawing attention to it on its front page.

"It is hardly enough," said Mr. Taylor. "This man and his paper have vilified me for a whole week. Does he imagine that a perfunctory apology and withdrawal of this kind are going to suffice and that I will accept it as if it were a genuine expression of contrition for inflicting a grievous wrong? In the very same issue in which they precious document was published, appeared a whole column of abuse by an anonymous writer. I am not a vindictive man, but I cannot be expected to accept meekly the salve Mr. Martin extends with one hand while he continues to strike at me with the other. Mr. Martin will hear my views on his letter through my lawyers."
