

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. DOMINIC DE SHAWINIGAN, QUE.
Feb. 3rd. 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2 1/2 years, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-tives'. While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they acted gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take 'Fruit-a-tives' for they are the medicine that cures".

U. S. FLEET OF ATLANTIC IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

Winston Churchill made a hit by concentrating the British fleet "in maneuvers" in the fatal days last July. At this moment the American fleet is "mobilized" in New York harbor, but it is for review purposes. The President expects to review the fleet.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The standard of football served up in the international games locally seems to be deteriorating as, of the series of three played, the last was by far the poorest exhibition, and must have given some of the latest patrons of soccer rather a wrong impression of the game in general.

Those in charge at headquarters would do well to remember that in future it would be advisable to leave international fix-and give the players a better opportunity to do themselves justice, as quite a few reputations were marred by Monday's display.

Of the English side, Brand in goal was the star and fully justified the general opinion of his being the best goalkeeper in town. The backs at no time were brilliant, although Garnet played a serviceable game, while in the intermediate line Yardly was outstanding. Coming to the forwards, they only flattered to deceive, as first impressions gave the suggestion of a strong-going quartette, but their finishing throughout was weak. Cameron and S. Hardy alone played to anything like club form. A little more steadiness might have improved them.

Grant, in goal for Scotland, did not justify his selection, as at no time did he inspire confidence by his work between the sticks, he being too prone to punt the ball instead of using his hands. McDuff played consistently at back and gave some of the younger players a few points in playing the game. The star of the Scottish side, however, was W. Murray—one of the few to enhance his reputation—and one can surmise what the game would be with twenty-two of his kind. Abbott did not seem inclined to exert himself, while Hunter, who took Martin's place, did remarkably well considering that he was playing out of position. The weakest part of the team, however was the forward line, where the work entirely belied the reputation of the real Scottish close-passing game, except for a few occasional flashes on the left, where Neilson and McWilliam improved as the game proceeded. Kinghorn has often been seen to better advantage, his judgment being often at fault, while McCraik suffered through the inconsistency of his partner, Britton, who has entirely lost his adeptness of last year.
