

GOING MAD FROM THE TERRIFIC PAIN

Prominent Merchant Thinks His Life Was Saved By "Fruit-a-lives".

DRYSDALE, ONT., JUNE 15th, 1913.

"I am a general storekeeper at the above address, and on account of the great good I have experienced from using "Fruit-a-lives", I recommend them to my customers. They were a great boon to me, I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a terrific pain at the base of my skull. The pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would turn to inflammation of the brain, but I took "Fruit-a-lives" steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking "Fruit-a-lives", and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness".

Los Angeles, Cal., June 2.—Jack O'Reilly, barber in West Third Street, had the surprise of his life a few days ago. A prosperous looking man walked into the shop. When the job was done the patron unlimbered a wad of bill, stripped off a $50 yellow-back and said: "Things have come my way handsomely. Here's a bit of a tip."

ORIGIN OF NICK-NAME "UNCLE SAM"

Hailing from the town which claims to have given the United States government its nickname of "Uncle Sam," H. B. Morris, member of the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce of Catskill-on-the-Hudson, is spending a few days in Seattle. Mr. Morris, who is accompanied by Mrs. Morris, called at the local Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

"The nickname of Uncle Sam, as applied to the United States government, originated in Catskill in 1812," said Mr. Morris. "Three brothers of the name of Wilson were in the meat business there and had a contract to supply the United States army, then at war with Great Britain, with meats. They were known locally as Uncle Sam, Uncle Jonathan, and Uncle Eben. The meat was shipped in barrels marked 'U. S.' Someone asked Uncle Eben what 'U. S.' stood for and was solemnly assured that it stood for Uncle Sam, the senior partner in the business. This story got out and traveled along with the barrels until it spread over the United States. The story is practically forgotten, but the nickname of Uncle Sam is international."—Seattle P.-I.
