"Fruit-a-tives" Have Proved Their Value In Thousands of Cases

WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE

Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood.

Many people do not realize that the Skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body.
As a matter of fact, the Skin rids the system of more Urea (or waste matter) than the Kidneys. When there is Kidney Trouble, Pain In The Back and Acid Urine, it may not be the fault of the kidneys at all, but be due to faulty Skin Action, or Constipation of the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore, aching Kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size,

WEAKNESS AND GOODNESS MAKE VERY BAD MIXTURE IN A LEADER

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD, SIR WILFRID LAURIER AND PRE-MIER ASQUITH POINTED TO AS MODELS OF LEAD-ERSHIP—PERIL OF WEAK LEADERSHIP.

Leadership that is weak is always perilous. Weak leadership is most to be feared when the leader himself is personally reputable. A bad man, a notoriously dishonorable man, a drunkard, or a grafter—even those who vote for such a leader know that he is not to be trusted. He is always under suspicion. His dealings with private corporations having designs on public rights are always scrutinized with care. His very disrepute is a protection of public interests. Nothing honest and progressively useful is expected from him. Under his leadership the people may be robbed, but they need not be robbed unawares.

But the leader who hides the weakness of his personality under a reputation for personal decency of temperance or piety, the leader who has not the mental alertness to distinguish good from evil in political principles or in public issues, the leader who can be bullied or misled by his colleagues or coaxed or scared by the Big Interests, the leader who has no bones and muscle and steady nerves under the silkiness of his glove—he is a perpetual peril to every public cause that in the time of need looks to him for masterful leadership. He is not himself a thief, but because of his weakness or stupidity the thief is given abundant opportunity. He may be a tee-totaler, but in the very teeth of his professions and public assurances the organized liquor interests "puts one over" on the people.
The people's peril is in the reputable weakness of their leader.

In Ontario the name of Sir Oliver Mowat stood through almost a generation for strong and trustworthy public leadership. He was trusted because he was master of the situation. From behind his double-glasses he looked clean through the disguises of his nim-bler associates, and, if public policy required it, even the strongest of his ministers was given opportunity to resign. The secret of Sir James Whitney's power was not at all in his intellectual ability, but rather in his almost autocratic mastery over his ministers and supporters. He could not be wheedled or browbeaten or compelled into silence.

In the Federal arena there have been two masters of men conspicuously as leaders because of the power of their personality and the undisputed prestige of their leadership. Sir John A. MacDonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were poles asunder in many of the essentials of their political power, but in one thing they agreed: each was master in his own house. Any minister who aspired to dictatorship found his occupation gone. Their leadership was effective because it was strong, positive, responsible.

The unprecedented effectiveness of the Asquith government in Britain is in large measure due to the fact that in a Cabinet of exceptionally strong men the Prime Minister holds his rightful place by the unchallenged premiership of his personality. For the moment one minister or another may seem to have the pre-eminence. At one time Grey is in the spot-light, at another Haldane; or it is Lloyd George or Winston Churchill; or today it may be Kitchener. But the master of all these masters is Asquith. He is Premier in fact as well as in name. He holds himself responsible. If any minister betrays his trust he is held to account. If anyone wants to "bolt" he finds it will be to his own hurt. There is no weak surrender, no zig-zag, no compromising evasion of duty.

ways perilous, and most perilous when the leader's reputation for personal respectability is unas-sailed. To be safe a leader must be not only decent but strong.
The Premier who is mastered by his ministers is a menace to the country—Toronto Globe.
